The College "Scrap."

With regard to the annual class scrap between the Sophomore and Freshman classes it was decided by the committee:

1st. That the scrap be in the form of and designated as, a Dummy Rush.

2d. That the scrap be held annually on the second Monday in October at 4 o'clock p. m.

With regard to the rules of the scrap; it was decided:

1st. That a dummy be placed in the centre of the Athletic field with the classes stationed twenty-five yds. distant on each side.

2d. That the respective presidents of sophomore and freshmen classes toss a coin for choice of sides.

3d. That the fight be confined to the space which is bounded on the sides, by the north and south stretches of the running track, and on the ends by the customary goal lines extended to meet the track.

4th. That if the dummy is carried by one class over the goal line of the other, it be brought back to the centre of field and two points scored for the side which carried the dummy over.

5th. That, if at call of time, the dummy lies in the territory of one class, the other shall score one point to its credit.

6th. That the side scoring the greatest number of points wins the scrap.

7th. That if the dummy be carried out of bounds it be carried in to the middle of the field from the point where it was carried out of bounds.

It was further decided that the two upper-class presidents appoint a committee of five to act as judges and also appoint two time keepers.

—o—

With regard to the rules governing next year's Freshman it was decided:

1st. That Freshmen will be compelled to wear blue skull caps until the 15th day of May, Sundays excepted.

2d. That Freshmen will not be allowed to wear the University colors or monograms or numerals of any kind until Washington's birthday. 'Varsity men excepted.

3d. That no Freshman will be allowed to call at the Seminary before Christmas day.

4th. That Freshman are absolutely prohibited from smoking on the College Campus and pipes are forbidden at all times. 0

5th. That every Freshman must join in "rooting" at all 'Varsity games.

6th. That no Freshman will be allowed at any time, during his Freshman year, to sit upon the steps or stones in front of Main College.

These rules are expected to be enforced, to the letter, by the Sophomores, with the hearty assurance that both upper-classes will stand by them.

BUCKNELL'S FOOTBALL TEAM

Coach Hoskins at Work with Squad of Old and New Men.

It is too early in the season to venture much as to Bucknell's prospects in football. Much of the material with which Coach Hoskins and Captain Cockill have to work is new, and time must determine its value. The process of developing new and inexperienced men is, at best, slow.

The squad reported to Coach Hoskins on September 5. The old men who returned were Wilcox, '04, Johnson, '04, Cockill, '05, Smith, '05, Cooper, '05, Vorse, '05, Neill, '06, Howell, '06, Goldsmith, '06, and Shipp. The new men are Brown, Sweitzer, Siegfreid, Snavely, Lenhart, Roberts and Church. Since the opening of college the squad has been reinforced by the addition of Thompson, '05, Caruthers, '04, Adams and Winbigler, the latter of Peddie Institute. Smiley, '05, returned on Saturday and joined the squad at once.

The preliminary practice consisted of catching punts, running and tackling the dummy. The signals were given out last week and for several days the players have been put through various formations, several of which are original with Coach Hoskins. The first line-up was held on last Thursday.

Of last year's regular line men but Wilcox at center, Cockill, at end, and Shipp, at tackle, have returned, which makes it necessary to develope two new guards, a tackle and an end. Cooper, who played several games last year, has shown up exceptionally well in the guard position, and he will probably be a regular man. Vorse is doing well at end, and he too is probably a fixture. Lenhart, the Lewisburg boy, has alternated at guard and tackle in practice and if his good work continues, he will likely be placed in one of these positions, most likely tackle. For the other guard position Snavely and Siegfried are being tried out. Smiley will likely be a candidate for that position, also. Sweitzer is being trained for both end and tackle.

Smith and Bovard were the only regular back-field men to return. Smith will be regular at quarter again. Bovard has his old position at halfback, and is also being tried at fullback. However, Johnson, who has done such excellent all-round work on the eleven during his course, will probably become a fixture at fullback.

For the other halfback position the candidates are Roberts, who was at Susquehanna last year, Goldsmith and Howell. Thus far Roberts has been played in the position most. Howell and Goldsmith are both fast, but the former is handicapped by a bad knee.

Neill and Caruthers are being tried out at quarter and both show up well.

Of the other promising men in the squad Thompson, '06, and Adams are being tried at tackle, Winbigler and Church at end and Sheppard and Goldsmith at halfback.

Up to the time of his injury Brown, of Mercersburg Academy, gave evidences of being capable in the backfield. He will likely rejoin the squad this week.

The following schedule has been arranged by Manager Thompson:

Sept. 26, Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg.
Oct. 3, Indians, at Williamsport.
Oct. 10, Watertown, at Watertown, N. Y.
Oct. 17, Cornell, at Ithica.
Oct. 24, Sophomore-Freshman game.
Oct. 31, Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.
Nov. 3, Election Day, Western University of Pennsylvania at Pittsburg.
Nov. 7, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
Nov. 14, Navy, at Annapolis.
Nov. 21, open.
Nov. 26, Thanksgiving Day, open.

Saturday's Line-up.

A fair-sized body of students and well wishers assembled at the athletic field on Saturday afternoon to witness a game between the regular eleven and the Reserves. Owing to the fact that there are several new men on the team much interest was shown in the work of 'Varsity. While it was evident that the old men not back will be missed, the showing of the new men was very encouraging to the spectators, who are confident of a winning team.

On the 'Varsity Johnson did good work at fullback. He carried the ball 65 yards for a touchdown. Smith played his usual good game at quarter, steadying the team with his complete mastery of the signals. He made two sensational runs for touchdowns, one of 75 yards and another of 40 yards.

Captain Cockill showed in Saturday's game that he has not lost any of last year's vim. He was constantly coaching and inspiring the men.

Roberts made a pretty 60-yard run for a touchdown, and Lenhart showed up nicely at left tackle. He also carried the ball over for a touchdown. Both of these men bid fair to develope into good material. Shipp, Wilcox, Cooper and Snavely did good work on the line, repelling repeatedly the attempts of the Reserves to break through. Vorse and Cockill at the ends were too quick for their opponents. Bovard made some good runs with the ball and tackled well.

On the reserve team Thompson put up a plucky fight at center. Siegfried and Winbigler also handled themselves well. F. Caruthers played well at quarter.

In the second half Shipp hurt his ankle and retired. Johnson and Smith also retired in the second half. With these men out of the game the Reserves did better work, giving the 'Varsity a hard tussle to carry the ball over the line for a touchdown.

The final score was 29-0.

The line up:—

ORGANIZATION OF THE HALLS

New System of Government in The College Dormitories.

The following rules and regulations relating to the organization of the halls were adopted by the faculty in June, 1903:

1. The students residing in the East Wing, those in the West Wing, and those residing in West College shall each form an Association for their improvement and better regulation.

2. The President of each of these Associations shall be a Professor of the College designated by the President of the University, who shall preside at all meetings and appoint all committees.

3. Each Association may form its own Constitution and By-laws and elect a secretary and treasurer and such other officers as may be thought necessary.

4. All new students assigned to rooms in a hall will be regarded and classed as "guests" of the hall for the period of two months, when upon recommendation of the Committee of Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, they may by a majority vote of the members of the Hall be elected "residents" of the hall.

5. Residents of the Hall may after a period of four months be elected members of the Hall by a majority vote after recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall.

6. Any "guest" failing of election to residence and any "resident" failing of election to membership shall withdraw from the Hall.

7. No students shall change from one Hall to another except by consent both of the President of the Hall from which he withdraws and of the President of the Hall which he enters; in which case, he shall retain his status as resident or guest, but for membership, election must be held.

8. If a student withdraws from a hall to room in town, he will, if readmitted by the President of the Hall, have the same status as a new student; but the association may upon the recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, admit him to membership by a two-thirds vote of the Association.

9. The Association may by a majority vote upon recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall withdraw the rights of a student as guest, resident or member, and in such case the student must withdraw from the Hall.

10. Residents shall have the privilege of attendance at the business meetings of the Association except those for the election of candidates to residence or membership and of participating in discussion, but shall not have the right to vote.

11. Those students who at the opening of the scholastic year September 1903, shall have roomed in any of the buildings for two terms shall be considered members of the Association of the Hall in which they at that time room.

12. All meetings shall be held upon call of the President of the Hall.

For the year 1903-4, Professor Hamblin will be President of the East Wing Association; Professor Phillips of the West Wing, and Professor Hulley of the West College.

The various college halls will be organized under the new rules on Monday evening. The time and place will be posted on the bulletin board.

ALL OUT !
Vice President Hayes, of the Athletic Association, has called a mass meeting of the students to be held in Commencement Hall at 9 o'clock on Monday night for the purpose of organizing the cheering forces for the Indian game. Freshmen must be out. Upperclassmen guarantee them freedom from molestation.

Fraternity Rules Amended.

The faculty has adopted the following amendments to the "Act for the Regulation and Improvement of the College Fraternities," passed March 11, 1898:

"No fraternity shall be formed, nor shall any fraternity or chapter thereof seek affiliation with or membership in a general fraternity without the consent of the faculty previously obtained.

"The names of all authorized fraternities in Bucknell College will be posted at the beginning of each school year; but no fraternity shall be posted as authorized, the members of which have fallen in their general average of attendance upon class work and in scholarship below a certain fixed standard for two successive years; nor will any person be permitted to join any fraternity which has not been posted as an authorized fraternity for that year."

Freshies and Sophs Clash.

Although the "dummy rush" was designed with the intention of doing away with the indiscriminate "scrap" at the beginning of each college year, the two lower classes clashed on the campus after chapel on last Friday morning. The Sophs marshaled their forces at the junction of the paths and, advancing, met the Freshies just as they entered the campus from the chapel. After the first rush the "scrap" was confined almost entirely to individual work. When the fight had continued for 15 minutes the upper classmen separated the two forces without either having gained an advantage. The first annual "dummy rush" will take place on the football field on October 12, at 4 o'clock i the afternoon.

Next Saturday's Game.

The first football game on Bucknell's schedule will be played on the athletic field next Saturday afternoon when the 'varsity lines up against Wyoming Seminary. The game will be called at 2.30 o'clock. Of late years Bucknell has had difficulty in defeating the boys from Kingston. The last time they came here, in 1901, the score was 5 to 0 in favor of Bucknell.

AN AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING.

Bucknell Commences 58th Year with Most Glowing Prospects.

Bucknell began the 58th year of its existence on last Thursday under the most promising conditions. The attendance is the largest in the history of the institution. The total number of students in all departments of the university is upwards of 700, of whom about 425 are in the college. The entering class numbers 125.

The rapidly increasing attendance each year has made necessary several additions to the corps of instructor. Charles Arthur Lindemann, A. M., formerly professor of mathematics in Union Virginia University, has been added to the department of Civil Engineering.

Paul Emil Welthaase, formerly an instructor in Syracuse University, is a new instructor in the department of modern languages.

Floyd George Ballentine, Ph. D., late of Harvard, is a new instructor in the department of Latin

Mansfield French Forbel, A. B., is instructor in Elocution and Oratory.

In the School of Music Miss Harriett Tracy, a graduate of the Chicago College of Music, is a new instructor.

Miss Von Lee Goodnough, a talented vocalist, will have charge of the vocal department.

Prof. G. C. L. Reimer, of the department of modern languages, has been granted a year's leave of absence which he will spend in post graduate work in Leipsic, Germany. He is accompanied by his wife.

Prof. Thomas Morris has resigned from the department of Latin, to take a post graduate course in Latin and Greek in University of Chicago, having secured the Charles Miller fellowship.

During the summer months several improvements were made on the college property. General repairs were made in the main building and West College, and in the basement of the latter building the shower baths were made ready for use. The apparatus is modern, and hot water will be supplied through a 500-gallon tank.

Fifty new lockers were placed in the gymnasium, and the bathing facilities were greatly enlarged and improved.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

On Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception to meet the new men and welcome them to Bucknell. There was a large attendance.

The reception lasted from 8 to 8.30 p. m., after which Prof. Wolfe made a short address on, "The Physical Developement of the Student," followed by Prof. Hamblin on, "The Intellectual Developement of the Student," and Dr. Harris on "The Spiritual Development of the Student." G. G. Mahy, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Scranton, concluded that part of the program with a short informal talk. After the speaking a committee served cake and lemonade.

There seems to be an added interest in the Y. M. C. A. work this year, and surely, if the valuable advice of the evening's speakers is heeded by the student body, the Y. M. C. A. work of the year will be a success.

To the new instructors in the University the Orange and Blue extends a hearty welcome, with the wish that their connection with the institution may prove both pleasant and profitable.

The sympathy of the student body goes out to Dr. Perrine in the death of his wife, which occurred during the summer. Associations of college students with their instructors inside and outside the classroom create mutual interests, and any calamity such as befallen Dr. Perrine strikes a sympathetic chord in the heart of every well-meaning student.

We very heartily approve of the action of the faculty in adopting the rules and regulations relating to the organization of the halls. Something of this kind has been needed for a long time. Many men—and these are not only under-classmen—seem to have come to college with the idea that the only way to have a good time is to do as much damage as possible. They have not as yet gotten away from this erronious idea. The college dormitory is their college home, and a gentleman will not deface his home. Were it really his alone, to deface it would not be so bad, but when it belongs to hundreds of others as much as to himself, he must restrain the destructive desire. A man who does not know how to behave in a dormitory ought not to be allowed to live there. The new regulations offer a welcome remedy for a thing that has gone on too long.

The Orange and Blue enters upon the eighth year of its existence with this number. To the old students we extend a hearty greeting, to the new ones a sincere and enthusiastic welcome. To the latter we desire in addition to express the belief that they will never regret having entered Bucknell.

The object of this paper is to keep the student body and its friends informed as to the activities of the college and to express such comment as is deemed necessary and advisable. It will be seen from the very nature of the publication that if it wishes to succeed it must be conducted in the interest of the students. At the same time the fact must be plain that the paper cannot exist without the students' support. That we must have. By support we mean, not only financial assistance, but any effort that can be made tending to a closer realization of the ideal in college journalism. There are many ways in which this interest may be expressed, which will occur to the students as time passes.

The financial obligation is so self-evident that it need scarcely be mentioned here. The town being small, the publication is almost entirely dependent upon the support it receives from the students, and the business manager should not be met with one refusal in his canvass for subscriptions.

The paper makes its appearance considerably enlarged, which a growing college has made necessary, and we trust the students will show their approval of the action in helping whenever they can.

Beginnings are interesting things. There is always something fascinating about starting any enterprise, whether it be entirely new, or merely the resuming of interrupted work. One likes to make surmises concerning the future; and though so few results are those we have planned or hoped for, still the planning itself is by no means unprofitable. It is good, at the very beginning, to arrange our material into what seems, at least, to be good working order.

This applies to the third and fourth-year men as well as to the first-year student. To the latter, all is entirely new; to the former, the aspect is familiar,—for a year or two he has been living practically the same life—for, in a way, college life is the same, independent of individual class—and arguing from the past he knows to a certain extent what to expect in the future. Time, with him, passes more quickly than with the Freshman. There is a routine, familiar to him by observation, to be gone through,—the round of classes, the various social functions, the different athletic events. Duties which, in former years, he has seen upper classmen perform, now devolve upon him. And he derives his interest in the beginning of his year's work largely from watching the men to whom everything is new. How is he going to affect or influence them? How, in turn, will they affect him?

The upper classman plays no small part in the life of the Freshman. Perhaps, you say, the Freshman expects too much; or is it the more advanced man who gives too little?

The terms "college spirit" and "college honor" are, at best, hackneyed and vague. But it is no far cry from "college spirit" to enthusiasm in one's work, and "college honor" has a close affinity with straight living.

Perhaps after all is said, no one thing is of so much importance to the incoming Freshman as the men whom he is to gather around himself as his companions during his college course. For it is a truth which cannot be denied that associations have much to do with the making of a man. This is true from early childhood until manhood is reached; but at no time is it more so than in the four years of college life.

A college community is made up of all sorts of men. In fact, there are few places where so many men of such varied characteristics are thrown in and shaken together as in college. Here one finds the athlete, the society man, the student, the loafer, the "poler," the enthusiast, the man of engaging personality,—all to have their influence on the life of the Freshman to some extent. But each man as he comes into college can, if he wishes, determine for himself to a very large extent just how much influence each will have upon him. And the danger is that he will forget that he has been sent to college for the purpose of cultivating mind, soul and body; that he will not remember the teaching which he has received at home; that, as he makes acquaintances, he will allow himself to be attracted from the object which he is to seek, by evil associates. No boy as he enters college should be ashamed of the fact that he doesn't smoke, that he uses pure language, or that he does not do many of the things which seem to the new man to designate the "good fellow." College men are not slower to honor a man for upright living than is any other class of people.

The mask of hilarity is often thrown on by the older fellows to try to hide from themselves the fact that they are not living as they should. The Freshman must not allow himself to be deceived into thinking that only those are enjoying the college life who are in what is known as the "fast set."

There are agents of evil and agents of good in the college just as in the outside world. In spite of himself some of these agents must be his companions. Then don't let him be fooled by appearances. True character always wins and the Freshman's college course will be a failure if he does not come out of it a true man. Then let him take his time to choose good companions. For nothing so pulls a weak man down as evil associates and nothing so causes trouble and continual strife for a strong man. Dont make the mistake of thinking you are a strong man.

"A Word to the Wise." Etc.

The college authorities have made the following announcement:

"It is the policy of Bucknell to eliminate at the end of the term or year men who are regarded as undesirable. Thus at the close of last year some seven students were notified not to return. This will be pursued more stringently hereafter, as it is the intention to maintain a high standard of character and conduct. Note is taken of acts of lawlessness and disorder, and at the end of the term or year the student is notified.

"Hitherto grades have been given without recommendation, but hereafter this will not be done in aggravated cases."

Dr. Harris's Address.

The President gave a very interesting and helpful lecture to the student body after the regular chapel exercises this morning. Lack of space only prevents further reference to it.

BUCKNELL'S FOOTBALL TEAM

Coach Hoskins at Work with Squad of Old and New Men.

It is too early in the season to venture much as to Bucknell's prospects in football. Much of the material with which Coach Hoskins and Captain Cockill have to work is new, and time must determine its value. The process of developing new and inexperienced men is, at best, slow.

The squad reported to Coach Hoskins on September 5. The old men who returned were Wilcox, '04, Johnson, '04, Cockill, '05, Smith, '05, Cooper, '05, Vorse, '05, Neill, '06, Howell, '06, Goldsmith, '06, and Shipp. The new men are Brown, Sweitzer, Siegfreid, Snavely, Lenhart, Roberts and Church. Since the opening of college the squad has been reinforced by the addition of Thompson, '05, Caruthers, '04, Adams and Winbigler, the latter of Peddie Institute. Smiley, '05, returned on Saturday and joined the squad at once.

The preliminary practice consisted of catching punts, running and tackling the dummy. The signals were given out last week and for several days the players have been put through various formations, several of which are original with Coach Hoskins. The first line-up was held on last Thursday.

Of last year's regular line men but Wilcox at center, Cockill, at end, and Shipp, at tackle, have returned, which makes it necessary to develope two new guards, a tackle and an end. Cooper, who played several games last year, has shown up exceptionally well in the guard position, and he will probably be a regular man. Vorse is doing well at end, and he too is probably a fixture. Lenhart, the Lewisburg boy, has alternated at guard and tackle in practice and if his good work continues, he will likely be placed in one of these positions, most likely tackle. For the other guard position Snavely and Siegfried are being tried out. Smiley will likely be a candidate for that position, also. Sweitzer is being trained for both end and tackle.

Smith and Bovard were the only regular back-field men to return. Smith will be regular at quarter again. Bovard has his old position at halfback, and is also being tried at fullback. However, Johnson, who has done such excellent all-round work on the eleven during his course, will probably become a fixture at fullback.

For the other halfback position the candidates are Roberts, who was at Susquehanna last year, Goldsmith and Howell. Thus far Roberts has been played in the position most. Howell and Goldsmith are both fast, but the former is handicapped by a bad knee.

Neill and Caruthers are being tried out at quarter and both show up well.

Of the other promising men in the squad Thompson, '06, and Adams are being tried at tackle, Winbigler and Church at end and Sheppard and Goldsmith at halfback.

Up to the time of his injury Brown, of Mercersburg Academy, gave evidences of being capable in the backfield. He will likely rejoin the squad this week.

The following schedule has been arranged by Manager Thompson:

Sept. 26, Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg.
Oct. 3. Indians, at Williamsport.
Oct. 10, Watertown, at Watertown, N. Y.
Oct. 17, Cornell, at Ithica.
Oct. 24, Sophomore-Freshman game.
Oct. 31, Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.
Nov. 3. Election Day, Western University of Pennsylvania at Pittsburg.
Nov. 7, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
Nov. 14, Navy, at Annapolis.
Nov. 21, open.
Nov. 26, Thanksgiving Day, open.

Saturday's Line-up.

A fair-sized body of students and well wishers assembled at the athletic field on Saturday afternoon to witness a game between the regular eleven and the Reserves. Owing to the fact that there are several new men on the team much interest was shown in the work of 'Varsity. While it was evident that the old men not back will be missed, the showing of the new men was very encouraging to the spectators, who are confident of a winning team.

On the 'Varsity Johnson did good work at fullback. He carried the ball 65 yards for a touchdown, Smith played his usual good game at quarter, steadying the team with his complete mastery of the signals. He made two sensational runs for touchdowns, one of 75 yards and another of 40 yards.

Captain Cockill showed in Saturday's game that he has not lost any of last year's vim. He was constantly coaching and inspiring the men.

Roberts made a pretty 60-yard run for a touchdown, and Lenhart showed up nicely at left tackle. He also carried the ball over for a touchdown. Both of these men bid fair to develope into good material. Shipp, Wilcox, Cooper and Snavely did good work on the line, repelling repeatedly the attempts of the Reserves to break through. Vorse and Cockill at the ends were too quick for their opponents. Bovard made some good runs with the ball and tackled well.

On the reserve team Thompson put up a plucky fight at center. Siegfried and Winbigler also handled themselves well. F. Caruthers played well at quarter.

In the second half Shipp hurt his ankle and retired. Johnson and Smith also retired in the second half. With these men out of the game the Reserves did better work, giving the 'Varsity a hard tussle to carry the ball over the line for a touchdown.

The final score was 29-0.

The line up:—

ORGANIZATION OF THE HALLS

New System of Government in The College Dormitories.

The following rules and regulations relating to the organization of the halls were adopted by the faculty in June, 1903:

1. The students residing in the East Wing, those in the West Wing, and those residing in West College shall each form an Association for their improvement and better regulation.

2. The President of each of these Associations shall be a Professor of the College designated by the President of the University, who shall preside at all meetings and appoint all committees.

3. Each Association may form its own Constitution and By-laws and elect a secretary and treasurer and such other officers as may be thought necessary.

4. All new students assigned to rooms in a hall will be regarded and classed as "guests" of the hall for the period of two months, when upon recommendation of the Committee of Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, they may by a majority vote of the members of the Hall be elected "residents" of the hall.

5. Residents of the Hall may after a period of four months be elected members of the Hall by a majority vote after recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall.

6. Any "guest" failing of election to residence and any "resident" failing of election to membership shall withdraw from the Hall.

7. No students shall change from one Hall to another except by consent both of the President of the Hall from which he withdraws and of the President of the Hall which he enters; in which case, he shall retain his status as resident or guest, but for membership, election must be held.

8. If a student withdraws from a hall to room in town, he will, if readmitted by the President of the Hall, have the same status as a new student; but the association may upon the recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall, admit him to membership by a two-thirds vote of the Association.

9. The Association may by a majority vote upon recommendation of the Committee on Membership endorsed by the President of the Hall withdraw the rights of a student as guest, resident or member, and in such case the student must withdraw from the Hall.

10. Residents shall have the privilege of attendance at the business meetings of the Association except those for the election of candidates to residence or membership and of participating in discussion, but shall not have the right to vote.

11. Those students who at the opening of the scholastic year September 1903, shall have roomed in any of the buildings for two terms shall be considered members of the Association of the Hall in which they at that time room.

12. All meetings shall be held upon call of the President of the Hall.

For the year 1903-4, Professor Hamblin will be President of the East Wing Association; Professor Phillips of the West Wing, and Professor Hulley of the West College.

The various college halls will be organized under the new rules on Monday evening. The time and place will be posted on the bulletin board.

ALL OUT !

Vice President Hayes, of the Athletic Association, has called a mass meeting of the students to be held in Commencement Hall at 9 o'clock on Monday night for the purpose of organizing the cheering forces for the Indian game. Freshmen must be out. Upperclassmen guarantee them freedom from molestation.

ALL OUT !

Fraternity Rules Amended.

The faculty has adopted the following amendments to the "Act for the Regulation and Improvement of the College Fraternities," passed March 11, 1898:

"No fraternity shall be formed, nor shall any fraternity or chapter thereof seek affiliation with or membership in a general fraternity without the consent of the faculty previously obtained.

"The names of all authorized fraternities in Bucknell College will be posted at the beginning of each school year; but no fraternity shall be posted as authorized, the members of which have fallen in their general average of attendance upon class work and in scholarship below a certain fixed standard for two successive years; nor will any person be permitted to join any fraternity which has not been posted as an authorized fraternity for that year."

Freshies and Sophs Clash.

Although the "dummy rush" was designed with the intention of doing away with the indiscriminate "scrap" at the beginning of each college year, the two lower classes clashed on the campus after chapel on last Friday morning. The Sophs marshaled their forces at the junction of the paths and, advancing, met the Freshies just as they entered the campus from the chapel. After the first rush the "scrap" was confined almost entirely to individual work. When the fight had continued for 15 minutes the upper classmen separated the two forces without either having gained an advantage. The first annual "dummy rush" will take place on the football field on October 12, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Next Saturday's Game.

The first football game on Bucknell's schedule will be played on the athletic field next Saturday afternoon when the 'varsity lines up against Wyoming Seminary. The game will be called at 2.30 o'clock. Of late years Bucknell has had difficulty in defeating the boys from Kingston. The last time they came here, in 1901, the score was 5 to 0 in favor of Bucknell.

AN AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING.

Bucknell Commences 58th Year with Most Glowing Prospects.

Bucknell began the 58th year of its existence on last Thursday under the most promising conditions. The attendance is the largest in the history of the institution. The total number of students in all departments of the university is upwards of 700, of whom about 425 are in the college. The entering class numbers 125.

The rapidly increasing attendance each year has made necessary several additions to the corps of instructor. Charles Arthur Lindemann, A. M., formerly professor of mathematics in Union Virginia University, has been added to the department of Civil Engineering.

Paul Emil Welthaase, formerly an instructor in Syracuse University, is a new instructor in the department of modern languages.

Floyd George Ballentine, Ph. D., late of Harvard, is a new instructor in the department of Latin.

Mansfield French Forbel, A. B., is instructor in Elocution and Oratory.

In the School of Music Miss Harriett Tracy, a graduate of the Chicago College of Music, is a new instructor.

Miss Von Lee Goodnough, a talented vocalist, will have charge of the vocal department.

Prof. G. C. L. Reimer, of the department of modern languages, has been granted a year's leave of absence which he will spend in post graduate work in Leipsic, Germany. He is accompanied by his wife.

Prof. Thomas Morris has resigned from the department of Latin, to take a post graduate course in Latin and Greek in University of Chicago, having secured the Charles Miller fellowship.

During the summer months several improvements were made on the college property. General repairs were made in the main building and West College, and in the basement of the latter building the shower baths were made ready for use. The apparatus is modern, and hot water will be supplied through a 500-gallon tank.

Fifty new lockers were placed in the gymnasium, and the bathing facilities were greatly enlarged and improved.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

On Saturday evening the Y. M. C. A. held its annual reception to meet the new men and welcome them to Bucknell. There was a large attendance.

The reception lasted from 8 to 8.30 p. m., after which Prof. Wolfe made a short address on "The Physical Developement of the Student," followed by Prof. Hamblin on "The Intellectual Developement of the Student," and Dr. Harris on "The Spiritual Development of the Student," G. G. Mahy, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Scranton, concluded that part of the program with a short informal talk. After the speaking a committee served cake and lemonade.

There seems to be an added interest in the Y. M. C. A. work this year, and surely, if the valuable advice of the evening's speakers is heeded by the student body, the Y. M. C. A. work of the year will be a success.

To the new instructors in the University the Orange and Blue extends a hearty welcome, with the wish that their connection with the institution may prove both pleasant and profitable.

The sympathy of the student body goes out to Dr. Perrine in the death of his wife, which occurred during the summer. Associations of college students with their instructors inside and outside the classroom create mutual interests, and any calamity such as befallen Dr. Perrine strikes a sympathetic chord in the heart of every well-meaning student.

We very heartily approve of the action of the faculty in adopting the rules and regulations relating to the organization of the halls. Something of this kind has been needed for a long time. Many men—and these are not only under-classmen—seem to have come to college with the idea that the only way to have a good time is to do as much damage as possible. They have not as yet gotten away from this erronious idea. The college dormitory is their college home, and a gentleman will not deface his home. Were it really his alone, to deface it would not be so bad, but when it belongs to hundreds of others as much as to himself, he must restrain the destructive desire. A man who does not know how to behave in a dormitory ought not to be allowed to live there. The new regulations offer a welcome remedy for a thing that has gone on too long.

The Orange and Blue enters upon the eighth year of its existence with this number. To the old students we extend a hearty greeting, to the new ones a sincere and enthusiastic welcome. To the latter we desire in addition to express the belief that they will never regret having entered Bucknell.

The object of this paper is to keep the student body and its friends informed as to the activities of the college and to express such comment as is deemed necessary and advisable. It will be seen from the very nature of the publication that if it wishes to succeed it must be conducted in the interest of the students. At the same time the fact must be plain that the paper cannot exist without the students' support. That we must have. By support we mean, not only financial assistance, but any effort that can be made tending to a closer realization of the ideal in college journalism. There are many ways in which this interest may be expressed, which will occur to the students as time passes.

The financial obligation is so self-evident that it need scarcely be mentioned here. The town being small, the publication is almost entirely dependent upon the support it receives from the students, and the business manager should not be met with one refusal in his canvass for subscriptions.

The paper makes its appearance considerably enlarged, which a growing college has made necessary, and we trust the students will show their approval of the action in helping whenever they can.

Beginnings are interesting things. There is always something fascinating about starting any enterprise, whether it be entirely new, or merely the resuming of interrupted work. One likes to make surmises concerning the future; and though so few results are those we have planned or hoped for, still the planning itself is by no means unprofitable. It is good, at the very beginning, to arrange our material into what seems, at least, to be good working order.

This applies to the third and fourth-year men as well as to the first-year student. To the latter, all is entirely new; to the former, the aspect is familiar,—for a year or two he has been living practically the same life—for, in a way, college life is the same, independent of individual class—and arguing from the past he knows to a certain extent what to expect in the future. Time, with him, passes more quickly than with the Freshman. There is a routine, familiar to him by observation, to be gone through,—the round of classes, the various social functions, the different athletic events. Duties which, in former years, he has seen upper classmen perform, now devolve upon him. And he derives his interest in the beginning of his year's work largely from watching the men to whom everything is new. How is he going to affect or influence them? How, in turn, will they affect him?

The upper classman plays no small part in the life of the Freshman. Perhaps, you say, the Freshman expects too much; or is it the more advanced man who gives too little?

The terms "college spirit" and "college honor" are, at best, hackneyed and vague. But it is no far cry from "college spirit" to enthusiasm in one's work, and "college honor" has a close affinity with straight living.

Perhaps after all is said, no one thing is of so much importance to the incoming Freshman as the men whom he is to gather around himself as his companions during his college course. For it is a truth which cannot be denied that associations have much to do with the making of a man. This is true from early childhood until manhood is reached; but at no time is it more so than in the four years of college life.

A college community is made up of all sorts of men. In fact, there are few places where so many men of such varied characteristics are thrown in and shaken together as in college. Here one finds the athlete, the society man, the student, the loafer, the "poler," the enthusiast, the man of engaging personality,—all to have their influence on the life of the Freshman to some extent. But each man as he comes into college can, if he wishes, determine for himself to a very large extent just how much influence each will have upon him. And the danger is that he will forget that he has been sent to college for the purpose of cultivating mind, soul and body; that he will not remember the teaching which he has received at home; that, as he makes acquaintances, he will allow himself to be attracted from the object which he is to seek, by evil associates. No boy as he enters college should be ashamed of the fact that he doesn't smoke, that he uses pure language, or that he does not do many of the things which seem to the new man to designate the "good fellow," College men are not slower to honor a man for upright living than is any other class of people.

The mask of hilarity is often thrown on by the older fellows to try to hide from themselves the fact that they are not living as they should. The Freshman must not allow himself to be deceived into thinking that only those are enjoying the college life who are in what is known as the "fast set."

There are agents of evil and agents of good in the college just as in the outside world. In spite of himself some of these agents must be his companions. Then don't let him be fooled by appearances. True character always wins and the Freshman's college course will be a failure if he does not come out of it a true man. Then let him take his time to choose good companions. For nothing so pulls a weak man down as evil associates and nothing so causes trouble and continual strife for a strong man. Dont make the mistake of thinking you are a strong man.

"A Word to the Wise." Etc.

The college authorities have made the following announcement:

"It is the policy of Bucknell to eliminate at the end of the term or year men who are regarded as undesirable. Thus at the close of last year some seven students were notified not to return. This will be pursued more stringently hereafter, as it is the intention to maintain a high standard of character and conduct. Note is taken of acts of lawlessess and disorder, and at the end of the term or year the student is notified.

"Hitherto grades have been given without recommendation, but hereafter this will not be done in aggravated cases."

Dr. Harris's Address.

The President gave a very interesting and helpful lecture to the student body after the regular chapel exercises this morning. Lack of space only prevents further reference to it.

The Bucknell-Indian Game.

Arrangements for the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport on Saturday, October 3, are fast nearing completion. The advertising of the contest has been left to the Merchants' Association of Williamsport, under whose auspices it is to be played, and it is expected that all records for attendance at Williamsport will be broken. The railroads leading to the place have granted a single fare rate for the round-trip.

The Indian team has been in training for the past month and Coach Warner predicts that he will have the best eleven he has produced in several years. Since the coming contest is the "rubber" game, both teams are anxious to win, and a good game is assured.

The officials for the game were agreed upon last week, "Bucky" Vail, University of Pennsylvania, will act as referee, and Dr. J. R. Dunbar, of Phoenixville, will be umpire. It has been agreed that the old rules as to penalizing for fouls shall be observed. Under the new rules, penalties for holding, etc., are imposed by the linesmen.

Good races will be a feature of the Lewisburg Fair to be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Bucknell Easily Defeats Wyoming Seminary on Saturday Afternoon.

The 'varsity football team met Wyoming Seminary in the first scheduled game of the season on the athletic field on Saturday afternoon. Bucknell won with ease, the score being 27 to 0. Only a small crowd was in attendance.

The game was nothing more than a practice contest for Bucknell. However, it revealed many weak points in the work of the team, which Coach Huskins will endeavor to remedy during the week. The principal weaknesses were poor interference and failure on the part of some of the men to advance the ball. As was to be expected, there was much fumbling. On the other hand, there were some very encouraging points to the playing of the team. Several of the men could always be counted on to advance the ball. This was particularly true of Cockill, Johnson, Shipp and Bovard. Smith also made big gains. Of the new men Lenhart showed up well.

Wyoming kicked off to Bucknell and Bovard carried it back 45 yards. Although handicapped a fumble and a penalty for off-side play, Bucknell took the ball over the line, Cockill making the touchdown, just four minutes after play had started.

Wyoming received the next kick-off and made one first down, being subsequently compelled to kick. Bucknell got the ball, and by gains by Cockill, Johnson, Smith, Shipp and Bovard scored another touchdown, Bovard making the point. Bovard made another touchdown four minutes later, the ball having been advanced steadily by Cockill, Roberts, Lenhart and Smith. An attempt at goal from placement failed and the half ended with the score 16 to 0. Johnson having failed to kick two of the three goals.

Although several substitutions were made in the second half, the team scored two more touchdowns on which Cockill kicked one goal, the game ending 27 to 0.

The Princeton Game.

The football game with Princeton on Wednesday, October 21, was unintentionally omitted from the schedule published in the Orange and Blue last week. There are still two open dates on the schedule, which Manager Thompson has prospects of filling with good teams.

An Alumni Marriage.

Clarence A. Weymouth, '00, was married to Miss Margaret Tyler at the latter's home in Canton, Pa., on August 26. They went to the Bermudas on their wedding trip.

Alumni are Active.

The enthusiasm of the college alumni last June was one of the features of the commencement. The attendance of former students and graduates was unusually large and their enthusiasm for their Alma Mater was unbounded. Realizing the helpfulness of such demonstrations to the institution, the Alumni Association has a movement on foot to bring back to the next commencement the largest number of alumni in the history of Bucknell. To this end the following committee has been appointed: W. E. Martin, W. C. Bartol, W. G. Owens, C. A. Hare and J. M. Wolfe.

The following program for next year has been arranged:

Orator for 1904, Spencer B. Messer, D. D., '83, Detroit, Mich.

Alternate, S. Z. Batten, A. M., '87, Morristown, N. J.

Poet, Mary Bartol, Ph. D., '94, Rockford, Ill.

Alternate, Grace Slifer, '98, Lewisburg, Pa.

The Alumni Association elected the following officers last June.

President, H. H. Bliss, LL. D., class of 1870, Washington, D. C.

First Vice President, W. W. Case, D. D., class of 1863, Port Murray, N J.

Second Vice President, John B. Cook, A. M., class of 1873, Denver, Col.

Secretary, William G. Owens, A. M., class of 1880, Lewisburg, Pa.

Treasurer, L. T. Butler, Sc. B., class of 1897, Lewisburg, Pa.

Board of Managers for next year: C. A. Gundy, M. D., '93; Mrs. Nellie Taylor Davis, A. M., '97; F. E. Burpee, A. B., 1901; Wm. C. Walls, A. B., '73; F. E. Bower, Esq., '69.

Christian Endeavor Social.

On Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church held its annual social, to which all the college and seminary students were invited. A large crowd was present.

On entering each person was given a slip of paper, called the "Christian Endeavor Society railroad ticket," with blank spaces to be filled out with the names of cities in the United States, the names being guessed from a key given in sentences printed just above the blanks. After all had become acquainted with each each other in this way, the following musical program was rendered: Solo, Miss Lane, '06; violin solo with piano accompaniment, the Misses Lawshe; solo, Miss Goodnough.' The serving of refreshments concluded the evening's entertainment.

Tennis Match Possible.

A letter has been received from Franklin and Marshall tennis manager regarding the possibility of a tennis match between that college and Bucknell, to take place soon. Nothing can be done, however, until the Tennis Association meets to elect officers, as the offices of president and manager are vacant and the terms of the other offiicers have expired. One meeting was called for, but a quoroum (a majority of members) failed to appear. The members of the association are requested to gather in Room 1, Main Hall, for a few minutes, at 4.00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 30.

Attend the Bucknell-Indian game.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

Euepia and Theta Alpha Begin a Most Promising Year.

Euepia Literary Society held its first meeting of the college year on Friday. The attendance was large, and all listened attentively to the instructive lecture given by Prof. Hamblin. There were many new men present, all of whom became members of the society. President Renn delivered a speech of welcome, in which he spoke of the material benefits to be realized from membership in the society, and urged all to avail themselves of the opportunity of taking part. Euepia begins the year with every indication of success and prosperity.

New men who have been selected to join Euepia are as follows: Adams, August,. Baer, Brinker, Burrows, Collins, Ebbert, Elsesser, Fassett, Godshall, Hall, S Harris, Hawke, Hoechst, Hoy, Hulley Knorr, Leech, Lockard, Long, Loomis, McNinch, Manley, Miller, Minor, Ovelman, Pettebone, G Roberts, Rockwell, Saylor, Sayer, Schultz, S mington, Smigelsky, Snavely, F. H. Sweitzer, Wascher, Weddle, Whitby, Whitney, C. Winbigler, Wolfe, Wunner, Blair.

THETA ALPHA.

Theta Alpha Literary Society held the first meeting of the year on Friday evening. An interesting program had been prepared and was carried out very successfully. McCauley, '03, gave a good talk on the value of the literary society to the student. Sanders, '05, urged the members to help the society in every way, especially by attending regularly and taking part whenever asked to do so. Rauck, '05, gave a sketch of Jas. R. Lowell's life and read a selection from his works. The question for debate was "Resolved, that the nations of Europe should establish a joint protectorate over Turkey." It was debated very earnestly, by Lesher, '05, and Barton, '06, on the affirmative, and by De Melt, '06, and Phillips, '06, on the negative.

If the meeting was an indication of the nature of succeeding meetings, Theta Alpha can count on a prosperous year. Besides the new men, a large proportion of the old members were present. All the speakers were enthusiastic, and expressed their determination to work hard in the interest of the society.

All new students who have been chosen for Theta Alpha but have not yet joined, are requested to be present at the next meeting, Friday, October 2, 1903, at 7 o'clock.

The following new students have been chosen for Theta Alpha: Andrews, App, Bernhard, Bilger, Bower, Brockway, Coher, Croman, Davis, Elster, Elliott, Evans, Frymire, Griffith, Groover, G. Harris, Heinze, Henderson, Hess, Hilton, Hinmann, Hutchinson, Kraemer, Lummis, Powell, McCall, Oberdorf, Peterson Raker, Rice, Reigel, L. Roberts, Shipe, T. Schultz, Smith, Steinmetz, Stevenson, P. Stolz. R. Stolz. F. R Sweitzer, Webster, Wignall, R. Winbigler.

Mass Meeting To-night.

A mass meeting of students will be held in Bucknell Hall at 9 o'clock tonight. All students are urged to come out, as the cheering must improve before the Indian game.

COMMUNCIATION.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalites. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Editor Orange and Blue:—We alumni feel a keen interest in the "doings" at the college opening. We wish ourselves back again, and the same feeling takes hold of us which we experienced the first week at college. It is proper that we should be interested in the one who gave us birth, and the man expecting to graduate without love for his Alma Mater should not receive his degree, for he would be an unnatural son, doing more injury than scores of unprepared loyal men.

The upper-classmen should see that the Freshmen are started in properly. The habit for study, formed the first term, will serve him well during his course. They should understand it is the upperclassman's privilege to absent himself from "the hill" at night, because he has proven himself worthy by previous years' work. He must learn he has not the right to destroy property, which is characteristic of the Freshman.

It is a deplorable fact that the man who has not the ability and courage to become an athelete, nor the brains to study, will be found on the athletic field jeering the ones who attempt to make the eleven. It is the undigested truth that there is as much honor due the man on the reserve team, as the player who carried the pigskin across Pennsylvania's or Yale's goal line last year.

There are plenty of good men at Bucknell who have the ability to make various teams, yet are unwilling to make the attempt, because they cannot endure criticism. Give the Freshman a chance even if he is tall and unwainly; if he can't make the reserve, he has done more than the jester. Show him your appreciate his attempt. Let it be understood once for all that the jester will be hazed, even if he is a fraternity man or a Senior, and you will find more men on the field than the Coach can handle. When we have reached the point where every man tries for something, you will not need to call mass meetings to teach the Freshmen the defenition of enthusiasm. Let every man do his part. What is the difference if you don't make the team? You have the satisfaction of knowing you made someone else a better player. Be unselfish and at the end of the year you want go home before Commencement. When the athletic field becomes overcrowded, you can depend upon it that the Alumni will not let you go begging for more room.

"Bucknell '902."

Bucknell-Indian Game.

The pilgrimage of Bucknell students to Williamsport on next Saturday to witness the Bucknell-Indian game will probably be the largest in the history of the Institution. During the week the cheering forces will be organized to bring about systematic cheering at the game. An effort will also be made to secure a Williamsport band to accompany the delegation to the field and play during the contest.

ORGANIZING THE HALLS

West College Association Adopts Constitution and By-laws.

West College Association was organized on Saturday under the provisions of the Resolution for the Organization of the Halls, adopted by the faculty last June. A constitution and by-laws was adopted, but the election of officers was postponed till a future meeting. On motion a committee was appointed to confer with Dr. Harris and Prof. Davis relative to securing the large vacant room on the second floor of West College for a combination reading and trophy room. It is proposed that the association fit up the room as a reading and lounging room and purchase glass cabinets for the display of such trophies as are in possession of Prof. Davis, who has been gathering trophies and photographs of 'varsity teams for some time past. The room would be used particularly by the students of the building, although it would be accessible to all students and to visitors, inasmuch as the trophies were displayed there.

The students of East Wing and West Wing held preliminary meetings last week, when committees on a constitution and by-laws were appointed. These halls will be organized this week.

The custom of organizing the college dormitories into houses was inaugurated in the English colleges, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge, and was adopted in this country several years ago by Dr. Harper, of University of Chicago, who hoped thereby to do away with fraternities. The fraternities, however, came in, but the house system continues in vogue and still flourishes. Nearly every "house" has its reading and lounging room, which is fitted up with comfortable chairs and is supplied with current reading matter. The advantages of such an organization are manifold. The principal benefits, however, are the providing of a place where leisure time may be spent, in policing the halls and in providing a medium between the students and college authorities, by which the wants and needs of the former may be made known.

Junior and Senior Theses.

The following announcement has been made:

Each member of the Junior and Senior classes shall write one thesis each year. The Junior thesis shall contain two thousand words and the Senior three thousand. The subject for this thesis shall be selected in conjunction with the head of the department to which the subject belongs. The subject shall be handed to the professor of rhetoric on or before October 15. This year, however, the subject shall be handed in on or before October 22. An outline of the thesis shall be handed in on or before the close of the fall term. The completed thesis shall be handed in on or before March 1. The thesis shall be examined, first, by the head of the department to which the subject belongs and afterwards by the professor of rhetoric. The orations for the Junior Exhibition in Oratory and the Commencement orations shall be based upon these theses. Subjects should be deposited in the Junior and Senior thesis box in the Main Hall.

Everyone who can do so should attend the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport on next Saturday. And what is more, every student who goes should go with the determination of doing as much for his team as possible. The amount of assistance a student in the bleachers can render the men on the field is considerable. Systematic and consistent cheering has won many athletic contests and will win many more. The cheer leaders should organize the students for next Saturday, insisting that every student sit in the cheering section, and make them cheer as they never did before. No shirker should be tolerated. Do not let the farce of last year be repeated. There must be a big improvement over the cheering on Saturday also. The effort to secure a band should be encouraged, too. Win that game we must.

With the reorganization of the literary societies at the beginning of the college year, it is in order to say a few words to the incoming students with regard to the benefits which may be derived from attendance upon the weekly meetings.

The work done in literary societies gives a man command over himself when speaking in public. Everyone recognizes the importance of having self-control in speaking, for it is well known that no person can command others until he can control himself. The majority of students, when they make their first attempt in literary work or public speaking, do not succeed. They lose sight of their topic in their self-consciousness. When those who have begun such work have been in attendance upon the meetings of the societies but a short time, they show marked improvement in their ease of position and manner in public, in command of speech in the recitation room and in their general conversation. Nothing will help a man so much in his life work as an easy, graceful manner in all that he does and says.

The debating is especially helpful ao any man who will take part in it, for it teaches a man to see in an instant a flaw in his opponent's argument. Lincoln once said that the reason he always liked to debate was that it gave him a quickness, accuracy and discriminative power of intellect to which he largely owed his advancement.

But it is not only in the part taken and in the association with bright, active minds that the literary society will benefit a person. It is from the preparation for the work to be done in the meeting also that the student gets much good; for in this he gains an amount of information which he would not otherwise take the time or trouble to acquire. If in these ways alone the literary society can benefit a student, his one hour a week is well spent.

We note with satisfaction the faculty announcement in regard to Junior and Senior theses, which is published in another column.

The change is made with an aim to giving the student an opportunity to write on subjects in which he is interested. Besides, if the work is done faithfully, it will tend to unify a student's thinking. This interest and unity of thought will correlate the studies of the Junior and Senior years, and will produce originality in composition. Each student, then, should choose and choose not offhand, a comprehensive subject that will require investigation.

The advantage in basing the Junior and Senior orations, as indicated, upon these theses needs no comment. And there is an advantage in writing these theses to the student does not care for the public exercises. Frequently when a student graduates from college he wants to go on in the graduate school or the professional school, and he turns to his college professors for recommendations for a scholarship. Now, as a rule, in graduate and professional schools recommendations are thrown out and the question is, What evidence of his worthiness to receive aid does this man give? The evidence that outweighs all other evidenceis a thesis, well written, showing ability to think, to investigate and to do original work. In addition to these advantages the student will think and express his thoughts in writing throughout his Junior and Senior years.

The College Triangle.

Contributed.

Did Mark Hopkins, James A. Garfield and that proverbial log make a College? Or, without the log, did the teacher and the taught make a College? Was there not a book in the boy's hand? If so, there were three constituents of that college; three men, representing the past, the present and the future. And there can be no college without these three men; the man that used to be, the man that is, and the man that is to be.

The College is the triangle of the three men: the man who investigated, thought, discovered; aspired, dreamed, ventured and achieved; fought, sang, hoped and loved: the man who arranges, organizes and interprets: extends, imparts, inspires; instructs, teaches, educates; and the man who through these sees, hears, feels; grows, exercises, expands; aspires, strives to know, to do and to be.

On the base-line of the Library, short or long, erect, at either end, the Teacher and the Student; and the College, in essentials, is complete. Who shall set limits to the length of these lines to the angles at their intersections, or to the enclosure of space between them? The log may grow into the stately piles of Oxford, or the architect's dream for the College of the Golden Gate: the Laboratories may possess every known contrivance for illustration or investigation: the Galleries may exhibit the glories of all human art: the Museums may shelve the relics of all nature, and the memorials of all human progress: the log may be most in evidence to the outward eye—glorified in marble and bronze, in glass and canvass—but the log is not one of the sides of the College triangle. Teacher, Student, Book?thes triangle. Teacher, Student, Book—these three—indispensable, inseparable, and sufficient, constitute the College.

The Library is the Teacher's universalized memory as the Laboratory is his expanded hand, or the Observatory, his extended eye. The Library is the teacher's bank as the classroom is his counter. But it is a bank more anxious to register loans than to receive deposits, to profit customers than to declare dividends.

To the Student books are of two kinds, text-books and other books. The Text-book at best is a guide-book: a guide to nature, to man, to God; to arts, to sciences, to literature; to history, to politics, to laws; to morals, to religion, to philosophy. Let no one of our goodly company of travellers in these glorious realms rest content with this guide-book, and its maps, statistics and itineraries; and so fail to enter the majestic cathedrals, to explore the endless galleries, to revel in the accumulated spoils of the ages. This would be to stay at home and not to travel. The true student must go beyond his text-book, must press into the realities of thought and action and feeling, and make himself conversant with the spirit of humanity in its highest attainment, its worthiest aspiration, its noblest expression.

Were books only the records of past thought, outworn creeds and abandoned points of view; of unfulfilled prophecies, and unsatisfied longings; or were progress by spasmodic effort, by cataclysms and revolutions; were there no increasing purpose toward the for-off Divine event—then it would be less important to provide books and to use them. In such case the Alexandrian conflagration would not have been so great a calamity.

But because progress is growth, and the past is the present, and all knowledge is from less to more; and because books are means of communication between all the world's workers, present with present, as present with past—the true solution of the problem of Babel—the annihilation of space and time and diversity, their importance in the college is difficult to overstate, their function in education is vital, their value to the student, incalculable.

The races at the Lewisburg Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, will be worth going to see.

Mandolin and Guitar Club.

A meeting of the members and candidates for the Bucknell Boys and Girls' Mandolin and Guitar Club was held in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday last. About thirty-five candidates reported. Arrangements were about completed with Prof. Aviragnet to teach a class of club candidates on mandolin and guitar. Entry to these classes can be secured either by seeing the professor himself or the president of the club. A limited number of instruments, too, will be furnished free to those candidates who desire them for the coming year.

The following officers were elected: President, Bartol, '05.

Vice-presidents, Griffiths, '04, and Miss Cobb, '06.

Secretary, Miss Braddock, '05.

Prof. Avairagnet will teach the club as formerly. The next practice will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All are requested to bring parts to "Angel Serenade," Braga; "Jolly Student," "Esmeralda March" and "Under Palm and Pine."

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, COTOBER 5, 1903. No. 3

INDIANS WERE THE VICTORS.

Bucknell Defeated in a Hard Fought Game on Saturday.

The Bucknell football team was defeated by the Carlisle Indian eleven in the annual game at Williamsport on Saturday afternoon; score 12 to 0. The first half ended without either side scoring, but five minutes before the end of the game the Indians crossed the goal line. With a minute and a half to play a blocked punt resulted in the ball going behind Bucknell's goal, where an Indian player fell on it for the second touchdown.

Bucknell lost because she was outplayed at nearly every point, but the Indians were compelled to put forth their very best efforts to win. The game was the most stubbornly contested of any ever played on the Williamsport field. The Indians had the big advantage of three weeks more training and practice than Bucknell and more old men on their team, which were undoubtedly the determining factors in the contest. Coach Warner's men were in the best of condition and in their work they showed the excellent coaching of Mr. Warner, his brother, formerly of Cornell, and the famous Bemis Pierce. Save occasional fumbles their work was faultless. In both offensive and defensive work they surpassed Bucknell. The Indians were able to advance the ball through Bucknell's strongest line men and seldom were held for downs. On the defense their work was equally good, Bucknell being unable to gain consistently either through the line or around the ends. When Bucknell had the ball the Indians' linemen would invariably break through and stop the play. But in the face of the superior work of their opponents, the Bucknell team did not flinch and contested every inch of ground.

Bucknell showed lack of practice. Having played but one game and that on easy contest, the men were undeveloped in team work and were weak in attack. The line was weak in defense also, which greatly handicapped those players who ordinarily are good ground gainers. The best individual work was done by Cockill, Smith, Johnson and Wilcox.

In punting Bucknell excelled, the kicks of J. Johnson being longer than those of Williams by several yards on each exchange of punts. Indeed the work of the Bucknell fullback was one of the features of the game and probably prevented Bucknell from being scored on in the first half.

Captain Cockill won the toss and chose the defense of the south goal. Johnson caught Charles's kick-off on the 5-yard line and returned the ball 20 yards. A fumble gave the ball to the Indians, who, failing to gain through the line, tried a quarterback kick. Bucknell getting ball on their 18-yard line. A bunting duel followed in which Johnson excelled. The ball finally landed on the Indians' 15-yard line in the Indians' possession. A series of quarterback runs and line plunges brought the ball to Bucknell's 25-yard line, where Bucknell got it on a fumble. Twice again Bucknell punted, only to have it returned to their territory by straight football. With the ball on Bucknell's 15-yard line, the Orange and Blue line held fast. A punt put the ball out of danger, but it was returned into their territory again, this time on the 12-yard line, where Williams failed for a drop kick.

Johnson punted and Williams muffed the ball, Cockill falling on it. Bucknell failed to gain and was also penalized for fouling. Another muffed punt gave the ball to Bucknell.

An attempt at a goal from placement failed. After the kick-out Smith made 25 yards on an end run and Bucknell was marching toward the Indians' goal when time was called, the ball being on the Indians' 15-yard line.

For a few minutes in the second half Bucknell outplayed the Indians. Bovard got through the Indian line for a substantial gain after the kick-off and Bucknell's prospects were good. But the Indians braced and soon afterward began an onslaught that gave them their first touchdown.

A blocked punt gave the redmen the ball on their 38-yard line. The halfbacks made good gains, but their team was penalized 20 yards for holding. An exchange of punts gave the Indians the ball on their 45-yard line. Charles gained 20 yards through the line, which was supplemented by shorter gains, the ball being advanced to Bucknell's 10-yard line. From this point Sheldon carried it over the goal line, Johnson kicked goal.

The teams changed goals and the Indians kicked off. The punting duel was on again, Johnson excelling. The Indians forced the ball to Bucknell's 18-yard line where it was lost on a fumble. A fumble again lost the ball for the redmen when they had worked the ball to Bucknell's 12-yard line, but, as it turned out, the display gave them another touchdown. On receiving the ball, Johnson attempted to punt, but the kick was blocked and the ball was knocked back over Bucknell's line, where Williams fell on it for a touchdown. The ball went over to one side but Johnson heeled the punt-out and had an easy goal to kick, which he did.

From the point of view of the spectators the weather was ideal and the field was crowded. More than 5,000 people were in attendance. Two hundred Bucknell students occupied a section of the bleachers and cheered consistently throughout the game.

Will Play Indians in 1904.

Registrar Gretzinger announced on Saturday evening that Bucknell would again meet the Carlisle Indians in football in 1904. The time and place will be decided upon later. Shamokin has made an offer for the contest, which will be considered. This annual event is one of the best attractions in this section of the state, and is remunerative to both teams.

THE NEW HONOR SYSTEM.

Recognition of Students Making Average Grade of 94.

It was decided by the Faculty that beginning with the present year there will be printed in the Annual Catalogue the names of those who attain high standing in their class. The honor divisions of the Sophomore class will consist of those Sophomores who during their Freshman year attained an average of 94 in their required work, and who have all their preparatory work completed. The Honor Division of the Junior class will consist of those Juniors, who having all their preparatory work completed, attained during their Sophomore year a standing in their required work of 94. The Honor Division of the Senior class will be formed in like manner.

The Honor Society selected from the graduating class will consist of those graduates who have attained for the whole course a standing of 95.

Track Candidates Report

Captain Pearse last week issued a call for candidates for next spring's track and field team, and only fifteen men reported, including six members of last year's squad. The old men who reported were, Pearse, Marsh, Gaskill, Thatcher, Stehihiper and Losher. The Freshmen candidates were Lummis, Brinker, and several other promising men.

Several of the candidates have been limbering up by light work on the track, which will be kept up until cold weather interferes. The limited number of candidates makes our prospects for a winning team next spring anything but encouraging. Good track men can be developed from the squad, probably, but in the field events, particularly in the weight contests, Bucknell will be woefully weak, and can scarcely be expected to compete successfully with such a team as the Indians, for instance. The prospects bring such, it is argued that Bucknell should not attempt much in the way of a regular track and field team, confining herself to one dual meet, that with Dickinson; that she should, however, develope a relay team, and in addition, after becoming a member in the Inter-collegiate Athletic Association, send at least two representatives to the annual games in New York City. There are several people who confidently believe that Pearse and Marsh could make a good showing in the quarter-mile and half-mile, respectively and possibly win points for Bucknell. The argument is made that it would mean more to Bucknell to win even one or two second places at the big inter-collegiate games than to defeat both Dickinson and the Indians. The sending of athletes to New York would serve as an inducement to preparatory athletes to enter Bucknell, also. If Bucknell's name were proposed for membership in the I. C. A. A., and accepted, $50 would be required as a fee, and it would take as much more perhaps to send two men and a coach to New York.

The Advisory Board has appointed G. W. Cheesman, '05, captain of the varsity basketball team in place of J. C. Anderson, ex-'05.

A Book Land Geography Lesson.

Contributed.

Any student can become familiar with the location of books in the University Library, in a few hours, by the aid of the following directions:

To one standing at the south end of the library, facing north, there will be seven Alcoves of presses on his left, the west. The S. W. corner alcove, consisting of presses 15a, 16a, 17, 18, contain books on Economics, Politics, Law, Anthropology, Art, and Sociology.

The second alcove, — the "Coxey No. 1,"—presses 14, 15, 16, is devoted to American History. The third alcove,—the "Coxey No. 2,"—presses 11, 12, 13, includes Biblical, Missionary and Religious literature.

The fourth alcove,—the "Bucknell,—presses 8, 9, 10, holds Education, Ethics, Logic, Philosophy and Psychology.

The fifth alcove,—the "Alumni,"—presses 5, 6, 7, contains English and American Literature, Criticism, Oratory and Philology.

The sixth alcove,— the "Spratt," presses 2, 3, 4, shelves books on Biography, Travel and General History.

The seventh alcove, surrounding the entrance door, contains press 1, devoted to the complete set of "Littell's Living Age," and press 19, which begins the North Wall series.

The North Wall, presses 19-21, and the East Wall, presses 25-30, contain the Poole Sets of Periodicals, in nearly alphabetical order. Any exceptions are noted in the list posted above the Index. The Poole Index in six volumes, the Abridgement, and the Yearly Supplements, are accessible on the East Window shelf, adjacent to press 30. Underneath are Cyclopedias and Dictionaries.

Presses 31 and 32 contain part of Science, — the "Loomis Collection." The bulk of the scientific works are in the Chemical, the Biological, the Physical Laboratories, and the Astronomical Observatory.

Presses 33 and 34 contain the books in and on the Latin Language, Literature, Criticism and History, including the "Grier" collection and the "Lemaire" editions. Press 35 is given up to French and German works. Press 36 belongs to the Greek Language, Literature, Criticism and History, including the "Tustin" Collection.

The Ladies' Library and adjacent alcoves contain the "Atkinson," the "Mahon," the "Miller," the "Mitchell," the "Polk," and Wolverton" collections of Government Publications; the "Bates," the "Foehl," the "Hayes," the "Wolfe" collections of State Documents; the "Backus" collection of Medical Works, and the "Cresswell" collection of Theological Works.

The exigencies of space and the fixity of collections somewhat hinder a perfect classification; but in the main the books are grouped according to departments of instruction, and are quite accessible.

Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

A very interesting program was carried out by the members of the society on Friday evening. The attendance was large and every one who was to take part in the program was present.

Pease, '06, gave an oration on the subject "Ideal Citizenship," which was followed by a reading by Tiffany, '05. Griffith, '06, gave a five minute talk on "Our Chances of Success in the Indian Game." Yingling gave a three minute talk on the question, "Should a Man Debate the Side of a Question Opposed to his Convictions?" The question for debate was, "Resolved, that the benefits derived from Inter-national Exposition are Commensurate with the Expense." The question was very well discussed by Challis, '06, and Bernhard, '07, and by Bailey, '06 and Peterson, '07. The interest shown in the first meeting of the term seemed to be manifest in this, the second meeting, which augurs a very successful term's work.

EUEPIA.

The meeting of the society on Friday night was in the main informal, but proved to be one of the most enthusiastic and helpful ever held in the hall. There was a general debate on the question, "Resolved, that the plan for the Organization of the Halls, proposed by the Faculty, should be adopted by the Students." All present, particularly the Freshmen, entered into the discussion with zeal, covering fully all phases of the question.

The students who constituted the hastily organized band that accompanied the football team to Williamsport are deserving of credit for their efforts. The fact was made evident that Bucknell has considerable material for a college band, and we should be pleased to see a regular organization of this kind here.

The annual Sophomore-Freshman football game is just three weeks distant and the teams have already commenced signal practice. We offer the suggestion to the respective managers that they preclude all possibility of the usual wrangle over the matter of elegibility of players by immediately consulting the President on the subject. Indeed it would be gratifying if the college authorities were to adopt permanent rules on this rather important matter.

It has been observed that the young women of the college come to the chapel exercises late nearly every morning. When the services begin, scarcely more than ten or fifteen are in attendance, and these come from distances in town. We should not mention this matter here only that the young women have frequently been held up to the young men as examples of promptitude in the matter of attendance at chapel and classes. Then besides it may lead to a reform movement.

The proposition to join the Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association and send our best athletics to New York City to compete in the annual games, should receive the serious consideration of every person who is interested in Bucknell athletics. Certainly such a step would result in Bucknell becoming more attractive to young athletes, and if we desire to maintain our reputation in track athletics we must have good material. The classes of 1906 and 1907 have been lacking greatly in this respect. We should be glad to hear from the students on this matter. Our columns are open to all. We would suggest that in the mean time the manager of track team learn exactly what steps are necessary for membership.

We note with approval the beginning of a system of honor divisions in each class in the college. The plan will give merit just recognition and will have a salutary effect upon the work of the students in that it serves as an incentive to increased effort.

The announcement of the "honor students" before the Thanksgiving recess is an innovation that will be appreciated. Heretofore the honor list was read in chapel on Monday of Commencement when the attention of the students was largely taken up with other matters, and as a result a very small percentage knew who the honor men really were.

The Honor Society, having the same basis of membership as the scholarship fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, is another step that will probably bring good results.

The 'Varsity eleven was defeated by a superior opponent on Saturday and we are willing that the Indians should have all the glory attaching itself to such a victory. Coach Warner and his men are to be congratulated, for it means something to win from a Bucknell football team.

We have no apologies to offer for the defeat of the Orange and Blue. The men under Captain Cockill put forth an honest effort to win, and they went down to defeat only because they were outplayed. The loyalty of the students to Coach Hoskins and the team has not diminished one iota because of the failure to win; they will continue steadfast in their support of the team, confident that it will bring credit to Bucknell before the season ends.

We take this opportunity of congratulating the students upon their display of spirit on Saturday. Although their efforts were almost drowned out by the din made by the crowd of five thousand people mostly Indian admirers, the students kept manfully at their task, and did the best work when things looked bluest for Bucknell. The fact that they remained after the game and sang and cheered for the team needs no comment. The only criticism of the cheering that could be made is that all the students did not see fit to sit in the cheering section and do their share. These are to be pitied.

COMMUNICATION.

Ed. Orange and Blue:—The shower bathing apparatus in the basement of West College could scarcely be surpassed, and the students appreciate them. The hours in the afternoon during which students may have access to the baths are satisfactory, but there should be an hour in the morning, say from 6 to 7, also, I hope the college authorities will take the matter up.

"G."

Editor Orange and Blue:—The manner in which the Bucknell students stood by their team and colors at the Williamsport game, was one to attract the attention of the spectators and win their admiration. People are ever ready to acknowlege and admire the "never-say-die" spirit manifested so conspicuously upon that occasion, both by the Bucknell team and its followers. The cheering throughout the game was constant and of as great volume as could be expected. The manly recognition of defeat after the game was that of the brave who went to their downfall only after contesting every inch of the way, determined that the Indians should not win.

It was a most noticable and pleasing fact, though it appears so contradictory to common sense, that whereas before the game the red and yellow of Carlisle predominated strongly over the orange and blue upon the Williamsport streets, after the game the Bucknell colors had so much increased in favor that if it could be truly said one way or the other, the orange and blue was actually in the ascendency over Carlisle's colors.

Even though Bucknell did lose the game this year, she was unfortunate only in having a team, not less strong, but laboring under the disadvantage of having had a month's less training than her opponents—a fatal defect so early in the season—and next year with the advantage of this year's coaching and experience, it may confidently be expected that Bucknell will win.

Of Religious Interest

It has appeared expedient to make some changes in regard to membership of the College Y. M. C. A. Previously a member of the association was not generally recognized by other Y. M. C. A's., as one who was entitled to enjoy the benefits of their halls, either for a short stay or for a vacation. According to the present project, a man in joining the College Association will receive a card signed by the president and secretary, which will entitle him as a Y. M. C. A. man, and will secure for him Y. M. C. A. privileges in other towns at any time during the year.

William Miller, Jr, College Secretary, will spend Tuesday among the college boys, and in the evening will meet with them in the Y. M. C. A. hall at nine o'clock.

For the present scholastic year the regular Bible-study classes have been reorganized. The Freshmen, who will study the life of Christ, will be taught by Prof. Phillips; Dr. Perrine will have charge of the Sophomores, who will take up the Acts and Epistles of Paul as outlined by Prof. Burton; Dr. Judd will instruct the Juniors and Seniors in Old Testament characters, which he has carefully mapped out. These classes meet each Monday evening at seven o'clock.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Weidensaul, '02, is again teaching school at Picture Rocks.

Davis, '02, was the guest of his Kappa Sigma brothers last week.

Sweet, ex-'03, is playing center on Connie Mack's Philadelphia football team.

Munro, '06, was in Pottsgrove last Tuesday, serving as best man at a wedding.

G. Gannon, of Nanticoke, paid friends on the hill a brief visit last week.

D. J. Roberts, of Frackville, visited his brothers, Will and Lewis, over Sunday.

Stanton, '02, is again coaching the Denison University football team at Granville, O.

The meetings of the State Mission of the Baptist church will be held in Lewisburg, October 19-22.

Schoch, formerly of Lafayette, was the guest of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi on Sunday.

Hoffa, ex-'03, stopped with friends in college, en route to Philadelphia, to resume his course in Medico-Chi.

Messrs. Edward and John Innis, of Canton, Pa., were the guests of Munro '06, and other friends over Sunday.

Burrows, '02, and English, '02, were the guests of their brothers in Phi Gamma Delta on last Friday.

A local oratorical fraternity, Alpha Nu, started last week with Ely, Ranck, Ausherman, Hassrick and Mill ward as members.

The wedding of J. E. Prout, ex-'05, to Miss Mildred Haverstick, Institute, '02, occurred on September 9, at Elmira, New York.

ACADEMY

Taylor was visited by his father on Thursday.

O. B. Warner is attending the Girard Preparatory School.

Miss Rombach was the guest of Mrs. Edwards on Friday and Saturday.

James Ferrell spent Sunday with Sprout at the latter's home in Pienic Rocks.

Under the able coaching of Prof. Wolfe, the football team is showing up well.

Mrs. Konkle and Miss Konkle, of Montoursville, called on Leon Konkle on Thursday.

Harvey, the Indian, was among the visitors at the game on Saturday. He will soon return to the Indian School at Carlisle

The Calliopean Literary Society opened last week with increased enrollment. The officers for the fall term are: President, Osborne; Vice President, Ralph Thomas; Secretary, King; Treasurer, MacDonald; Sergeant-at-Arms, Johnson; First Critic, Booth; Second Critic, Osgood.

Next Saturday's Game.

The 'varsity eleven will go to Watertown, N. Y., for a game with the professional team of that place next Saturday. The home team is very strong and Bucknell will do well to win. Watertown last year defeated Bucknell by a score of 6 to 0 in a hard fought game, the contest taking place on Thanksgiving Day.

Important to Juniors.

The editor of the L'Agenda has requested that all members of Junior class hand in their photographs as soon as possible. Of recent years L'Agenda has been issued late in the spring term, and this year an effort will be made to place the book in the hands of the students much earlier.

Stars in Baseball Firmament

The signing of McCormick, ex-'04, by the New York National League team, calls to mind the fact that Bucknell has more men in the two major leagues than any other college. McCormick makes the fifth, the others being Mathewson, of the New York Nationals; Sebring and Veil, of Pittsburg, and Barclay, of the St. Louis Nationals. This number will probably be increased by one next season, several teams having expressed their willingness to give Doolin, who played on the 'varsity team of 1900, a trial.

During the season just closed McCormick played with Jersey City in the Eastern League, and led that organization in batting. New York is said to have paid a large bonus for the former Bucknell man.

Mathewson had an excellent season, and next to the veteran, Cy-Young, is perhaps the leading pitcher of the country. He accomplished the remarkable feat of winning eight games from Pittsburg, the thrice champions of the National League.

Sebring played a good game for Pittsburg, and will be with the champions again next season. Owing to illness Veil pitched only a few games for Pittsburg, a majority of which he won, however. Barclay was on the tail-end team, and for that reason did not have much of an opportunity to distinguish himself.

Doolin was with Jersey City and played a remarkable game, attracting the attention of several major league managers.

Weidensaul, who lead the Eastern League in batting in 1902, began the season with Toronto, in the Eastern League, but fell off in his work to such an extent that after being loaned to Worcester, he was allowed to go. He entered the New York State League,' and soon regained his old-time form. He was again taken on by Toronto and finished the season there, playing a good game.

Nattress, who was a member of the 'varsity nine back in the '90's, was with the Buffalo Eastern League team, which finished second in the race.

It is worthy of note that notwithstanding the fact that Bucknell has turned out all these stars, the institution never had but one really first-class team. Of the above-mentioned players, Veil, Sebring and Weidensaul were on the same nine, in 1901, and the following year Veil, Weidensaul and McCormick played together.

Among the Bucknell visitors at the game on Saturday were Griffith, '99, and Phelps, ex-'06. The latter was recently married.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1903. No. 4

VICTORY OVER WATERTOWN

Bucknell Wins On Saturday In a Loosely Played Game.

The 'varsity eleven defeated the strong Watertown, N. Y., professional team on the latter's ground on Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 6. Watertown scored its touchdown in the first half, while both of Bucknell's came in the second half. Bucknell showed great improvement both in offensive and defensive work over the preceding Saturday, although at times the Orange and Blue was outplayed by the experienced professionals. Indeed, the element of "luck" contributed largely toward Bucknell's victory.

The playing field was soft and muddy, which rendered scientific playing almost impossible and caused a great deal of fumbling. The home team fumbled more than their opponents, and lost several opportunities to score thereby. Twice they fumbled the ball within Bucknell's 5-yard line.

Captain Cockill won the toss and chose a goal that gave his team the advantage of a brisk wind. Watertown kicked off, but Bucknell could not gain. Watertown got the ball, but fumbled. Again Bucknell could not gain, and again Watertown, getting the ball, fumbled, this time on Bucknell's 20-yard line. Bucknell, failing to gain, kicked. Watertown advanced the ball to Bucknell's 40-yard line where Draper went around left end for what seemed to be a touchdown; but the official claimed that the halfback went out of bounds at the 20-yard line and the ball was brought back to that point. However, the ball was subsequently pushed over Bucknell's goal-line from that point. The half ended without other scoring.

Bucknell kicked off in the second half and Watertown advanced the ball ten yards, only to lose it on a fumble within their 25-yard line. Taylor, Shipp, Johnson and Bovard carried the ball to Watertown's 1-yard line. On the first two downs Watertown held, but Shipp on the third attempt made the required yard. Johnson kicked goal.

Watertown chose to receive the kick-off, but two attempts by Johnson both went out of bounds. Watertown brought the ball out to their 25-yard line and kicked out. Smith got the ball in the middle of the field and ran 45 yards through the opposing team. Shipp and Roberts failing to gain, Johnson tried a kick from placement. The ball struck the crossbar and bounded back into the field, Vorse falling on it on the 15-yard line, from which point Bovard took it over the line on a run around the end. Johnson kicked goal.

Watertown kicked off and on first down Johnson punted. Watertown got the ball in the middle of the field and rushed it to the 2-yard line, where a fumble gave it to Bucknell, Smith falling on the ball. Johnson punted 35 yards and Watertown getting the ball again, rushed it to the 2-yard line once more. Again it was fumbled and Cooper got it. Johnson punted 40 yards, and time was called shortly afterwards. Bucknell did not make a change in her line-up and not a player was hurt.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		WATERTOWN
Shipp	left tackle	VanDoren
Wilcox	centre	Caldwell
Lenhart	right guard	Edgehill
Taylor	right tackle	Krouse
Vorse	right end	Putman
Smith	quarter back	White
Roberts	left half back	Draper
Bovard	right half back	Boutger
Johnson	full back	Mason

Touchdowns, Bottger, Shipp, Bovard. Goals, Draper, Johnson 2. Referee, Cohen. Watertown. Umpire, Mr. Satters, of Williamsport. Timers, Hoskins, Bucknell, and Gray, Watertown. Hoskins, Bucknell, and Gray, Watertown. 25 minute halves. Linesmen, Fry, Watertown and Thomson, Bucknell.

Cornell Game This Week.

The second important game on Bucknell's schedule will be played on next Saturday when the Orange and Blue meets Cornell at Ithaca. Unless some person is injured during practice this week, the eleven will go to Ithaca in first-class condition, and with good chances for winning the game. Cornell has a large number of new men on her team and since she has had no hard games this season, her strength is unknown. On Saturday Cornell defeated the Colgate team 12 to 0, substitutes being used in the second half.

Bucknell has eight times met Cornell in football and only once has she won, although on each of two other occasions the Ithacans made but one touchdown.

The following are the scores of the seven games:

1888, 0-20.
1889, 0-66.
1890, 0-26.
1891, 4-0.
1892, 0-54.
1894, 0-54.
1900, 0-6.
1901, 0-6.

The victory in 1891 was a great triumph for the Orange and Blue. The Mirror of the issue of November, 1891, says that the game was one of the hardest fought ever seen in Ithaca, and was won by superior all-around playing. "Neither side scored in the first half, but in the second half Smith made the only touchdown of the game. Cornell twice got the ball within a yard of the line, but were forced back. When time was called Cornell had the ball four inches from the goal and the game ended 4 to 0 in Bucknell's favor. Thirty minute halves were played."

The eleven made an excellent record that year, winning six, losing two and tying one. Lafayette and State were among Bucknell's victims. The list of scores follow:

Lafayette, 16-0.
Lehigh, 4-62.
Wyoming, 32-0.
Cornell, 4-0.
Swarthmore, 32-12.
State, 12-10.
Haverford, 70-0.
Dickinson, 0-0.
F. and M., 6-12.

Among the players on the team that year were Joseph M. Wolfe, at present an instructor in mathematics, and H. F. Smith, a brother of Smith, '05.

Football Game With W. and J.

Manager Thompson announces that he has secured a game with Washington and Jefferson, to be played in Washington, on Saturday, November 21. The W. and J. eleven is composed largely of new material this year.

THE BUCKNELL PORTRAITS

Some Facts About Those Whose Faces Students See Daily.

Whose pictures are those,—those faces we students have gazed upon so often and wondered and guessed who they were and what they did to deserve a place within the halls of Bucknell? Those faces have been unnamed and undeclared long enough. Whose picture is it that hangs above the centre platform in Bucknell Hall? Perhaps you have heard it,—William Bucknell. What has he done to deserve this position? He was the donor to the University of Bucknell Hall, the Observatory, the Chemical Laboratory, the "Annexes" to the Seminary and Academy, and thousands of dollars in money. Moreover, he was from 1882-90, president of the Board of Trustees, and after whom in 1896, the University was named. The portrait was presented to the University by Mr. Bucknell about the time of the completion of Bucknell Hall. It was placed therein and has since hung in its present position. Mr. Bucknell's death in 1890 was an unfortunate occurrence for the school, as it prevented the completion of the transference from Mr. Bucknell's estate, property to the amount of a quarter of million dollars into the trust of the University.

In the northeast corner, to the right of Mr. Bucknell, is a life-size, full length sitting portrait of the first President of the University, a gift from his family. Dr. Howard Malcolm was educated in Philadelphia and in the Princeton Theological Seminary. He was an author of note in the religious and philosophical circles of his time, had been President of Georgetown College, and was later identified with the Sansom Street Baptist church of Philadelphia as its pastor. Some time before this, Dr. Malcolm had traveled the world to Burmah for the advancement of missionary purposes. He remained there two and one-half years, and the journey resulted in the general increase of interest and contributions for missionary ends. In 1851 he became President of the University at Lewisburg, as Bucknell was then called. He held this office with every credit and resigned in 1857 to complete his "Index to Religious Literature," published in 1869. President Malcolm died in Philadelphia March, 1879, at the age of eighty-one years. A eulogy has been pronounced over him: "It would be difficult to name any good cause to which his heart had not been given."

To the left of Mr. Bucknell, in the northwest corner hangs the portrait of Dr. Justin R. Loomis. Graduating with honors from Brown University in 1835, he shortly afterwards traveled in Bolivia, Peru and Chili, to pursue scientific explorations. Thus prepared, Dr. Loomis accepted the Chair of Natural Science at the University at Lewisburg, when called upon in 1854, and in 1858 became the second President. He conducted his office with singular ability and retired from it in January, 1879. During his presidency, the first endowment fund, $100,000, was raised, and immediately before his resignation the gradation of the campus was completed, for the purpose of which President Loomis himself subscribed $2500. His literary works, "Principles of Geology, "Physiology," and "Anatomy," completed before his death in 1898, are of great value to the educational world. The portrait was given to the University by Professor Freeman Loomis, the President's son.

In recitation room No 2, Main Hall, there hang four portraits. The one on the north wall is the portrait of Rev. George R. Bliss. Rev. Bliss was graduated from Madison University in 1838 and from Hamilton Theological Seminary in 1840. He accepted the call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at New Brunswick, N. J., in 1843, but left in 1849, to take the Professorship of Greek in the University at Lewisburg. Prof. Bliss was for two years president of the Theological department, and during the absence of President Loomis abroad in 1871 and 1872, he, as senior professor, was given the duties of the Presidency. In 1874 he went to accept a professorship at Crozer, the theological department of the University at Lewisburg having been discontinued in 1867 in favor of Crozer.

Other portraits are in the same room. They are respectively to the left of door, (going out). Mr. H. J. Mulford: to the right of the door, Mr. William Wattson, and above the doorway, Rev. William Shadrach, D. D., all trustees and benefactors of the University in the early days. Mr. Watson and Rev. Shadrach were at different times President of the Board of Trustees, and Mr. Mulford subscribed the greater portion toward the sum of money which gave to New Jersey a Professorship in the University.

There are portraits in the Institute parlors of Miss Harriett Spratt, Jonathan Jones, and Mrs. Katharine B. Larison. These were Principals of the Institute.

Bucknell's collection of portraits is far from complete. There are many important personages intimately connected with the University, whose pictures should be in possession of the University, but are not. Bucknell's first half-century is past and with the filling out of the complete century, the opportunities of ever completing the collection of portraits are swiftly passing away. "B '05."

Mirror Staff Chosen.

The Mirror staff was reorganized last week and the first issue of volume XIII will make its appearance early in November. A committee from the faculty appointed Griffiths, '04, editor-in-chief, who has selected the following staff: Associate Editor, Miss Bane, '04; Assistants, Royer, '05; Renn, '04; Henry, '05, and McCain, '05 Alumni Editors, C. A. Walker, '83 Malvern, Pa.; E. P. Gilchrist, '97, New York; A. R. E. Wyant, '92, Chicago; H. B. Wassell, '00, Pittsburg.

H. J. Sheppard, '06, has been appointed manager, and De Melt, '06, Assistant Manager, by the faculty committee.

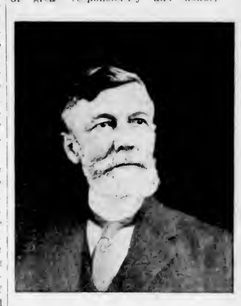

Saturday's Victory.

The news of Saturday's victory at Watertown was received with surprise by the students and the townspeople. The Watertown team is composed of hardened and experienced men, and, having defeated the Philadelphia All-Star eleven the preceding week, few if any of Bucknell's supporters looked for victory. A college victory under similar conditions would have resulted in a big celebration. There is a movement on foot to get a detailed bulletin report of the Cornell game next Saturday.

JAMES SIMMONS SWARTZ

Brief Sketch of One of Bucknell's Foremost Trustees.

James Simmons Swartz, A. M., was born about 1840. Very early in life he went into the service of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, was advanced from position to position, until he became a trusted officer of that road. For a number of years he has been treasurer of the International Navigation Company, a position of great responsibility and honor, and holds the same position with the newly organized steamship combination known as the International Marine Company, of which J. P. Morgan is the head. Until recently his office has been in Philadelphia. He is now located in New York City.

For forty years Mr. Swartz has been a member of the Falls of Schuylkill Baptist church. He has been treasurer of the Pennsylvania General Association, a member of the Board of Trustees in the Philadelphia Association, of the board of the American Baptist Publication Society, and of the Bucknell board.

Mr. Swartz became a member of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University in 1884. He has served as chairman of the Finance Committee, and to him is largely due the fact that not a dollar of Bucknell's fund has been lost. Mr. Swartz is a man of studious habits and literary culture and well merits the degree of Master of Arts conferred upon him by the faculty and Board of Trustees of Bucknell University.

The Mission Study Class.

It will doubtless be interesting to Bucknell students that two graduates of the university were sent to the foreign mission fields last year. They are Keene, '99, and Harvey, '00.

The Mission Study Class work for this term promises to be very interesting, as the text book, which will be used, "Protestant Missions," treats of the early pioneer work, in the Arctic Regions, in India, in our own country among the Indians, and many other fields in which thrilling work was carried on with success.

The class will meet in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Friday evening, immediately after the literary societies. The study will be conducted by Bailey, '06. All those who are interested in missions or those who wish to become interested, are cordially invited to come and learn what great things have been accomplished through missionary effort. X

Since such games are played only for financial considerations, the victory over Watertown is in itself not significant. Yet the disclosure that Bucknell has a good team is very pleasing and we congratulate the men and coach Hoskins. At the same time we would caution the players against any relaxation of effort. It is to be hoped that the eleven will work harder than ever this week in anticipation of the contest with Cornell on Saturday.

The acts of vandalism committed in West College Thursday night, should receive the condemnation of every student who has interest at all in the welfare of Bucknell. It is little less than a reproach upon the entire body that there should exist among them any persons so destitute of a sense of right and decency. We hope that the President will investigate the matter fully and rid the college of the guilty parties regardless of class, fraternity, or personality. There is no use for such an undesirable class of students in this institution.

Once more the Orange and Blue takes up the cause of the trophy room. The need for such a room is apparent, since we have no place where the trophies of victory may be displayed. Bucknell's athletic teams have achieved many a notable victory and it would indeed be pitiful if the memorials of these were to be exhibited where the undergraduate might come in daily contact with them and the "old grad" might come back and renew fond memories. How the old Pennsylvanian's heart must swell with pride as he enters the trophy room in Huston Hall, and there gazes upon the trophies of many achievements! In the undergraduate the sight of these relics of the past must create a feeling of pride and admiration, and fill him with a determination to do his share toward maintaining the athletic reputation of his college. To both it is a great privilege. Then why should the Bucknell graduate and undergraduate be denied the same privilege?

At a recent meeting of the West College Association, it was proposed to convert the large room on the second floor in West College into a combination reading and trophy room. A committee was appointed to confer with Dr. Harris in regard to securing the room and with Prof. Davis, who has performed the great service of collecting trophies and photographs. The latter approves of the scheme. Dr. Harris has not yet been consulted. We trust that if the use of the room is secured, the students of West College will not fail in doing their share toward giving to the institution something that is greatly in demand.

What has become of the Dramatic Club? Bucknell has surely not fallen so far behind other colleges, even those of her own class, that she cannot have a dramatic club. No student is of that opinion. If, then, she can have such an organization, she should do so by all means.

One reason that Bucknell should have a dramatic club is that it is a recognized department of college activity in almost all the more important colleges of the country. In many colleges the dramatic club takes quite extended tours, playing in the cities and larger towns. In some colleges the trips most eagerly striven for are those taken by the dramatic club. And in almost every college, where trips are not taken, the dramatic club produces one or two plays locally each season. Furthermore it is considered a distinctive honor in most colleges to "make" the dramatic club; for it is evidence of ability and application. For these reasons alone there should be renewed activity in this line.

But there is better reason for the existence of a dramatic club, which is that those taking part in such work reap an immense personal benefit. It is not necessary to go into detail on this point. It is sufficent to say that the study required, the oratorical practice gained and the benefits derived from the impersonation well repay anyone for the time and trouble expended.

Those who are not in favor of the dramatic club have the sole objection that such work draws a man's attention from his other college duties. To this the answer can be made that anyone who cares to do it can easily find the time. If a man can be a good student, an athlete and something of an society man at one and the same time, it should be possible to be a good student and take a part in dramatic work. Then let us be "up and doing." Let the Dramatic Club be reorganized.

The Williamsport Sun, a newspaper of exceptional enterprise, has the deplorable fault of being inconsistent. Witness the following:

From the Sun of October 3:—

"People could not help comparing the day with those of former years when Bucknell and State met, with their rival bands of rooters, and all agreed that one of the chief charms of the occasion—the war of yells and college cheers—was lacking."

From the Sun of October 5:—

"Williamsport gave the Carlisle Indians a hearty welcome upon their arrival here Saturday and cheered them on to victory in the football contest with Bucknell at Athletic park. There were two reasons advanced for this display of enthusiasm for the red men on the part of the people of this city. In the first place, the Indians, during their visits to this city, have always conducted themselves in a quiet, orderly manner. In the second place, Williamsport football patrons have not wholly forgiven the Bucknell students for putting an end to the Bucknell-State College games in this city."

In addition to being inconsistent, our "distinguished contemporary" is in error in its premises and reasons wrongly. Bucknell did not "put an end to the Bucknell-State games;" it was State. But it is neither that the Bucknell-State games are no more, nor that we make so terribly much noise —poor Williamsporters—that the people of the Lumber City favored the Indians this year. Perhaps the following facts and figures in basket-ball may give some insight as to their attitude:

Mar. 10—Bucknell 15; Williamsport 13.

Mar. 18—Bucknell 10; Williamsport 6.

In other words, soreness.

Meanwhile the Athletic Association is considering an offer from Shamokin for the Bucknell-Indian game in 1904.

Books and Days

Contributed.

The collegiate year consists, in round numbers, of 250 days. At the rate of ten days to one book, the student can become more or less acquainted with 25 books each year, or with one hundred books during his course. These may be apportioned to his respective stages of advancement, to his individual taste, or to his special purpose in acquiring an education. Better, perhaps, they may conform to some standard fixed by the consensus of experts in the various departments represented, and so possesses the authority of time and favor, which we all crave.

Sir John Lubbock performed an inestimable service for the young when he published his list of the "One Hundred Best Books." In showing that it was possible to compass so vast a range of human learning within such reasonable limits. The variety of opinion concerning the inclusion or exclusion of certain works will always illustrate the adage: "Many men of many minds!"; but the true service of the list is its encouragement to undertake an effort otherwise deemed impossible.

It is the purpose of this note to offer to all students who desire aid in presenting some such scheme of universal reading, apart from their daily tasks, the resources of the University Library, and the assistance of its officers. If those in each class who would desire to organize the "Hundred Book Club" will name an early date, the librarian will be pleased to meet with them and to outline methods of work.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Kingsbury, '06, is entertaining his brother.

A. J. Hiller, of Reading, is the guest of friends in college.

Brandt, '03, spent a few days last week with his fraternity brothers.

C. Francis Potter, of Marlboro, Mass., has entered the Freshman class.

Manley, '07, was called to Canton by the death of his grandfather last week.

C. Barr, who managed the W and J football team in 1899, is visiting friends on the hill.

Little, ex-'04, who has been in Mexico looking after his mining interests, was in town on Monday.

The Indian and Bucknell teams each received $633.81 from the receipts of the game at Williamsport on October 3.

The shower baths in West College will be accessible every morning from 6 to 8 o'clock, in addition to the hours already announced.

Miss Goddard, '05, on Saturday received the sad intelligence of the death of her mother who was a missionary in China. Death was due to cholera.

The Williamsport "Sun" of last Thursday says: "Prof. Harris A. Spotts, recently elected principal of the Lycoming County Normal School, at Muncy, was taken seriously ill yesterday while at the dinner table at the Muncy Valley house, Muncy. For a time his life was despaired of, but today he is somewhat better. Mr. Spotts has not been well for some time Yesterday, however, a sinking spell developed, and his heart showed evidence of being affected. A physician who was hastily called worked with him for some time, before he was out of danger."

Religious Notes.

Of the many ways there are for a man to develop himself while at Bucknell, the all important one is the spiritual. Three opportunities, outside of church functions and the art of living, as it is taught in the class-room, are open for him; namely, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Bible and the Missionary Study Classes. They are kept moving wholly by the student body, and it is an interesting fact to know that the membership is gradually increasing. Each year shows an advance over the preceding year. Statistics of former years show the percentage of the students identified in one or all of these movements to be about one-half. Just what it will be this year is yet uncertain. During the last week committees made a partial canvass of the students, and from the work done, can give some very encouraging reports. While there are a number of college men inactive in religious matters, yet that the mass are in sympathy with the high morals and spiritual living, as well as pre-eminence in the intellectual and social world, is a fact shown by the willing service rendered whenever a request is made.

All the students can spend three-quarters of an hour very profitably in the Y. M. C. A. prayer meeting, held every Tuesday evening in West College. Mr. Hunsberger will have charge of the meeting this week.

INSTITUTE.

The Pa. Beta chapter of Pi Beta Phi gave its annual reception to its alumnae, patronesses and the Freshmen girls on Friday evening. Notwithstanding the rainy weather, many town people attended, and by nine o'clock the Seminary parlors were crowded.

The chief feature of the evening was the writing of telegrams, each word of the telegrams beginning with a letter of the word "fraternity." A cluster of white carnations, the prize for cleverness and originality in constructing the telegram, was awarded to Miss Mary Stanton. At ten o'clock supper was served, and at half after eleven the guests took their leave. These receptions, given at the opening of each fall term, are among the chief social functions of Bucknell.

The Misses Swartz spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. Brookbank visited her daughter the past week.

Miss Mayme Sherrick entertained her sister Wednesday.

Misses Long and Roberts spent Friday with their fraternity sisters.

C. E. A. celebrated the fourth anniversary of her founding on Tuesday afternoon.

The Beta Delta Pi Sorority entertained at the home of the Misses Stein on Friday evening.

The Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

Theta Alpha had her usual large attendance of members on Friday evening. Quite a number of new men were present and signed the constitution, several of whom will take part in the program the coming meeting.

"Scenes in Italy," by Maero, '05, proved to be very interesting and instructive. He spoke from actual experience, and this fact accounted for the vividness of his descriptions. The question for debate was: "Resolved, that a young man should have a lady friend while attending college." It was debated on the affirmative by Ausherman, '05, and McCauley, '05, and on the negative by Barton, '06, and Scheick, '05. An extemporaneous talk was given by DeMelt on, "Is hanging ever justifiable?"

The following program has been posted for the coming Friday evening: oration, McCauley, '05; recitation, Brockway, '07; reading, Challis, '06; extemporaneous speech, Sanders, '05. The question for debate is: "Resolved, that labor organizations promote the best interests of the workingman." The affirmative is Yingling, '06, and Hindman, '07, and the negative, Stolz, '07, and Evans, '07.

EUEPIA.

The regular meeting of Euepia proved to be a very profitable one. The program was short, which gave ample time for the much-needed and helpful parliamentary drill that followed.

Henry, '05, gave an original story, after which Livezy, '04, gave his old mouse story. President Renn appointed Bowen, '05, to take the chair for the parliamentary drill, and he showed remarkable ability, holding the members to the parliamentary rules as set forth in Robert's Rules of Order, in a skillful manner.

The following program has been arranged for next Friday night: current events, Gardner, '05; recitation, Smigelsky, '07. The question for debate is: "Resolved, that Freshmen should be hazed." The affirmative is Drake, '06, and Cole, '06, and the negative, Hess, '05, and Whitney, '07.

Enrique Echanove, of Progreso, Yucatan, Mexico, has entered the Academy.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1903. No. 5

CORNELL DEFEATS BUCKNELL.

Ithacans Were Outplayed but Managed to Win.

Although Bucknell outplayed Cornell at Ithaca on Saturday afternoon, the latter won by a score of 6 to 0. Bucknell gained more ground than her opponent and excelled her in every department of the game, but the element of "luck" was on the side of the home team, and that was the determining factor.

The game was played on a muddy field and in a downpour of rain. As a result there was much fumbling and that was what caused the downfall of Bucknell. The Orange and Blue would rush the ball from her own end of the field to within striking distance of her opponent's goal only to lose it on a fumble or through theft. Several times this was done, and there was great rejoicing in the Cornell camp that they escaped defeat.

Bucknell showed great ground-gaining ability, especially through the Cornell line. Gains of five, eight and ten yards were frequent and only once was she held for downs. On the defense Bucknell was scarcely less strong. Repeatedly was the home eleven held for downs or compelled to kick, and her sole touchdown was due largely to a fake play.

Cornell kicked off, Smith getting the ball on the 10-yard line and carrying it back 15 yards. Gains through the line by Bovard, Johnson, Shipp and Taylor carried the ball to Cornell's 20-yard line, where a fumble gave it to Cornell. The Ithacans advanced it back across the field to Bucknell's 25-yard line, where Bucknell held. Continual hammering at the Cornell line took the ball to Cornell's 25-yard line, where another fumble gave the ball to Cornell. Cornell brought the ball to Bucknell's 30-yard line. The Orange and Blue held on the first two downs, and Cornell tried for a goal from the field. The kick fell short and Smith, getting the ball on the 10-yard line, carried it 10 yards. For the third time Bucknell forced the ball to Cornell's 30 yard line and for the third time fumbled. During the remainder of the half the ball remained near the middle of the field.

The Cornell eleven appeared in dry suits for the second half, which was a big advantage. Soon after the kick-off Bucknell got the ball on her own 40-yard line and rushed it to Cornell's 30-yard line, where it was stolen from Johnson by one of the Cornell players. Rice made 15 yards on an end run. On two downs Bucknell held and Cornell worked a fake kick, which netted 40 yards, the ball being placed on Bucknell's 25-yard line. Rice went through tackle. He was tackled on the 5-yard line, but he slid the remainder of the distance for the first touchdown. The ball was kicked out and heeled and Brewster kicked goal.

Cornell kicked off and Johnson caught the ball on the 2-yard line. He ran through nearly the entire Cornell team and it looked as though he would go for a touchdown. He was tackled and downed, however, in the middle of the field. The ball changed hands several times and, with five minutes to play, was in the possession of Cornell on Bucknell's 30-yard line. By mutual agreement time was called.

The line up:

CORNELL		BUCKNELL
Lawrence	left end	Cockill
Voris	left tackle	Shipp
Fetzer	centre	Wilcox
Hunt	right guard	Lenhart
Costello	right tackle	Taylor
Tourlson	right end	Vorse
Brewster	quarter back	Smith
Rice (Gordon)	l. half back	Roberts
Snyder (Coffin)	r. half back	Bovard
McAllister	full back	Johnson

Touchdown Rice. Goals from touchdown, Brewster. Officials, Referee, Mr. Case, of Watertown. Umpire, Mr. Soders, of Williamsport. Time, Twenty five and fifteen minutes.

Tennis Association Officers.

The Bucknell Tennis Association met on Wednesday and organized for the year. The following officers were chosen:

President, Browning, '04.
Vice President, Sheppard, '04.
Secretary, Bartol, '05.
Treasurer, DeMelt, '06.
Business Mgr., Williamson, '05.

A letter received from the manager of the Franklin and Marshall Tennis Association was read, and its contents with regard to an inter-collegiate tournament favorably discussed. It is likely that a tournament with F. and M. will be arranged to take place shortly after the Easter vacation.

The Bucknell management contemplates a short schedule of tennis tournaments in the spring term.

Bucknell at Princeton.

The 'varsity football team will play Princeton at Princeton on next Wednesday. The eleven can have no practice before that time and as a consequence the prospects of Bucknell are not encouraging. However, the friends of the team believe Bucknell will do as well if not better than the Indians, who were defeated on Saturday by a score of 11 to 0 by the New Jersey team. This will be the first time Bucknell and Princeton have met in football. The 'varsity eleven will not play next Saturday.

Class Officers Elected.

A meeting of the Junior class was held Saturday for the election of a class treasurer, owing to the resignation of C. V. Williamson. H. E. Tiffany was elected to fill the vacancy. An increase in the size of the L'Agenda board was also made in order to facilitate work and secure further efficiency. E. A. Morton and R. D. Royer were unamiously chosen as members of the staff. A. O. Vorse was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of M. H. Prout.

Sophomore vs Freshmen.

The annual class game between the Sophomore and Freshman football teams will be played on the athletic field on next Saturday afternoon. Both elevens have been practicing for a week, and as the spirit of rivalry between the two classes has been quite marked, the game promises to be interesting.

Death of Dr. Alexander.

Dr. H. M. Alexander, of Marietta, Pa., a matriculate in Bucknell, class of '74, died last week. Dr. Alexander was a physician of prominence, being one of the first men in America to produce bovine vaccine. He was the father of Miss Alexander, '07.

FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE.

Faculty Makes Important Changes in The Requirements.

Advanced courses of study have been established leading respectively to the Degree of Master of Arts, and Master of Science. These courses are open only to graduates of Bucknell University. Hereafter the Master's Degree in Course will not be given.

The Master's degree is conferred only on condition that the candidate has completed a course of Liberal Study approved by the Faculty, sufficient to constitute a fifth year of college work.

Candidates for the Master's degree are thus required to take nine courses of study, not less than six of which must be in one department, constituting their major study.

Graduates in the Ph. B. course may receive the degree of A. M. if their major study is in the Humanities, or the degree of Sc. M., if in the Sciences.

The requirements for the Master's degree pro merito will be regarded as satisfied by one year of resident non-professional work in any University of standing, or by two years of work in any professional school of standing.

Each candidate for the Master's degree must register his name, address and course of study not later than the first of November of the year for which he desires registration.

The Master's Degrees will not be granted to students who have not been registered at least one year.

Candidates will be required to renew their registration each year.

What the Y. M. C. A Needs.

If diligent practice is a true test of what is preached, religious activities place our Alma Mater, not only as catalogued but in reality, a christian institution. To maintain this high standard the faculty must have the co-operation of the student body. At present a greater degree of harmony between them in this respect could scarcely be sought. This is shown especially by the appreciation of the new Y. M. C. A. hall in West College and by the efforts which are now being put forth to furnish it in such a manner that it will be still more convenient and attractive. To this end the ambition of the diligent workers for the present year is directed. One important step has already been taken to accomplish this purpose. Of the necessary expenditures involved in the undertaking, the financial committee has made a partial estimate, which is somewhat as follows:

Membership Committee	$5.00
Religious Meeting Committee	50.00
Bible Study Committee	25.00
Missionary Committee	10.00
Music Committee	15.00
State Work	25.00
International Work	15.00
Northfield Fund	50.00
Mr. Harvey, missionary, China,	100.00
Piano	400.00
Furnishing Y. M. C. A. Room	300.00
Total,	$995.00

If this amount can be raised the students will enjoy the attractive features and modern equipment in the religious department, and there will be a fine record for the religious movement.

In view of the fact that the State Mission meetings of Baptist church will be held in Lewisburg, Oct. 19-22, the Y. M. C. A. meeting will be dispensed with on Tuesday night.

Library Notes.

Hand in your thesis theme to the librarian and secure a working reference list of available materials for your thorough treatment of it. Better, possibly, ask and receive suggestions as to the research for such materials. You may find that the quest is worth more than the goal; that the habit of rigid and searching investigation, so essential to the successful worker in active life, may be acquired now.

The Library is an aggregation of the finest tools, adapted by the greatest ingenuity to work of the highest form and value. But the tool is worthless except when guided by the skill and craft of the human hand and brain. Books are dead machines until the inquiring mind opens the valves, and guides the lathes, and puts their stored energy to use, enlarging knowledge or developing capacity. Work with them and they will work for you.

Did you notice that the "Poole Indexes" are all complete to date, and in place on the east window shelf, in the Library? The periodical literature in the English language, for a century, at your instant summons for any topic of human interest, knowledge or opinion,—it is a miracle of patient enterprise and co-operation!

And have you noticed that the gaps in the bound series of the best sets of all this literature are being steadily filled up? A few more shipments from our busy binders, and the shelves will be complete to July, 1903.

The new books in the Alcoves of Economics, Engineering, Law, Literature, and in the Chemical and Biological Laboratories, are too numerous to mention here; but the card catalogue is rapidly swelling with their permanent entries. They are all for you and your successors,—to use faithfully, to handle carefully, and to return promptly.

Orchestra Needs Candidates.

At the first practice of Bucknell Orchestra on Thursday the ranks were by no means filled. There was a scarcity of candidates for violin, cornet, viola, double bass, 'chello, bass, flute, clarinet and French horn. Students who wish to try for these places are urged to attend the practices.

The following officers have been elected:

President, Bartol, '05.
Secretary, Hannah, '05.
Manager, Coryell, '05.

The next practice will be held at the seminary at 4 o'clock on Thursday, October 22.

State Meetings This week.

The state meetings of the Baptist church will be held in Lewisburg on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. An excellent program has been prepared, several several Bucknell alumni being am Bucknell alumni being among the speakers. On Wednesday evening Dr. Harris will make an address on "The Functions of a Denominational College."

C. AND P. SOCIETY ORGANIZES.

First Meeting of the College Year Very Interesting.

The first meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society was held in the chemical laboratory on Thursday afternoon. The following officers were elected:

President, Prof. W. G. Owens.
Vice President, Ausherman, '05.
Secretary, Hayes, '04.
Treasurer, Tiffany, '05.
Executive Committee, Robinson, '04 and Lesher, 05.

The subject discussed was, "The Distillation of Wood and Some of the By-products." Prof. Owens gave a most interesting talk, describing in detail the distilleries he had seen.

The interest manifested at the first meeting of the year augurs well for a successful year. Interesting subjects will be discussed at all the meetings, and all students are invited to attend.

The Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA

Theta Alpha showed a large increase in attendance on Friday evening. McCauley, '05, gave a profitable talk on, "Some Expedients in our Social Life." The recitation by Brockway, '07, was much enjoyed. The question for debate was, "Resolved, that Labor Organizations Promote the best Interests of the Laboring Man." It was ably discussed on the affirmative by Yingling, '06, and Hinman, '07, and on the negative by Stolz, '06, and Evans, '07. After a free discussion of the subject in general debate, the society was favored with an extemporaneous talk by Bartlett, '06. A feature of the meeting was the music rendered by the "Wire Pullers." The new students are taking an active interest in the meetings, which spirit the society would encourage.

EUEPIA

The meeting on Friday evening was well attended and a number of new men were elected to membership. The enthusiasm manifested by the new students is one of the features of the meetings.

Smigelsky, '07, gave an interesting reading, "Biddy's Troubles." The question, "Resolved, that Freshmen Should be Hazed," was debated on the affirmative by Drake, '06, and on the negative by Whitney, '07, and Bowen, '05.

The following program has been posted for next week: current events, Taylor, '07; notes on the Life of Robert Louis Stevenson, Meyers, '05; paper on Stephen Phillips, Hylbert, '05; debate, "Resolved, that the Existence of two Powerful Political Parties Is Beneficial to a Free State," affirmative, Williamson '05, and Lockard, '07; negative, Jones, '06, and Hulley, '07.

A Philadelphia View

Bucknell gave Cornell a terrific battle, and only the superior teamwork of the Ithacans saved them from defeat. Captain Hunt will be kept out of the game for a week by the injuries he received. The Lewisburg eleven has a heavy, powerful line, and the Penn coaches will do well to make careful preparations for the game on October 31.—North American.

Saturday's defeat at the hands of Cornell would not be so hard to bear if we had not outplayed our opponents. We deserved a better fate; but we bow gracefully and await our next opportunity. There is some comfort in the fact that a team selected from 30 candidates proved itself a worthy opponent to one chosen from more than a hundred aspirants. Indeed our team is worthy of our greatest praise and admiration.

The suggested "Hundred Book Club" should meet with favor. The pu pose of the club is to encourage the systematic reading of good literature by organizing the students of the respective classes into clubs,every member of which will be expected to read twenty-five books each year or one hundred books in his college course. This means only one book in ten days. The project is entirely feasible. The librarian has kindly consented to direct the work and outline courses of reading with reference to the individual tastes of the student or the technical requirements of his college course. Every student should pursue some systematic course of reading in connection with his college work in order to avoid conservatism and to cultivate liberal views on all subjects which appeal to educated men.

The revival of athletics among the women of the college is a movement to be greatly commended. There was a time when Bucknell had two basket-ball teams composed of women, one of college students and the other of Institute students. Owing to certain unfortunate circumstances those teams disbanded, and it was not until last year that a team was once more organized. This year, although several of last year's players are absent, there is much promising material, and last week's practice was most encouraging.

One has only to look at the different colleges to see how popular athletics for women have become. At the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia basket-ball is as much a part of the course as Materia Medica or Chemistry, and the competition to get on the team is made only more keen by the fact that the requirements are high.Games are played every week, and a reception marks the close of the season. At this college the games are played in the gymnasium. But at Wilson and several other colleges for women, many of the games are played in the open. Given a level field, no obstructing trees, and favorable weather, there is no better place for a game. And at the dinner given at Wilson at the close of the season, in the pink-checked, demure hostess, with her reposeful manners and gracious air, you would not recognize that eager captain who, the day before, was fighting wildly for the possession of a soiled leather ball and brushing aside her opponents with muscles trained to a degree of perfection of which she is inordinately proud. The day of the Lady of the Interesting Pallor has passed; the day of the girl, healthy in mind and body, is here, and any measures taken to produce this much-wished-for result will meet with our earnest approval.

Last week a student able to perceive the decadence of college spirit toward athletics at Bucknell prepared a number of petitions addressed to the football advisory committee, asking them to consider the advisability of renewing athletic relations with State College. For personal reasons the petitions were not circulated and likely will not be. However, the incident serves to draw attention to a subject which has been discussed to a considerable extent among Bucknell students and its friends during the past two years.

Athletic relations between Bucknell and State have been suspended since the fall of 1900 when formal action in that respect was taken by the State authorities as a result of the trouble at the Bucknell-State game in Williamsport in November of that year. Since that time Bucknell has met the Carlisle Indians annually in Williamsport, and the loss of State as an opponent has not been felt except in the decline of enthusiasm. Financially we have profited, for the Indians are a better drawing card than State. On the other hand, State has met Lehigh and Dickinson, with results not altogether satisfactory. That this is true is shown by the fact that the managers of the various State teams have within the past two years attempted to negotiate games with Bucknell. Only last spring an offer was made by the State baseball manager to send a committee to Lewisburg to confer with a similar committee from Bucknell with a view to arranging games. This and the other offers were politely declined as a matter of principle on the part of Bucknell.

We believe that the authorities of State College, and the students as well, are sorry for the hasty action of 1900. We are sure that the friends of both institutions regret very much that the breach exists. We cannot speak with certainty as to the attitude of the students of Bucknell, but we venture to assert that upon one condition nine-tenths of them would welcome a resumption of relations with State. Before they could approve any action of the kind it would be necessary for State to rescind her former action and formally express her desire to once more be on friendly terms with us. Nothing short of that could be countenanced, and State is unreasonable to expect that we will listen to her proposals until such action is taken. This is the students' attitude as we view it, and we concur in it; the position the college authorities take is another matter.

Our personal concurrence in this position is that we desire the decline of college spirit to be checked. That there is a decline no person can deny. One has to only reflect that football teams which many a larger college would have been glad to support have been backed up with a degree of enthusiasm discreditable even to a preparatory school. We would not urge the discontinuance of the annual game with the Indians; both they and the State could be played in Williamsport or in any other city the committee might select.

ALUMNI.

Chaplain Bayard, '99, is on the U. S. S. Brooklyn at Beyroute, Syria.

Ulmer, '02, is in charge of the science department of the Williamsport High school, pursued a special course in Harvard recently.

Wassell, '00, has been admitted to the Allegheny County bar and has opened an office in the Frick building.

Professor W. W. Kleckner, '85, principal of the Williamsport High school, spent the summer in post graduate course in psychology at Columbia University.

Miss Reed, ex-'05, now employed as teacher of German in the Williamsport High school, took a special course in the German department of the University of Michigan.

Lucky Bucknell Athletes.

The members of the Pittsburg National League, baseball team, including Sebring and Veil, former Bucknell students, each received $1,200 as his share of the receipts of the world's championship series. Veil's part in the series consisted of just eight innings of pitching.

Death of Miss Stevens.

Miss Anna Stevens, ex-'03, daughter of Dr. LeRoy Stevens, died at her home in Lewisburg on October 10. Miss Stevens was a young woman of many excellent qualities, and her untimely death is a source of deep regret to those with whom she was associated in college.

COMMNICATION.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalites. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

A Student's Suggestion.

Editor Orange and Blue:—In consideration of the fact that chemistry requires a great deal of time, both in the laboratory and outside, it would be very advantageous to the students if the hours spent inside could be lessened. A great deal of the time spent there is employed in searching for chemicals. Oftentimes the student is compelled to go around the room several times before he is able to find the acid or chemical for which he is in search. Even after fifteen or twenty minutes' hunting he is very likely to find the bottle or glass empty and the office closed,and he is unable to complete an experiment because of lack of materials. He is compelled to finish the experiment at later time when it is very inconvenient for him to do so. The majority of students have their schedule arranged for study, and especially for laboratory work, and if they cannot do their work at the specified time, they do not do it at all.

Surely if each chemical had its own place on the shelves of the room and it were always kept in that place, and every bottle and every glass were kept filled, and the name of the chemical were again pasted on the receptacle when it is rubbed off by constant handling, the hours spent in the laboratory would be lessened by half. Since the student is required to pay a considerable sum extra for a course in chemistry he has a right to expect that the laboratory will be in a condition to facilitate his work as far as possible, and that an assistant will be present during all the hours in which the room is open. We are willing to admit that many of the students are careless and are to blame, to some extent, for the condition of the laboratory, but we are very sure that if the suggestions herein given are kindly considered, the students will be more thoughtful of their duty and will be careful.

WEST COLLEGIAN.

What Bucknell Does.

Editor Orange and Blue:—I have read with interest the articles in the Orange and Blue and the Williamsport Sun concerning the Indian-Bucknell game. The Sun intimates that Williamsport is under no obligations to Bucknell for this game. It has evidently lost sight of the fact that immediately after State's abrogation of her annual game with Bucknell, the management of the latter team made energetic and successful efforts to secure the Indian game for Williamsport. In carrying forward the negotiations Bucknell's proposition to the Indians was that they agree to the game and Bucknell would assume the entire responsibility; that is to say, if there should be any loss, such loss was to be assumed by Bucknell and in case of any surplus after the common expenses had been deducted, such surplus was to be equally divided. This proposition has not been changed one iota, and, while it placed upon Bucknell great responsibility, it has been entirely satisfactory to both teams. It must also be borne in mind that aside from the work done by the Merchants' Association in promoting the game and the courtesy of Mr. W. H. Kilbourne, manager of Athletic Park, all the details contingent upon this game are mapped out and carried forward by the Bucknell management. The Indians do not participate in the arrangements, except to sanction such actions as demand concurrence. It is but justice to Bucknell that these facts be made known. ALUMNUS.

Need of a Glee Club.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Why does Bucknell not have a glee club, is a question that frequently presents itself. Surely there was never more musical talent in college than at the present time, and there is no doubt that a first class glee club could be formed. There could be no more opportune time to reorganize than now. Dr. Aviragnet stands ready to give his very efficient services in training the men who may care to join. And few college glee clubs have the advantage of the leadership of such a man as Dr. Aviragnet, whose experience and ability make his aid invaluable. Another reason why the reorganization should take place now is that the Athletic Association is in need of money. Athletics are an expense to the small college rather than an earner. As a money-maker, the glee club would be good if well conducted. Many colleges take their baseball teams on extended trips, especially to the South, paying the expenses incurred by the money the glee club makes.

As was said in the Orange and Blue last week with regard to the Dramatic Club, the main benefit derived from a glee club is by him who takes part. And a man is just as much working for his college along this line as he could in athletics. College spirit alone should lead him to want a glee club in the college.

SOPHS ARE VICTORIOUS

Football Game Results in Favor of Second-Year Men.

The annual Sophomore-Freshman football game, which was played on the athletic field on Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for the former. The score was 6 to 0, the sole touchdown being made in the second half. The second-year men won the game on its merits. They excelled their opponents in every department of the game, although the Freshies made a stubborn resistance and gave up only when the whistle blew at the end of the game.

The weather was ideal for football, and the friends of both teams were out in force. Enthusiasm ran high, not only among the Sophomores and Freshmen alone, but among the upper-classmen as well. The young women of the college were seated in two sections on the hillside, the Seniors and Sophomores in one group, and the Juniors and Freshmen in the other. They waved their flags and pennants and sang and cheered as lustily as the young men. In truth there was more system and order to their cheering than their sterner classmates displayed.

The Freshmen lacked in confidence and displayed poor teamwork. At only one stage of the game, early in the first half, did the Freshmen show any superiority in their work. They rushed the ball fifty-five yards only to lose it on downs on their 25-yard line. After that they did not menace their opponents' goal. The Freshmen could gain only on line plunges. Nearly every attempt to run the ends failed. They were weak on the defensive, although they made a gallant stand on their one-yard line and nearly prevented the Sophs from scoring their touchdown.

The Sophomores played with more dash than their opponents and their gains were more consistent. Line plays and end runs were alternated with success, and their touchdown was earned. Neither team showed much ability in punting.

The Sophs kicked off to the 15-yard line and the ball was returned twenty yards. Failing to gain on two downs, the Freshmen punted 25 yards. The Sophs lost five yards on a penalty and on the first pass, lost the ball on a fumble. Getting the ball in the centre of the field, the Freshmen rushed it to the Sophomore's 25-yard line where they were held for downs. From this point the Sophs rushed it to the Freshmen's 15-yard line, where the first-year men held. A short punt gave the ball to the Sophomores on the Freshmen's 25-yard line, but they lost it on a fumble a moment later. The mistake of the quarterback in running with the ball cost the Sophs twenty yards. The Sophs punted and Leach got the ball on the 15-yard line. After two first downs time was called.

In the second half the Freshmen kicked to Taylor on the 5-yard line, who returned it 25 yards. The Freshies resisted the first attack, but Frymire was off-side and the Sophs got five yards. Line plunges and two nice gains around the ends by Taylor and Thatcher put the ball on the Freshmen's 12-yard line. Taylor carried it to within four feet of the goal line. Two attempts netted the Sophs only a yard, but Leighton was equal to the task on the third down and put the ball a foot over the line. Claypool kicked goal.

Leach got the Sophomore's kick-off on the 10-yard line and ran it back twenty yards. Poor work by the Freshmen ends permitted Lammis to lose ten yards when he attempted to run with the ball. With ten yards to gain on third down, Leach punted thirty yards. The ball changed hands several times during the few minutes remaining and the half ended with the ball in possession of the Sophomores in the middle of the field.

The line-up:

Touchdown, Leighou. Goal from touchdown, Claypool. Referee, Taylor, '02. Umpire, Smith, '05. Time of halves, 20 minutes each.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course.

The Y. M. C. A. has arranged an excellent course of lectures and entertainments consisting of five numbers to be given in the near future. The committee has secured talent—of the first rank and deserve the hearty support of the student body in their endeavor to present a course of lectures which will have an educational value while affording entertainment. The mere announcement of the numbers in the course should prove sufficient advertisement and should result in packed houses at every lecture. Arrangements have been made for the following speakers: John B. DeMotte, Dr. P. S. Henson, of Brooklyn, Dr. Lincoln Hulley, Russel H. Conwell and the Katharine Ridgeway Concert Company. The course has been arranged in connection with the Ridpath Lyceum Bureau of Boston.

Tickets for the course will be sold at a nominal price for the benefit of the College Y. M. C. A. It is unnecessary to state that the course offered imposes heavy expenses upon the Y. M. C. A. and united support is solicited from the student body. This course of lectures fills a long-felt want in the college and all should heartily support the movement. Buy a season ticket and look for further notices of the course in succeeding numbers of the Orange and Blue.

The dates are as follows: Nov. 24, Dr. Conwell; Dec. 9, the Ridgeway Concert Company; Jan. 26, Dr. Hulley; Feb. 16, Prof. DeMott; Mar. 15, Dr. Henson.

Sophomores Celebrate.

The Sophomore class celebrated their victory over the Freshmen by a parade on Saturday night. On Sunday Neill, '06, entertained the members of the team at dinner at the Baker House.

Game For the Reserves.

Assistant Manager of Football Marsh has arranged a game with Berwick for the reserve team, to be played at Berwick on Thanksgiving Day.

BUCKNELL'S GOOD SHOWING

Princeton Compelled to Work Hard to Score 17 Points.

The Bucknell eleven was defeated by Princeton at Princeton by a score of 17 to 0 on last Wednesday in what is acknowledged to have been the Tiger's hardest game this season. Although suffering from the effects of the Cornell contest of the preceding Saturday, the Bucknell players put up an excellent game and only after some of the best Orange and Blue men were compelled to retire on account of injuries was Princeton able to cross her opponents' goal line. In the first half the best Princeton could do was to kick a goal from the field.

Princeton was unable to do a thing against the Bucknell line, gaining not more than 25 yards through that source during the game. Time and again the Tiger attack was repulsed. Once during the second half when Princeton was trying hard for a touchdown, the Orange and Blue line held like a stonewall on the two-yard line, and the ball went to Bucknell on downs. Princeton's biggest gains were made on short end runs and on fake kicks. Bucknell made several first downs, but her gains were not consistent. Most of them were made in their own territory. Skipp and Taylor were used in the tackle-back formation and tore through Princeton's line for big gains. End runs could not be worked successfully, the runner usually being tackled for a loss. The best playing for Bucknell was done by Wilcox, Shipp, Taylor, Johnson, Cockill and Bovard. Wilcox and Salpp especially distinguishing themselves. Johnson, Smith and Roberts were compelled to retire in the second half on account of injuries.

Bucknell kicked off to Vetterline, who made 25 yards to which Dewitt added 25 on a fake kick, and within four minutes had ball on Bucknell's 2-yard line, when Short made a costly fumble. Bucknell kicked out of danger. Then short gains by Hart and Foulke brought the ball back to the 25 yard line, when Dewitt kicked a field goal.

No further score was made during this half, though Bucknell gained 22 consecutive yards on line plunges, aided by Shipp on tackle back formation.

In the beginning of the second half Princeton took the ball up to Bucknell's 2 yard line, when the Orange and Blue made a magnificent stand. Johnson kicked the ball out to the centre of the field, and the Tigers started back again. Short gains by Hart and a 25 yard run by Stevens netted a touchdown. Vetterline kicking goal.

Princeton's second and last touchdown was made on line plunges by Dewitt, Hart and Kafer, together with Burke's 20 yard run. Burke heeled the kick-out and Dewitt kicked the goal. The game closed with the ball on on Bucknell's 25 yard line.

The line up:

PRINCETON		BUCKNELL
Davis
Brashear	left end	Cockill
Short (Waller)	left guard	Cooper
Waller / Short	centre	Wilcox
Dillon / Dewitt	right guard	Lenhart
Reed / Carothers	right tackle	Taylor
Henry / Crawford	right end	Vorse
Vetterlein / Burke	quarter back	Smith / Neil
Foulke / Stevens	l. half back	Roberts / Switzer
Hart	r. half back	Bovard
Miller / Kafer	full back	Johnson / Winbigler

Touchdowns—Stevens, 2. Goals from touchdowns—Vetterlein, Dewitt. Goal from field—Dewitt. Umpire—W. Young, of Cornell. Referee—Okeson, of Lehigh. Timer—George Goldie, Linesman—Ward, Princeton; Thompson, Bucknell. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

The meeting of the Theta Alpha Literary Society on Friday evening was well attended. Sanders, '05, gave an oration on "The Eloquence of O'Connell." De Mell, '05, sketched the character of Roosevelt, and Lesher, '05, discussed the Russia-Japan question. The question for debate was, "Resolved, that a voter should always support the Party Nominee." The affirmative was Tiffany, '05, and Bernhard, '07; and the negative, Stehmetz, '07, and Riggs, '07.

The program for next Friday night is as follows: essay, Challis, '05; recitation, Peterson, '07; oration, Phillips, '06; debate—"Resolved, that a Universal Church would be more successful in Christianizing the World than are the Efforts of the various Sects;" affirmative, Barnette, '06, and Webster, '07; negative, Pease, '06, and Davis, '07; music; extemporaneous talk, Green, '06.

EUEPIA.

There was a good attendance on Friday evening and the usual interest was manifested. Saylor, '07, gave an interesting talk on current events, and Livezy, '04, told of the benefits of the Baptist State meetings. Whitby, '07, gave an extemporaneous speech on the Freshman-Sophomore football game. The question, "Resolved, that two leading Political Parties are Beneficial to a State," was debated on the affirmative by Lockard, '07, and Raker, '07, and on the negative by Phillips, '06, and Sayre, '07. The Euepia quartette, Phillips, '06, Adams, '07, Hoechst, '07, and Thomas, '07, rendered two vocal selections, which were well received.

The following program has been posted for next week: current events, Stewart, '06; an extract from "My Own Story," by Trowbridge, Raker, '07; original poem, Patter, '07; reading, Sayre, '07; debate, "Resolved, that the Study of Light History is of more Value than that of Literature;" affirmative, Rumsey, '06, and Reese, '07; negative, Hall, '07, and Weedle, '07.

Hours For Bathing.

The bathing hours for West College are as follows: Monday to Friday, inclusive, 6 a. m. to 8 a. m., and 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.; Saturday, 6 a. m. to 12 m., and 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

MANY ALUMNI PRESENT

Baptist Convention Brings Host of Men to Alma Mater.

The State convention of the Baptist church in Lewisburg last week was of much interest to the students of Bucknell. In addition to the pleasure of becoming acquainted with a host of alumni, the daily meetings brought them into contact with some of the brightest men of the State.

The chapel exercises on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings were well attended by Bucknell alumni and other delegates. The first period on Wednesday morning was taken up with addresses by a number of the visiting delegates. Those who spoke were, Rev. J. G. Walker, D. D., Rev. George B. Rees, D. D., and Rev. B. L. Whitman, D. D., all of Philadelphia, and George K. Crozer, of Chester.

On Wednesay afternoon a reception was tendered the delegates by the young women of the college in the Seminary parlors.

Among the Bucknell alumni present were the following: George Ballentine, '71, Ellmsport; J. H. Cooke, '98, New Albany; W. J. Coulston, '83, Greensburg; L. C. Davis, '76, Allenwood; S. F. Forsyth, '72, Huntingdon; A. J. Furman, '59, Indiana; D. B. Garner, '95, Coal Point; T. C. Hanna, '95, Jeansinown; Theodore Heysham, '94, Bridgeport; W. S. Holland, '00, New Jersey; E. Hulley, '92, Factoryville; R. M. Housieker, '82, Chestnut Hill; J. S. Hutson, '95, Allegheny; A. J. Irey, '75, Warren; C. R. James, '75, Allentown; J. S. James, '98, Altoona; Owen James, '76, Johnstown; F. H. Lane, '73, Huntingdon; A. C. Lathrop, '94, Millesburg; W. C. Leinbach, '89, Shamokin; D. E. Lewis, '96, West Pittston; W. R. Maul, '97, New York; John C. Nissley, '82, Harrisburg; H. M. Pease, '95, Halstead; David Phillips, '95, Plymouth; E. R. Powell, '96, Warrensville; W. E. Ruch, '01, Ridgway; T. H. Sprague, '97, Philadelphia; David Spencer, '93, Blakely; C. A. Soars, '88, Philadelphia; J. E. Sam, '98, Norristown; John Sherman, '09, Picture Rocks; F. I. Stimmel, '05, Everett; Paul Tustin, '91, Bloomsburg; J. G. Walker, '62, Philadelphia; C. A. Walker, '89, Malvern; R. T. Wiltbank, '98, Hollidaysburg; J. R Wood, '94, Frankford; Mrs. J. R. Wood, '94, Frankford.

Next Saturday's Game.

The 'varsity eleven has another important game this week, playing Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on next Saturday. The result of the Penn-Columbia game on Saturday is proof that victory over the Quakers next Saturday is not out of reason; on the contrary, a spectator of Saturday's contest says that Bucknell has a better opportunity to defeat Penn this year than she had in 1902.

Bucknell has seven times met Pennsylvania in football and each time has lost. Twice, however, she has scored on the Quakers. In 1899 Mathewson kicked two field goals on Penn in the first half of the game, the score standing 11 to 10 in Penn's favor at the end of the half. The other time was last year, when Bucknell scored a touchdown but failed to kick goal. Both last year and the year before Penn was lucky to win.

The appeal for a glee club contained in a communication in last week's issue of the Orange and Blue, promises to bear fruit. Notices of a meeting for the purpose of organizing have been sent out and the forming of a club will likely result. The movement should receive encouragement from those who can in any way help it along. Bucknell needs a glee club and now is the time to organize.

This is an appeal to the "scrubs". Bucknell has a good chance to win from Pennsylvania on next Saturday, but whether we do or not depends largely upon the work done in practice this week. Since effective work cannot be accomplished without plenty of men for the "scrub" team, it behooves all those who have any ability in the line of football to be out this week. Help the 'varsity along.

We respectfully direct the attention of the student body to the communication on college spirit in another column. It strikes point-blank at one of the most pronounced shortcomings of the students of Bucknell. While unstinted praise, such as the professional baseball players receive, is a thing to be avoided in college, loyalty to an athletic team is a debt which every student owes and which he cannot well afford to neglect. The student should remember that the football or baseball team is not an institution unto itself and that it represents not any particular few, but the entire college, and therefore is entitled to his encouragement and support. On next Friday the team leaves for Philadelphia to play Pennsylvania. Let there be a big turnout at the station for the purpose of giving them an enthusiastic send-off.

What a test of character is—we had almost said, an umbrella,—but you know we mean, a book! Of course that note in bank will test the maker; that borrowed dollar, may sever friendship; and the umbrella is the standing jest of the humanity that intends to do well, but forgets.

Now the umbrella is of no account until the next downpour,—unless we wish to emulate the Quaker. The note unpaid may crack the maker's credit, but will scarcely break the bank,—unless it is a whopper! The lender of the dollar may save ten by the safe deposit of one.

But the book! Who can estimate the agony caused by the borrower who returns not, or hardly ever, or possibly, next year? To be sure, he is through with it. Dust adorns its cover. It is like dirt,—matter out of place. But in the library its place knows it no more. The seekers turn sadly away, defrauded of the expected pleasure. Hope deferred maketh the heart sick. The urgent assignment cannot be ready in time. The one authority for an era, a policy, a theory, is missing. The poem just in print, the priceless jewel upon the forefinger of all time; the drama whose actors we hoped to see strut the stage; the denouement of that grand romance, whose "finis" hangs by the thread of a single number of a magazine; that great decision, turning the current of legal interpretation like an island in the stream:—any one or all of these contingencies of happiness to eager mortals, to be dashed with disappointment with the laconic: "It is out!"

Needs there more ado about something?

As you would be done by, so do! and the readers of books will vote you a jolly good fellow, as indeed we know you are, and intend to remain.

The benefits to be derived from attendance upon a small college are becoming more and more a matter of comment. So much has been said that several writers have collected statistics on the subject. These statistics speak well for the small college. For, in regard to the pleasure to be gotten from the college course, the matter of personal contact of teacher with student and the success of the graduates, the smaller college is shown to be in the lead.

Only one who has spent several years at a small college before going to a larger one, can appreciate how dear to him were his comrades and his social life in general at the smaller institutions. In the smaller college a man knows nearly all of his fellow students, while in the larger college he often does not know the man who rooms across the hall or next door. This more general acquaintance and closer friendship need not detract from his class work. On the contrary, pleasing surroundings should help a student in that respect.

As for the success in life attained by the graduates from the small college in comparison with that of the graduate of the larger institution, the statistics show that almost two-thirds of the men who now stand prominently before the public are graduates from small colleges. Trial is the test of efficiency in training one for the battle of life, and trial speaks well for the smaller college. Of course, the large institutions attract to themselves wealth, and have about them a halo of prestige. But even at Bucknell the smartest man has more held out to him to do in four years than he can rightly do in a longer time. And the world will not ask where you graduated; it will ask what you can do.

Evolution of College Yell.

Commenting on the suggestion of Prof. Jas. A. James, of Northwestern University, that the football chant be applied to prayer meeting services, the New York Sun gives the following study in evolution of the noisy college yell: "It seems to derive immediately from the Indian yell which so curdled the veins of the early settlers in the American Colonies. There lingers much of that old, sharp, savage tomahawk-like delivery. Like that copper-colored predecessors, it possesses something inhuman, the cry or yelp of the wild beast. It must have passed from North America to Asia, for it has strange, high Mongolian shrieks and notes. It has salient analogies with the unintelligible archaic ululations and agonies of speech used by medicine men, powwows, angekoks, shamans and all the worldwide tribe of sorcerers, witch doctors, soul-catchers and devil-drivers. The magical formulas of gramayre, the patter of enchanters and conjurers, is a sister speech or dialect to it. In the Arabian Nights country or Thessaly of the witches a band of college yellers would have been revered as probably dangerous necromancers, and in the East to-day they would, at the worst, be respected as lunatics and touched with inspiration. In the early centuries they would have been exorcised as demoniacs. In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries they would have been burned as wizards and confederates of him who as a roaring lion walketh about. In all the gabble attributed to the Black Man's imps and devotees there is no queerer abracadabra than this college yell."

"The Guardian."

Major General Charles Miller, a trustee of Bucknell University, has written and published a very graceful little story entitled "The Guardian." It is the old story of the young lover made inconsolable for life on account of the death of his affianced; but it is so clearly localized at the foot of the Juniata mountains, and is told in such smoothly-flowing sentences that the reader almost sees the aged lover still sitting and pausing over the grave of the one he lost so many long years gone by. There are lively description and deep pathos in these pages which are embellished with appropriate drawings by Horatio R. Harper and G. Patrick Nelson. No one can read it without feeling that the General wields a very pleasing pen and that success awaits him in this effort as it has followed him in so many others. The story finds an appropriate setting in the book itself which is a dainty specimen of the art.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

As To College Spirit.

Editor Orange and Blue:—I would like to add a word to what you have already so well said concerning college spirit. The send-offs the football team has been given this year at each of its departures, except when it went to Williamsport, have been both encouraging and discouraging; encouraging as to quality, discouraging as to quantity. You would not spare me space enough to enter into the ethics of cheering, so I will simply refer any one desiring to know the effect of a rousing, good send-off to any member of the team. There can be no doubt as to the encouraging effect of good cheering on the spirits of the players, not only when they are in the game, but also when they are leaving for a game which is played so far away from home that not even the echo of the Bucknell yell will be heard.

Now is it worth while for the student body—and this includes "Preps" as well as college students—occasionally to appropriate fifteen minutes of their time to be spent at the railroad station in cheering? This is the advertising age, and, although we may be sorry to confess that the advertising gotten through brawn brings to our school even a limited number of students, nevertheless it is a fact that a game played with a larger college brings our college to the attention of many who would never hear of us in other ways. It may be that the men of the team go for the trip rather than any help they may be to the school, but this is to be doubted, and were it the case they would be building better than they know. What is there in a trip which can compensate a man for the long hours spent in training and practice, the risk of serious injury he runs even in every practice game, the time he loses from his lessons? In return for these sacrifices he gets long, hard rides, often night rides—and not in Pullmans, either. When he arrives in town he has scant time to see anything, for Coach hustles them off to bed at an early hour. Surely if these men who, in a way, belong to and represent every student here, are willing to do all this, even though at times they are sure that the game is not worth the candle, the student body several hundred strong, ought to be willing to do all in their power to help the team and help themselves.

And a word concerning a defeated team. Congratulate them on their playing as heartily as you would had they won; the winning or losing of a game is simply incidental. It is the playing which is the constant factor and is the only thing for which a team is responsible. We might well take a lesson from one of the largest games played last season; as the students from the defeated college marched from the athletic field to the railroad station, they cheered their team so lustily and sang so loudly that the good people of New Haven thought the visitors had won a glorious victory rather than suffered a humiliating defeat.

Mrs. Conners and Miss Tracy spent Sunday in Reading.

Miss Taylor went home on Wednesday to attend a wedding.

The Sophomore girls gave a feast on Saturday night to celebrate their victory of the afternoon.

Mrs. Edwards entertained at the Academy on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Wood, of Frankford.

There will be an At Home in the Institute Parlors on Monday, November 2, from four until six o'clock.

Miss Schuyler of the Baptist Training School at Philadelphia, gave a very interesting talk in chapel on Friday evening.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Stanton gave an At Home for the ministers who were attending the Convention. All the rooms were opened for them, and a very delightful afternoon was spent.

As Others See Us.

Of the many favorable comments on Bucknell's football team that have been during the past three years none is more gratifying than the following by "The Collegian" of the Public-Ledger, which is based, not upon reports, but upon actual observation of the work of the team at the Princeton game last week:

"A word concerning Bucknell. The Lewisburg eleven is a powerful aggregation, and practically invulnerable from line attacks. Its most patent weakness is lack of concerted defense in stopping tackle plays. Offensively, Bucknell has the power to gain against any line. Shipp and Taylor are used behind the line, and time and again they made first down through the Tiger line. Shipp is a star. He was all over the field and down the field with his ends. Smith is a clever quarter-back and a sure catch of a punt. Johnson can compare favorably with any full-back of the bigger elevens. He backs up the line strongly, and punts long and places them well. Bucknell was suffering from injuries sustained in the Cornell game, and was not able to play in her best form. There is not a weak spot on the team, and Shipp, Taylor Cockill, Smith, Johnson and Bovard would shine at any of the four big Eastern institutions. Lack of good scrub and substitutes are a severe handicap to Hoskins."

The following from the New York Sun of last Wednesday also shows the position Bucknell occupies among the so-called bigger elevens of the country:

"The University of Pennsylvania coaches and players have awakened to the realization that their work is cut out for them in the next three weeks when they play Columbia, Bucknell and Harvard. It was thought earlier in the season that Bucknell would prove a comparatively easy opponent between the Columbia and Harvard games, but this is not to be the case. The Lewisburg players are a heavy and aggressive lot and play football from start to finish of every game. In all their games to date have held their opponents down to small scores. The best the Indians could do in the opening game of the season was to defeat them 12 to 0. A week later later they won from the strong Watertown A. C., composed of former college stars, and last Saturday Cornell had a hard time defeating them 6 to 0. The Quakers expect that Bucknell will prove almost as formidable as Columbia, and for that reason are striving to have their men in perfect physical condition for the three hard games to face them on the next three successive Saturdays."

OVERWHELMED BY PENN

Bucknell Meets Defeat at Philadelphia By 47 to 6.

In the game against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Saturday Bucknell suffered the most overwhelming defeat that she has encountered at the hands of a college team since 1896, when Cornell downed the Orange and Blue by a score of 54 to 0. The score, 47 to 6, indicates that Bucknell did not play her game, and that is the truth of the matter, although the team rallied near the close of the game and took some of the sting from the defeat by scoring a touchdown and kicking goal.

Disheartened by the loss of Bovard and Cooper soon after the kick-off and by a fumble on the very first pass, the team went to pieces and one misplay followed another. Penn, desperate over her defeat by Columbia the week before and seeking revenge for her humiliation at the hands of Bucknell last year, did not fail to take advantage of these faults, which accounts for the large score. According to the Inquirer at least four touchdowns were due directly and two indirectly to Bucknell's fumbling. "Penn's game yesterday against Bucknell was one of the luckiest we have ever played," says Captain Metzger in an interview in the Inquirer. "It seemed as though every misplay Bucknell made was taken advantage of by our team."

In spite of the one-sidedness of the score, there were redeeming features to Bucknell's playing. It is no ordinary team that can take the ball nearly the entire length of the field for a touchdown, with some of its best men out and the score 41 to 0 against them. The scoring of the touchdown contains more than an ordinary grain of comfort in that it is the first time Penn's goal line on her new field has been crossed. Of Bucknell's brace the Inquirer says: "It showed them up as a plucky combination, for never has such a thing been accomplished on a football field."

Captain Metzger' estimate of the Orange and Blue eleven is contained in the following interview: "Bucknell had hard luck throughout the contest, but our ability to take advantage of it at every point was the cause of the large score, which does not show that Bucknell is weak, for I firmly believe that they are the strongest team that we have met this season. They certainly were a plucky lot, as was proven in the last few minutes of play, when, beaten all over the field, they got together and carried the ball 50 yards for a touchdown. Such a thing is only made possible by a great amount of spirit, and the Bucknell team had it to a great extent." Altogether there is not so much over which to be despondent.

Of course Bucknell was outplayed. Penn presented her strongest team, and the men played like veterans. Many gains were made through the strong Bucknell line, while end-runs were also productive. Fullback Smith was the particular star of Penn. He plunged through the line, hurdled it, and was invariably "Johnnie-on-the spot" when Bucknell fumbled. Reynolds punted for Penn, and his work was one of the features of the game.

With the exception of the brace taken by Bucknell in the second half, the Orange and Blue could not advance the ball consistently. Several first downs were made, however. The Philadelphia newspaper reporters give Johnson, Smith and Shipp credit for the best work for Bucknell.

Bucknell's hard luck commenced with the second play of the game. Penn kicked to Bovard, who returned the the ball to the 35-yard line. In the first scrimmage Bovard was hurt so badly that he was compelled to retire. On the same play the ball was fumbled. Cooper left the game within the next few minutes. Penn had scored at the end of three minutes.

A fumbled punt, which was gathered up by Weede, gave Penn another touchdown a few minutes later. Their third touchdown came with more trouble, but the fourth was a present from Bucknell, a muffed quarterback kick falling in the arms of Smith of Penn, who ran for a touchdown. A fifth touchdown was made before the end of the half, the score standing 29 to 0.

Bucknell's defense went to pieces in the second half and Penn made two well-earned touchdowns, rushing the ball from her own territory to Bucknell's goal by straight football.

It was at this stage of the game that Bucknell braced. It was her ball on her own 25-yard line, with about five minutes more to play. Failing to gain, Johnson punted, but the punt was partially blocked, the oval going to the middle of the field, where Cockill fell on it. End-runs by Smith, Cockill and Roberts, and line plunges by Shipp and Taylor took the ball to the 5-yard line, from which point Taylor took it over, Johnson kicked goal.

Penn's last touchdown was a present. Bennett punted over the goal line, where a Bucknell man fumbled the ball and a Penn player fell on it.

In addition to Bovard and Cooper, Cockill was also injured and compelled to leave the game. He will probably be in condition to play by next Saturday.

The line-up :

Harry McCormick, '04, playing fullback for Steelton at Watertown, N. Y., on Saturday was thrown so hard by two of his opponents that a bone in his right shoulder was broken. He will not play again this season.

GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED

Officers are Chosen and Plans for Season Discussed.

On last Monday evening the Bucknell University Glee and Mandolin Club was reorganized, with the following officers:

President, Griffiths, '04.
Vice President, Hafner, '05.
Secretary, Hennessy, '06.
Manager, McCain, '05.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and the prospects for a successful organization are bright. The manager is negotiating for the services of a good coach, and active practice will soon begin. The performances will consist of up-to-date music and literary productions of some sort. Before the Christmas holidays and before any trips are attempted the club will probably give a rehearsal in the Lewisburg Opera House.

Praise for Bucknell.

Evidently the delegates to the Baptist State meetings held in Lewisburg week before last were well pleased with Bucknell. The Commonwealth in its current issue has three "short talks" by delegates. Rev. E. B. Palmer, of Philadelphia, says: "Not the least among the enjoyments of the week was the opportunity of meeting members of the faculty of Bucknell University and the large body of students at their chapel service. We have every reason to congratulate ourselves on the progress that is being made at Bucknell."

In outlining his impressions Rev. W. Quay Roselle, of Williamsport, said he was "proud of our grand Bucknell, President Harris and his assistants, and others, mighty men of heart and brain, who are doing God's work in our Baptist ranks."

These sentiments are valued the more highly because of the fact that neither man is an alumnus of the institution.

In the introductory paragraph of its account of the State meetings the Commonwealth says: "Many of the ministry of our churches in the State have been students here. A visit to the seat of Alma Mater is always inspiring, and depressing, inspiring, as the blessed opportunity afforded is made apparent, depressing as one feels how little use he has made of the training received. While he rejoices in the magnificent corps of instructors in Bucknell to-day, under the splendid leadership of that prince among educators, President Harris, there is a sense of loss in the absence of the men who bore the names of Malcom, Bliss, James, Tustin, Loomis and others. They were giants in their day, and they are worthily succeeded."

A Reminiscence.

The Orange and Blue is indebted to a member of the class of '94, for the following:

"A small impromptu Bucknell reception was held at the New York Baptist Ministers' Conference, early in October. W. B. Pimm, '92, G. C. Horter, formerly of '94, A. F. Anderson, '94, and R. J. Davies, '94, were a happy group reviewing the days of long ago. Pimm and Horter were prominent members of the famous football team of '90-'92, Charlie Allen, captain. This aggregation laid the foundation for effective football at Bucknell. Pimm was the impregnable centre, as long headed as he was long bodied. Horter was the unconquerable little fullback, a deer in running and a tiger in tackling.

Depend upon it, the present generation at Bucknell never sees such excitement as there used to be in those days, especially that time in '91, when we played State College on our own grounds and won 12-10. The last two points were made by a goal in the closing moments of the game. Capain Allen was about to try for the goal from a very difficult, oblique point, when suddenly he dropped his foot, and, turning to the crowd with one of his quiet smiles, said: "Why don't you yell?" A great shout went up as he raised his foot, and the wildest pandemonium broke loose an instant later as the ball sailed straight between the posts. Ah! there were giants at Bucknell in those days, and what is best of all, they still grow, only larger and better."

Reception for Defeated Team.

The students of the college showed their loyalty to the 'varsity eleven on Sunday morning by meeting it at the Reading station upon its return from Philadelphia and giving it a rousing reception. In spite of the defeat of the team by one of the largest scores that it has encountered in years, there was a willing response to the call of the cheer leaders and as early as 4.30 o'clock in the morning the students commenced to gather for the march to the train. There were not a dozen students who did not go to the train at 5.40. A wagon had been provided to haul the members of the team to the training table, but this proffer they declined, choosing to walk after their all-night ride. The students went to the boarding house and gave a rousing cheer for each player, Coach Hoskins and the "whole team." Then Coach Hoskins was prevailed upon to make a speech, in which dwelt wholly upon the necessity of having more candidates for the team, telling the students that they should use every possible means to induce good men to come to Bucknell. This is the only way Bucknell can maintain her present position in the football world. After a rousing cheer for the team the crowd disbanded.

One Game This Week

The 'varsity eleven will not play on Election Day as scheduled. Last week Western University of Pennsylvania cancelled her game for that day, which was a disappointment, since the guarantee was $1,000. An effort was made to arrange a game with East End Athletic Club, of Pittsburg, but that team had a game scheduled for Tuesday.

The next gaame on the schedule is with Gettysburg on next Saturday, which is the last game of the season on the home grounds. The boys from the southern part of the State made a poor start, but have lately taken a brace, and, with Bucknell not in the best condition, may be expected to put up a good game. It is to be hoped that the students will turn out for this game and continue their recently acquired spirit by cheering with vigor and system.

Bucknell Alumna Married.

Miss Miriam Bucher, a former Seminary student, and Harry W. Chamberlin, of Milton, were married in Lewisburg on Thursday evening.

CHARLES EDGAR CLARK, LL. D.

Sketch of Man Who Was Honored By Bucknell Last June.

Rear Admiral Charles Edgar Clark, on whom the degree of LL. D., was conferred by Bucknell University last June, is one of the most conspicuous figures the American Navy has ever produced. The memorable trip of the Battleship Oregon from San Francisco, around Cape Horn to Santiago, a distance of 14,000 miles in record breaking time, under his command, during the Spanish American war in 1898, and the important part subsequently taken by the vessel in the Santiago naval battle, will forever live in the minds of Rear Admiral Clark's fellow countrymen and make that gallant officer worthy of the high honor which Bucknell has bestowed upon him.

Rear Admiral Clark was born in Bradford, Vt., on August 10, 1843. He was a student in the U. S. Naval Academy from 1860-3, being promoted to ensign during the latter year. He was assigned to the steam sloop Oshpee, and during the Civil War took part in the battle of Mobile Bay and the bombardment of Fort Morgan. The various stages of his promotion are as follows: master, 1866; lieutenant, 1867; lieutenant-commander, 1893; commander, 1881; captain, 1896, rear admiral, 1902.

L'Agenda Class Groups.

The L'Agenda Board desires the co-operation of the Senior, Sophomore and Freshmen classes in order to secure class groups of the three respective classes. Other college annuals publish such groups. Their publication will mark a departure as well as enhance the value of the L'Agenda. When your class president issues a call for the purpose of securing a group picture, let every member consider it imperative to be present. These class groups must be complete to be truly representative. Each member should consider it a matter of class spirit to aid the officers of his class to secure a complete class picture for this worthy purpose.

The following have been selected for the First Preliminary Prize Debate, which takes place on December 3: Ausherman, Bartol, Bickel, Bostwick, Gilmore, Goodman, Hanna, Henry, Hess, McCauley, Morton, Ranck, Robbins, Sanders, Scheick, Stelnhilper, Williamson.

The question for debate is: "Resolved, that Trade Unionism is Beneficial."

THE LECTURE COURSE.

The Y. M. C. A. and the College Settlement Association are to be commended for arranging a course of lectures and entertainments, to be given during the year. The course is primarily intended as a means of raising money by which these two organization may carry on their very commendable work, and if there were no other reason, it should enlist our interest; but the course is of importance for a much better reason.

Few fields of instruction are productive of more good than that of the lecturer. This is true for two reasons. The first is that students, perhaps more than any other class of people, admire persons who succeed and whose success is due to moral character. This admiration leads them to pay more attention to the words of the lecturer and assign more weight to his ideas than they do in the case of persons who have made no name for themselves. It is also true that lecturers are usually men noted for character: men who have done something.

Another thing which makes the lecture stand high as a method of instruction is that it is a pleasing method. The lecturer who makes the greatest success is he who can put truths into the most agreeable form. It is much easier to grasp any idea if it can be made to appeal to our sense of humor. The more pleasing a thing is, the better we want to become acquainted with it. Interest in any discourse or in any written article will lag unless it is kept alive by some anecdote or illustration This then forms one of the chief advantages of the lecture over the text-book. Another reason is that a thing intelligently spoken will usually please and so move us more than the same thing when read; and a thing thus spoken by one of whom we are unacquainted, will interest us more than the same thing spoken by one whom we hear every day. It is for these reasons that the universities usually have a staff of eminent men as lecturers.

As has been said the choice is well made in this course. Bucknell students are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing such men as those engaged. The chance to hear Dr. Conwell is alone worth more than the cost of the entire course. Those who have once heard him do not fail to take advantage of a second opportunity. For your own advantage, don't fail to patronize this course.

SATURDAY'S DEFEAT.

Viewed from the number of points scored, Bucknell's defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania on Saturday is the worst she has suffered for several years. There is no denying that the outcome was a surprise even to the most pessimistic of Bucknell's supporters, and the team will have to put forth its best efforts to win the remaining games of the schedule in order to remove the stigma of this one defeat.

Yet why feel depressed or discouraged? Bucknell was a victim of circumstances which are not apt to occur again in ten years. A crippled team and extraordinary misfortunes during the game conspired to defeat any chance Bucknell had to make a good showing against an eleven that should be a veral times our superior. Even Penn's captain admits that it was "the luckiest game" his team ever played. Bucknell played a plucky, but luckless, game, and we should feel no chagrin nor be disheartened. After all, victory is not the sole thing to be sought in a college contest. In this connection the comment of the Public Ledger on Pennsylvania's loss to Columbia a week ago is pertinent:

"The point college students need to keep in mind is not whether or not they are equal to their opponents, but, rather, whether or not they are equal to the best of which they are capable. Victories are all very well in their way, but the important thing is that each school and each university give itself royally to its work, undisturbed by what its adversary may or may not accomplish. So long as this ideal is cherished, the defeated, as well as well as the victorious, will be truly successful."

We do not argue that Bucknell on Saturday did the best she can do, but she did as well as any team could have done under similar conditions. More power to 'em.

The majority of those students who form that important,—yes, indispensable—factor in the development of the 'varsity eleven—the scrub team, are the only ones that should feel chagrin at Saturday's defeat. In spite of every appeal on the part of Coach Hoskins, scarcely enough men came out last week to make a team to oppose the first eleven. This is disloyal, to say the least, and unless there is improvement, the season is liable to end disastrously. When the coach calls for scrub men let there be a hearty response and an honest effort to bring the 'varsity up to its highest efficiency.

The organization of the glee club should be followed by the earnest effort of every member to give Bucknell one of the best club of that kind she has ever had. Let there be no absences from practices or relaxation of effort in any direction. We have the material for a good club, and we should have it.

No commendation of the spirit shown by the students toward the football team in connection with the Penn can be too great. The send-off given the men upon their departure was exceeded in loyalty only by the reception which the defeated team received upon its return home. It is such spirit that will form a strong and lofty incentive to "make" a Bucknell athletic team and will lead to greater conquests than we have heretofore achieved. Besides it instills within us all a greater love for our college. The demonstrations of Friday and Sunday, particularly the latter, are precedents that should never be allowed to perish.

OBSERVATIONS

A student is known by the money he keeps,—when he should patronize a worthy cause.

—o—

The Bucknell players on Saturday formed a pretty clear conception of General Sherman's definition of war.

—o—

Announcement! Bids will be received at the Registrar's office for the rental of the second floor window in Main Hall for the winter and spring terms.

—o—

The trick played by the Indians on Harvard on Saturday leads one to believe that "buttonie, buttonie, who's got the button?" is a favorite game of the wigwam.

—o—

Everywhere there is a tendency to limit college athletics. The professors of Oberlin College have recently declared "pony riding" to be an illegitimate form of exercise for students.

—o—

The library is not, as may be supposed, a room for quiet reading and study; but it is rather intended for a social meeting place, and a place where Latin and other languages may be translated aloud.

—o—

For a reason which suggests itself, the Mirror should be popular with the Semites. However, this is meant to be no reflection upon the young women,—or necessarily a compliment to the editor.

—o—

The Allegheny College Campus has made the discovery that there is considerable "wire-pulling" by the college men among her co-eds and "preps." There are yet a few evils from which the student body of Bucknell is free.

—o—

When State went on the field to play W. U. P. at Pittsburg a week ago she entered a protest against the playing of the home team's coach, whereupon the Pittsburgers said State had three professionals on her team, and named them. It is interesting to note that the game proceeded without further argument.

—o—

Without a tremor the Washington Jeffersonian says: "For several years the football team has been composed more and more of men who were not enrolled as students, or even collegians." After all, the chief difference between W. and J., and many other colleges, in this respect, is that W. and J., admits it.

—o—

The co-eds of Northwestern have tabooed spreads, dinners and the like, and have decided upon a course of training consisting of long walks, gymnasium exercises, etc. Meanwhile the transportation of suspicious looking packages from the baker's and grocer's by Bucknell's fair ones between 4 and 6 o'clock, continues.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

The Zeta Society.

Editor Orange and Blue:—With much appreciation of the endeavors of the few who strive to preserve the organization of the Zeta Society among the college women, I would like to make a few remarks and suggestions.

The lack of success in making the society interesting and profitable to all comes from our regarding it in the light of a burden rather than a privilege We avoid the meetings, or we profess indifference or we think the Society unnecessary and useless, not knowing that we are failing to grasp what is really worth while, and that we are wasting powers on transitory things which require no mental exertion on our part.. As college women the world has a right to expect certain things from us, and if we shirk now from the small things the Society gives us to do, under the pretense perhaps that they are too small to be thought of, what are we to expect of ourselves when greater opportunities come?

This inertia, this want of activity, especially in our mental sphere, is deadening, and it cannot be overcome except we desire to act, to prove something of what we are mentally. The acquiring of facts is very good, but the clear, concise, original thought is better by far, though harder to obtain. We surely have an opportunity presented to us in which we can work independently and with originality, and it should not be discarded. I suggest that we think more of the great and permanent in the world as seen in the lives and works of men and women who have truly lived, and that we think more of the questions which confront us outside our daily experiences.

Let us work together for a personal and definite good and uphold whatever is worth while in our literary organization

Why No Bucknell Song.

Editor Orange and Blue:— Why has Bucknell no representative song? All, or most all, of the larger colleges and unversities have at least one song which will always be connected with their respective institution in the minds of their alumni. Pennsylvania has her "Hail Pennsylvania," Princeton her "Old Nassau," and so on. Bucknell has nothing that she calls her own in the line of songs, a few parodies on popular airs constituting her entire reportoire.

There is nothing else in the college world by which to maintain spirit and enthusiasm like a characteristic song. How every loyal Bucknellite's blood would rush through his veins as HER song would come rolling and ringing across the field. How every player on the baseball field and "gladiator" on the football gridiron would have to strive to keep down his over-enthusiasm, and would play the game of his life when the good Bucknell songs, (which is not but ought to be) would be sent to his ears by a lusty-lunged crowd of college rooters!

It is a noteworthy and regrettable fact that the song book lately published, containing songs from all colleges, there was not one from Bucknell. The reason is plain; she had no representative song worthy of her. But there is no excuse for this. Bucknell should have a song which would always be connected, in the minds of her sons, with the institution which it represents. The ability to produce such a song is here. Then, why do we want for it? B

A Pedestrain Club.

Editor Orange and Blue:—There is no lack of societies and clubs at Bucknell. First in importance is, of course, the omni-present Eating Club. Then there are Eucpia, Theta Alpha, and Zeta, all of which are names to conjure with and there is the Chemical Society, and the Geology class, which is particularly a club for one long day, when it makes its annual pilgrimage to Dale's Cave; and there are the various Glee clubs, and Mandolin Clubs, and Dramatic Clubs,—all these without taking into account the different fraternities, which to the public in general are individually and collectively "clubs," —or the Athletic Associations. Yet this is a plea for another club.

Why not have a Pedestrian Club at Bucknell? Well, why not? Other colleges do. And at some institutions, from being a mere handful of bored students, who, in search of a new sensation, took short strolls into the suburbs and came back on the trolley, they have developed into organized societies, nomination to which is an honor, and election as an active member a voucher of endurance, vigor, and unbounded popularity.

These clubs have certain days each week for their walks. Occasionally they go for a tramp of two or three days at a time, carrying little luggage, putting up at hotels along the way, and doing a certain number of miles each day. As might be expected, many of the men of the football and baseball teams are prominent in the Pedestrian Club, and men for the Freshmen teams are often chosen from the limited number of new students elected to the club. The establishment of a Pedestrian Club at Bucknell would be an easy matter. And, however they might fall short of the ideal club in other ways, at least in their tramps around Lewisburg they would not come back in the trolley.

INSTITUTE.

Miss Goodnough spent Saturday with friends in Williamsport.

Misses Innis and Parsons were home over Sunday.

Miss Bower, '05, entertained the Pi Beta Phis and the Delta Phis on Saturday evening.

The Dramatic Club gave its annual Hallowe'en party in the gymnasium on Friday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent in playing old-fashioned games, dancing and telling ghost stories. The prize for the best ghost story was awarded to Miss Hall, '04, and Weddle, '07, while the prize for the most cunning costume, to Miss Lucille Cooke.

Zeta Literary Society held a very interesting meeting on Thursday evening. The attendance was very well rendered: piano duet, Misses Cobb, '06, and Duncan, '07; talk, "Whether the United States Government should make more Strenuous Efforts against Child Labor," Miss Sill, '07; singing, "Zeta song;" general discussion, "What Place the Literary Society should hold in our College Life."

The first "At Home" of the year was held in the Seminary parlors this afternoon at four o'clock. A refreshing change from the general arrangement of the rooms was the complete absence of all decorations. This Spartan simplicity was well in accord with the lack of refreshments, and, possibly on account of these features, the attendance was unusually large. This speaks well for the entertaining powers of the Seminary women, and all anxiously await another 'At Home."

One of the required term recitals of the Senior Seminary girls was given in the school room on Thursday evening. Each piece was very well rendered. The following was the program:
"Budges' Version of the Flood," Mary Stanton.
"In the Children's Hospital," Nina Plian.
"Rock of Ages," Josephine Brown.
"Thora," Helen Cooke.
"High Tides or The Brides of Enderly," Irene Barton.
"Music in the Camp," Lillian Gregory.
"The Little Stowaway," Edith McNinch.

ACADEMY

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1903. No. 8

LEBANON VALLEY WAS EASY

'Varsity Rolls Up Total of 47 Points in Thirty Minutes.

With a patched-up team Bucknell easily defeated the Lebanon Valley College eleven on the athletic field on Saturday afternoon. Score 47 to 6. Captain Cockill, Cooper, Smith and Bovard were out of the game owing to injuries and the desire of Coach Hoskins to save them for the Navy game next Saturday. The visitors' solitary touchdown was due to a fumble by Bucknell on Lebanon Valley's five-yard line, one of the opposing players getting the ball and running 105 yards.

On the visiting eleven were John Gillis, one of the best guards Bucknell ever had, who is coaching and playing with Annville boys, and Arthur Jones, a former Academy student. Both of these men, particularly Gillis, put up a good game.

Bucknell found no trouble in advancing the ball either through the line or around the end. The home team's interference though ragged at times, was on the whole, good. Johnson punted well. A pleasing feature of the game was the playing of Sheppard, '05, who was given his first trial in a 'varsity game. He never failed to advance the ball, and proved to be one of the hardest men on the team to tackle. In the first half of twenty minutes Bucknell ran up a total of 29 points and in ten minutes in the second half added 18 more. The visitors showed remarkable ground gaining ability at one stage of the game, rushing the ball 35 yards. The second half was called at the end of ten minutes to permit the visitors to catch a train.

The first half opened with Bucknell kicking off. Contrary to expectations, Lebanon Valley made two gains through Bucknell's line. A fumble, however, lost them the ball. Bucknell immediately rushed the ball to the five-yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. Kohr, the visitor's speedy quarter-back, picked up the ball, and, with two of Bucknell's heaviest men close at his heels, ran for a touchdown. Erb kicked goal, and Lebanon Valley for five minutes experienced the delightful sensation of leading Bucknell.

However, the visitors were practically out of the game from this on, except for an occasional plucky stand. Taylor and Shipp in the tackles-back formation tore through the opposing line at will, while Johnson did some brilliant line plunging and Roberts made an occasional dash around the end. During the half five touchdowns were made and Johnson missed but one goal. Score, 29 to 6.

The second half was a repetition of the first except that the visitors did not score. Neil made a nice 25-yard run for a touchdown, while Sheppard, aided by faultless interference, ran 45 yards for a touchdown. In all, three touchdowns and three goals were made in the second half.

Touchdowns.—Kohr, Shipp, 3, Taylor, Neil, Sheppard, Roberts, Johnston. Goals.—Johnston, 7, Erb, 1. Referee Hoskins. Umpere Sautter. Time of halves 20 and 10 minutes.

Football Changes.

Manager Thompson of the football team is encountering considerable trouble with his schedule. On last Thursday Gettysburg canceled her game for Saturday, but fortunately the management secured Lebanon Valley College. Washington and Jefferson canceled her game for November 21 also, and that date is still open, although Manager Thompson had prospects of filling it with a college team. Cancelations coming so late in the season are hard to fill.

The management has closed with the Watertown Athletic Club for a game at that place on Thanksgiving Day.

The 'Varsity eleven this week plays the Navy at Annapolis. By that time the team should be in good condition and should win from the Middies by a good score, although the Annapolis boys can be counted on for putting up a strong game.

Bucknell found no trouble in advancing the ball either through the line or around the end. The home team's interference though ragged at times, was on the whole, good. Johnson punted well. A pleasing feature of the game was the playing of Sheppard, '05, who was given his first trial in a 'varsity game. Tribute of an Alumnus

Rev. David Spencer, '63, is the author of an interesting article in last week's issue of the Olyphant Record, entitled "Lewisburg and Bucknell University." After a brief sketch of the town and its surroundings, Rev. Spencer says: "But the distinguishing feature of Lewisburg is that it is the seat of Bucknell University, an institution with an honored history covering a period of nearly sixty years since its founding. From an humble and consecrated beginning it has grown, broadened and succeeded, until to-day it has an attendance of more than 600 students and a property valued at over $1,000,000. It's buildings, grounds, equipment, position, number of students and faculty are in marked contrast with what they were as first seen by us, more than forty-six years ago. The professors and teachers of that day, with two exceptions, have all gone to their long home. Words fail to describe the feelings that came over us, after an absence of many years, to enjoy once more the privilege of visiting the old campus, climbing the old college hill, entering once more the old hall's, recitation and other rooms, to ring out again upon the magnificent stretch of scenery, which had so delighted us in the years gone by. As we rambled over the place, memory became active, the incidents of student life and the familiar forms of those days came trooping by in rapid succession. The sound of the old college bell was as music to our ear.

Students educated here during the last half century are occupying prominent places in all parts of this and other countries. They are a grand host of noble and noticable men and women.

Here is the Academy, the Institute for Young Ladies, and the University proper, with all its wide facilities and co-educational advantages. At the head of the institution as its president, is that strong and honored man, so well known throughout Northeastern Pennsylvania especially John H. Harris, D. D., LL. D. With him are associated in the faculty a loyal host of able professors."

'VARSITY BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Manager Caruthers Announces a List of Good Games.

Manager Caruthers of the baseball team has been making rapid progress with his schedule for the season of 1904 and has it about completed. It is one of the best Bucknell has ever had, including games with Princeton, Annapolis, Lafayette, Lehigh, Fordham, Allegheny and other good college teams. A feature of the schedule is the excellent home attractions offered.

Captain Smith reports that the Freshman class brought in considerable material and our prospects for next season are very good. Negotiations are now pending for a coach, with good prospects for securing him.

The incomplete schedule is as follows:

April 19, Dickinson, at Carlisle.
" 20, Gettysburg, at Gettysburg.
" 23, Lehigh, at Lewisburg.
" 27, Navy, at Annapolis.
May 3, Seton Hall, at South Orange.
" 4, Fordham, at New York.
" 12, Gettysburg at Lewisburg.
" 14, Dickinson, at Lewisburg.
" 20, Cuban Giants, at Lewisburg.
" 21, Bloomsburg, at Bloomsburg.
" 24, Allegheny, at Lewisburg.
" 27, Lafayette, at Lewisburg.
June 8, Princeton, at Princeton.
" 14, Lehigh, at So Bethlehem.
" 15, Lafayette, at Easton.
" 18, Bloomsburg, at Lewisburg.

1903 Baseball Averages.

The Mirror.

The first number of the "Mirror" for this year came out during the last week. As usual, a great deal of interest in the initial issue was shown among the students, because of the change in the editorial staff. Though advancement is possible, if the succeeding numbers improve over the "Mirror" of this month, or if they reach its standard, the editors will have demonstrated their ability to pull a college monthly out of a bad rut.

From start to finish the articles and editorials have brevity and spice. These are two things of advantage to such a paper as the "Mirror." Students want to get at the point of things as soon as possible. Stories that are too long or involved do not, as a rule, make a great impression. Another good feature is that the monthly is more distinctively a college monthly than ever before. Only one poem and one article were printed which did not have the stamp of the college on them. And both of these were well worthy of the place accorded them. The local bearing of the majority of the articles was a notable improvement. The arrangement is thoughtful and the balance is good. The aim of the editor, as he states it in his editorial pages, is to give every one a chance, to be impartial, to print none but the best. He also does well in that he invites free criticism of the paper. It is to be hoped that this outline will be followed without deviation.

For years we have not had a Bucknell monthly of which we could be proud, one that could claim equality with those of other colleges of our class. The time for an awakening has come. There is no reason why should not have a monthly as good as the best, but the editors must not be expected to do all the work. All of us must help, so if you are asked to contribute, don't refuse.

R. G. B.

The College Orchestra.

The response to the appeal for more musicians for the orchestra has been most gratifying. So many new men have reported that Dr. Aviragnet has decided to divide the orchestra into two sections for the present, in order to facilitate the work and secure the best results. The second division will meet every Monday at 4.00 o'clock at the Seminary, while the regular orchestra will practice every Thursday at the regular place and hour.

The interest manifested in the organization of a glee club, mandolin and guitar club and a college band and orchestra is encouraging. Dr. Aviragnet intends in the near future to give a glee club and orchestra concert for the benefit of the Athletic Association. Such a movement should receive hearty support and meet with great success.

The Literary Societies.

EUEPIA

The following program has been announced for next Friday evening:

JUDGE MARTIN BELL

Bucknell Alumnus Re-elected Judge of Blair County Courts.

Hon. Martin Bell, '62, was last week elected to serve another term of ten years as Judge of Blair county.

Courtesy of the Record.

Judge Bell has a highly creditable record on the bench and is one of Bucknell's most distinguished alumni.

Theological Curriculums.

At the N. J. Baptist State meetings held recently at Asbury Park, Rev. J. Madison Hare, '85, according to the New York "Examiner," showed that the curriculums of the Theological Seminaries of all denominations had remained practically unchanged for fifty years. He found only two, Chicago and Hartford, and Hartford even more than Chicago, that had attempted any real adaptation of their teaching to the new conditions. In general, the teaching was scholastic rather than practical; it did not teach men how to do things. Seminaries should be located in great cities, where, in actual contact with the social problems, they might have the advantage of a practical "clinic." After the first year the course should be largely elective.

Bucknell at the Convention.

The seventh annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Fourth District, which includes Bucknell, was held from Friday to Sunday inclusive, at Bloomsburg. Among the speakers on Saturday was John E. Hunsberger, '04, who made an address on "Student Work." The delegates from Bucknell were J. E. Hunsberger, '04; Joseph Macro, '06, and Reinhold Stolz, '06.

Time for Registration.

The time for the registration for the Master's degree for the current school year closes on November 16. Circulars of information and registration can be had upon application at the Registrar's office.

Low Rates to Williamsport Saturday, Nov. 14.

Account State College vs. Dickinson College Foot ball game at Williamsport, Saturday, November 14th, the Reading Railway will sell special excursion tickets to Williamsport at the low rate of single fare for the round trip. WANTED: AN ATHLETIC FIELD.

The suggestions of the Orange and Blue's correspondents, that Bucknell should have a new athletic field contain nothing every person interested in Bucknell athletics has not felt during the past few years. But they are valuable in that they bring the matter before us in a manner that permits of legitimate discussion and that a movement to the desired end may be thereby inaugurated. Many causes have needed only just such an impulse to start them on the way to success.

Certainly, if there is one thing more than another that Bucknell needs, it is a new athletic field. Not until we get a new field will our athletic teams do the work of which they are really capable. Very few of the football games Bucknell has lost to the bigger colleges, particularly those during recent years with Pennsylvania and Cornell, would have been lost if played on our own grounds. The disadvantage of playing on a foreign field cannot be over-estimated. Of course, we could not expect to have any of the games with the largest colleges played here even though we should secure a new field, but the financial benefit resulting from an enclosed field would enable us to induce teams scarcely less formidable than those of Penn and Cornell to come here.

The effect of more important football games at home would be to arouse greater interest in the game and athletics generally. Bucknell students can scarcely be blamed for sometimes losing interest in a team which goes about the country furnishing "practice games" for the larger elevens and playing professional teams in order to get enough money to pay the season's expenses. Surely the object of a college team is other than that. In addition to the benefits named, a new athletic field would gives us the advantages of secret practice, more concerted cheering, a clear playing field, not to mention many others.

From what source must a new field come? The college authorities have not the means to provide it, and the students cannot afford it, which narrows the source to an individual gift or the collective gift of the college alumni. The ideal means of acquiring the field would be through one person, and efforts in that direction should be thoroughly exhausted before the alternative of appealing to the alumni is attempted The latter method, while doubtless successful in the end, would require a great amount of labor and years of time. The demands for an athletic field are so great as to call for immediate results .Let the Football Advisory Committee launch the movement without further delay. In the meantime the Orange and Blue would be glad to receive suggestions as to how the field may best be secured; and if in any other way the paper can be of service to the movement it stands ready to act.

OUR REAL NEED.

The communication signed "H" and that portion of the one signed "F. E. R.," which refers to our relations with other colleges, on the third page of this issue, may be said to represent the attitude of the faculty authorities on the proposition to renew athletic relations with State College. Years of experience in maintaining relations with State and other colleges in all probability justifies this attitude, and we have no inclination to oppose it, for those are wiser heads than ours that dictate the athletic policy of this institution.

But we do not want our position in this matter misunderstood. We took up the subject of renewing relations with State College because we felt there was a decadence in college spirit here, due largely, if not wholly, to the fact that no friendly rivalry exists between Bucknell and any other college; and, State having shown a desire to be once more on friendly terms with us, to indicate to her what she must do if she is really in earnest. No other motive prompted us. Furthermore, we did not urge, or even suggest that Bucknell take the initiative in the matter; on the contrary, we believe for Bucknell to make the advance would be to sacrifice her self-respect. But for Bucknell to receive reasonable advances on the part of State would not, in our humble opinion, involve a sacrifice of our honor. To reject the apology of a penitent man is in opposition to Christian teaching.

Eliminating the question of State, we have yet to hear opposition to the argument that Bucknell needs a rival in athletics, a college numerically our equal and not too remote from Lewisburg. In fact, we believe that point is conceded even by the athletic authorities; and we learn through private sources that an effort to establish such relations with a well-known college is now being made. If that will remedy the evil complained of, the student body will be satisfied; and there will be no more talk about State, as the faculty authorities evidently desire.

I myself in a round-about way have been offered the "Ph.D." degree for the payment of $25; but as Palmer College at that time had $3,000 debts and only $1,500 endowment, you can see very readily that I could not afford it. Life is more than meat, the body more than raiment, and a real man more than a sham degree.—Carlyle Summerbell, '97.

OBSERVATIONS

You can take a "horse" to class, but you can't make it think.

—o—

Nowadays a college athlete's ability is usually determined by whether or not he has been protested.

—o—

The Navy football team could not practice last Tuesday because of an order to drill. The government should be reasonable in its demands of these embryo admirals.

—o—

The Beaver College authorities recently expelled two girls who talked out of a dormitory window to two boys. Criminals! They should have been beheaded.

—o—

The faculty of the Terre Haute, Ind., Normal School has voted to forbid public games of basketball by the women students, which shows them to be decidedly considerate of the public.

—o—

On a desert out from Tucson, Ariz., is located a preparatory school. From the point of view of the college student at Bucknell, that is the ideal condition for the "prep" school,—isolation.

—o—

The students of Grove City College, in celebrating a recent football victory, stoned the college president. Just what effect a defeat would have upon such a body is baffling to the imagination.

—o—

Out at Stanford University the Sophomore class has decided to present a comedy for the purpose of paying off its debts. Here at Bucknell the poor, deluded creditor usually presents the "comedy."

—o—

"The Loafers" is a misnomer in its application to that clever little sketch in the current issue of the Mirror. To one of the uninitiated it seems that the qualities therein attributed by implication to the subject constitute a genius.

How Relations Were Broken Off.

Editor Orange and Blue:—On the evening before the game of Bucknell with State College in 1900 a message was sent by authority from State College making a certain demand and threatening, if the demand were not complied with, that "win or lose, we break off all athletic relations with Bucknell." Of coarse, no institution with self-respect could negotiate in face of that insolent threat. H.

Some Suggestions.

Editor Orange and Blue:—It is a well known fact that Bucknell is now in a position in which she needs more money for her athletic sports, and in order to accomplish this I would respectfully submit the following suggestion to the coming meeting of our association:

First. That all managers and the treasurer be put under bonds.

Second. That the fee for membership of the Athletic Association be increased to $5, or such a sum as the Association shall deem proper, and that this membership fee include a ticket to all games and contests, base ball, football, track, basket-ball, etc., at home.

Third. That a committee be appointed by the President of Association for the purpose of soliciting funds for the purchase of a good athletic field.

Fourth. That tennis be placed under the care and supervision of the Athletic Association as the other branches of sports. '04.

New Athletic Field Needed.

Editor Orange and Blue:—I would like to suggest that just at this time the best way in which The Orange and Blue and The Mirror can aid athletics at Bucknell is to inaugurate a movement for a new athletic field. We have entirely outgrown our present accommodations. A larger field, properly enclosed and equipped, has become an imperative necessity. We could then have more games and better ones on the home grounds and win a larger percentage of victories. As it now is, our foot ball team is compelled to wander from one end of the state to the other, like a traveling show, often playing under adverse conditions and losing games that could be won easily on our own field.

Our present team is one of the best in Bucknell history. Its wonderful rally in the face of tremendous odds in the closing moments of the game with Pennsylvania deserves to rank with the finest performances on the football field. The touchdown then earned was the first scored by a visiting team on the new Franklin Field, and, best of all, it was not the work of one star player, but the result of the combined efforts of the entire eleven. The reception of the team on its return in the early morning by the student body was the most inspiring example of college loyalty that I have known in the history of the institution. Surely defeat has its lessons and its blessings, too!

Instead of reviving old quarrels with another institution and trying to unsettle what has been so long settled that the real facts in the case have been lost sight of by the student body, it behooves us to bend our united energies toward securing a new field and winning new victories on it. Certainly those who have been laboring for almost a generation to build up athletics at Bucknell do not care to renew contests with a college with whoh we never had, in any proper sense of the term, a pleasant and friendly rivalry. F. E. R.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1903. No. 9

VICTORY OVER THE MIDDIES.

Bucknell Plays Brilliantly At Annapolis and Wins Handily.

The 'varsity eleven played in its true form at Annapolis on Saturday and defeated the Navy team by a score of 23 to 5. The practice during the week had been decidedly poor and the supporters of the eleven were not very hopeful of victory over the Middies. It was not until the home team had scored on the Orange and Blue early in the first half that the men woke up and played the game of which they are capable. By consistent, steady work Bucknell made a touchdown in the first half, which ended 6 to 5 in favor of the visiting team. In the second half Captain Cockill's men played the Navy off their feet and scored two touchdowns, and Johnson, in addition to kicking the goals on these, made a goal from placement from the 38-yard line.

In spite of its reverses this season, the Navy has a good team, and they played their best game of the season against Bucknell. They contested stubbornly every inch of ground Bucknell gained. The team played well on the defensive and offensive, but they were outclassed by the game which their opponents played.

There were many brilliant features about Bucknell's work, chief of which was the playing of Taylor, Shipp and Johnson. The work of the tackles on the offensive eclipsed anything they have done this year. Their plunges usually netted from two to ten yards each, Shipp especially distinguishing himself in advancing the ball in the second half. On the defensive their work was splendid, the big tackles repeatedly breaking through the line and downing their opponents for losses. Johnson's punting was spectacular.

Several times he kicked the ball over the heads of the men in the back field, and his goal from placement near the end of the game was a neat piece of work. The entire team played with life and dash after the first few minutes of the game, and each man did his share toward the victory.

There seemed to be a hoodoo hovering over both teams at the start of the game. It fell to Bucknell to kick off, but two attempts resulted in the ball going out of bounds. The Navy then tried kicking off and they also failed. When the ball was again given to Bucknell Johnson kicked dangerously near the side lines, but a Navy man got it on the 35-yard line before it could roll outside. Failing to gain, the Middies kicked, Johnson getting the ball on his own 40-yard line. After ten yards had been gained on line plunges, Roberts fumbled and the Navy got the ball. The midshipmen gained twenty yards with little difficulty, when Bucknell rallied. However, the Navy, on short gains, three of which on several occasions barely netted them first down, carried the ball over the line for a touchdown. The attempt at goal failed miserably. Bucknell 0; Navy 5.

The Navy kicked off to Johnson on the 15-yard line, and the fullback returned it 15 yards. Shipp, Taylor and Johnson carried the ball ten yards, but Bucknell was forced to kick. The ball went over the heads of the farthest Navy men, who finally got it on their own 30-yard line. After gaining twice the Navy was compelled to punt. Johnson fumbled on Bucknell's 40-yard line, the Navy getting the ball. Bucknell held, and the Navy kicked, Smith getting the ball on his 25-yard line. From this point Bucknell marched straight to the Navy's goal without losing the ball. The gains were made principally by Taylor and Shipp in tackles-back formation. Taylor made the touchdown and Johnson kicked the goal. Time was called within a few minutes after this touchdown was made. Bucknell 6; Navy 5.

The Navy opened the second half by kicking to Shipp on Bucknell's 25-yard line. The ball was returned ten yards. After a gain of ten yards the Navy held, and Bucknell kicked. Again the ball went over the heads of the back field men, who got it on their own 30-yard line. The Navy lost on two rushes and then kicked. The ball struck a midshipman on the back in the middle of the field, and it came into Bucknell's possession. Straight plunges through the line took the ball over the Navy's goal-line, Shipp making the touchdown. Johnson kicked goal. Bucknell 12; Navy 5.

Bucknell kicked to the Navy's 10-yard line and the ball was returned ten yards. Failing to gain, the Middies kicked to Smith on Bucknell's 50-yard line. From this point the ball was carried over the line for the third touchdown, Shipp being used in two of every three plays. His last plunge of eight yards made the touchdown. Johnson kicked goal. Bucknell 18; Navy 5.

The Navy's kick-off was caught by Johnson on the 15-yard line and returned fifteen yards. Johnson made a splendid punt to the Navy's 35-yard line. The Navy lost twenty yards on a bad pass and thereby got first down. On first down they kicked to Smith in the middle of the field. The ball was carried to the Middies' 4-yard line, where the Navy held. The Navy punted to their own 45-yard line, and Bucknell getting the ball, rushed it to the 30-yard line. Here Johnson dropped back for a goal from placement, which he cleverly executed, the ball being kicked from the 38-yard line. Bucknell 23; Navy 5.

About this time Bovard and Smith were replaced respectively by Sheppard and Neil. Time was called shortly after Johnson kicked his goal.

THREE NEW COURSES.

Advanced Work in Jurisprudence, Biology and Chemistry.

The Fall number of the Bulletin made its appearance last week and is now being mailed out. Half of the publication, 8 pages, is devoted to the "Enironment of Bucknell," and the remainder chiefly to the outline of three new courses of study of four years each leading to degrees, which will be added for the year 1904-5. These courses will be in Jurisprudence, Biology and Chemistry. This will make seven courses leading to degrees which Bucknell offers. The new courses include a number of new branches in each.

The announcement is made that the fifty-ninth year begins on September 22, 1904.

The following paragraph corrects an impression that prevails pretty generally throughout the country:

"While the school is distinctively Christian it is not sectarian. The charter provides that 'No religious sentiments are to be counted as a disability to hinder the election of an individual to any office among the teachers of the institution or to debar persons from admittance as students in any department of the University.' All members enjoy full, free, and uninterrupted liberty of conscience."

Death of Mrs Lindemann.

The mother of Professor C. Arthur Lindemann, instructor in Applied Mathematics, died at their home on South Water Street, last Thursday night. Mrs. Lindemann had suffered from previous apoplectic shocks, but had recovered with most of her powers unimpaired. She lay in an almost broken coma for more than a week before the end came. Very active and self sacrificing in the days before bodily affliction came upon her, she maintained the same attitude, so far as possible, in these later months. She suffered slight attacks before reaching here in April last. Not very long after her arrival, she had a severe attack at the home of Professor Perrine, and these infirmaties kept her from entering into the life of school and town as much as much as she would have liked. The Orange and Blue, speaking for the University, extends its deep sympathy to the Professor in his hour of bereavement.

The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, after which the remains were taken to Danbury, Conn., for burial. The Rev. Mr. Judd, in charge of the services, delivered the address and the prayer was offered by President Harris. A choir of University folk sang appropriate hymns and the following acted as pallbearers: The Rev. Dr. Leroy Stephens, '68, Prof. Martin, '71, Prof. Davis, '95, Mr. C. J. Wolfe, '77, Registrar Gretzinger, '89, Prof. Perrine.

ATTENTION! !

Weather permitting, all students will assemble in front of the Main College at 9 o'clock tonight for a celebration of Saturday's victory at Annapolis.

ALL OUT!

Chemical and Physical Society.

The regular meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society was held in the lecture room of the Chemical laboratory on last Thursday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock with President Owens in the chair, Wheeler, '06, very ably discussed "The Distillation of Petroleum." Oils vary in quality, those from New York and Pennsylvania being light oils, those from West Virginia being heavy, or lubricating oils, and those from Ohio containing sulphur and consequently hard to distill. The oil is distilled in a large receptacle with dome-shaped tops. First the light, or inflammable, oils come off, then the lubricating oils, and finally vaseline, paraffine and coke are obtained. The distilled oil is then put in the agitator and washed with sulphuric acid. The flushing point is then taken and when satisfactory, the oil is run into tank cars. The flushing point for oil in Pennsylvania is fixed by law at 44 degrees C. Prof. Owens exhibited to the society the different grades of oil, from benzine to paraffine.

West College Association.

A meeting of the West College Association was held on Saturday, Dr. Hulley presiding.

The following officers were elected:

Secretary, Royer, '05.
Treasurer, Black, '06.
ing committees:

The president appointed the following:

Membership, Gardner, '05; Bostwick, '05; Bacon, '04.
House, Stevenson, '04; Gilbert, '04; Knupp, '04.

The membership committee recommended a list of 29 students for residence and it was accepted.

Dr. Hulley stated that the duty of the house committee would be to make such recommendations as to cure and order of the building as they see fit.

Glee Club Practice.

It is likely that a coach for the Glee club will be engaged within the next week. On last Monday night Prof. West, of Dickinson Seminary attended the rehearsal of the club and assisted in the work. He will be present again on next Thursday night, when his services will be likely be secured definitely. He has had considerable experience in drilling glee clubs and if engaged will doubtless prove a valuable man for the Bucknell organization. At last Monday's rehearsal Prof. West expressed himself as being pleased with Bucknell's talent.

The club will meet in Bucknell Hall at 8 o'clock this evening for practice and all members are urged to be present.

The adjustment of the invidual to his environment must take place either in school or out. The more nearly perfect this social adjustment the higher the social plane on which the individual will stand. If he fails to adjust himself to social standards, the law of natural selection and the law of social selection come into play and force him down to lower and lower planes until a place is found where he can adjust himself or is crowded out altogether. Lack of adaptation to physical environment means extinction.—M. A. Carringer, 1900, in Journal of Pedegogy.

JOHN GRANT LAUDERBAUGH.

Complimentary Notice of an Alumnus of Bucknell University.

We present herewith a picture of the Rev. John Grant Lauderbaugh, A. B., 1900, pastor of the First Baptist church, Oswego, N. Y. Mr. Lauderbaugh has been highly successful in the ministry, and, according to the N. Y. "Examiner," to whose courtesy we are indebted for this picture, "probably at no time for many years has the First church entered upon a whiter's campaign in a better condition than it does this year."

The Literary Societies.

EUEPIA.

The following program has been announced for next Friday evening.

Current Events, Whitby, '07, notes on Robert Louis Stevenson, Myers, '06; notes on Tolstoi, Lesher, '04; debate, "Resolved, that Civilization tends to lengthen Human Life;" affirmative Long, '07, and Miller, '07; negative, Elliott, '05, and Schuch, '07.

THETA ALPHA.

Oration, Sanders, '05; "Colombia and the United States," Bernhardt, '07; recitation, Evans, '07; current events, Bailey, '06; extemporaneous speech, Phillips, '06; debate, "Resolved, that Commerce is a Greater Civilizer than Education;" affirmative, Pelmour, '06, and Peterson, '07; negative, McCauley, '05, and Hinman, '07.

Mandolin and Guitar Division.

The College Girls' and Boys' Mandolin and Guitar Club has been separated into two divisions. Hereafter the College Girls' club will practice in the Seminary on Tuesdays at 4 P. M.; the College Boys' will practice at the same period in Bucknell Hall.

B. '05."

The Moot Court.

Interest in the law course conducted by A. W. Johnson, Esq., has been greatly augmented by the establishment of a moot court. The course offered this term is Real Property and a moot court involving some of the principles of that subject was recently conducted by the students in the class. The proceedure was conducted in a very able manner and highly satisfactory to Mr. Johnson. Other courts will be held from time to time.

ATHLETICS AND THE COLLEGE.

The University Bulletin is published quarterly by the college authorities, and while it is intended chiefly to indicate to the alumni and other friends of the institution the intellectual advancement of Bucknell, one of its objects is to set forth to those unacquainted with the institution the many advantages of the place; in other words, to advertise Bucknell. It is therefore interesting to observe the following, which appears among other things in a paragraph in the current issue of that publication, under the caption, "Intense Activity:"

Bucknell is thus characterized by a spirit of intense activity. In athletics, she has for years taken a leading place. In football, no college with a like number of students can compete with her. In the last year Bucknell scored against Yale, was defeated by the University of Pennsylvania by a score of only 6-5, and defeated the Naval Academy 23-0, and the Carlisle Indians 16-0."

We quote this paragraph for two reasons, first of which is that many colleges throughout the country have been very conservative in officially calling attention to their athletics, a conservatism which, we believe, is scarcely warranted. Indeed, there is in general among college authorities a dislike of advertising acquired through brawn; they would have it appear so, at least. President Eliot, of Harvard, has gone so far as to say that such advertising does not help a college and cites that one of Harvard's most disastrous years in athletics was followed the next year by a great increase in attendance. We would suggest that the growth President Elliot speaks of was natural and that the attendance probably would have been still larger had the athletic season been successful. We certainly do not believe that his contention as to the value of such advertising applies to the smaller colleges. On the contrary it can doubtless be proven that to-day there are students in Bucknell who, desiring the smaller college, were attracted here by the fact that "in football, no college with a like number of students can compete with her." They did not come here solely for that reason, but that was the determining factor. This is an age of advertising and the college advertising the greatest advantages will get the most students. Certainly, a high grade of athletics is an advantage, and when not pushed too prominently to the front, is a legitimate item of advertisement.

A second reason for calling attention to the position of the college authorities as regards athletics grows out of the fact that Bucknell needs a new athletic field. As pointed out in last week's issue, if we wish to advance in athletics proportionally with other colleges and maintain our "leading place," we must have the improved facilities a new field would bring. Having only a limited amount of capital with which to work, the authorities are not expected by the students to satisfy this demand, but we do think the authorities ought to encourage any effort to secure a new athletic field, as they doubtless will. The desire to increase the endowment and to improve our facilities in the way of buildings, new professorships, etc., make an almost constant demand for funds upon the friends of the college, and it cannot be expected of the President and his associates to make a canvass for the purpose of acquiring an athletic field. However, when a philanthropic person is encountered who wishes to direct a portion of his wealth into channels not strictly educational, why should he not be introduced to provide the field desired? The field, of course, would bear the name of the donor,—a legitimate and an eminently desirable way to perpetuate a worthy man's name. This is one way in which the authorities could help athletics. Others will suggest themselves.

OUR COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS.

The publications of a college are a very important part of the student activity. Of course the best way to judge a college is by what it accomplishes, by the men it turns out. Very often, indeed to too large a degree, the estimate of a college is formed by its athletic teams. But many people have a limited acquaintance with college graduates, and do not care for athletics. These base their judgement largely upon the papers and other periodicals which a college issues. The necessity, therefore, that these publications be of a high character is apparent.

Now, that the standard of a college's publications may be high it is necessary that they should have the support of the students. Just as an an athletic team cannot gain its highest efficiency or do its best work without the united support of the student body, so the college daily, weekly or monthly cannot thrive without the same impulse. This support must be moral as well as financial; and that the publication may truly reflect the character of the college, the students must give them the benefit of their genius in the way of contributing material. When the students realize this, and only then, will the papers be truly representative and worth reading. Students as a rule are very careless in this matter of contributing to the college publication, and many a literary flower is thus "born to blush unseen."

We do not doubt that there are many students talented in literary work who never write a line for a college periodical. If you can write, you owe it to yourself and to your college to do so. Hide not your light!

The decided victory of the 'varsity eleven over the Middies on Saturday, was no mean achievement. Coming, as it did, when the team was thought to have taken a slump, it was very gratifying to the students and our friends generally. To the outside world it will have the effect of removing the ignominy that fell our lot as a result of the score of the game with Pennsylvania, and will do much toward obtaining for Bucknell the consideration of those football critics who each year make a comparative estimate of the leading elevens, a distinction to which we are clearly entitled.

OBSERVATIONS

If Latin is a dead language, its ghost is causing Freshmen lots of trouble.

The sorrow of some colleges upon "discovering" that they have violated the eligibility code is little short of pitiable.

De Witt, with the assistance of ten others, succeeded in defeating Yale on Saturday. Chief Johnson easily downed Penn.

There seems to be no urgent demand that the Bucknell trustees follow the example of those of Darmouth in making church attendance voluntary.

The Sophs at Boston "Tech" last week beat a pig to death because it had the misfortune to be the mascot of the Freshman class. Truly this is an age of higher education.

The rule of the faculty of Beloit College that students shall not marry while in the college is said to have been made necessary by the attractiveness of the Beloit co-eds. No such action has ever been taken at Bucknell.

The only difference between a furnished room and an unfurnished room in West College is thirty dollars. In either case the only thing furnished is the room. You furnish the rest.

Bucknell Song Again

Editor Orange and Blue:—It was suggested in one of the previous numbers of the Orange and Blue that Bucknell was without a representative college song. One of the best as well as the most practical, ways to secure it would be to offer a prize to any student or alumnus of Bucknell who will compose such a song as is desired. A date might be fixed upon which the contest would close and the prize be awarded. Any enterprising person or organization connected with or interested in the growth of the University could provide the prize. This scheme, it might be noted, was tried at Pennsylvania and as a result, a song composed by an undergraduate, was awarded first place and thus U. of P. got her "Hail Pennsylvania." It would indeed be very fitting to have the Orange and Blue offer this prize as an inducement for a representative Bucknell song.

One who is interested.

Our Shakespeare Clubs.

Editor Orange and Blue:—The Shakespeare clubs—where are they? The question must be answered with some reservation. Surely we would be loth to acknowledge that our honored clubs, dedicated and devoted to the study of the great dramatist's works, are defunct—yes, dead, only to be resurrected in time for the L'Agenda. Shades of Shakespeare! avenge thou such base calumny! Yet to all appearances the class Shakespeare clubs are dead; at least none has been reorganized this term for work. Pressure of work, out door sports and the general rush of the Fall term, are urged as sufficient excuse for the neglect to re-organize the literary clubs. The cogency of these arguments must be admitted; we, however, venture to ask: Is it advisable to be disband altogether the various clubs during the first and third terms? Varied courses of popular fiction could be arranged and a cursory study of current literature be made by the different clubs with profit as well as entertainment. Nothing, however, should be allowed to supersede the study of Shakespeare in clubs during the second term; the suggestion of a general reading course applies only to the first and third terms when the Shakespeare clubs are practically dead. This idea is somewhat in accord with the Hundred-Book movement inaugurated recently.

The new Baptist church of Dividing Creek, N. J., of which Rev. Frank Anderson, '00, is pastor, will be dedicated on November 29. Dr. Hulley is expected to be present at the exercises. Concerning work of Rev. Anderson, the Commonwealth says: "Pastor and people have worked hard. In token of the esteem in which the pastor is held a set of resolutions commending his work were recently adopted and presented to him by the church in the nature of a surprise. At the recent county Christian Endeavor convention held at the Pearl street Baptist church, Bridgeton, Bro. Anderson was elected president of the county union."

INSTITUTE.

The circus, given on Friday evening by the girls of the Sophomore class, was one of most unique entertainments ever presented in the Seminary. The collection of animals and freaks, in variety if not in number, rivalled that of Barnum and the trained animals, especially the cinnamon bear and the white elephant, put toshame any ever exhibited by Sells Bros., or the renowned Forepaugh.

The invited guests, some thirt. in number, assembled in the Gymnasium at eight o'clock, the Freshman appearing in dark blue gym. suits with fluttering crimson ties, showing that they possess a patriotic spirit at other times than at football games. The guests took their places on the grand stand and looked out over the ring. To the right were red hangings covering the side shows. Directly in front was the platform, and to the left was stationed the band, which rendered popular music during the whole performance.

After the exhibition of the various freaks, which included the Giantess, nine feet tall, the Dwarf, the Siamese twins, the Fat Lady and the Wild Woman from Africa, the circus proper began. Mme. Modjeska danced gracefully upon a tight rope elevated fully two inches from the floor, "a blue blooded Arabian horse"—to quote the hand bill—pranced madly around on the sawdust; the trained White Elephant, Miss Mary, two-stepped solemly to the strains of "Tessie;" and the Cinnamon Bear showed touching devotion to its master, Sullivan, the clown, who, by the way, directed the whole performance with a skill and ease born of long practice. This completed the first half of the program. Red lemonade and peanuts were then served to the audience and the circus continued.

The second part consisted chiefly of music. Two thrilling solos.—"Little Johnny" and "One Little Word"—were rendered by Mme. Calve. Cissy Fitzgerald gave an exceedingly pretty skirt dance; and the Florodora sextette danced "The Honeysuckle and the Bee" in a manner that put "Pretty Maiden" completely in the shade.

The evening ended with an informal dance in which freaks, animals, clown, prima donna and audience participated. After giving the various class yells, with '06 attached, the procession, home-ward turned, filed through the gates, and the circus was over.

The School of Music gave one of its term recitals in the school-room on Friday evening. The following program was rendered:

The Conwell Lecture.

On Tuesday evening Russell H. Conwell will deliver in the opera house, the first of a series of five lectures under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

By wide and varied experiences, together winth natural ability, Mr. Conwell has gained the reputation of being perhaps the most eminent of the "ten real American lecturers on the American platform to-day." Few lives are fuller of thrilling incidents than his. On being picked up on the streets of Boston as a lonely child, the story of his life begins, and the Fates weave the thread through a hard-fought struggle for an education into military activities in which he was once left all night on the battlefield for dead. Law practice and newspaper reporting, at which he barely escaped murder by the hands of gamblers, in whose precincts he had entered for news, hold a prominent place in his experience. The silence of night has been broken by his prayers when burdens of philanthropic enterprises pressed heavily and his life has been brightened by answers to prayers beyond human understanding.

For thirty-seven years he has been on the lecture platform and has delivered on an average two hundred lectures a year. Besides he preaches to thousands who throng his church on Sunday and addressed conventions the largest in America. His absorbing magnetism and quenchless enthusiasm produces such cheerfulness in his hearers that delight and happiness is shown on the countenance of all.

Bucknell Alumnae Meets.

On Thursday evening, November 19, the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia and vicinity was delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Leas at their home, 400 South Fortieth street, West Philadelphia. After the transaction of the regular business the club was addressed by Miss E. J. Stanton, of Bucknell Institute, on the subject of "The New Education." During the evening solos were rendered by Miss Lovell, ex- 02,' and Mrs. Van Lennop, and short reports were given by the President. Mrs. J. R. Wood, Mrs. Reilly, Mrs. O'Harra, Dr. H. Lewis Ziegler and Dr. A. J. Rowland. At this meeting the club decided to raise the additional $500 requested for the scholarship fund.

Junior Class President.

At a meeting of the Junior class held Saturday morning C. V. Williamson was elected president, owing to the resignation of B. W. Scott. Wood was elected manager of the class basket ball team.

The Thanksgiving Recess.

The Thanksgiving recess will begin at noon on Wednesday and will continue till the 11.15 period on the following Monday.

The Examiner.

THE REV. CLAUDE G. LANGFORD.

We present this week a picture of the Rev. Claude G. Langford, pastor of the South Side Baptist church, Elmira, N. Y. Mr. Langford was born in West Virginia and was a graduate from Bucknell in 1891. Then followed a course at Crozer, after which he was ordained in 1893. He held several pastorates in Pennsylvania before going to Elmira, where he is the pastor of a vigorous, aggressive and thriving young church.

Two Important Games.

With a view to arranging for Bucknell a good football schedule, one which will contain several teams in our class and which will be free from athletic clubs, the Football Advisory Committee and the Registrar are negotiating with two large universities for games next fall. The deals have been practically closed, but the liability of something to interfere with the final arrangements prevents the Orange and Blue from giving the names of the colleges. Suffice it to say that Bucknell has never met either one in an athletic contest. It is proposed to play one of the games in Lewisburg and the other in some large city.

The names of the Colleges and the dates of the games will probably be announced before the end of the term.

To Make Improvements

The Eucpia Literary Society room will be repainted and thoroughly renovated during the Thanksgiving recess.

Count Zinzendorff is one of my heroes. I see him standing with one hand reaching through the centuries, clasping the hand of John Huss, and through him, Cyril and Methodus and through them to the Apostle Paul and to Jesus himself. I see him reaching forward with the other hand through John Wesley to William Carey, uniting the Baptist denomination to Jesus Christ in the only succession that is worth the mentioning. And this succession, for which we thanked God, passed for the greater part of the centuries through Slavic blood. We are but paying our just debts when we allow the missionary impulse within us to lead us on to save the Slavic races, for they are the children of men to whom we owe the best part of our spiritual inheritage, the desire to evangelize the world."—Rev. D. H. Lewis, '94

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

As to Library Facilities.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Bucknell's many advantages include a well equipped library and one in which works can be found on almost any topic.

But no matter how excellent a thing may be, if it cannot be used, it is to that extent worthless. Our library is open all day and that suffices for most of the students. But there are those who cannot use it during this time and to them it is not worth as much as it might be. There are those whose time is so completely taken up with classes and outside work that they are unable to get to the library.

If possible let us have the library open at night, if only for an hour or two and in this way throw it open to those to whom it is practically closed during the day.

"READER."

One Way of Advertising.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Since the increased guarantee our football team receive enables it to travel in a special car on the long trips, would it not be a good idea to purchase two large streamers bearing the word "Bucknell" in large letters, with which to decorate the car? We should be proud to have our football team appear in public.

The eleven takes one more long trip. I would suggest that the management secure two such streamers and use them on this trip. They could be made of some durable material and be kept for next year.

SENIOR.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

Two New Men Must be Developed for This Year's Varsity Five.

Immediately after the Thanksgiving recess the call for basket-ball candidates will be made. The schedule this year will be much harder than that of last year and Captain Cheesman is desirous of developing a better team than represented the university in 1903. In Anderson and Griffiths two valuable men were lost and their places will be hard to fill. Of last year's 'varsity players three will be on the team again this year. They are Cheesman, McCormick and Johnson. A very encouraging sign is the fact that all of last year's reserve team are still in college. Of these, Cockill, Groff, Smith, Grier and Taggart will make a strong bid for the 'varsity five. There are several promising men in the Freshman class. However, Roberts, who was a star on the Susquehanna team last year, is the only one of the new men about whom anything definite is known. The competition for the vacant places on the team promises to be very spirited, which will result in a good reserve team after the regulars are chosen, and that has been one of the secrets of Bucknell's success in basket-ball during the past few years.

A feature of the team this year will be a new style of uniform, which consists of a blue jersey with a nine-inch orange band, on which will be a blue "B," a blue stocking with two orange stripes and the regulation brown trousers.

Manager Browning, '04, is at work on his schedule and expects to have it completed within the next week or so. It will consist of twelve games, the maximum allowed by the faculty, all but two of which will be played on the home floor. The basket-ball league of the big Eastern colleges has interfered with his arranging games with any of those teams.

Last Game This Week.

The 'varsity eleven will close its session this week with a game with the Watertown Athletic Club at Watertown, N. Y., on Thanksgiving Day. Bucknell defeated the professionals early in October and their thirst for revenge led to a second game being arranged. The eleven has been working faithfully during the past week and can be expected to give a good account of themselves next Thursday.

The election of captain will take place immediately after the game at Watertown. The annual banquet to the team will not be held on Thanksgiving evening as usual this year, the members of the team having expressed a desire to postpone the affair until after the Thanksgiving recess.

Death of an Alumnus

It may be of interest to note that the Rev. J. T. Bender, a graduate of the Theological Department of the year 1867, died at North Bergen, N. J., last week. He had served many pastorates, and was seventy-five years of age. His old friend and classmate, Chaplain Kane, conducted the services.

No Meetings

Buepia and Theta Alpha will have no meetings next Friday owing to the open meeting of the Zeta Literary Society at the Seminary.

WHAT IS COLLEGE SPIRIT?

Not long ago the Brown and White, of Lehigh University, published an article on "College Spirit" in which the writer took the stand that college spirit consisted solely in enthusiasm for athletics. The article caused much comment among the students at Lehigh, and one "hard worker" sent a communication to the paper in which he states the true definition of college spirit as "love of honest, hard work." He says, "Enthusiasm for the college athletics has its proper place; but the atmosphere of hard work, which is so contagious at Lehigh, is the finest flower of our college spirit."

It would seem that either view of college spirit is extreme. For, while it may readily be acknowledged that college spirit, in its true sense, is not merely enthusiasm for athletics, it is equally certain that college spirit does not consist entirely in study. For we take "hard work" to mean close study and study only. College spirit is the vital interest which every student should have in the superiority and success of his college in every department and in every line of its activity. Being a good student does not in any way interfere with a man's college spirit; indeed, it is one way of showing loyalty. But high class standing is not a condition precedent to college spirit. If a man has college spirit, he will eagerly aid in the preparation and await the success of those representing his college on athletic teams, on glee clubs, in literary lines: in everything. When defeat comes, his spirit will make him join all the more heartily in the rally with which the college meets the reverse. He will get up in the small hours of the morning to meet his returning team with good will, just as he would drop everything else to become prepared to win for his college in debate. He will be jealous of the honor gained by clean athletics, just as he will rise in arms if he hears anything reflecting on the standing of his institution in scholarship. He will consider that those who do the most good for their University after graduation are not always those who stand highest in their classes; that the men who bring most honor to their Alma Mater are never those who give their attention entirely to study.

But, by the words "hard work" may not to be meant close study, to the exclusion of other college matters. The words may be intended to mean intense activity in all college lines. In this case, we think the writer of the communication to the "Brown and White is correct.

AN ALMA MATER SONG.

The University has long realized the need of an Alma Mater song. Many college songs, some of superior merit, have been written by students and alumni in the past; some have likewise been published in the representative books of college songs, like Hinds and Noble's "Songs of All Colleges;" but hitherto no song has been recognized unanimously as the Alma Mater song of the University. This is truly unfortunate. Bucknell has produced musical talent of the highest rank; Dr. Lowry, Miss Mary Bartol, Dr. Aviragnet, Miss Juliet Aiken, and others have done much for our college music. The book of music, instrumental and vocal, published by the class of 1897, contains many excellent songs and should be in the hands of every student.

Nevertheless, the need of an Alma Mater song is still recognized. No song has yet been produced that has been deemed worthy by common consent to be called our "Alma Mater." We are glad that a movement is now in progress which is likely to produce definite results. Dr. Aviragnet has generously offered a prize to any student who will write words or music for a song that shall be accepted by a committee of competent judges, to be recognized as the Alma Mater song of the University. It is suggested that as many of the college men as possible submit songs and words, the best of which will be selected by the committee to be harmonized by the School of Music. A prize will be offered to the successful competitor in music.

This contest will doubtless elicit much interest and competition among the students who possess literary and musical talent. A good Alma Mater song should result. What is needed is a song of true literary worth, filled with college spirit and loyal devotion, set to appropriate music—a song that students and alumni may honor and love and sing on all occasions and at all times in praise of Old Bucknell.

A COMMENDABLE STEP.

For the third year in succession, and for the last time, we hope, the Bucknell football team will close its season by playing an athletic club.

Everybody connected with Bucknell athletics has long been aware of the evil of such an arrangement and has sought means to avoid it, but to no avail, since the small college team with no enclosed field and in a small town can scarcely be made to be self-supporting. Even the home games cannot be made to pay for themselves; and it requires the most economical methods to make the profits of the foreign games meet the expenses of equipment and the Association's share of the coach's salary.

The principal evil in contests with athletic teams is that they tend to dim any record, however brilliant, achieved by superior playing against other colleges. To prove this we need only cite that last year when we had an excellent team, Casper Whitney, that true friend of amateur athletics, declined to recognize Bucknell in rating the leading elevens, simply because our season closed with a game against a professional team.

But there are indications that next year we shall be released from this obnoxious bond. The football authorities have decided to attempt a schedule consisting of college games alone. As indicated in another column, negotiations have been all but closed for two new big games, and others will be arranged later. We predict that the undertaking will not only be successful financially, but will result in increased interest in athletics generally by the students. At least there will be no barriers toward securing the recognition due us.

It is the aim of the Orange and Blue to note from time to time the success that has attended the alumni. To this end we shall introduce pictures of as many of them as possible, and quote in our columns important thoughts to which they have given utterance. This will show that our alumni are influential, thinking men in their several communities, and it will be an inspiration for the under-graduate to follow in their footsteps. In its efforts to bring the alumni to the attention of its readers, in this manner, the Orange and Blue welcomes assistance from all quarters.

Attention is called to the announcement of the lecture by Russel H. Conwell on Tuesday evening in the Opera House. This is the first lecture in the Star course. The committee has been fortunate in securing so eminent a lecturer as Mr. Conwell, in view of the fact that all his open dates were taken early in the season. The attendance should be large; the proceeds of the course will be shared equally by the college Y. M. C. A. and the College Girls' Settlement Association. Buy a course ticket and attend the Conwell lecture Tuesday night.

The Fame of John.

Lebanon Valley Forum.

To the success of the season much credit is due to John Gillis, the coach. Coming to us from Bucknell, Mr. Gillis not only has the latest ideas and a thorough knowledge of the game, but he also knows how to handle the boys and get them to their work regularly and faithfully. The impression has gone out that Mr. Gillis is a ringer, but this is without a grain of truth, for though he acts as a coach and is a good one he is taking regular work in the classes and is not here for the football season alone, but will remain the entire year.

Want More "At Homes."

Editor Orange and Blue:—The "At Home" held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. of the Sophomore class last year was very successful. The college girls attended in a body and expressed themselves as delighted with the function, despite the rather limited hall. Will not the Sophomore class initiate the movement this year? There is yet time to hold an "At Home" this term. The Junior class will doubtless follow suit in the second term and the Senior class in the third term. In this way the "At Homes" would not be distinctly a Seminary function and enough novelty would be introduced to render these occasions memorable as well as helpful socially. It is hoped that this suggestion may meet with favor.

OBSERVATIONS

A football rush is often a signal failure.

—o—

The increasing attendance at chapel indicates that as an evangelizer the Y. M. C. A., has nothing on the Registrar.

—o—

As an aspirant for recognition in the poet's muse the chapel clock has a formidable rival in the time-piece (?) in the library.

—o—

The name of weekly publication of Wooster University, The Voice, suggests that it is edited by women. However, there is but one woman on the staff.

—o—

Geneva claims her defeat at the hands of W. and J., last Saturday a week was due to the fact that one of her players while running for a touchdown was tackled by a W. and J., substitute from the side-lines. Shades of '05!

—o—

The announcement that State and W. and J. had renewed athletic relations was confirmed a few days later by a despatch announcing that the representatives of the two teams nearly came to blows when they met to exchange bonds.

Rev. W. J. Coulston, '83, of Greensburg, was on Tuesday last, at Harrisburg, named as one of the Vice Presidents of the Pennsylvania Sabbath Association.

Dr. J. G. Walker, '62, began his thirty-second year with the Mantua church on November 1. The last year has been signalized by the establishing of a Sinking Fund Society for the systematic liquidation of the church debt. In six months over $1,000 have been paid in harmony with this plan. Dr. Walker has given the best years of his life to this field, and he has much to show for his patient seed-sowing and painstaking devotion to the spiritual needs of his people. Still young and vigorous, he is preaching to large congregations, with repeated tokens of loyalty and love from his own people, and of approved from his Divine Master.—The Examiner.

Miss Ruth Bottorf entertained her sister on Friday.

Miss Payne is here visiting her town and Seminary friends.

The Institute faculty gave an old-fashioned party on Saturday evening.

Misses Innes and Brown have gone home to stay until after Thanksgiving.

Miss Stanton returned on Saturday evening from a short visit in Philadelphia.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Cadwallader residence in Milton on Wednesday, November 18, when Miss Kate Cadwallader, '01, was married to Mr. Norman Rife, of Philadelphia. Among the Bucknell guests present were Miss Browning, '01, Mr. Browning, '04, and Miss Aikin, who played the wedding march.

"It seems to me that any one possessed of a judicial mind who will study the present attempt to get Congress to restore the canteen in our army, and who will regard it from a strictly impartial standpoint, must inevitably arrive at two conclusions:

First. That the attempt is hopeless.

Second. That it is unnecessary. "The trouble, as everybody knows, is not because the army canteen has been abolished, but because, on the outside of the posts, abominable nuisances have been planted that ought to be, but are not, suppressed by the authorities. There is no reason why the War Department cannot do with these things just what the Navy Department did with similar nuisances surrounding certain navy yards." R. B. MacDaniel, '88, Clarksburg, W. Va.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

The Sophomore football team will play in Berwick on Thanksgiving Day.

Heinze, '07, witnessed the Lehigh-Lafayette game at South Bethlehem on Saturday.

Bacon, '04, went to his home, Harveyville, on Friday to remain till after the Thanksgiving recess.

Gardner, '05, left on Friday for McKeesport, to spend the Thanksgiving recess at home. He was accompanied by Royer, '05.

Sutton, '04, left on Saturday for Union City, his home, on important business. He will resume his studies at the beginning of second term.

"Some things, it is true, must belong to any Christian evangel, new or old, because indispensible to Christian life and truth. It must be impassioned righteousness. Any gospel which ignores the absolute moral law is defective and finally irreligious. The fundamental in religion is the moral law. It is an infinite mistake, rife in our day, that spiritual religion is to take little account of the details of moral conduct. The more spiritually true a religion is, the higher and less fragile its moral laws and ideas must be." Spencer B. Meeser, '83, Detroit, Mich.

An athletic fraternity, the object of which is to spread a bond of fellowship and remove the feeling of distrust and suspicion which sometimes exists among the athletes of colleges, has been formed in the West. The reason why a similar organization among athletic authorities would not succeed, is obvious.

If President Harper's plan to take the first two years of the college course and add them to the curriculum of the high schools and academies will do away with Freshmen, it will doubtless meet with favor.

Seidel and Spangler.

We are leaders in popular Waists, in workmanship as well as prices, and offer the Mercerized waists in White, with Black Polka-dot effect and Plain White ones at 69c. Better ones at 85 cents and $1.00.

Extra fine ones, heavy weight at $1.25.

The $1.39 and $1.50 ones have the appearance of silk, and look like a $2.00 waist.

A line of White Mercerized waists with Embroidered fronts, with Plain or wide plaited back at $1.25 and $1.39. These are very desirable and stylish.

At $1.95 to $5.00 we have the fine Mercerized in white ground with Satin Stripes and beautiful plaid effects, Tan grounds with black stripe effects. And white with black stripe. These are very dainty and real elegant.

For a heavier waist we are showing a complete line of flannel waists in Black, Blue, Green and Red from $1.00 to $3.50.

The Velvet and Corduroy waist seem to be a favorite and among the latest colorings we have the new Gunmetal effect and price them from $3.50 $4.50.

For a fine evening waist we have a complete line of silk ones in all the delicate evening shades, as Light Blue, Pink and White and price them at $3.50 to $5.50.

This is the busiest Suit and Skirt department in Milton, because of the great variety, and superior tailoring.

We have hundreds of styles but can only describe a few. In the even length styles we are showing the mixed cheviots, and all the plain materials. and some are tucked others are stitched and sell from $5.00 to $10.50.

The Dress lengths are trimmed in Silk bands, Tucked or Pendant trimmed and the tailoring is extra fine. Mostly of Black and Blue effects and price them from $3.50 to $11.00.

Conveniet as well as stylish are the this week in the ready made department and the colors are in Black, White, Red and Green. Are showing them with or with out sleeves. For the cool days these are very desirable.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1903. No. 11

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Coach Hoskins Gives His Views on the Work of the Team.

Looking back calmly over the season just closed I cannot regard it in any light than disappointing. I think any judge of football material who had an opportunity to size up the Bucknell players, will agree that the results were not as good as they should have been. At least one more victory should have been added to our list and more creditable showings should have been made in two of the games that were lost.

In my opinion the poor work of the team was due to lack of material. The squad was the smallest Bucknell has had for several years and, as far as ability is concerned, was nothing like an institution of Bucknell's standing in the athletic world should have had. The lack of material was a double handicap. In the first place it left us with not more than one or two good substitutes. For some of the positions, fullback for instance, there were no substitutes at all, and several times I was compelled to keep men in the game who, for their own good and that of the team, should have been on the sidelines. Then again the regular eleven could not be pushed to its limit owing to the poor scrub team. A good 'varsity cannot be developed unless there is a strong scrub team against it, and the sooner the students of the college realize this the better. There are plenty of men in college to constitute a strong scrub team, but they will not come out. In this respect there is a great lack of college spirit among Bucknell students. In other respects the spirit this year was commendable.

Coming down to specific cases, I think we should have won the Cornell game, having outplayed the Ithacans almost two to one. The game against Princeton was one of the best played by the team during the season, but the men would have done still better had not the game come so close to the contest with Cornell. The men went into the Princeton game with the right spirit and worked hard to make a good showing. In this contest good substitutes could have been used to a decided advantage. The Princeton game and unfortunate practices left the team in poor shape for Penn. and here more than any other game the lack of substitutes was felt keenly.

The agitation in favor of a new athletic field cannot be carried on with too great vigor, for it would add a great deal to the efficiency of our teams. The disadvantage of coaching a team in public is greater than most people imagine. Much more efficient work can be carried on behind closed gates, where trick plays and the signals may be kept away from those who do not play. Besides, increased college spirit would be shown in more concerted cheering and singing, which is a great factor in developing a team.

The financial benefit an enclosed ground would be is too apparent to need comment. Suffice it to say that we would be enabled to have better home games and that would encourage the players to better work. And we could have an annual track meet for high schools and normal schools with a view to inducing young athletes to come to Bucknell.

If an individual cannot be induced to give the field the alumni should take the matter up. Those members of the alumni who have graduated since 1890 and who are most interested in athletics should take the initiative and push the scheme vigorously forward.

Dr. Aviragnet is to be commended for his spirit and liberality in offering a prize for a Bucknell song and it is to be hoped that there will be many competitors for it.

I expect to make a few remarks on the subject of more football material for next year at the meeting of the Athletic Association on next Saturday.

G. W. HOSKINS.

Football Eleven Banqueted.

The annual banquet to the coach and members of the football team was held at Mrs. Huth's on Saturday night. The menu was an elaborate one and was thoroughly enjoyed. Owing to the fact that several members of the team were compelled to leave early, there was no speech-making. Those who attended the banquet were Coach Hoskins, Manager Thompson, Captain Cockill, Captain-elect Johnson, Wilcox, Smith, Vorse, Cooper, Lenhart, Shipp, Bovard, Roberts, Sweitzer, Neil, Smitey, Winbigler, Sheppard, Lesher, Assistant Manager Marsh, and Treasurer Karge.

The Literary Societies.

The following programs have been prepared for next Friday night:

EUEPIA.

Current events, Robinson, '04; extemporaneous speech, Williamson '05; debate, "Resolved, that the Indians have suffered Greater Wrongs from the American Government than the Negroes;" affirmative, Hulley, '07, and Whitney, '07; negative, Elsesser, '07, and Lockard, '07; election of officers.

THETA ALPHA.

Election of officers.

Johnson Elected Captain.

John C. Johnson, '04, was elected captain of the 'varsity football team for 1905 on Saturday morning.

Johnson is one of the most versatile players Bucknell has ever had, being able to play most any position on the team. The season just closed was his first as regular fullback, but he acquitted himself in a manner that won distinction everywhere.

THE I.-C. A. A. A. A.

A Few Facts Concerning the Well-Known Athletic Organization.

Some time ago the Orange and Blue urged the athletic authorities of Bucknell to take steps toward becoming a member of the Inter-Collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, which holds an annual field meeting each year in one of the large cities, usually New York. Although there was a strong sentiment in favor of joining the organization, nothing to that end has been done. Membership in the organization would not entail very great expense. There is not admission fee at all and the annual dues are $10.

Whether or not any difficulty would be encountered in obtaining membership only a trial will determine. The constitution states that an college desiring to enter must present its application in writing to the secretary of the association, which will be submitted to the association at its annual meeting. The next meeting will be held in New York City on the last Saturday in February. The name and address of the secretary is C. R. Adams, University Heights, N. Y.

The following colleges are members of the association: Amherst, Boston, Bowdin, California, College of the City of New York, Columbia, Cornell, Fordham, Georgetown, Harvard, Haverford, Johns Hopkins, Lafayettte, Michigan, New York University, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Rutgers, Stevens, Swarthmore, Syracuse, Villa Nova, Williams, Yale.

At a recent meeting of the association the feasability of holding the next meeting in Philadelphia was discussed, but no definite action was taken.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Editor Orange and Blue:—As one interested in the Athletics of the University, I have been reading from week to week the communications in the columns of the Orange and Blue. I note it has been suggested that the Association fee be $5 or or some such figure, and that the members be given tickets admitting them to all the games for the school year. We should have the fee, but should it be voluntary, no doubt the Association would lose.

As it is at present, one joins the Association, paying a fee of $1. Most of the students join, not for the sake of being members, but in order that they may have a voice in the elections, which are generally hotly contested and arouse much interest. The total membership has never reached 250; and should the fee be raised, I believe it would be even less in the future. Of this membership some few attend nearly all games; others witness very few. For the former a $5 fee would be a saving; for the latter, the majority of them would not be members.

Yet, I favor a $5 fee, but think it should be compulsory and not at the option of the student. If every person eligible to join the Association were taxed $5 per year for athletics and given a season ticket, our athletics would be helped in more ways than one. We would be greatly benefited in a financial way; and, again, we would have a noticeable increase in attendance at our games. If a student did not happen to have the price of admission at the time it would not hinder his being present. An increase in attendance from the camps of the student body would be a great help, for it would arouse more spirit and enthusiasm. We would have better cheering and yelling—one thing we need badly, almost as much as an athletic field. There would be few games on the home field which would not be witnessed by several hundred students. The attendance of students at games at present is very low, which is decidedly discouraging to the men on the field. The management had but two football games on the home field and financially both of them were failures. It may be said the reason of this was that no strong teams, such as Lafayette, Lehigh, or Cornell, are played here and that they will not turn out to see a walk-away game. This may be true, but when we look at the difference in guarantees such teams would require we feel that it is comparatively greater than the attendance would warrant. When we have an athletic field we can better take chances on bringing first-class teams to Lewisburg.

Another benefit to the school would be that we could then eliminate profesational teams from our schedule, which are played chiefly for the financial inducements offered.

One difficulty in the way of this scheme might be: How will this fee be made compulsory and how collected? To this I would say: The authorities of the University might have a "damage fund" to which all students must contribute $5 at opening of the fall term. This would be a University bill and the payment would have to be made before the person was admitted as a student. Out of this fund all damages to the University property at hands of reckless students could be paid and the balance turned over to athletics. The student body by taking in hand all reckless and unruly ones, could see to it that the damages would not amount to the total in the fund.

These damages could be estimated by a committee composed of members of the faculty and several taken from the student body.

A little figuring at this point might be well. Taking it that we have 600 students, $5 from each one would place in the damage fund $3,000. Making a liberal allowance for damages, at least $2,500 of this amount could each year be turned over to the Athletic Association. This amount itself is greater than the total receipts of the football season of 1902, the most successful in any department of athletics in Bucknell's history.

Since Bucknell must have a new athletic field, would this not be an excellent way to secure it? Within a few years we could have a field adapted to all our needs. S. C.

The watertown Game.

The 'varsity football team played a post-season game with Watertown Athletic Club at Watertown on Thanksgiving Day, the latter winning 22 to 6.

THE C. AND P. SOCIETY

Dr. Davis on Relation of Bacteriology to Chemistry.

The last meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society for the term was held on Thursday afternoon

Prof. Davis addressed one of the largest audiences of the year on "The Relation of Bacteriology to Chemistry."

Bacteriology treats of all microscopic organisms. Bacteria are a particular group of these, the smallest of organisms, belonging to the vegetable kingdom and derived from fermentation, putrefaction and disease. Pastor is known as the father of Bacteriology, because he brought the science to the front as no one before him had done. He was an expert chemist and was studying tartrates when he noticed that when left stand over night a change took place. He placed some of the changed tartrate on a slide and noticed multitudes of organisms moving swiftly in all directions. Becoming interested in the work he examined beer and explained how to have it fermented correctly, and also how to kill bacteria in the sick-room, and thus brought about the practical side. Prof. Davis then explained how different methods had been tried for killing diphtheria germs and that we now use an antitoxin derived from a horse that has been inoculated with the germs of diphtheria.

Wednesday's Entertainment.

The second event of the Bucknell Lecture Course is the Katharine Ridgeway Concert Co., on Wednesday evening, Dec. 9, at 8.15 o'clock.

The extensive work and highly entertaining nature of this company is already so well known that no further comment upon its merits is necessary. Let all come and avail themselves of a grand opportunity. The entertainment will be held in the Opera House.

Meeting of Athletic Association.

During the week the annual meeting of the Athletic Association will be called for next Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock. An assistant manager of the football team, president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and a finance committee of two are to be elected. The football manager will present his report of the season's finances.

COLLEGE EDUCATION AND BUSINESS.

The merchant prince of twenty years ago was usually a man without a college education. Very often he had not even a common-school education. He had gone to work early in life, impelled by the pinch of necessity or by the mandate of an uneducated father. He had begun at the foot of the ladder. By force of character, he had gradually obtained a firm grip on business and won his way upward. He had grown accustomed to look with disdain upon educated men whose visible success was not so great as his own.

As a result, the man of business success felt that education was not a very needful factor in business training. He found that young men of college education were not very eager to begin down where he began and go through the labor necessary to gain efficient knowlege of the business. He felt that the college man possessed many traits that would not contribute to success. He wanted the young man who was most likely to succeed. Consequently few college men found their way into the business.

But to-day the business world looks at the college man from a very different point of view. Business men have found that the few college men who got into business soon made a place near the top. They have discovered that, if a college-bred man has "the man part in him", the "college part" only makes him more efficient; that if the man is not in him, the college education will enable the employer to find out the fact all the sooner. It has been shown by experiences that the college man, with his wide range of intellect, can grasp more quickly the essential features of the business and can see farther ahead. He can stand higher pressure and a greater strain and is not anxious to stop work as soon as the closing hour has come. The college man can usually solve a question more quickly than his poorly educated competitor.

And now, in every line of business, the college man is preferred. The large corporations must make their force of employes as efficient as possible, since that is one of the economies of combination. These same corporations are the business enterprises which are most eager to employ college men. The college man is forging to the front in the management of affairs.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

Another football season has gone and with it all its pleasures and disappointments. While the players and the coach did as well as they could under the circumstances and deserve the greatest praise for their efforts, the season was disappointing and Bucknell did not add to its prestige in the football world.

Just as the season had its pleasures and disappointments, it also taught its lessons. Perhaps the chief one of these is that brought out so prominently by Coach Hoskins in his review of the season in this issue, namely, that growing out of the lack of material. Bucknell has reached the stage in her athletic development where she must have more and better material unless she would fall from her proud place among the leading college elevens of the country. There was a time when we could get along with a mere handful of men, but that time is past; harder schedules make a greater lot of men from which to select a team absolutely imperative. We predict that Coach Hoskins will have something to say as to how more material can be brought here, at the meeting of the Athletic Association next Saturday.

There must also be more faithful work among the scrubs. Only a few of those who should come out do so, and these often grow indifferent in their work. The satisfaction of displaying their college spirit does not seem to be a sufficient inducement to them to put forth their best efforts and others should therefore be devised. We believe a regular schedule for the reserve team, with insignia of some sort of those who prove themselves most worthy would be effective means to the desired end. We would suggest also that the annual class game be postponed till the Saturday before Thanksgiving, which would doubtless result in keeping the material in the two lower classes in the field till that time at least. Other means will also doubtless present themselves.

A stricter observance of the rules of training among the 'varsity men must be insisted upon if the highest efficiency is to be maintained. The rules were flagrantly violated by several of the players this year, who went unpunished because of the dearth of material. A little more honor in this direction would add greatly to the efficiency of the team.

AS TO CLASS TEAMS.

We have noticed with considerable regret the general laxity with reference to class athletic teams. Respective managers arrange schedule of games with out-of-town teams, presumably belonging to the same class and strictly amateur, but which more frequently are made up of professionals and a tough element who usually win, by fair means or foul, unless the class team is padded with other than bona fide players. This is a mistake. A defeat suffered by a class team in a sense injures the University; because the daily press very often fails to discriminate and the local papers print the next day a half column, headed "Bucknell Defeated," and one must read almost through the article before he learns that it was only a class team which was defeated and not the 'varsity. This is no exaggeration; one instance of this sort occurred last year with reference to an Academy team.

There seems to be a general feeling among the lower classes that any pick-up team is good enough for the occasion and many accompany the teams just for the trip. It is true that class teams very often contain excellent material; but without consistent practice and a reasonable amount of coaching, defeat is inevitable in the majority of cases. No class team should leave the University which is not regularly organized and thus compellel to pad with 'varsity subs and upper-classmen.

There is a standing rule which is perhaps not generally known by class team managers. Briefly stated the rule is: "No class team shall leave the University to play out-of-town games without the sanction of some member of the Athletic Board of the University, as well as the consent of the President." This provision insures a carefully arranged schedule with a possibility of winning at least half of the games played. The college authorities will do athletes a distinctive benefit by enforcing this rule.

THE I-C. A. A. A. A.

Some facts concerning the I-C. A. A. A. A. are presented on the first page of this issue with a view to having the athletic authorities take action toward securing membership in the organization for Bucknell. Bucknell stands high in athletics and would doubtless have no trouble in being voted in the Association as a member. The only expense membership would involve would be the sending of athletes to the annual meeting, funds to defray which could be raised by subscription, by an entertainment of some sort, or taken from the treasury of the Athletic Association. A two-fold benefit would be derived,—an additional attraction would be afforded young athletes to enter Bucknell and the Orange and Blue would acquire greater fame in athletics than it now enjoys. We trust the athletic authorities will at least consider the matter.

The election of John C. Johnson to the football captaincy of next year's team should meet with the approval of every person interested in Bucknell athletics. He enjoys the confidence and respect of his fellow-players and has the qualifications that go to make a successful leader. George W. Cockill, the retiring captain proved to be most efficient and deserves the greatest credit for the manner in which he led the team.

The manager of the football team requests that all subscriptions be paid at once.

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

We wish to call attention of the new students of the importance of joining the Athletic Association at the meeting next Saturday morning. It is the one representative organization of the college and through it is promoted all our athletic interests. By joining the Association the student gives athletics his moral support, without which every team would be a failure. The fee is merely nominal, one dollar, though the aggregate materially benefits athletics in general.

In this connection we beg to suggest to the chairman of next Saturday's meeting that he appoint a committee of upper-classmen to maintain order, a thing which other meetings have greatly lacked.

OBSERVATIONS

The football season being over, players will now smoke,—in the open.

—o—

If present tendencies continue no Freshman's equipment will be complete without a bill-posting outfit.

—o—

In avoiding anything flowery in the wallpaper design for Eucpia Hall, the committee showed a desire not to encroach upon the province of her orators.

—o—

If President Harper's statement that there is a tendency among college students to "star" is true of all colleges, some powerful telescopes must have been used to determine the fact.

—o—

Some people are skeptical enough to say that Dean Pennıman's stand against the shortening of the college course is the result of Penn's determination to build up a winning eleven next year.

—o—

The Michigan student who was expelled for attempting to disguise himself as a co-ed at woman's fancy dress party deserved such a fate for not perceiving the impossibility of the task, if for nothing else.

—o—

Following the example of their American sisters, Oxford and Cambridge have agreed upon eligibility rules in athletics. The next step toward imitating American colleges will be the seeking of ways to avoid them.

INSTITUTE.

Miss Edith Halfpenny has been initiated into Delta Phi.

Miss Barton was the guest of Miss Godcharles in Milton on Saturday.

Unfavorable weather and inability to secure a suitable field have retarded the introduction of field hockey among the young women, who have organized for that purpose. As soon as the weather is favorable for playing Miss Constance Applebee, who is introducing the game among the women of various colleges, will come here to carry on the work of instruction. The rules call for a field 100 by 50 feet, which the promoters of the game have so far been unable to secure. It is likely that the rules in this respect will be modified somewhat and the game played on the Seminary campus.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETS

Much Business Transacted on Saturday.—Election of Officers.

The annual fall meeting of the Athletic Association held on Saturday morning was poorly attended, but a large amount of business was transacted. Fifty-nine members were enrolled.

The reports of Football Manager Thompson and Treasurer Karge, which appear in another column were presented and accepted.

Coach Hoskins received an ovation when he was called upon to address the body, and he gave an earnest and inspiring talk. He congratulated the football team upon its work and the manager upon the financial success of his season. The financial part of athletics has been placed upon a solid foundation during the past eight years. In 1895 the Association had a debt of $750, but to-day there is more than $1,000 in the treasury. A new athletic field is absolutely necessary if Bucknell desires to maintain her prestige, and a committee either of alumni or undergraduates should be appointed to push the scheme. That Bucknell should have more material for the eleven is also of the greatest importance. If Bucknell wishes to keep her place among the leaders she must have more men from which to select a team. Every student should consider himself appointed to bring to Bucknell the best athletes within his knowledge. Efforts should be made each year to bring men here from high schools, normal schools and preparatory schools. There should be forty men out for the team where there are fifteen now. Two rousing yells were given for the coach when he was through.

On the recommendation of the Football Executive Committee the Association voted to award insignia to Smiley, '05, Neill, '06, and Sweitzer, '07, who fell only a little short of fulfilling the requirements of the constitution in that respect.

A resolution was adopted recommending that the executive committees award to the managers the insignia of their respective departments at the beginning of the term during which they serve, or upon the completion of their schedules.

Amendments to the constitution, providing that the managers and the treasurer shall be bonded, were presented and will be acted on finally at the next meeting of the Association.

An amendement was also presented placing tennis under the jurisdiction of the Athletic Association. This also will be voted on at the next meeting of the Association.

The president appointed Hursh, '04, White, '04, and Scott, '05, as an auditing committee.

Stevenson, '04, Wilcox, '04, and Sheppard, '05, were appointed a committee to secure uniform Bs for the various departments.

On motion Smith, '05, Bittenbender, '05, and McCormick, '06, were appointed a committee to consider the feasability of obatining membership for Bucknell in the I-C, A. A. A.

The following officers were elected:
President, McCauley, '05.
Vice-President, Elliott, '05.
Secretary, Jones, '06.
Treasurer, Steinhilper, '05.
Finance Committee, Jack, '06, and Whitaker, '06.
Football Executive Committee, Prof. Bartol and Prof. Rockwood.

Reports of Manager and Treasurer.

The report submitted by manager Thompson to the Athletic Association on Saturday is as follows:

SUMMARY.

Total receipts	$3238.48
Total expenditures	1641.57
Total profit	$1596.61

In submitting this report to the Association I would state that of the amoun: earned $100 has been presented to the coach, a part has been expended in the payment of back bills in other departments and the balance is in the hands of the treasurer. I would also state that the management was unfortunate in having games cancelled that would, if played, have netted, in addition to the above amount, about $1,000. At present it is the intention of the management to play in New York City the coming week, which will net a nice sum.

Trusting that at least a part of the total profits will be used as a nucleus for a fund for a new athletic field, and thanking all those who in any way contributed to the success of the season, I respectfully submit this report.

R. W. THOMPSON, Manager.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The report of the Treasurer was as follows:

1903 track team, receipts, $236.38; expenditures, $357.22; loss, $120.84.

1903 baseball team, receipts, $1,-164.44; expenditures, $1,280.27, loss, $115.83.

1903 basket-ball team, receipts, $495.38; expenditures, $348.51; gain, $106.87.

1903 football team, receipts, $3,238.-48; expenditures, $1,641.87; gain, $1,-596.61.

To this amount is to added $28 on deposit in the Centennial National Bank, Philadelphia, and $59 received from membership in the Athletic Association. There is to be deducted an amount for deficits in other departments and general expenses, which makes the balance in the treasury, $1095.03.

WARREN MARTS, A. B., A. M.

Principal Warren Marts, of the South Jersey Institute at Bridgeton, was graduated from that institution in 1890. He is a member of the class of 1894 with the degree of A. B., and received his master's degree in 1897. He went immediately to Perkiomen Seminary where he remained eight years, the four last years of which he was Vice Principal. During this time he gained a fine reputation, both for scholarship and extensive ability, and in 1902 he was elected to his present position. Here his success has been marked and the future of the institution is now assured under his zealous and wise management.

Dr. Perrine on Debate.

The purpose of debate was discussed in an interesting manner by Dr. Perrine before the Theta Alpha Literary Society on Friday evening. The attendance was as large as the room could accommodate. Dr. Perrine prefaced his remarks by expressing his interest not only in Theta Alpha Literary Society, but in the room, since it was there he delivered a lecture one year before he was elected to the chair of rhetoric and that he first addressed a Lewisburg audience.

The purpose of debate is not to beat the other fellow, nor to display one's self, but to arrive at the truth. Hence there must be the clear understanding of the point at issue and the bringing of every so-called argument to test. Is the argument valid? Is it deceptive? If it be not valid, but is deceptive or tricky, cast it aside as unworthy of both your subject, your audience and yourself. Again it is of the greatest importance that you present your side with the utmost courtesy to both your opponents and their side of the question. Such a debater may fail of momentary success now and then, but he will gain in lasting reputation, which in time will make him irresistible.

At the conclusion of Dr. Perrine's remarks the society elected the following officers:
President, Ealy, '04.
Vice-President, Sanders, '05.
Critic, Karge, '04.
Secretary, McCauley, '05.
Treasurer, Lesher, '05.
Hall Curator, Bailey, '06.
Censor, Yingling, '06.

EUSPIA

Euepia Literary Society elected the following officers on Friday night:
President, Livezy, '04.
Vice-President, Meyer, '06.
Secretary, Jones, '06.
Treasurer, Gardner, '06.
Sergeant-at-arms, Smigelsky.
Critic, Stuart, '06.

Alpha Phi Banquet.

The first annual banquet of Alpha Phi, the oratorical fraternity, was held at the Baker House on last Tuesday evening. Dr. Perrine was the guest of the occasion. C. H. Ealy, '04, was toast master, and the following toasts were given: "Opportunities," A. G. Karge, '04; "The Beauties of Nature," C. V. Williamson, '05; "The Ladies," R. G. Bostwick, '05; "To-morrow," J. S. Ausherman, '05; "The Blue Flower," D. E. Phillips, '06; "A Gallant Man," S. J. Black, '06; "Personality," H. F. Meyer, '06; "The Ready Man," G. E. Bartlett, '06. Dr. Perrine also responded to a toast.

Freshman Bible Study Class.

Prof. Phillips, on acount of business of pressing importance, has been compelled to resign from his position as teacher of the Freshman Bible Class. He will be succeeded for the remainder of the year by Prof. Hare. All Freshmen who have not yet taken up the Bible Study work are earnestly requested to join the class at the beginning of next term. BASKET-BALL SCHEDULE

Manager Browning Announces His Dates for the Coming Season.

Manager Browning, '04, has practically completed his basket-ball schedule for the season of 1904. He encountered considerable trouble in securing games, particularly with college teams. Of the eleven games on the schedule only eight are with colleges.

The schedule differs radically from those of preceding years. Perhaps the most pronounced change is that only three games are played away from home, and these with colleges which Bucknell never met before in basket-ball,—Syracuse, Hamilton and Colgate. The usual eastern and southern trip is abandoned altogether. Williamsport Y. M. C. A. does not appear on schedule at all. Swarthmore and Allegheny will appear here for the first time. A spring vacation trip may be planned later.

The schedule in detail is as follows:
Jan. 8, 'Varsity vs. Reserves.
Jan. 15, Swarthmore, at Lewisburg.
Jan. 23, offered to Ashland, at Lewisburg.
Jan. 29, offered to Steelton, at Lewisburg.
Feb. 6, La Salle College, at Lewisburg.
Feb. 12, open.
Feb. 19, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
Feb. 24, Allegheny, at Lewisburg.
Mar. 5, Franklin and Marshall, at Lewisburg.
Mar. 10, Syracuse, at Syracuse, (uncertain.)
Mar. 11, Hamilton, at Clinton.
Mar. 12, Colgate, at Hamilton.
Mar. 18, Wilkesbarre ex-9th Regiment, at Lewisburg.

Those trying for the team have been practicing almost daily since Captain Cheesman called out the candidates two weeks ago. The make-up of the five is uncertain at this time. Captain Cheesman will be found at forward, and Johnson, guard last season, is trying for the centre position. Of the reserve team of last year, Groff and Taggart are candidates for centre, Grier for forward, and Cockill and Smith for guards. Roberts, the most promising of the new men, showed up well in practice till he wrenched his ankle and retired. It is likely that he will be in condition to play by the beginning of next term.

Bucknell in New York.

Manager Thompson last week arranged to play a post-season game of football in Madison Square Garden, New York City, either on Wednesday or Saturday of this week, most likely the latter. University of Virginia will probably be the opposing team.

Those Who Won Bs.

The following football men have been awarded the insigna of that department: Cockill, Johnson, Wilcox, Taylor, Smith, Vorse, Bovard, Cooper, Lenhart, Shipp, Neill, Smiley, Sweitzer, Roberts and Manager Thompson.

Prof. Phillips at State College.

Professor Phillips was one of the judges at the State-Franklin and Marshall debate at State College on Friday night.

COLLEGE AND THE "PREP" SCHOOL.

There has been hitherto no intimate relation between colleges and preparatory schools. The former, it is true, have been compelled to acknowledge their dependence upon the latter for new students, and each year an influx of new men issues from the preparatory schools of the land to replete the college ranks, thinned by the increasing number of graduates. But aside from this avowed dependence, the colleges generally speaking have held themselves aloof from preparatory schools, manifesting little or no concern in their maintainance and developement. With the average college man the term "prep" is a synonym for opprobium; even the Freshman resents being called such, although the ink on his high school diploma is scarcely dry. He discontinues his subscription to his high school monthly and consigns his old class pin to the oblivion of his trunk.

We are glad that a new era of fellowship is fast approaching. The need of a closer relationship between colleges and preparatory schools has been long acknowledged and a solution has at last been reached. In many colleges alumni clubs have been formed, composed of graduates of the different city schools, normal schools and other preparatory institutions in attendance there. These clubs assume the name of the preparatory school and foster its interests, the primary object of their organization being to cultivate a fraternal spirit among their members while in college and to induce other graduates of the preparatory school to attend college. Lehigh has several of these alumni clubs and Bucknell has two. Such organizations are preeminently beneficial to the colligee and to the preparatory schools likewise. There should be a closer bond of fellowship, not only in this primary sense, but also in athletics. The high schools furnish our best athletes. Last year Bucknell made an attempt to arrange an athletic meet, open to all the preparatory schools of the vicinity, which unortunately came to naught. It is hoped that the attempt will be renewed this year and that it will result successfully. Such a meet would serve to acquaint students of the leading high schools with the excellent athletic facilities of Bucknell and would redound to the benefit of the university in other ways.

GYMNASIUM WORK.

For the past few days Physical Director Hoskins has been taking the physical measurements of the Freshmen, preparatory to the work in the gymnasium next term. This work is in the form of drills and is required. The student receives a grade for his work the same as in the other branches, and a grade of ninety or better for three terms entitles him to the credit of an honor. That is only one reason why the student should avail himself of the advantages of the gymnasium, and it is not the most important one, either. The work should be carried on from an altogether different motive. The desire to improve his physical condition should be paramount. A man's intellectual powers will avail him little if he does not have a strong constitution. The past gives us many instances of powerful minds that have been removed from the world simply because of the physical infirmities of their possessors. The many narrow-chested, puny and sickly individuals we see about us every day should serve as an inspiration to build up strong bodies, the opportunities for which are easily within our grasp. We cannot all be athletes, but we can have good, clean, healthy bodies.

In this connection it is to be noted that near the close of the second term an indoor meet will be held at which a "B" will be awarded to the one who shows himself to be the most expert all-around gymnast. In addition, medals are awarded for excellence in particular events.

The report of the manager of the football team is very gratifying and we congratulate Mr. Thompson upon his excellent work. The profit shown is the largest in the history of Bucknell athletics and it indicates that from a financial standpoint we have entered upon a new era; and this is not to be scoffed at, since teams, however well trained and coached, cannot render their best services unless they are properly equipped and accorded to the best transportation facilities, all of which take money. While economic methods are still to be adhered to, the days of "not enough suits" and all-night rides in day coaches are over for Bucknell.

By initiating a movement in favor of a new athletic field the Athletic Association showed that it is alive to the interests of the University. There was some question as to whether the work should be undertaken by the alumni or the undergraduates; but since the latter are daily confronted with handicap under which we now labor, it is to be presumed that in deciding upon the undergraduates the Association made no mistake. However, much help, both in the way of suggestion and something more substantial, must come from the alumni and they should not be slow to interest themselves in the matter.

The distinctive feature of the basket-ball schedule is that nearly all the games are to be played on the home floor. This will meet with the favor of the students and the people in town, for no game is more popular here than basket-ball, as the weekly crowding of the gymnasium shows. Since an almost entirely new team is to be chosen this year and playing on a foreign floor is a big disadvantage, particularly to new men the arrangement will prove of benefit to the playing of the five also.

We beg to call the attention of the students to the fact that the second term begins on Tuesday, January 5, at 11.15 a. m., and urge upon all the importance of returning to college on time. There is a distinct advantage in beginning a subject on time and with the rest of the class; besides no excuses will be given for classes missed during th first week unless the request is accompanied by a certificate of sufficient cause.

The small attendance at the meeting of the Athletic Association on Saturday is much to be deplored. That among over three hundred men there should be only fifty-nine members of this important organization is a serious reflection upon our spirit and throws some of us open to the charge that up to this time we have maintained membership largely, if not wholly, for mercenary reasons.

We don't know that we are heartily in accord with the plan to play a post-season game with a college in New York City this week, though the manager had the consent of the President and the Executive Committee to arrange the contest. It smacks a little of professionalism, though technically not so. The need of a new athletic field constitutes an exigency that perhaps justifies the action.

ALUMNI.

Rev. A. E. Finn, '94, has resigned as pastor of the Cherryville, N. J., Baptist church and will accept a call to the Park Avenue Church, Plainfield, beginning his new pastorate on Jan. 3.

Prof. Milton G. Evans, '82, of the chair of Biblical Theology in Crozer Seminary, returned home last week from a stay of six months in Germany, during which he pursued advanced study at Leipsic and other German universities.

Joseph E. Sagebeer, '85., Ph. D., who retired from the pastorate of the Second church, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa., June 1, has been admitted to the bar of Philadelphia and to practice in the Superior and Supreme Courts of Pennsylvania. Mr. Sagebeer has become a member of a prominent firm of lawyers in Philadelphia.

Says the Denisonian: "Coach Frank Stanton at his last appearance in chapel, was accorded an ovation by both faculty and student body. Dr. Hunt, in bidding him farewell, spoke in highest praise of his work and influence while at Denison and expressed a hope that he may be with us again. He left Wednesday for New York, and hopes to enter the law school of Columbia University."

OBSERVATIONS

How magnanimous of the upperclassmen that they allow Freshmen to predominate in the literary societies!

—o—

The educational exhibit at the St. Louis Fair will cover five acres. How much of this will be devoted to athletics is not stated.

—o—

Women, as President Eliot says, may not be capable of putting the shot, but with the hammer she is an adept. And how about swinging an axe?

—o—

Whether those twenty Rutgers Sophomores who were suspended two weeks for hazing a Freshman will spend the time in repentance or in hatching new schemes is a question.

—o—

The Athletic Association might in the future overcome any indifference in the students about acquiring membership in that organization by arranging for a group picture in the L'Agenda.

—o—

In the midst of much adverse criticism Dr. Schaeffer should find some consolation in the fact that the "Three Rs" occupy an important place in the college curriculum,—'Rah! 'Rah! 'Rah!

—o—

The New York Sun has found a college at Valparaiso, Ind., where the students have recitations from 6.30 a. m. till noon, from 1 p. m. till 6, and from 7 to 9, and asserts that it is one in a million. Thank goodness!

—o—

The desire of the Cornell faculty to acquire data on the matter of the proper number of hours to devote to study is commendable, but they should not have put the students to the severe test of accounting for every minute of their time for one week.

INSTITUTE.

On Thursday night the Senior Class of the Seminary gave the last of their term elocution recitals. The program was one of the best given this term.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable social events of the term was the reception given last Monday night by the Institute faculty to the faculties of the College and Academy. The evening was very informal. Light refreshments were served and several piano solos rendered by the different music teachers.

A very delightful musicale was rendered in the school room Friday evening. At the close of the program Dr. Aviragnet said, "You have heard the class of 1904. I believe I make no mistake when I say that it is one of the best the School of Music ever had, and I wish to congratulate the teachers upon their good work."

Heroism.

What is heroic? The selection of the noble end, the commitment of one's self to the attainment of that end, the using of only righteous means and methods in this attainment, steadfast and energetic adherence to the work of attaining in the face of all temptations and inducements to the contrary. Where do we find the heroic? Everywhere. There are heroes, undoubtedly, on the field of battle, on sinking ships. In mine explosions, in railroad disasters and in commercial and political emergencies. But the heroism of private life is the more noble because less conspicuous and less applauded. It has to live on the plain bread of its own self approbation without the butter and jelly of public praise. Our streets and alleys, the countryside and mountain valleys are full of heroic men and women. They are bound that they will be honest, intelligent and helpful. They will not live beyond their means; they will pay their debts; they will keep their children in school as long as possible; they furnish their houses with good books and magazines; they keep their ears attuned to the voice of need and their eyes sharpened to the sight of sorrow; they learn to lend a hand; a night of sleep is of no account if a neighbor's child is sick. They, too, love display and luxury like other people. They would like to live in fine houses, to wear elegant garments, to fare sumptuously every day. They are well aware that they are meanly clad, that their coats and hats are not in latest styles that their houses and furniture are mean and poor. They are keenly sensitive. They feel the least disparagement. A cold look, the shadow of a sneer, the most faintly derisive word cut them to the quick. They can cry with pain, yet honestly and integrity are prime to them. Better die of honest starvation than live in dishonest luxury. Better shiver in a threadbare, out-of-style coat that is paid for honorably than luxuriate in the most costly up-to-date raiments obtained dishonestly or viciously. Better be intelligent and pious than turn in the most fashionable set. Hence they send their children to school and to church in such clothes as they can pay for, no matter how fools may snicker. Nor do they lie about it. They make no false pretense and give no silly excuses. They say nothing at all. It is nobody's business but their own. Hence quietly, calmly, persistently they keep on doing their best, but never deviating from the purpose of honesty, integrity, intelligence and kindliness. They never wince or whimper but steadfastly adhere to their lofty ideals. These are heroes and their names are a legion the world over.—Owen James, D. D., '76, in the Johnstown Democrat.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME.

First and Second Teams Play Roughly On Friday Night.

In an unusually rough and poorly played game on Friday night, a team composed of 'varsity basketball candidates defeated the second team by a score of 26 to 21. Roughness seemed to count for more than science, if any there was of the latter quality. The passing and shooting of both teams, particularly the first team, was poor, and they were compelled to work hard to win. The second team led at the end of the first half by a score of 13 to 11.

The players were all handicapped by lack of practice. The first team had played together only a few days last term and two days before Friday evening this term. Their work on Friday night indicated that those members of last year's five who are not here this year are sadly missed and it will take the hardest kind of work on the part of Coach Hoskins and Captain Cheesman to develope a team to uphold the reputation of Bucknell in basketball. However, Bucknell has emerged from similar predicaments in an astonishing manner and her friends believe she will do it again.

In spite of its roughness, the game on Friday night seemed to please the fair sized audience present. The fact that the teams were evenly matched and that each man fought with a desperation that would have done credit to a class game, made the contest extremely exciting, and let it be said that spectators of basketball games generally evince as much enjoyment at the roughness of a game as the science of it. But the roughness of Friday's game came near injuring the prospects of the 'varsity five. Two of the players on the first team, Cockill and Smith, received painful injuries, the latter falling on his face six seconds before the end of the contest, which resulted in a severe skin bruise. He will be disfigured for some time, but will not necessarily be kept out of the game. Scarcely a player escaped without an injury of some kind.

The line-up:—

First team.		Second team.
Roberts	forward	Goldsmith
Cheesman	forward	Grier
Johnson / Cockill	center	Groff
Smith / Steinhilper	guard	Claypool / McNinch
Cockill / Johnson	guard	Hennessy

Goals, Roberts 5; Cheesman 7; Johnson, Goldsmith 5; McNinch 2; Groff, Grier, Claypool. Goals from foul, Grier. Referee, Hoskins. Timekeeper, Goodman, '05.

RevisedBasketball Schedule.

The following is the revised schedule for the season, all games being played at home:

Friday, January 15, Swarthmore.
Saturday, January 23, Ashland A. C.
Friday, January 29, North End Stars of Scranton.
Saturday, February 6, La Salle Championship team.
Wednesday, February 16, Shenandoah.
Friday, February 19, Gettysburg.
Wednesday, February 24, Allegheny.
Saturday, March 5, Franklin and Marshall.
Saturday, March 12, Steelton, Y. M. C. A.
Friday, March 18, Ex-9th Regiment team of Wilkesbarre.

Swarthmore on Friday Night.

The first scheduled game of the season will be played in the gymnasium on next Friday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. The opponent of the Orange and Blue will be Swarthmore, which never turns out a poor team in any branch of athletics. A good game is therefore assured.

It is desired that there shall be good, systematic cheering at this game to that end all students are asked to occupy the new seats at the east end of the playing floor, which will accomodate 100 persons.

New York Game Canceled.

The 'varsity football team did not play with Georgetown University at Madison Square Garden, New York City, on December 19th, as scheduled. Shortly before the team was to leave Manager Thomison received a telegram from manager of the tournament stating that Georgetown was compelled to cancel on account of examinations.

The features of the tournament which lasted the entire week, was the game between Watertown, N. Y., and Franklin to decide the world's professional championship. Franklin won 12 to 0. Sweet, ex-'05, played center on the winning team.

Athletic Field Committee.

Hayes, '04, who presided over the recent meeting of the Athletic Association, has announced the appointment of the following committee to inaugurate a movement for a new athletic field: Thompson, '04, chairman; Christ, '01; Hursh, '04; Morris, '04; Stevenson, '04; Bostwick, '05; Goodman, '05.

A meeting of the committee has been called for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock ata place to be announced later.

University Bible Classes.

In the reorganization of the Baptist Sunday school an effort will be made to increase the interest and hepifulness of the Bible classes of the College, Institute, and Academy. The method of conducting the recitations will not be changed, except by the wish of the teacher, but the following plans are under consideration and the students are requested to cooperate in carrying out these suggestions.

1. The classes will be regarded as the regular Bible Classes of the Christian Association of the College, Institute and Academy.
2. A canvass to enroll students will be made.
3. A careful record of attendance will be kept.
4. Examinations will be offered and the names of all who take the examniations will be announced quarterly in the Sunday school and in the church at the annual public meeting of the Bible School.

Meetings in the interest of this work will be held this week, and on Sunday morning, January 17, the morning services in the Baptist church will be given up to the Bible School, where an address will be delivered by the Superintendent, Llewellyn Phillips

TRACK AND FIELD ACTIVITY.

Bucknell Will Make Application For Membership in I. C. A. A. A. A.

The candidates for the track and field team will begin indoor work within the next few weeks and will maintain a more or less consistent course of training till after the season closes in the third term. It has been definitely decided to send a relay team to Philadelphia again this year to compete in the annual contests under the auspices of the Univ. of Pennsylvania. Bucknell's class has not yetbeen determined, but there will be scarcely any decided change from last year. Of last year's team but Pearse and Marsh will run this year. Gaskill, who last year, was the fifth man, will be a candidate again. There are several other candidates, including two or three from the Freshman class.

The management of the track team has decided to make application for membership in the Inter-Collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, under whose management an annual track and field meet in New York City is held each year.

Manager Deats has about closed with Dickinsonfor the annual dual track and field meet, which this year will be held in Carlisle. The date will probably be May 14. There is no certainty about the Carlisle Indians coming to Lewisburg this year, although a meet will probably be arranged. Swarthmore has asked for a meet to be held at Swarthmore in May and the management is considering the matter.

Bucknell has been asked to take partin an indoor athletic meet to be held under the auspices of the Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States in Philadelphia on February 6. A feature will be a relay race open to all colleges of Pennsylvania, University of Pennsylvania being barred. An invitation has alsobeen extended by the Southern Athletic Association to take part in an indoor meet to be held in Washington in February. Owing to the poor facilities for training men neither invitation will be accepted.

Bucknell Talent Recognized.

"The Collegian," of the Philadelphia Public-Ledger, one of the leading sporting writers of the East, has selected an All-Eastern football team, on which Wilcox, of Bucknell, is chosen as center. Concerning this choice "The Collegian" says:

"The writer will enjoy the unique distinction of selecting a man for centre whose abilities seem to have escaped the attention of football men. Much has been written of the wonderful playing of Hooper, Dartmouth, who has been given the place quite generally. The writer only saw Hooper once, and is free to say that he was not so impressed with his work as seems to have been the rule. Wilcox, Bucknell, is the writer's choice for snap-back. He is of the type that made Adams and Bull, Pennsylvania; Balliet, Princeton, and Lewis, Harvard, such stars in their day. Determined, strong and speedy, Wilcox outplayed most every center he faced this year. His passing was as near perfect as could well be imagined, few errors marking his work. It was his fourth year at Bucknell, and there was nothing about center playing that he had not acquired. Hooper, Dartmouth, is undoubtedly a valuable centre, and on the strength of his general recommendation he is here given first substitute, although Short, Princeton, and Bruce, Columbia, were good men."

The team selected by the Philadelphia man is as follows:

Shipp, of Bucknell, is selected as one of the tackles on the second team. "The Collegian" pays Shipp this compliment: "Had the Bucknell man played on a larger university eleven he would have shown as brilliantly as Hogan and Turner. The writer regards his ability to advance the ball almost as great as Hogan's."

Cockill is mentioned as having played an excellent game in his position.

Gymnasium Schedule.

The gymnasium drills for the winter term have commenced under the direction of Physical Director Hoskins. It might be well to call the attention of the students to the fact that a mark in Physical Training has the same effect upon the grades for the year as a mark in an honor study.

The following is the schedule:

NEW BUCKNELL SONG

Prizes For Air, Words and Harmonizing Awarded by Dr. Aviragnet.

The Bucknell song contest instituted by Dr. Aviragnet, an announcement of which appeared in th Orange and Blue for November 23, has been closed and the prizes awarded. The result has been gratifying, although it is regretted that a larger number of students did not compete. The prizes for the air and words were awarded to G. W. Cheesman, '05; the music was harmonized by the School of Harmony under the direction of Miss Juliet Alkin.

Below will be found the words of the song. Every student should memorize them. The management of the Orange and Blue hopes to be able to have the music published in sheet form and give it as a supplement to the paper.

The words of the song composed by Mr. Cheesman are as follows:

Come, loyal sons of Old Bucknell
And tune your hearts to sing;
Bid every gloomy one depart
And let the chorus ring.

Chorus:

Ray, Ray, Ray, Old Bucknell;
Praise her with hearts that are true;
As Montour hovers high,
So let her colors fly.
Our glorious flag, the Orange and the Blue.

The Susquehanna's peaceful face
Reflects her honored dome;
Upon a lasting rock she stands,
Our Alma Mater Home.

Her massive walls may strew the ground;
Her columns fall apart;
She'll still live on 'till time shall end,
Enshrined within the heart.

Though many years go rolling by,
We'll love her just the same;
And ever strive, each son to be,
All honor to her name.

The Literary Societies.

The following programmes have been prepared for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA.

Current Events, Bowen, '05; talk on affairs in Panama and Colombia, Robinson, '04; original poem, Yost, '06; debate, "Resolved, that the President's action of recognizing Panama as a Republic was justifiable;" affirmative, Hayes, '04; and Long, '07; negative, Steinhilper, '05, and Rumsey, '06; general debate.

Theta Alpha.

The leading events, Pease, '06; original poem, Tiffany, '05; essay, Powell, 07'; extemporaneous speech; debate, "Resolved, that in view of the Encroachment of Russia upon China, an alliance between United States and Great Britain is Expedient," affirmative, De Melt, '06, and Davis; negative, Barton, '06, and Smith, '07; general discussion.

Junior Prom.

At a meeting of the class of 1905 on Saturday, it was voted to appoint a committee to make arrangements for the annual Junior Prom. Bittenbender was appointed chairman. The rest of the committee has not as yet been announced.

SOMETHING WE HAVE.

"Where is the museum?" Of course, only Freshman ever ask this question, for every upperclassman knows that it is located somewhere in the Main College, although its exact location and contents are little known. At Commencement only is it open to public inspection. Throughout the collegiate year the museum is closed and the student body becomes oblivious to its existence.

For the benefit of our readers we will state that the University possesses, an excellent museum, embracing illustrative materials in Botany, Mineralogy, Geology, Zoology, Materia-Medica and Histology, numbering in all 12,175 specimens. Many of the collections are valuable and rare; the exhibit of Indian relics, while local, possesses considerable archaeological value, and the collection of casts illustrating extinct animal life is of especial interest to the student. The trophies of the college are likewise exhibited in this room, as well as much matter of historical and scientific interest. The curator is always glad to receive contributions at any time. Proper credit will be given in the annual catalogue in each instance.

It is regretted that circumstances prevent the public use of the museum at all hours by the students; at present it is only opened for class work, or on special occasions for general inspection. The museum should undoubtedly be under same regulations as the college library. Every student should have access at all times. A deeper interest in this way would be aroused in the subject and its rapid growth insured.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE AND INSIGNIA.

The revised schedule of the basketball team includes none but home games. This will probably be satisfactory to those interested in the team, since it will be composed largely of new material. It is unfortunate though, that there are not more college games on the schedule; but the manager was unable to arrange more, which goes to show the disadvantage of having a team in any branch of sport that is "too good."

If the new regulations for awarding the basketball "B" are adhered to to the letter, it will be impossible with the present schedule, for any player to earn his insignia. The rule states that eight full halves in intercollegiate contests must be played between January 15 and March 1. However, the concluding clause of the regulations gives the Executive Committee almost unlimited power in the awarding of the insignia; and while we do not believe the stipulations should be often departed from, the matter of awarding the basketball "B" this year can be disposed of satisfactorily by the committee.

It is with regret, but not with surprise, that we read the following special from Danville in the Philadelphia papers: "The Danville basketball team easily won from the strong Bucknell University five by the score of 33 to 18." The student managing the pick-up team states that he had a distinct understanding with the Danville management that his team would not be advertised or reported as the Bucknell team, which mitigates the blame which naturally falls on him but does not remove the stigma upon the reputation of Bucknell.

The students and the university in general are under obligations to Dr. Aviragnet for the successful conclusion of the Bucknell song contest. At the same time we should give due credit to those who were responsible for the production. Though a critical analysis will doubtless prove that neither the music nor the words are free from faults, it is to be hoped that the song will meet with general favor. The student body should lose no time in learning the tune and committing the words to memory.

The management of the basketball team has requested that the cheering forces be reorganized for Friday night's game, and we are sure that any call of the cheer leader will meet with unanimous response on the part of the students. The cheering at such contests in the past has been everything wished for, notwithstanding that it was done by a group of ten or fifteen students. We know there will be just twice tha number next time.

The President gave a very instructive and helpful lecture at the first period this morning. We regret exceedingly that lack of space prevents us from giving at least a synopsis of it in these columns.

Subscriptions are now due. A prompt remittance is earnestly asked for by the management who will call upon you at an early date.

OBSERVATIONS

Some students of University of Pennsylvania are organizing a boxing club. Evidently the annual bowl fight has not satisfied their thirst for blood.

A college education often leads one to undertake next to impossible things A Yale student has entered suit for $5000 damages for libel against each of the newspapers of that institution.

When the students of Ohio Wesleyan University returned from their holiday vacation they were compelled to sign a pledge to abstain from smoking. At last accounts the faculty sages had not prohibited the making of fudge.

The wise heads at Harvard are wrestling with the football problem, and the faculty of arts and sciences has recommended the abolition of the sport. The student body, however, see the only solution in a winning team next fall.

Dog Came to Hear Dr. Hulley.

Pennsylvanian Spirit.

Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, of the University of the Pennsylvania, and Dr. Lincoln Hulley, of Bucknell University, were the life of the Institute at Brookville last week. The flashes of wit and sarcasm and the jokes which they perpetrated at each other's expense furnished a constant source of merriment for the teachers. An instance occurred Thursday afternoon which illustrates the manner in which they joked one another. Dr. Brumbaugh had taken the floor to address the institute when Cyrus Blood's big Dane, which had just finished wiping up the snow with another large dog, rushed into the gallery in search of his mistress and created a panic. Some one yelled "mad dog." Women and girls began to scream and a rush for the exits both in the gallery and the auditorium was begun. Prof. Gibson and the chorus started in to sing "John Brown's Body" and it looked as though a real panic would follow when Dr. Braumbaugh, from his elevation, gave a command for order an shouted, "That dog came in to hear Hulley's lecture, but it is not Hulley's hour! The dog has gone out!" This sally caused such a roar of laughter that the dog was soon forgotten, but it required a wait of several minutes before the applause had subsided sufficiently to enable the speaker to proceed.

New College Elective.

Augusta, Ga., Herald.

A new college elective has come to the fore. At Raskin University, at Glen Ellyn, Demoris, the young women have had added to their studies "the psychology of husbands," one branch of which study is to be dressmaking, a fact which seems to grant the correctness of the belief of some people that dress has not a little to do with both acquiring and the management of a husband.

In a recent dissertation President Elliott, of Harvard, stated that "the whole store of knowledge now available is too vast for any man to master, though he had 100 lives instead of one, and its growth in the Nineteenth Century was greater than in all the thirty preceding centuries put together. Culture, therefore, can no longer imply a knowledge of everything. It must be content with general knowledge of some things and a real mastery of some small portion of the human store."

ALUMNI.

Rev. W. S. Holland, '00, has accepted the pastorate of the Tarentum, Pa., Baptist church.

Robinson, '02, has resigned the principalship of the Centralia schools to take charge of the department of mathematics of the Shamokin High school.

Recently Rev. E. C. Kunkle, '97, of Kenosha, Wis., was married at Williamsport to Miss Blanche A. Campbell, formerly a student in the university. The Rev. A. A. Cober, '97, was the officiating clergyman.

Rev. Thomas H. Sprague, the recently appointed missionary of the Home Mission Society in Cuba, reports his arrival at Puerto Principe, where his work will be for the present. He preached his first sermon on Cuban soil on Sunday morning, Dec. 20.

The sympathy of the university goes out to John M. Gundy, '97, of Lewisburg, in the death of his wife, Miss Maud Marsh, on Saturday morning last. Peculiar distressing circumstances of her death deepen the grief of the entire community.

W. A. Kalp, father of W. L. Kalp and J. L. Kalp, both '03, was killed in the wreck of the Duquesne Flyer on the Baltimore & Ohio road at Connellsville on December 23. J. L. Kalp has resigned his position as principal of the Saltsburg schools and has taken up his father's business in Mt. Pleasant.

The mother of A. C. Gunter, '03, died at her home in Mt. Pleasant in December.

George Schilling, '99, was recently chosen General Secretary of the Franklin Y. M. C. A., one of the strongest branches of the Association in the State.

ACADEMY

Royer has resumed his studies in the Fourth Form.

Eighteen members of the Fourth Form enjoyed a sleigh ride and supper at Sunbury on Friday night.

E. L. Taylor, College '03, is a new instructor in the Academy, living in East Hall.

The following new students are enrolled in the Academy: J. R. Tannebaum, Nanticoke; I. C. Martin, Huntingdon. J. O. Grover, W. C. Hulley, Lewisburg; H. C. Fleming, Trout Run; J. Gibney, Coatesville.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

The Mandolin and Guitar Club (Glee Club) will meet on Wednesday, January 13, at 4 o'clock.

Barrett, '02, is spending a few days in town. He has been on a western ranch during the past few months.

Rev. Dr. Isaac W. Bagley, a former student in the Academy, has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Harrisburg, owing to ill health.

Magee, '06, and Bovard, '06, were initiated into Sigma Chi at the end of the Fall term. Munro, '06, and Thomas, '06, were taken into Phi Kappa Psi.

Through an oversight the election of Keck, '06, as assistant manager of the football team was not mentioned in the last issue of the Orange and Blue for the Fall term.

Kase, formerly an Academy student, is playing guard on the University of Pennsylvania basketball team, which promises to make a strong bid for the intercollegiate championship.

All subscriptions to the Orange and Blue are due. Meet the manager with a smile and a dollar when he calls.

INSTITUTE.

Miss Bessie Forney has not yet returned, owing to the death of her father.

The Misses McCaskie, '06, will not return this term. Miss McCaskie has gone abroad.

Misses Parsons and Innes were initiated into Pi Beta Phi at the close of the Fall term.

Mrs. Larison, a former prin ipal of the Institute, is expected here in about two weeks on her annual visit.

Two new students have entered the Institute. They are Miss Finley, of Georgetown, Ky., and Miss Gluck, of Lansford. Miss Bildelspacher, a former student, has returned.

The Game of Field Hockey.

The severe winter weather has put a damper on the enthusiasm for field hockey, but the first continued break will be taken advantage of. The character of the game and the great need for healthy outdoor sport among the young women assures its popularity when once introduced.

The game of field hockey was introduced and given a permanent place in the athletics of American colleges for women in the fall of 1901. Among the first to adopt it were Wellesley, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Radcliffe.

The dimensions of the regulation hockey field are 100 yards in length by not less than 50 nor more than 60 yards in breadth. This space must be marked out with whitewash lines and with a flag at each corner. Across the ground, 50 yards from each goal line is marked the "center line." Each half of the ground is again divided by a line called the "25-yard line." Five yards inside each sideline is marked a dotted line, parallel with the side lines, called the "5-yard lines."

In the middle of each end, or goal, line and four yards apart are placed the goal posts. These are uprights seven feet high, with a horizontal bar stretching from one to the other. In the front of each goal and 15 yards from it, is drawn a line four yards long, parallel to the goal line. The ends of this line are carried around in a curve, forming a quarter-circle, until they reach the goal line at a point 15 yards from the center of the goal. This half-circle is called the "striking circle."

The game is played by 22 players, eleven on either side. Each eleven consists of five forwards, three halfbacks, two fullbacks and a goal keeper. This is the general line-up, but the captain may vary it if she wishes.

The five forwards stand close to the center line. The center forward stands in the middle of the ground. On her right about ten yards distant, stands the inside right; between the five-yard line and the side line stands the right wing. On the left of the center forward stands the inside left and the left wing. About fifteen yards behind the forwards stand the halfbacks, center half directly in a line with the center forward, right half covering the two right forwards, and left half covering the two left forwards. Behind them, on the 25-yard line, stand the fullbacks. The goal keeper stands between the goal posts, about a foot in front of the goal line.

The game starts with the ball being "bullied off" in the center of the ground by the two center forwards. The ball is dribbled up the field to the striking circle, from which point a try at goal can be made.

Casper Whitney, writing for "Outing," mentions Shipp as one of the strongest men of the year in the tackle position.

VICTORY OVER SWARTHMORE

Orange and Blue Wins the First Game of Basketball Season

The 'varsity basketball team began it season on Friday night with a victory, defeating the Swarthmore five in Tustin Gymnasium by the score of 33 to 13. Bucknell outplayed her opponent, and the outcome was never in doubt.

Since the Bucknell five is composed largely of new material, much interest was manifested in its work. In general the playing of the men was good, and the prospects for a winning team again this year are good. Their work was not faultless, to be sure, but under the circumstances it is well not to be too critical. Team work, so essential to the success of a team in basketball, is lacking, which is due to the fact that the men have not played together long. Their passing at times, however, was very good, and several shots were on the sensational order, each man getting one out of the ordinary. Considering the fact that the game is new at Swarthmore, the visiting five did well. Their passing at times was as good as that of Bucknell, while they surpassed their opponents in long shots. In general team work and on shots near the goal, they were out-classed. The visitors were doubtless weakened by the injury to Gilkison early in the game. The attendance was very good, every seat in the balcony and on the playing floor being occupied.

Both teams started in with vim, and for the first few minutes seemed to be evenly matched. The score at the end of three minutes stood 3 to 3. Bucknell, by superior all-around work soon forged ahead, however, and maintained the lead during the remainder of the game. Each man on the team got at least one goal during the first half, Smith making three, all of which were sensational. Cockill and Johnson each made one from a difficult position, also. Cheesman and Cockill each scored from fouls. Swarth more scored three goals from the floor and one from foul. One of the former was a long shot from the side of the floor by Gilkison. The half ended 17 to 7 in favor of Bucknell. Gilkison was painfully injured during the half, but stayed in the game.

The second half was almost a repitition of the first, each team scoring one point fewer than in the first half. Cheesman made some nice shots from the floor, getting four goals.

Next Saturday's Game

The next 'varsity basketball game will be with Ashland Athletic Club in Tustin Gymnasium on next Saturday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. The visiting team is one of the strongest in this section, losing to Williamsport by only a few points on the latter's floor. There must be hard and faithful practice by the 'varsity this week if this game is to be won.

Another Basketball Game

Manager Browning announces a game with Lock Haven Normal school on the latter's floor on Friday, February 12. This will be the only game away from home during the season.

The date of the game with Shenandoah was misstated in last week's issue, being on February 10,. instead of the 16th.

Schedule of Class Games.

The following schedule of class games of basketball has been arranged:

Tuesday, February 2, 8 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, January 25, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Freshmen.
Tuesday, February 2, 8 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, February 15, 4 p. m., Seniors vs. Juniors.
Monday, February 29, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Sophomores.
Tuesday, March 8, 8 p. m., Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

After a Baseball Coach.

Manager Caruthers, of the baseball team, has been negotiating for some time with Captain Agnew of the Harrisburg Athletic Club nine to coach the Bucknell candidates during the month of April, and it is likely that his services will be engaged.

The Inter-Collegiate Games.

The annual inter-collegiate games under the management of the I-C. A. A. A., for membership in which Bucknell has made application, will be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, this year. Next year they will be held in Harvard's new Stadium. Excepting the first year, 1876, when they were held at Saratoga, these games have taken place in New York City.

Senior Class Play.

A meeting of the senior class was held on Saturday morning, when it was decided to have the annual senior sleigh ride on Wednesday evening, January 20.

The following committee was appointed to select the class play and the cast: Heidenreich, Morris, Caruthers, Griffiths, Stevenson, Daniels, Miss Eddleman.

Junior Prom. Feb. 11

A change in the date of the Junior Prom. has been made. Owing to the fact that the College Girls' reception comes on Friday, February 12, the dance will be given on Thursday, the 11th.

Mr. Bittenbender, chairman announces the following sub-committees:

Program and Invitation—Morton, Scott, Smiley, Cooper.
Music—McCain, Gardiner, Portser.
Refreshments—Bostwick Grier. Wood.
Hall and Decorations—Pearse, Hainer, Vorse, Cockill, Sheppard, Smith.
Finance—Marsh, Ausherman, Royer.

Murphy, '06, is suffering from an affection of the eyes and will likely not return to college for some time yet.

WILL GIVE A PLAY

Athletic Field Committee Enters Upon Work of Raising Funds.

The Athletic Field Committee met last week and discussed means of raising funds with which to purchase a new field. Various methods were suggested and some of them will be tried. It is expected that a considerable sum can be raised among the students themselves. The committee thinks that Bucknell can do better in this respect than Susquehanna University which raised $2,000 for a new gymnasium. Every student will be asked to give as much as he can while in college, and those unable to give now will be asked to promise to pay a certain amount when they have been out of college a year. The alumni will not be called upon until the students have done their share.

The committee also decided to give a play during the winter term. The cast will be selected within the next week or so. The suggestion of a fair during the third term will also likely be carried out. It has also been propose to have the young women of the college edit and manage the issue of the Orange and Blue. A nice sum could be realized from additional advertisements and from the sale of papers. Announcement of further progress of these schemes will be made from time to time in this paper.

Bible School Organization.

Since the majority of the students of Bucknell are members either of the Baptist Sunday school or church and congregation, they will be interested in the method and principle of instruction recently adopted in the Lewisburg church, which were clearly outlined by Prof. Phillips in his talk before the congregation on Sunday morning. The speaker included the Sunday school, church and congregation under one head,—the Bible School, which is engaged in the study of the Bible. Each branch was taken in its order. The primary principle of the Sunday school being education, the methods in vogue in the public schools should be used to a good advantage. The scheme is to divide the Sunday school into grades and provide suitable instructions for each grade. At the end of each quarter an examination will be held which the pupil may or may not take, at his option. The examinations will be under the supervision of the Committee on Examinations. The names of all who pass the quarterly examinations will be announced in the Sunday school; the names of all who pass annual examinations will be announced at the annual public meeting of the Bible school. No person will be permitted to a higher grade who does not give satisfactory evidence to the Committee on Grading that he has met the requirements of the grade from which he desires to be promoted.

The principle applicable to the other division of the Bible school,—the church and congregation—is that no one can grow in Christian character unless he devotes some time to Bible study. The scheme in this direction is to bring the study of the Bible to the homes. These four points are urged:

1.—Every member of the church and congregation is requested to study the lesson for each week. The lessons may be found in the lesson helps or in the quarterly announcements.

2.—Parents are urged to teach the lesson to their children whether the children attend Sunday school or not.

3.—The first Wednesday prayer meeting in each month will be devoted to the lessons of the previous month.

4.—The morning service of the church on the third Sunday in January, in each year, will be given up to the work of the Bible school.

The study of the Bible should be brought into the homes, for there is a prevailing incorrect impression that when everyone has a comfortable living, everything is well with the world. There is a tendency in educated communities toward religionless morality. Still, religionless morality is better than a non-moral religion. It is better to have something to look forward to than to live in absolute confidence and contentment.

The world is tired of abstract truth; it needs something practical. The church can no longer afford to offer that only which it has, but must offer that which the people will take. This would discourage us, but we remember how God is continually striving to help us and we never come up to his expectations, his ideal.

College Attendance.

A late issue of Science contains the registration statistics of the twenty leading American universities. The number of students enrolled follows:

Harvard, 6013; Columbia, 4557; Chicago, 4146; Michigan, 3926; California, 3690; Illinois, 3661; Minnesota, 3550; Cornell, 3438; Wisconsin, 3221; Yale, 2990; Northwestern, 2740; Penn, 2572; Nebraska, 2247; Syracuse, 2207; Ohio State, 1710; Indiana, 1614; Missouri, 1540; Princeton, 1434; Stanford, 1370; J. Hopkins, 694.

Among Other Colleges.

The late Gordon McKay has willed to Harvard University eighty per cent of the net income from a $21,000,000 estate. This donation is to accumulate until it amounts to $1,000,000 when it is to be paid over and used as a fund to advance scientific education and aid meritorious students. Mr. McKay for many years had his home near Harvard, and during that time invented the shoe sewing machine, which afterwards made for him his immense fortune.

OWEN PHILLIPS EACHES, D. D.

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell.

We present with this issue a picture of one of our most distinguished graduates,—the Rev. Owen Phillips Eaches. He was graduated a Bachelor of Arts with the class of 1863, served as an instructor in the Academy, 1862-66, was graduated from the Theological Department in 1865, became pastor of the Nicetown, Philadelphia Baptist church and then of the Hightstown, N. J. Baptist church which position he still retains, after a service of more than thirty years. He has been during these years a very prominent trustee of Peddie Institute, and was for a long time Secretary of the New Jersey Baptist Educational Society, of which he is now President. In 1884, in recognition of his scholarly attainments the university conferred up on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, which degree he has since still further adorned by addresses and articles in various magazines and papers, mainly on subjects of religious, denominational or sociological interest.

There is the problem of a burdened life. Paul had hills of difficulty, rough-roads to walk in, rugged duties, misconceptions of friends, hatreds ofenemies, the struggles of the old Paul against the new Paul, the care of the churches. He was in himself an entire foreign mission society. There were frailties in the body, thorns in the flesh, the desertion of men on whom he had leaned. There were times when his life became a shut-in-life. Cesarea once and Rome twice became prisons to him. 2 Cor. 11 presents the outside struggles of the life—Romans 7 presents the internal struggles. But life never became burdensome to him. Life had an ever widening meaning to him. its duties were heavier, its openings wider. Heaven was dear to him, but life was dearer to him, because it gave to him larger opportunities for service. Paul never stopped to consider the question whether life was worth living. He did not know the meaning of pessimism. He took his own life and his own age, and strove to lift them up and make them better. We are called upon to live our

LATE ARRIVALS.

It is quite certain that some action will be taken by the college authorities looking to the return of students to college on time after vacations. There has always been more or less tardiness in this respect, but this term the late arrivals broke all records. When college opened there were few more than half of the students in attendance, and they continued to straggle in for more than week. As a result, all activity was retarded. Classes could not be started in the right manner, much to the annoyance of instructors and those students who did return on time, and considerable unnecessary trouble was also caused the President and the Registrar.

It is safe to assert that four of every five cases of tardiness was due to indifference,—something to be avoided in college life. The claim cannot be made that the vacation was not long enough, for it was longer than most other colleges are allowed.

The suggestion has been made that a registration fee be required of all those returning late to college, and since the pocketbook of the average student is his most vulnerable point, we don't see what would prevent the scheme from accomplishing the desired end. But any plan that results in a reform will be welcome.

BUCKNELL AND HER ENVIRONMENT

A correspondent of the New York Sun recently made the assertion that "there is an indifference of university students to the forms of religious worship." The charge is made particularly against Harvard students, one of whom has refuted it quite successfully in a subsequent communication.

Happily no such charge can be sustained against Bucknell. We would not be surprised to learn that a larger percentage of her students attend church and other religious gatherings than that of any similar institutions in the country. The attendance at the regular services of the various churches on Sunday is large, while the student body is represented in every Sunday school in town. Almost every choir contains one or more students. Various missions and mission churches in the surrounding country are in charge of Bucknell men. Nowhere is the moral tone higher than in Lewisburg and Bucknell. The Young Men's Christain Association is a potent influence. A force, working quietly but consistently, and discountenancing all of those things which tend toward evil, it accomplishes much good. But not only do distinctively religious organizations speak well of the moral atmosphere; the general conduct of the students adds its evidence.

We are told by three Philadelphia morning papers that "Bucknell has been dropped by Penn," the statement being based on the fact that Bucknell does not appear on Pennsylvania's baseball schedule for the coming season. This blunder, resulting from carelessness of statement, is made quite frequently, much to the annoyance of the so-called smaller college concerned. We would advise our metropolitan contemporaries that Pennsylvania offered Bucknell her usual April baseball date, but the latter declined it because her nine played at great disadvantage so early in the season. Pennsylvania and Bucknell are on the best of terms in athletics, and the Red and Blue has no intention of "dropping" us.

OBSERVATIONS

The late arrivals each term would not be so surprising if Bucknell were not a co-ed institution.

—o—

The future of Minnesota University hangs in the balance! Her quarterback threatens to quit college because he was suspended for "cribbing."

—o—

A course in poultry raising is to be introduced at the University of Missouri. The interest in poultry manifested at Bucknell last year creates the belief that such a course would be popular here.

—o—

The students of the University of Pennsylvania are indignant that Fullback Smith was not awarded his "P," and are going to ask the committee to reconsider their action. Meanwhile Smith is plodding along for his B. S.

—o—

"Politics is a game," President Hadley of Yale told the students of Harvard last week. He might have added that while this game is to be found in most colleges, it is not to be classified under the head of athletics.

—o—

Franklin and Marshall defeated Penn's basketball team by a one-sided score in December. Penn says it was only a practice game, which F. and M. admits, at the same time expressing a desire for a game with a little more practice in it next time.

—o—

Figures, like the immortal George, never tell a lie, it is said. However, there are many of us here at Bucknell who doubt the truth of statistics recently gathered, showing that the average co-ed rises earlier than her fellow student of the male sex; else chapel attendance is a false criterion.

—o—

Though his famous guards-back formation still exists, George Woodruff, the old Pennsylvania coach, has taken to woods. He was last week appointed to a position in the Bureau of Forestry by President Roosevelt. The fact that the President is a Harvard man has no significance.

Men Work More, of Course.

Following are the first results announced from the canvass made to find out how students at Cornell spend each twenty-four hours:

Men—Work, 8½ hours; amusement, 2¾ hours; physical exercise, 1¾ hours Meals,1¼ hours; sleep, 8¼ hours; unclassified, 1½ hours.

Women—Work, 7¼ hours; amusement, 2¼ hours; physical exercise, 1¾ hours; meals, 1¾ hours; sleep, 7¾ hours; unclassified, 2¾ hours.

"These figures show that the men work half an hour longer than the "co-eds," while the co-eds spend half an hour less in amusing themselves.

Owen Phillips Eaches, D. D.

life in a Pauline way. For us, for every one of us, it is a hard task to live the life in a worthy way. Never was there a time when it meant so much to live a life in a right way as to-day; never a time when there were so many disturbing intellectual thoughts, so many enticements to unbelief, never a time when life was so complex a thing. Never was there a time when there was so much yeastiness and fermentations in the social life. Between the dictionary of to-day and that of forty years ago is a gulf measured by centuries of new thoughts. In the rush of the crowding years it is hard to find the quiet hour for devotion. It must have been an easy thing to live a good man's life in the quiet days of Enoch. It requires vastly more wisdom in our day to live a life above enticements, meeting the requirements of life in an intelligent way, applying the principles of righteousness to the constantly enlarging life. But it is a fine opportunity to live a life that calls for courage and strength. Luther said that a Christian life requires oratio, meditatio, temptatio. We must furnish the prayer and thoughtfulness. The temptations will come of themselves. Trials, hardships, difficulties, temptations, perplexities, burdens, duties, obstacles, these make the raw material out of which the finest and best Christian lives are to be made.—Dr. O. P. Eaches in N. Y. Examiner.

Messrs. Kester, '03, and Bilger, '03, are spending a few days with friends in town and on the hill.

The official averages of the Eastern League, published last week, show that McCormick, '04, leads the batters with a percentage of .362.

Dr. Chas. A. Gundy, '93, and his brothers, John Moore Gundy, '97, and William Gundy, '01, have recently been called upon to pass through another sad affliction in the death of their mother on Monday morning. They have the deep sympathy of the University.

Rev. H. H. Dutton, 1898, the recently appointed assistant secretary of th Missionary Union, is about to start on his first tour of visitation among Baptist seminaries and colleges. In addition to these institutions, he will also endeavor to meet the Baptist students in several of the State universities, and speak in various church es at important points included in his route as he has opportunity. His itinerary, although not definitely decided upon yet, includes Crozer Seminary, Bucknell University, the University of Pennsylvania, Denison University, Franklin College, the University of Chicago, Des Moines College, Kalamazoo College, the University of Michigan, and Rochester University and Seminary.

Chancellor Day on Cheating.

The following are extracts from a speech of Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, before the students of that institution:

"To cheat in an examination is the embodiment of a lie, and it is a mean lie."

"It is no disgrace to flunk an examination after hard, conscientious work."

"Women naturally take to goodness, so we shall not discuss them at this time. I am speaking especially to the freshmen."

A number of the eastern universities have received invitations from the Automobile Club to participate in a series of auto races for the intercollegiate championship. If the invitation is accepted it seems probable that there may grow up as great a rivalry in connection with automobile contests as now exists in football, baseball, etc.

INSTITUTE.

The Donation Party held at Suite 25, Annex, Saturday evening was a great success, many of the girls from Main Building and the Annex attending. The guests arrived at a little after nine, bringing with them articles of all descriptions, and the happy recipients of the donations were delighted with pictures, fans, toilet accessories, chocolate sets, cut-glass, millinery, supplies for the larder, china, chairs, and even market-baskets. One of the most beautiful, as well as useful, of the gifts was a fine Siamese vase, presented by a resident of the Main Building, while another that will be much appreciated these cold winter nights was a brilliant scarlet comfortable. Choice bits of antique furniture—so antique as to be unfit for use, were much in evidence, as were also some rare pieces of old china, apparently dating from the Fourth Dynasty. After the hostesses had expressed their heart-felt appreciation of the kindness of the donors,—it was gratifying in the extreme that everything was just what they wanted,—a chafing-dish luncheon was served, after which adieux were said. Some of the guests are now considering having Donation Parties for their own benefit, to replenish rooms depleted by the function of Saturday evening.

Zeta Literary Society held its first term election of officers on Thursday evening. A new committee, to be known as the Lookout Committee, was established. The following are the officers chosen:

President, Velcia Hall, '04.
Vice-President, Ruth Shorkley, '05.
Secretary, Sarah Unger, '06.
Treasurer, Mable Sill, '07.
Programme Committee, Blanche Bane, '04; Cottie Albright, Florence Cobb, Vera Duncan.
Senior Critic, Elizabeth Reed.
Junior Critic, Ferne Braddock.
Executive Committee, Maud Rees, '07., Ona Lillibridge, '07.
Lookout Committee, Sarah Furman, '06, Grace Meek, '06.

Among the new day students at the Institute are Charlotte Hulley, of Lewisburg, and Helen Hering, of Allenwood.

Misses Emily and Mary Heaton, of Milton, were initiated into the Pi Phi Sorority on Saturday night.

Miss Reeb, of State Run, has entered the Freshmen class.

Miss Shore, '06, was visited by her brother last week.

TRACK CANDIDATES REPORT

Many Men Will Compete for the Various Events This Spring.

In response to the call of Captain Pearse, more than a dozen candidates for the track and field team reported at the gymnasium on Saturday morning. Among these were a number of promising Freshmen. The departure of several of the best men on last year's team had rendered the outlook for this year's team rather discouraging, but the number of new men who reported has given the captain and the coach confidence that a first class team can be developed.

The following is a list of the old men who reported and the particular events they will try for:

Pearse, dashes, high hurdles and jumps.
Marsh, quarter-mile, half-mile and mile.
Gaskill, quarter-mile and half mile.
Thatcher, quarter-mile and 220-yard dash.
Lesher, low hurdles and pole vault.
Steinhilper, pole vault.
Cockill, quarter-mile.
Sheppard, '05, broad jump and pole vault.
Noble, long distances.
Johnson, Shipp, Lenhart and F. Caruthers will each try for the weights.
Pease, '06, who was not out last year will try for the long distances.

The following is a list of the new men who reported and the events for which they will be candidates:

Potter, high jump, quarter-mile and dashes.
Baer, quarter-mile.
Brinker, quarter-mile and long distances.
Loomis, hurdles, broad jump and pole vault.
Webster, dashes.
Leach, quarter-mile.
Raker, quarter-mile.

The candidates have been instructed to report at the gymnasium regularly during the winter term.

Basketball on Friday Night.

The Bucknell-Ashland basketball game, scheduled for Saturday night, was cancelled by the latter team on Saturday afternoon, too late to secure another team. Lovers of the game on the hill and in town were much disappointed in consequence.

The next game of the season will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on next Friday night, January 29, the North End Stars of Scranton being the opposing team. The visitors have a good reputation and the game will be well worth seeing.

Seniors Defeat Sophs.

The first of the inter-class basketball games was played in Tustin Gymnasium on Tuesday afternoon.the contesting teams being the Seniors and Sophomores. The former won without trouble, 30 to 17. The game was rough, but was not without its redeeming features, chief among which was the playing of McCormick. The Seniors played a better game than their opponents, and the result was never in doubt. The second-year men put up a good game, however, and they should make it interesting for the Juniors and Freshmen in the games to follow.

The line-up:

SENIORS.		SOPHOMORES.
McCormick	forward	Goldsmith
Daniels	forward	Waltz Hennessy
Johnson	centre	Claypool
Griffiths	guard	Whitaker
Roberts.
Sheppard	guard	Neil

Goals, McCormick 5; Johnson 3; Daniels 3; Sheppard, Griffiths, Roberts, Goldsmith 4; Hennessy, Claypool. Goals from fouls, Claypool 5. Referee, Smith, '05.

The next game of the inter-class series will be between the Juniors and Freshmen on Monday afternoon.

Senior Girls Entertain.

The Senior girls, ever so brilliant in the class-room, gave ample evidence on Friday night that they have not neglect that grace so essential to college life,—the ability to entertain. It was the occasion of the reception of the young women to their classmates of the sterner sex in the Seminary parlors, and although they numbered only ten, their ability to entertain would do credit to a number many times that large. Indeed, the affair will go on record as one of the most delightful events in the history of the class, which is saying a great deal.

The disagreeable weather failed to act as a damper on the young men, and there were few absentees; even those perennial shy ones were there. The reception was entirely informal. Senior dignity had been left at home, and all joined in having a good time, which just came natural. Games and music furnished amusement galore. But for fear, probably, that they hadn't already reached our hearts, the young women tried the method suggested by a well known adage, and served most palatable refreshments. It was a fitting climax to the happy occasion. And when it came time to say good night many of us wished that we could be Seniors again just to be received by the girls; but that would involve flunking, and Senior girls never flunk, much to our annoyance and chagrin sometimes.

Senior.

Compliment to Dr. Maxey.

Dr. Edwin Maxey, '93, recently received a letter from President Roosevelt, in recognition of his article, "Legal Aspects of the Panama Situation." This article appeared in the Yale Law Journal for December. The following is a copy of the President's letter:

"White House, Dec. 19, 1903.

Dr. Edwin Maxey,
Morgantown, W. Va.

Dear Sir:

My attention has been called to your excellent article in the Yale Law Journal for December. It has been turned over to the Secretary of State.

With greetings of the season, I am,

Very respectfully,
Theodore Roosevelt."

Dr. Maxey has also an able article in the January Gunton's Magazine on the "United States Consular Service."

Will Speak in Philadelphia

Prof. Martin will deliver an address on "The Social Service of the Christian Beacon" before the Ministers' Conference in Philadelphia on February 8.

PRINCIPAL ELKANAH HULLEY

Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Principal Elkanah Hulley of the Keystone Academy, whose picture we present this week, was graduated from that Academy in 1889 and from the University , a Bachelor of Arts, in 1892, being one of the ten speakers on the commencement stage. He was pastor of the Baptist church, Montgomery, Jan. 1892-Sept. 1892, and received the degree of Master of Arts, Semitic department, University of Chicago. He was instructor in language, Keystone Academy, 1893-1896, and was then elected principal which position he continues to fill with great success. In August 1894 he married Miss Mary Kelchner, of Montgomery. Principal Hulley is a forcible writer and speaker, a wise counselor, an able teacher.

The teachers in a Christian Academy try to infuse into the pupils the proper motives for all their actions, whether they are along the line of their chosen professions or not. We try to make them understand that keen observation and good judgment even when re-enforced by the highest technical training cannot make a true physician. That shrewdness, logic and eloquence even in the most happy combination can never make a worthy lawyer. That brilliancy, tact and common sense, necessary as they seem to be, can never produce the true teacher. That executive ability, energy and sharpness never made the ideal business man. These things are purely professional. The true physician will not circumscribe his work and dwarf his manhood by giving his attention only to the administration of drugs and the writing of prescriptions. He will rise to a conception of his opportunities that will enable him to heal broken hearts as well as broken bones. He will understand how to pour the oil and wine of consolation and comfort into wounded spirits. The true lawyer will not be satisfied with simply winning his case, collecting his fees, or securing political prestige, but he will rise to the dignity of his profession and he will endeavor to inject into that profession the strength of a pure and vigorous manhood. He will even try to secure the enactment of such legal measures as will benefit and elevate his fellowman. The true teacher is one who has not merely mastered the subjects prescribed by the curriculum, or acquired skill in imparting information, but who has risen to an eminence from which he can see and appreciate the significance and importance of the daily gatherings under him and who has cultivated the power of inspiring into his pupils the noblest impulses of the heart.—Principal Elkanah Hulley, '92.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The Chemical and Physical Society has felt the quickening impulse of the new year. At the meeting on last Thursday afternoon Smiley, '05, described the new hydraulic elevator used at the placer gold mines for removing the tailings. Phillips, '06, explained the new system of disposing of garbage in New York City. "What formerly cost the city a very large sum of money now yields a neat annual profit to the corporation utilizing this seeming waste, and besides adds territory to the city, valued at $10,000 per acre." Hayes, '04, discussed the manufacture and use of opium.

Prof. Owens gave a very interesting summary of the progress made last year in inventions, in wireless telegraphy and the flying machine there was not as much progress as had been expected. Valuable improvements were made in the automobile. This machine is now in the second stage of its development, through which the bicycle passed in its evolution. Prof. Owens announced that he had written to France for a sample of radium, which he hopes to exhibit to the Society.

On next Thursday Dr. Leslie, M. D., will speak on, "How the Congo Natives Work Their Metals."

Theta Delta Tau Initiation.

The annual initiation of Theta Delta Tau took place on Friday night The banquet was held at Lochiel. The following is a list of the initiates:

Phi Kappa Psi, Harry C. Munro, Harry T. Stevenson, Edward D. Thomas.

Phi Gamma Delta, Dickson, Stauffer, Edwin A. Beaver.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lynn S. Goodman, J. D. P. Smithgall.

Kappa Sigma, Charles Taylor, Leroy Hoon, Augustus Neil.

The alumni who attended the banquet were Andrew A. Leiser, Jr., of Lewisburg, and Walter Bertolette, Manch Chunk.

Delta Theta Upsilon.

The Delta Theta Upsilon's have completed the furnishing of their rooms in the Wolfe building. The fraternity is composed of the following men: Ealy, '04; Ranck, '05; Ausherman, '05; Williamson, '05; Hassrick, '06; Cole, '06, Millward, '06; De Wald, '06. Yost, '06, was initiated last week.

The Freshman Banquet.

The members of the Freshman class will hold their banquet in Williamsport this evening. The young men left on a special train over the Reading road shortly after chapel this morning, and the girls, accompanied by the Junior women, went this afternoon.

Rev. H. I. Stewart, '99, has accepted a call from the church at Lansdale.

PROSPECTS IN BASEBALL

'Varsity Team will be Strong Outside the Pitcher's Box

Within the next week or so the candidates for the baseball team will be called out by Captain Smith in order to gain some idea of the prospects for the 'varsity nine for the coming season. The cage is inadequate for practice, save bunting, in which Captain Smith will instruct the team until the weather will permit of outdoor work.

If good pitchers can be developed, the 'varsity nine next spring should be one of the strongest that has represented Bucknell in many years. Five of last season's regular players and a number of the best substitutes are back, and there are enough new men to complete a first class team. The pitcher problem promises to be hard to solve again, but two good twirlers can probably be developed.

The old players who are back are, Teufel, catcher; Cockill, first base; Smith, short stop; Griminger, third base; and Deats, outfield. All these men will try for their old positions except Smith, who will try for second base. The substitutes who will again be candidates for the team are, Portser, infield; Shirley, infield; Daniels, infield; Bovard, outfield; Taylor, pitcher; Cheesman, pitcher. Cockill can also be depended upon to pitch in an emergency.

In the Freshman class are a number of promising players. Those who have been spoken of are, Blair, catcher and the outfield; Leach, pitcher; Heinze, infield; August, outfield.

PEDESTRAIN CLUBS.

It may be slightly incongruous to discuss the feasibility of organizing pedestrian clubs in mid-winter; yet why not pedestrinate on snow shoes? We have skating clubs, et cetera. Why not inaugurate a new fad?

The question or organizing pedestrian clubs, however, deserves thought ful consideration. The Spring term is fast approaching, when the disposition to roam about the country on Saturdays seizes the students like a nomadic fever. Why not organize pedestrian clubs with definite schedules of trips to various points of interest in the vicinity of Lewisburg? Union county is replete with Indian associations. Shikellimy, who was the first Indian chief of the West Branch Valley to admit the Moravian missionaries under Count Zinzendorf, lived at Shamokin, an Indian village located about one and a half miles above Lewisburg on Sinking Run. Many Indian curios may be found in newly plowed fields, while the famous Blue Hill is replete with Indian legends. At Chillisquaque,—which by the way retains its Indian name—the famous Indian orator, Logan, lived. A Chillisquaque also may be seen the farmhouse in which Bishop John H. Vincent was born. At Northumberlan a half day could be spent very profitably in visiting the scenes associated with the last days of Dr. Joseph Priestley, the world-renowned discoverer of oxygen. At Sunbury the old powder magazine of Fort Augusta may be seen. This fort was built in 1763 during the French and Indian war, and occupied a strategic place in frontier life throughout the Revolution.

These are only some of the places of interest that could be visited on Saturday's. A visit to Dale's cave and Winfield cave and other places of geological interest would prove very profitable and enjoyable,—and so on almost ad infinitum.

Why not then organize pedestrian clubs? Investigations in local history, folk lore and geology could be undertaken under the auspices of such clubs, and professors would undoubtedly consent to accompany the parties and direct the work. The advantage from the hygenic point of view goes without saying. Organize clubs at once in anticipation of the balmy, delightful days of Spring term.

H

THE SERVICES THIS WEEK.

Thursday, January 28, is the national day of prayer, observed in general by all denominations. The announcement of services for the week appears elsewhere in our columns. The committee have arranged an excellent series of meetings, which are intended to be devotional and evangelistic in nature and exceedingly helpful in deepening the religious spirit in the college. One gratifying features is the fact that the meetings of the week are largely under the direction of the professors, thus identifying them with the religious life of the college.

The attendance thus far has been encouraging, and the Y. M. C. A., deserves the prayerful cooperation of all Christian workers. Each student should resolve to attend as many meetings as possible; an evangelistic influence should arise from this movement which should have an abiding influence upon the students and upon the college. The committee is to be congratulated upon securing the services of the Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, Ph. D., of Williamsport, who will deliver addresses at the meetings on Thursday. He is a convincing speaker and possesses a pleasing eloquence, which renders him a power in the pulpit. Do not miss an opportunity to hear him.

Bucknell has been the victim of so many cancelled dates in athletics during the past few years that some effort should be made to avoid them in the future. We believe the method of drawing up contracts, just as we do now with our large football games, should be adopted in all branches of athletics. The forfeiture of a certain amount of money for breach of the contract would have a tendency to do away with the recklessness and carelessness of incompetent managers.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

An Academy Club.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Is there room in college for a Bucknell Academy Club? Why not? Keystone Academy and South Jersey Institute have their organizations in college, and exist each with a membership never very large and frequently very small. Against this, abundant material is to be found in the college for an Academy Club. No diligent search is needed to unearth it, and no doubt each Bucknell Academy graduate would welcome an organization that would promote his best interests practically and fraternally in college. A club such as is suggested would be beneficial to those members belonging to the Freshman class. Through its influence they would be thrown together at a time, the beginning of the college year, when class acquaintances are very helpful, but few in number. It would also create among Academy students a guarantee of friendship that might lead them to take their college course at Bucknell instead of some other institution, where they would be compelled to enter new, and without friends.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Harvard has 125 men trying for the track team. This is an increase of 50 over last year.

At Harvard there are 40 men out as candidates for the swimming, divin and water polo teams.

President Harper, of Chicago, has been decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

Swarthmore defeated Pennsylvania at basketball on the former's floor on Saturday night. Score 18 to 14.

Ten thousand dollars has been received for a new athletic field at Cornell, and work will be commenced next spring.

At the University of Indiana a course of chapel lectures has been arranged and students receive a half-hour's credit per term for regular attendance upon the Tuesday and Thursday lectures.

Haskell and Carlisle, the two big Indian football teams of the country, have at last succeeded in scheduling a game. Superintendent Pearis, of Haskell Institute, has closed a deal with Carlisle management, and the two teams will meet next Thanksgiving day at Cleveland, O.

The students of the University of Missouri have petitioned the faculty to serve them with only two meals. Experiments recently conducted by six dormitory students seemed to show that a student was in better health and spirits to do hard mental work when only eating two meals a day. It was requested that the noon meal be eliminated.

The Columbia University bulletins just issued show a faculty and teachrollment of 4557 students, besides 732 university extension students. Of the students 399 are women in the Barnard College, the standard of which is the same as in the college for men. The student's expenses for the college year are put at from $473 to $616 at the average.

The regents of the University of Minnesota have decided that all students before graduation must pass examinations in spelling. Minnesota is following the lead of Northwestern University, which last year inaugurated a continuous spelling match, known as the "pity sakes" class. The Freshman-Sophomore spelling match is an annual event at Minnesota.

Chancellor MacCracken, of New York University, in his annual address to the students, said: "I wish we could require from every freshman a Sunday School diploma that would certify that he knew by heart the ten commandments, the sermon on the mount, a church catechism the scripture psalms and best classic hymns. This university will join any association of universities and colleges that will demand this as an entrance requirement."

Pennsylvania has adopted a rule whereby each student will have to answer and sign a set of "cross-examination" questions before he can compete in any athletic contest. The questions bring out the following information, besides name, class ,age and address; schools and colleges previously attended; school, college and athletic teams played upon, with number of years and full details; protests ever made to eligibility with details; agreement that he will remain in the university one year; and a statement that he has neither played for money nor is he doing so when on the university team.

THE CLASS BANQUETS

Sophomores and Freshmen Indulge in Their Annual Feasts

The banquets of the two lower classes were held last week, the Freshmen going to Williamsport on Monday and the Sophomores to Harrisburg on Wednesday. If getting away from college without losing a man is an achievement, both classes have reason for exultation, since neither one had a member detained by the other.

THE SOPHOMORE BANQUET.

From a Sophomore standpoint.

Last Wednesday was perhaps the most eventful day in the history of the class of 1906, being the occasion of second annual banquet. The affair brought with it a striking departure from time-honored customs in the preparation of class banquets. Contrary to all precedent, the time of departure, the place, and other details were intentionally made known. We realized there was not the slightest danger in so doing. The "cold feet" propensities of the Freshmen were well known, and just as we expected, there was a further display of this weakness, which has just now become chronic among the first-year babes. They even lacked in courtesy in that they did not come down to the station to see us off. However, the grave Seniors and the gay Juniors were there to give us a send-off as we left for Harrisburg, our destination. Nature herself lent her smiling favor to the occasion by serving out the best weather she had in store.

The trip along the historic Susquehanna was a succession of Alpine splendors: huge ice gorges, receding snow-capped mountains, and the frost-pervaded atmosphere suggested the fairy land of early childhood fancy. Our arrival in the Capitol City was announced by a succession of hearty class and college yells, after which we wended our way to the Bolton, the Mecca of our journey.

The early hours of the evening were spent in viewing the many points of interest in the city. The main point was the State Capitol, during which visit the class was graciously received by the Governor, who further endeared himself to the class by granting them the privilege of viewing the interior of the new buildings after hours. After the stroll around the city the members of the class returned to their rendezvous, where the time was spent in games and social cheer. The parlors of the hotel were filled with laughing, chatting groups of jolly classmen. Mirth and jollity reigned supreme.

At ten o'clock the doors of the spacious banquet hall were thrown open to the expectant crowd. No time was lost in the preliminaries, and soon the light-hearted throng was doing justice to a feast of which Epicurus might well have been proud. The tables were tastefully decorated, while potted plants were scattered throughout the room. Song, mirth and wit added the sauce for the enjoyment of the viands, while class yells gave vent to the general enthusiasm of the occasion.

After the walls of the inner man had been satisfied, the "feast of reason and the flow of soul" began. Toastmaster Coverdale acquitted himself well, giving and taking the jolts of the ever-present repartee. The following toasts were given in a happy manner:

"Harrisburg," H. T. Stevenson.
"Seniors," J. F. Hennessy.
"Saturday Night," Edna A. Innis.
"Our Class," Henry Jones.
"Our Themes," C. M. McCormick.
Class Poem, Edith E. Lane.
"College Band," A. C. Thompson.
"The Ladies," H. N. Cole.
"The Gentlemen," Florence J. Cobb.
"The Bells," Lucretia G. Snyder.
"Good-bye," D. S. Stauffer.

Edgar T. Stevenson, representing the Senior Class, and Frank Caruthers, coach of the successful class team, responded to impromptu toasts.

At the conclusion of the supper the jolly party repaired to the parlors, where songs and games again engaged the attention of the fair daughters and sons of "Naughty Six" until time for departure.

In the early hours of the morning the happy pilgrims returned to their honored Alma Mater. The occasion had been replete with everything which contributes pleasure; but the cap-sheaf of the festivities was the smiling benediction of our esteemed instructor, Prof. Rockwood, who graciously greeted this band of merrymakers as they wended their way to their respective abodes. In fine it was an occasion long to be remembered by all the participants.

THE FRESHMAN BANQUET.

From a Freshman standpoint

One of the most successful banquet ever held by a Bucknell class took place in Williamsport last Monday evening when the Freshmen, 100 strong journeyed to that fair city and gave their first annual banquet.

When the Christmas vacation had become past history and the class of 1907 returned to Bucknell, it soon became evident that the "Sophs" had determined we Freshmen were not to have a banquet this year. Accordingly our valiant friends put forth their most strenuous efforts in this direction and on several occasions when they thought our banquet about to take place, captured members of our class, only to discover later that there was "nothing doing" and the joke was on them.

However, this sort of thing became tiresome and when the banquet committee announced in the Rhetoric class last Monday morning, that there was "something doing" and a special train was waiting over near the Sem, the fellows quickly assembled outside of the "lab," and giving vent to their enthusiasm by several class yells, proceeded to the train. Ten minutes later the train was off for Williamsport with not a man missing.

The journey was a most delightful one, "none daring to molest or make us afraid." Anyone listening to the yells and songs could not fail to discern the fact that the Sophomores had been again outwitted. We arrived at Williamsport at 10.15 a. m., and after giving a number of yells at the station, lined up in marching order and directed our steps to Park Hotel.

After partaking of a pleasant luncheon, we got together in the Hotel parlors and enjoyed ourselves by playing Euchre, Pit, etc. But the climax of our fun was reached when several of our strong men captured

WEEK OF PRAYER OBSERVED

Interesting and Helpful Services Held Throughout the Week

The week of prayer just passed was made a very enlightning one through the efforts of the speakers. They put their own enthusiasm into the heart of the listeners, and much spiritual good was undoubtedly accomplished by their words.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and Monday and Tuesday evenings, meetings were held in Bucknell Hall. Addresses were delivered by Professors Perrine, Groff, Davis, Hare, Hulley and Phillips, and personal testimonies were gathered from the students present. On Monday afternoon separate meetings at the Academy and Institute, similar to those held in Bucknell Hall, were addressed by Principal Edwards and Prof. Welthaase, respectively. Thursday morning at 8.00, the meeting in Bucknell Hall was addressed by President Harris. At the Seminary Thursday morning at 8 o'clock Prof. Hamblin spoke to the women's department.

There is not space here to treat at length the topics of all the addresses mentioned. All were soul-stirring and were thoughtfully listened to; but we must pass to the large meeting, Thursday, at 10.30 a. m. addressed by the Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, of Williamsport, in the Baptist church. Dr. Roselle chose "Prayer" for his sermon topic and took his text from Matthew sixth chapter and the sixth verse.

He said one difficulty of our religious life is that God is always hidden from us. Men of all ages have searched for Him, but never found Him. The reason for this is, God is far too vast to be grasped by our physical senses. God has made darkness His secret place, and his secret is with them only that fear Him. Our minds are insufficient to contain Him, for just as a large object cannot be put into a small vessel, the greatness of God cannot be compressed into our insignificant minds. And God is valuable just because he cannot be comprehended.

Trying to find God out is fraught with great dangers, for in our efforts we are likely to belittle God in order that he may be fitted with our insufficient minds. God is secret in order that he may be fitted within something more to learn of Him. But we are directed nevertheless, to find Him out. No one can find himself until he finds God, and no one can find God until he finds himself. In this case, as always, each discovers God's command his own need. We all need God, and a vision of Eternal God is a nation's best safety. To a nation a real church is worth more than a thousand battleships.

Why is God hid? This has been intimated already. The reason why we do not see God is because we do not have spiritual visions, and no other kind of vision will do. Each vision must be used for its intended purpose. Our mind and physical senses were not made to find God. God is a spirit, and His secret is with the that spiritually devout and them that fear Him. We must have God in us before we may see Him before us.

God's first coming to earth was to make God manifest before men. God's second coming was in spirit, to make God manifest in men. We see God more as we attempt to see Him more, but we can never see him perfectly well, until we are ourselves spiritually perfect.

Our quest for God is to be accomplished through prayer. It is one function of prayer to reveal God to us. Prayer is the striving of man for the companionship of God and includes the impulses and endeavores of our spiritual life. If we follow these impulses, we shall be lead straight to God, for His spirit is within every man according as each permits it.

Wish is prayer. Our soul cannot be kept from entering into our desires; therefore guard your desires well and avoid vain repetitions of wish before God.

There is reward for those who seek God through prayer and find Him. When you are undecided, pray for decision; when an evil nature is uppermost in your hearts, pray for relief; when you are ignoble, pray that you may become noble once more, and all that we pray for shall be granted us according as is our just reward. Let us pray nightly that from God's abundant treasure-houses may come reward to the schools of all lands and races.

On Thursday afternoon, Dr. Roselle spoke in much the same strain on "Character Growth," and in the evening he closed with a well-delivered, thought-inspiring sermon upon the "Power of Personality."

Bucknell Alumnae Meet.

The members of the Bucknell Alumnae Association of Philadelphia and a few guests enjoyed a delightfully informal luncheon in Griffith Hall, Philadelphia, on last Tuesday. Reports of officers were received, proving the Association to be in a very flourishing condition. That of the Treasurer, Mrs. M. E. R. Cobb, showed a substantial balance, besides a scholarship fund, which will soon be complete. After the refrshments had been disposed of, the guest of honor, Mrs. Charles H. Banes, gave a talk upon her recent experiences while traveling in India, where she was entertained at several important mission stations. Among those present were Mrs. C. Bailey, Secretary of the Home Mission Society of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Weaver, wife of the Mayor.

The patronesses for the occasion were:

Mrs. Joseph W. Wood, Mrs. I. H. O'Harra, Mrs. Amos Wakeline, Mrs. John Reilly, Mrs. W. B. Clement, Mrs. Samuel Bolton, Mrs. Daniel Sutter, Mrs. T. E. McVitty, Mrs. T. E. Goldy, Mrs. Thomas A. Gill, Mrs. J. B. Moyer, Mrs. D. G. Musselman, Mrs. J. K. Weaver, Mrs. John Dean, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. D. A. Cobb, Mrs. F. W. Tustin, Mrs. A. J. Rowland, Mrs. J. R. Howell, Mrs. M. B. Weir, Mrs. Ira Leedom, Mrs. C. A. Walker, Mrs. E. P. Wright, Mrs. G. C. Horter, Mrs. D. P. Lear.

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's is attracting considerable attention. It consists of a 7-inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted on polished oak, 13 inches long and 10 inches wide. It is the prettiest and most substantial ornament of Bucknell yet devised.

THE REV. A. E. FINN

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University

Rev. A. E. Finn resigned his pastorate of the church at Cherryville, N. J., December 6, and accepted a call to the Park Avenue church, Plainfield, N. J. Pastor Finn is a graduate of Bucknell University, class of 1894, and of Crozer Theological Seminary, class of 1897. In August 1897 he assumed charge of the Cherryville church. It is a strictly country charge and during his pastorate sixty-one persons have been added to the membership. The Plainfield church affords the new pastor a wider opportunity for usefulness, and great rejoicing is felt among its members that he has accepted the call. He was born in Yorkshire, England, married Cora Reiff Perry, Bucknell, 1895 and has been Vice-President of the N. J. Education Society and of the B. Y. P. U. of New Jersey.

A Timely Gift

Mrs. Bolton, wife of the justly popular and successful physician, Samuel R. Bolton, M. D., of Frankford, Philadelphia, Bucknell, '85, has very handsomely remembered the University in its social relations by a Christmas gift of an elegant and capacious glass punch bowl, together with a large number of beautiful glasses, for use at receptions and on other social occasions held in connection with the University and in its name. The gratitude of all who share the responsibilities of providing for such occasions is freely acknowledged, and their best thanks are given to Mrs. Bolton for this generous and most convenient token of her ever abiding interest in the University and in the social life of our University community.

Indian Game, October 8.

The date of Bucknell-Indian football game at Williamsport has been fixed at Saturday, Oct. 8, one week later than last year. The selection of grounds will be left to a joint committee of the two institutions. Propositions have been received for Athletic Park and Dickinson Seminary Field.

Seniors vs. Juniors.

What promises to be the best basketball game of the season will be played between the Seniors and Juniors on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Each team has won a game, and to-morrow night's contest will be fiercely fought.

COLLEGE DRAMATICS

A committee of the Senior class was recently appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the Senior class play produced annually during Commencement week. The committee in charge of the fund for the new athletic field likewise have expressed their intention to give a play in the near future. The interest manifested in college dramatics is commendable. There is no reason why Bucknell should not have a dramatic Association. We have enough histrionic talent in our midst to warrant such an organization. Other universities lay great stress upon dramatics; extended trips are taken by clubs, while plays in French and German are not infrequently given. The positions are strictly competitive and great rivalry exists among the candidates for positions. The need of a Dramatic Association at Bucknell is openly admitted. The present dramatic activity of the college is confined to the annual production of a Senior play. There is an imperative need of broader dramatic enterprise, and a proposition for the organization of a Dramatic Club should meet with general favor.

The manager of the "Lewisburg Independents," a basketball team composed of students, deserves credit for cancelling his date with the Girardville team, which game was scheduled to be played last Friday night at the latter place. Despite explicit instructions the Girardville manager insisted upon advertising the Lewisburg team as the "Bucknell 'Varsity." This was done for obvious reasons, chiefly because such a game would attract a large attendance and increase local prestige in case of victory for the Girardville team. Immediately upon their arrival, the Lewisburg manager cancelled the game, likewise that scheduled for Mahanoy Plane on the following night; the team then returned to Lewisburg on the next train.

For the benefit of class athletic teams which play out-of-town games we desire to call attention to the rule in reference to the matter:

"No class team shall leave the University to play out-of-town games without the sanction of some member of the Athletic Board of the University, as well as the consent of the President."

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's for $3.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

The Literary Societies.

Arrangements are being made for the annual debate between the two literary societies, which will be held some time during the present term. Theta Alpha announces no program for next Friday night aside from a debate in which all those whose names are posted are expected to take part. The question is "Resolved, that United States Senators should be elected by the People."

EUEPIA.

Current events, Steinhilper, '05; biographical sketch of Herbert Spencer, Hess, '05; "The Early Days of American Poetry," Adams, '07; extemporaneous speech, Reese, '07; debate, "Resolved, that Russia should concede to the Demands of Japan;" affirmative, Lockard, '07, and Petetebone, '07; negative, Hoechst, '07, and Simington, '07. All Sophomores and Freshmen are requested to prepare themselves to take part in the general debate because men will soon be chosen to represent Euepia in the inter-Society debate.

Basketball With Williamsport.

Arrangements have practically been completed whereby the 'varsity basketball team will meet the strong Williamsport Y. M. C. A. five in two games this season, one in Williamsport and one in Tustin Gymnasium. The date of the game in Williamsport will probably be Thursday, March 3, and that here, Monday, March 14. The Williamsport team is composed of practically the same men as last year and this season have been playing in their usual good form.

Basketball on Saturday Night.

The 'varsity five will play its next game on Saturday night, the opposing team being the La Salle College championship team, of Philadelphia. The same team played here last season and gave Bucknell a good game.

Philadelphia Alumni to Banquet.

J. Paul Pontius, M. D., '88, was in town last week and made the announcement that Bucknell University Club of Philadelphia would have its annual banquet in that city some time in February. It will likely be held at the University Club.

The Class Banquets

some Sophomores who had foolishly ventured into town, and carried their victims to the Hotel. When the hands of the clock approached 5.30 the fellows began to get quiet, but the secret of this quietness disclosed itself when, ten minutes later, the merry voices of our fair Co-eds were heard entering the halls and we greeted the largest and best "bunch" of girls that ever entered dear old Bucknell.

Promptly at 8.15 a grand march was formed and we entered the spacious dining hall of the hotel. Three tables artistically decorated met our gaze. The entire room was beautifully decorated with the class colors, red and blue. Fisk's orchestra furnished us with music.

After partaking of a most excellent repast, at exactly 10.30, President Roberts greeted the class with a few well chosen words and then proceeded to introduce the various toasts. All the speakers were at their best wit, and pleasantly surprised the class with their eloquence. Space will not permit any further detail of the toasts. They were as follows:

1. The Faculty,—Esau H. Loomis.
2. Freshmen,—Elkanah Hulley.
3. Athletes,—George Leach.
4. Hazing,—James Elliott, Jr.
5. The "Sem,"—Miss Ursula Parmley.
6. The "Sophs,"—George Snavely.
7. The Boys,—Miss Julie M. Rees.
8. The Girls,—C. Harold Godshall.
9. Our Future,—Charles Baer.

Miss Stanton our chaperon and Messrs. Morton, Cockill, Pearse and Shepard were guests of the class. We left Williamsport on our special at 1.45 a. m. arriving in Lewisburg at 3 o'clock, tired but happy.

SCRANTON STARS DEFEATED

'Varsity Shows Improved Form and Wins Easily on Friday

The 'varsity basketball team defeated the Scranton Stars in a clean, fast game in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night. Score 37 to 14. Bucknell won handily, but the game was nevertheless interesting from start to finish. There was little unnecessary roughness, few fouls being called on either team. The visiting team played a good game. Their passing at times was good, and they frequently gave clever exhibitions at goal throwing. Wills made a perfect shot from center to the floor which was heartily applauded. However, the Stars were outclassed and victory for the 'varsity was never in doubt.

There were many encouraging features in the work of Bucknell. The men displayed better team work than at any previous time this year, and they were fast on their feet. They were in the game at all times. Their shooting on the whole was very good, many goals being made from difficult positions.

Bucknell started off with a rush and scored three goals before the visitors got their breath. The first goal was made within four seconds of play. The 'varsity scored steadily and in the first half ran up a total of 18 points, to 7 for the visitors. Every man on the team distinguished himself by his fine work. The second half also witnessed some clever playing on the part of Bucknell. The visitors did better than in first half and scored two goals in quick succession shortly after the half opened.

The line up:

BUCKNELL.		SCRANTON
Roberts	forward.	T. McCluskie
Cheesman	forward	Skiff
		Wills
Cockill	center.	Wills
		T. McCluskie
Smith	guard	P. McCluskie
Johnson	guard	Conney

Goals, Roberts 4, Cheesman 5, Cockill 2, Smith 5, Johnson 2, Wills 4, P. McCluskie, Goals from fouls, Wills 4, Cheesman. Referee, Hoskins.

Juniors Defeat Freshmen.

A small crowd of spectators witnessed an exciting game of basketball between the Juniors and Freshmen on Saturday afternoon. The former won 20 to 18. The Juniors were handicapped by the absence of Cheesman and Smith, and the first-year men came near being their match. The first half ended 11 to 10 in favor of the Juniors, and for a while in the second half the Freshmen led by one point. The Juniors made a spurt and gained a big lead, which their opponents could not quite overcome.

The game was scrappy and very unscientific. Several fouls were called, but there were many fouls made of which no cognizance was taken. Several good shots were made, while at other times the easiest kind of chances were missed.

The line-up:

1905.		1907
Grier	forward.	Roberts
Robbins	forward	Leach

The Seminary Reception

One of the most splendid social functions of the year was the reception given by the Institute Seniors on Friday evening. The guests, about one hundred in number, consisted of town, Sunbury, Milton and Williamsport people. During the evening Trate's orchestra of Watsontown rendered some very pretty pieces.

The decorations in the school room and parlor were more elaborate than usual. The school room had been transformed into a pretty reception room by means of numerous cozy corners. Among these were the Bucknell corner and the music corner, both of which were very tastefully arranged. The back parlor was an Oriental room whose heavy hangings and dim lights made it one of the most popular places of the evening.

Messrs. Gosline, Montz and Braddock, of State College, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends on the hill.

The following College and Institute Classes will hold re-unions next Commencement '54, '64, '74, '84, '94 and '99.

C. F. Shipman, Esq., of Sunbury, visited his Alma Mater a few days ago. He states that his class, 1899, will hold its fifth anniversary the coming commencement.

An attempt will be made on Monday evening to renew interest in the Glee Club organized last term. A meeting has been called for 7 o'clock in Bucknell Hall when the plans will be outlined. Active work will begin at once, it is said.

The Day of Prayer for colleges and and preparatory schools observed last Thursday in the majority of institutions of learning in America, was instituted in New England colleges in the early part of the last century, at a time when the religious life of the college was at a very low ebb. One feature of the day that is not generally known, is that at a number of the theological seminaries the graduates of each college represented in the seminary meet separately and pray for the welfare of their alma mater.

BUCKNELL WINS AGAIN

Basketball Team Easily Defeat The Lasalle Championship Five.

Lovers of basketball were treated to an interesting exhibition of the game on Saturday night when the 'varsity and the Lasalle championship team of Philadelphia played in Tustin Gymnasium. Bucknell played a better game than her opponent and won by the score of 37 to 14. The visitors, however, proved to be the best team that has played here this season and their brilliant work at times received merited applause.

Although Smith was unable to play and Cockill was suffering from injuries, the work of the 'varsity five was an improvement over that of the preceding week. They passed and shot well, guarded their opponents closely and never failed to take advantage of loose and careless playing on the part of the visiting team. Short, quick passes from the center to a forward on the toss-up resulted in goals on several occasions, while in other ways the Orange and Blue outwitted their opponents.

The Lasalle Championship team does not represent Lasalle College, but is made up of men who composed the Lasalle team last season which won the City championship of Philadelphia, the only exception to this being Devine, the center, who last year played on the State College five. Before the game on Saturday night President Harris received a telegram from the Lasalle authorities stating that the team that was to play in Lewisburg did not represent Lasalle College. However, they played a good game and with proper coaching would develop into an excellent team. They passed well, but took too many difficult chances in shooting for goals, often making an attempt when three-fourths the length of the floor from their goal. Three of these, however, resulted successfully and the audience showed its appreciation of the exhibition by hearty applause.

The reputation of the visiting team had caused many misgivings as to Bucknell's winning the game, but by middle of the first half it was seen that the 'varsity was the superior team. Bucknell scored a goal within a minute of play and followed this by getting two goals from fouls. Thus getting the lead early in the game, they maintained it throughout. The first half ended 19 to 8. The all-around work of Bucknell and sensational shots by the visitors were the features. The second half was very much like the first, Bucknell excelling at all points. There was considerable rough playing early in the game, but this disappeared as game advanced.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		LASALLE
Cheesman	forward	Sauers
Roberts	forward	Ruff
Cockill	center	J. Devine
Johnson	guard	C. Devine
Grier	guard	R. Sauers

Goals from field, Cheesman 9, Roberts, Cockill 3; Grier 2, C. Devine, Dick 3, Sauers, J. Devine. Goals from foul, C. Devine, Ruff, Dick 3, Grier 3.

Wednesday Night's Game.

Bucknell will play Shenandoah here on Wednesday night.

Juniors Defeat Seniors.

The Senior-Junior basketball game, around which most of the interest in the inter-class series centered, was won by the Juniors on last Tuesday night, the score being 11 to 7. The game was intensely exciting, comparatively clean and marked by many singular features. There was but one goal from the floor thrown during the contest, that by the losing team. The Juniors scored all their points on goals from fouls and all of these were thrown by one man, Grier. Had the Seniors thrown the same proportion of goals from fouls they would have won the game, for more offenses were committed by the Juniors than the Seniors.

The game was unusual in that it came to hinge upon the goal-throwing ability of two individuals, in which the Junior excelled, throwing 12 out of a possible 15, one of which, however, did not count. The team work of the two fives was about equal, though the Seniors had many more opportunities for shots than their opponents. Both sides covered closely and the Juniors did not have more than a dozen tries for goals from the floor during the game.

That the game was so clean in the presence of such intense opposition was due to the officiating of Mr. Turner, of Williamsport, whose watchful eye missed few offenses. His work was the most consistent and most impartial ever witnessed on the home floor.

The Seniors took the lead shortly after the game opened, getting a goal from foul. It was some time before the Juniors scored one point through the same source. The Seniors took the lead by scoring the only goal from the floor and another goal from foul, which were followed by a second goal from offense by the Juniors, making the score 4 to 2. Near the close of the half each team scored from foul and the half closed with the score 5 to 3 in favor of the Seniors. The inability of the Seniors to throw goals from fouls prevented their total from being much larger.

The Seniors made repeated fouls after the opening of the second half and the Juniors were not slow to take advantage of them. Within three minutes the score was tied. The Seniors, however, got a goal from foul and again took the lead, only to have the Juniors even up a minute later. A repitition of this took place shortly afterwards, making the score 7 to 7. After this the Seniors were unable to throw goals from fouls, while the Juniors made four in succession and bagged the game.

The line-up:

1904		1905
Roberts	forward	Grier
Daniels	forward	Cheesman
Johnson	center	Cockill
McCormick	guard	Smith
Sheppard	guard	Taggart

Goals from floor, McCormick. Goals from fouls, McCormick 4, Daniels, Grier 11. Referee, Mr. Turner.

Many Reunions Promised.

The class of 1884 is arranging to hold its twentieth anniversary at the next Commencement. Ernest L. L. Tustin, Esq., will tender the class a complimentary dinner at the Baker House. From present indications there will be a large number of class reunions held here next Commencement.

PROF. W. W. KELCHNER

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University

This week the Orange and Blue presents a picture of Professor William Wilson Kelchner. Professor Kelchner received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1886 and that of Master of Arts in 1889. While in college he maintained a very high grade of scholarship, and he is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. In 1903 he received a prize offered by the University of Pennsylvania on a topic connected with High School work, an excerpt from which we publish with this issue. Not long after graduation he became Principal of the Williamsport High School, a position which he still maintains. In this work his well known skill as a teacher and his executive ability have been markedly displayed and he has brought his institution up to a high degree of efficiency that has attracted wide notice.

Upon entering college, the high school student leaves behind him at once the restraints of home and the immediate supervision of his study and conduct at school. He enters upon a life of greater freedom and larger responsibility. For this grave transition, the high school should afford some preparation. Plans for pupil co-operation in school government seems to provide especially for the evolution of the power of self-government. The practical efficiency of these plans has not been determined; it will require years of experiment under various conditions to ascertain whether self-government schemes develop character more soundly and more generally than the prevailing form of school management. Meanwhile, under the present method of discipline, students must be prepared for college freedom. To accomplish this, the high school should secure the co-operation of the home in seeking to furnish the pupil with good habits of study—regular, systematic and extensive—with good habits of rest and recreation, with the cardinal virtues of conduct—frankness, honesty and devotion to duty. To this end, high school discipline should be mild and reasonable, based upon the plainest principles of good conduct and effective work. As they advance in grade, pupils should be given larger opportunities to exercise self-control until toward the end of the course, they may be left much to themselves, accountable only for the abuse of the confidence reposed in them. The aim of all good discipline of course, is to render the pupil capable of self-control; in the high school the age and attainments of the pupils should warrant the gradual withdrawal of external restraints, except the mutual obligations inherent in the school community. Disregard of God's second coming was in spirit, these common duties should be followed by private interviews between teacher and pupil; if necessary, the circumstances should be fully explained to the parents and their co-operation requested; if these influences fail, the pupil should be subjected to the most natural form of punishment, and when incorrigible, excluded from the school. Under such a system, wisely administered, pupils will develope such self-control that they will adjust themselves properly to the greater freedom of the college.
—From Prize essay of the University of Pennsylvania by Professor W. W. Kelchner, '86.

The Weather in January.

The Orange and Blue is indebted to Prof. Owens for the following:

The year 1904 will be remembered as one in which there was an "old-fashioned winter." January was one of the coldest on record. Every week had two or three days below zero, and these were, with one exception, Tuesday and Wednesday. The coldest morning was the fifth, when the thermometer reached 29 degrees below zero more than an hour after daylight. This is among the lowest temperatures ever recorded in Lewisburg. The highest temperature for the month was 50 degrees above, on the 23rd. The average maximum temperature was 29 degrees and the average minimum temperature 3.7 degrees, while the average for the whole month was only 16 degrees. For this locality this is a very low average.

The total precipitation amounted to 4.52 inches. The fall of snow was thirty-three inches, of which twelve inches, or one inch of water, fell on the 26th. There was precipitation on thirteen days, and on thirteen days the thermometer was down to zero or below. There were also thirteen cloudy days; yet most of the month was clear, having fifteen clear days to its credit. The barometer during the entire month was high, sometimes going to the extreme in that direction. The atmosphere was generally very dry, and many persons, not suspecting from any feeling of cold that the temperature was so low, had their ears, hands or feet frozen.

Chemical and Physical Society.

An appreciative audience listened to Dr. Leslie, M. D., at last week's meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society. Dr. Leslie, who has been in Congo, Africa, for several years spoke on the chemistry of the natives of that country. He explained the method of preparing and preserving food, principally fruit. With them salt is very scarce and in the interior brings fabulous prices. The natives have passed through the stone age and are now in the iron age. Their blacksmith-shop is a very primitive one, but produces satisfactory results. Within recent years a large part of their metal wares was obtained from England and other countries in exchange for fruit.

Distinction for Bucknellian.

Miss Alicia M. Zierden, '00, of DuBois, has arrived at West Chester and has commenced the work of arranging the educational exhibit of Pennsylvania at the St. Louis Fair, of which she will have charge. Miss Zierden was in charge of similar exhibits at Buffalo and Charleston.

THE BASEBALL SCHEDULE

List of Games to Be Played By 'Varsity Nine This Spring.

The baseball schedule prepared by Manager Caruthers has been approved by the President and the Advisory Committee. It includes 23 games, nine of which are on the home grounds. The game originally scheduled with Lafayette for Lewisburg has been cancelled by Lafayette owing to too heavy a schedule.

The schedule in detail is as follows:

April 13, Naval Academy, at Annapolis.
April 19, Carlisle, at Dickinson.
April 20, Gettysburg, at Gettysburg.
April 23, Lehigh, at Lewisburg.
April 30, Villanova, at Lewisburg.
May 2, Seton Hall, at South Orange.
May 4, Fordham, at New York.
May 12, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
May 14, Dickinson, at Lewisburg.
May 20, Cuban Glants, at Lewisburg
May 21, Bloomsburg, at Bloomsburg.
May 30, Harrisburg, at Harrisburg, (2 games.)
May 31, Indians, at Carlisle.
June 4, Williamsport, at Williamsport.
June 7, Villanova, at Villanova.
June 8, Princeton, at Princeton.
June 14, Lehigh at South Bethlehem.
June 15, Lafayette, at Easton.
June 18, Bloomsburg, at Lewisburg.
June 20, Williamsport, at Lewisburg.
June 21, Lebanon Valley, at Lewisburg.
June 22, Indians, at Lewisburg.

A Pedestrian Club.

During the past week a pedestrian club was organized with the following members: Ranck, Williamson, Scheick, Long, Henry, Potter, Bostwick, Bowen, Elliott, '07, Gardner, '05, P. G. Hess, Hummel, Bartol, Powell, Zugschwert and Goldsmith.

Although the idea of a pedestrian club is somewhat novel, in other universities it has a recognized place in the list of clubs, and there is little doubt that the club will have a large membership and prove deservedly popular. Aside from the long cross-country rambles, so enjoyable in the Spring term, the club proposes to spend several Saturdays in profitable visits to places of historical and geological interest in the vicinity of Lewisburg. Limited investigations will be conducted under the supervision of a professor who will accompany the party.

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's for $3.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

Johnson, '02, visited friends in college during the week.

Marts, '02, has been spending a few days among friends on the hill and in town.

THE PRINCETON INCIDENT

The public generally will approve the action of the Princeton University authorities in expelling from that institution five young men convicted of purchasing examination questions in advance of the examination. As much credit will be given to the student body which made it possible for the authorities to learn of the fraud, and which, through its honor system committee, recommended the action subsequently taken.

The honor system of examinations was introduced at Princeton twelve years ago. It provides that every student shall do independent work in examinations, over which the faculty shall have no superintendence. Each student is required, however, to sign a statement at the end of each examination that he has neither given nor received any help. He pledges his honor and integrity that he has been honest in the examination. Up to the present incident there was but one violation of the system, and Princeton has always been pointed to as the place where the system could be seen in all its perfection. The success of the system has always been a source of pride to Princeton men. That five offenders have been apprehended does not detract from the effectiveness of the system; on the contrary, the incident brings into prominence its excellence. The sense of honor which the system had instilled into the students of Princeton led them to take up the clue, complete the chain of evidence and then recommend expulsion, though the offenders had not really violated the letter of the obligation taken by them. The severity of the penalty lies not in the simple expulsion from college but in the loss of the confidence and respect of their fellow students, which, however, is deserved. The profit of the unfortunate incident will fall to Princeton and the honor system.

WAY OF LIFE MEETINGS

The Way of Life meetings, held every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Bucknell Hall, are the result of the Week of Prayer. The interest manifested throughout the week, combined with the urgent need of evangelistic effort and a reawakening of the spiritual life among the students, induced the President to inaugurate the Way of Life meetings, which will be continued indefinitely and probably become a regular feature of our religious life. The addresses are eminently practical and helpful. A systematic effort is now being made to reach the men through the card system of invitation to accept Christ. No undue pressure will be brought to bear upon anyone and all should feel free to attend the meetings. All are cordially invited to attend the service next Sunday afternoon; the address will be delivered by Prof. Phillips.

The continued improvement in form of the basketball team is very encouraging and leads us to hope for another successful season. Whether or not we equal last season's record of no games lost does not matter; all we desire is a good team which at all times will do the best of which it is capable. Incidentally it is interesting to observe the spirit manifested by players and other students in basketball. Three years in succession we have developed a winning team from a small nucleus and put pessimism to utter rout. We credit the achievement to an intense spirit, which, if transmitted to other branches of athletics, would result in teams of corresponding strength.

The baseball schedule officially announced in this issue is a credit to the management. It contains many important games and the most earnest effort on the part of the candidates will be required to win a fair percentage of them.

No Premium on Ignorance.

We are living in an age of premiums, premiums for this and premiums for that. They placard the walls, parade on the rocks, and are seen in the press in great letters. The dire dismal lists of catch-trade schemes are every where apparent. The newspaper offers its premiums for subscribers, the tradesman offers his premium to sell his wares and even the Sunday school offers its premiums for scholars. But there is one thing upon which there is no premium to-day and that is ignorance. Jesus said to his disciples, "Unto you is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom;" but it is quite evident that they did not know the mysteries of the kingdom until they had finished their course in the school of which Jesus himself was the great teacher; and after his graduation on the day of Pentecost they began to reveal the mysteries of the kingdom. And what was their curriculum? Just this: Two years on the subject Jesus the Messiah and one year on the death, resurrection and ascention of Jesus; and when they had finished this course they were acquainted to some extent with the mysterions of the kingdom and were fitted to preach.

Neither did Jesus place a premium on ignorance when he desired an apostle to the Gentiles. Saul of Tarsus was called, who was by no means an ignorant man. It was Saul's education at the feet of Gamaliel that enabled him to grasp so readily the mysteries of the kingdom and that education plus divine revelation enabled Paul to handle in a masterly way questions that were vital to the Kingdom of God.

Neither did Paul place a premium on ignorance when he sought a colaborer. Timothy a man of good report, was selected and that he might be thoroughly equipped for the work of the ministry Paul charged him, "Study to shew thyself approved of God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth."

The people in the churches to-day are like unto Jesus and Paul in this respect. They place no premium on ignorance; they demand well trained men for their pastors. Even the small struggling church will seek for the best trained men that their means will command.—Rev. A. E. Finn, '94.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

The Baseball Coach.

Peter Agnew, who has been engaged to coach the 'varsity baseball team during the month of April, is one of the most prominent players in independent baseball.

His first experience was with the Manhattan College nine, where he held the position of catcher for three years, 1899 to 1901 inclusive. After the close of the college season of 1899 he caught on the Atlantic City nine, and the next season played with Chester, where he remained the two following years. Last season he joined Harrisburg and was the regular catcher, participating in 133 games. His batting average was .306 and his fielding average .980, which stands as a record for catchers in the Independent Association. During last season and since, Mr. Agnew has received offers from the Philadelphia and Cleveland American League teams, but he has decided to remain with Harrisburg.

One of the most distinguished and respected Democrats and ablest lawyers in the State, ex-Congressman Simon P. Wolverton, '60, was questioned upon the subject now having first place in the Democratic mind of Pennsylvania, that of the unit rule: "You may quote me as strongly as you can," replied Mr. Wolverton, "that I am absolutely and unalterably opposed to having the Pennsylvania delegation to the National Convention bound by the un-Democratic unit rule. I am confident that the delegates from the part of the State where I reside will, at the State Convention, oppose the unit rule." —Philadelphia Record.

INSTITUTE.

Zeta held its usual bi-weekly meeting on last Thursday. The program, though not long, was very interesting, the open discussion at the close furnishing much amusement The quotations as given were apt in many instances, being decidedly appropriate to individual cases. At the business meeting that followed the literary portion it was decided to have a picture taken for L'Agenda. The program was as follows.

Piano Duet, Misses Duncan and Cobb.

Roll call, answered by selections from "Mother Goose."

Talk on reorganization of Zeta, Miss Velola Hall.

Vocal solo, "Asthore," Miss Lane.

Open discussion, "The Ethical and Psychological Effect of 'Mother Goose' and Kindred Productions on Children.'"

The Fourth Form Girls gave one of their term recitals on Monday evening. The pieces were all well given and showed the careful drill of the elocution teacher, Miss Schillinger. The program was as follows:

"The Ghost of Lone Rock," Margaret Stoughton.

"The Deacon's Courtship," Mary Brown.

"A Literary Nightmare," Elizabeth Baker.

"The Clown's Baby," Katharine Halfpenny.

"How Burlington Was Saved," Mary Halfpenny.

"How Uncle Podger Hangs a Picture," Jeanette Wolfe.

Last week the Institute was very fortunate in receiving gifts from Mrs. William B. Clement, Institute, class of 1867, of Philadelphia. The gifts consisted of a valuable herbarium and two large statues. The herbarium contains five hundred rare botanical specimens from all parts of the United States and Canada, and will be very helpful to the class in botany. The statues are of Minerva and Art, —the Genius of Statuary. The school appreciates very much the gifts and interest thus shown in it.

Misses Duncan, Innes and Parsons were initiated into C. E. A., on Saturday. In the evening C. E. A., chaperoned by Miss Stanton, dined at the Baker House.

Misses Louise Brown and Nelle Johnson were home over Sunday.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Leighou, '06, was initiated into Phi Gamma Delta last week.

Browning, '04, was called home last week by the death of his mother.

Dr. Harris will deliver an address at the Founders Day celebration at Peddie Institute on February 12.

Madden, ex-'05, was in town over Sunday. After leaving Bucknell last year, Madden went to Allegheny College, and this year entered Syracuse. He has not been in college since the holidays, however, owing to an attack of typhoid fever.

ACADEMY

The Academy basketball team defeated the Company A, five in the Armory on Tuesday evening; score 13 to 4.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1904. No. 18

COLLEGE GIRLS' RECEPTION

Bucknell Co-eds Entertain Friends Delightfully on Friday Evening.

One of the most pleasant events of the year took place on Friday evening, when the College Girls gave their annual reception. The Institute parlors were very prettily decorated the color scheme being red, with the Valentine idea predominating.

One of the most unique features of the decorations was the silhouette gallery, the silhouettes of the girls and faculty present hung on a dark green curtain. In the dining room the same decoration scheme was carried out. The red hearts, and red lights proclaiming that it was the season of the sentimental little god. During the evening Trate's orchestra furnished the delightful music which served as a kettle drum for conversation. At 10.30 o'clock refreshments were served, which were in keeping with the season.

Quite a number of out of town guests were present and the affair was a most enjoyable one.

The Senior Sleigh-ride.

Last Monday the Senior class enjoyed its annual sleigh-ride, followed by a supper at the Mansion House, Watsontown. There were three sleds full; the girls, Miss Hanna, our charming chaperon, and some of the men going first, and the "Supreme Court" coming last. The night being perfect, not too cold and beautifully starry, and the sleighing good, the eight miles to Watsontown passed quickly. A little after ten o'lock we sat down to an elaborate turkey supper and feasted bountifully and with jollity. Afterwards we listened to the witty, but all too short, toasts of Messrs. Livezy, Perrine and Martz. We then adjourned to the parlor and passed the remainder of the evening very pleasantly, chatting and playing games, the chief of which was "forfeits." Several very interesting recitations were given by Messrs. Cule and Livezy as their forfeits. At half past one o'clock we started for home, sorry that another eventful day in our class history was ended. On the way home the "Supreme Court" took procedence.

The girls of the class desire to extend their sincere thanks for one of the pleasant evenings in their college life.

The Junior Prom.

The annual Junior Promenade, one of the features of the social life of Bucknell, was held in the Armory on Thursday evening and was a brilliant success. The arrangements were elaborate and the young men looked after convenience and comfort of their guests in a manner that reflects creditably upon their ability as entertainers. Fifty couples were in attendance.

The hall was beautifully decorated, the class colors, cherry and white, predominating. The window hangings throughout were of these colors. A feature of the decorations was the fraternity corner, where fraternity emblems, pennants and pillows were displayed and comfortable seats provided.

The Danville orchestra furnished the music. Oppenheim, of Wilkesbarre, had been engaged, but the crippled railroad facilities made it impossible for that organization to get to Lewisburg. The committee was indeed fortunate in securing as capable an orchestra as the Danville on such short notice.

The program consisted of 24 numbers and four extras. During an intermission refreshments were served.

The following were the patronesses for the occasion: Mrs. Andrew A. Leiser, Mrs. J. C. Bucher, Mrs. W. C. Walls, Mrs. Thomas C. Thornton, Mrs. Thomas S. Norton, Mrs. Nellie C. Marsh, Mrs. H. M.McClure.

The Prom. committee consisted of the following: Bittenbender, chairman; McCain, Portser, Scott, Cooper, Bostwick, Wood, Ausherman, Cockill, Vorse, Sheppard, Gardiner, Morton, Mackey, Smiley, Grier, Marsh, Royer, Hainer, Pearse, Smith.

Among the out-of-town guests were the following:

Miss Welker, Miss Rhodes, Miss Mills, Williamsport; the Misses Bound, Milton; Miss Clark, Miss Holliday, Pittsburg; Miss Goodman, Mr. Pierson, Philadelphia; Mr. Young, Titusville; Mr. Hiller, Reading; Miss Kress, Johnsonburg; Miss Cassell, Hummelstown; Mr. Harvey, Lock Haven.

Bucknell Alumni Meet.

On Tuesday evening, February ninth, the Bucknell Alumnae Club held its annual open meeting in the Institute parlors. The rooms were filled to their utmost capacity with the members of the club and their guests. As is usual upon this occasion, Mrs. Larison was the guest of honor and was most cordially welcomed. The club's program for the year is the study of American types, and this meeting was devoted to the "New Yorker." The following program was given:—

Piano Solo—Miss Tracy.

Paper,—The "New Yorker," Mrs. Larison.

Reading,—Typical New York of Bygone Days, Washington Irving, Mrs. Martin.

The 20th Century New Yorker, Mrs. Loomis.

Song, —"The Violet", Mildenberg, Miss Emma Nesbit.

After the program, dainty refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening passed quickly in pleasant conversation and the renewal of old acquaintanceship.

Committee Selects Play.

The Athletic Field Committee is at work on ways and means to raise money. They have decided upon a play to be given for the benefit of the fund. It is a comedy entitled "A Cheerful Liar" and will be produced in the Lewisburg Opera House early next term.

Arrangements are also being made for an exhibition game of basketball between the Seniors and Juniors, to be played sometime this term.

There is also some thought of giving a musical comedy, something which can be prepared in a few weeks, the latter part of the present term.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers.

The Young Men's Christian Association elected the following officers at last Tuesday's meeting:

President, Hylbert, '05.
Vice-President, Scheick, '05.
Recording Secretary, Pease, '05.
Corresponding Secretary, Barton, '06.
Treasurer, Robbins, '05.

MR. O. S. V. MARTS

A Young Bucknell Alumnus Who Is Making His Mark

O. S. V. Marts was graduated from Perkiomen Seminary in 1898 and from the college in 1902, a Bachelor of Arts. While in college he was manager of the Mirror and the Commencement News, both of which enterprises he completed successfully. During the Spring term of his Senior year he taught Greek and History in Perkiomen Seminary with great acceptance. He was asked to return there upon graduation, but went to South Jersey Institute. Here he taught English and History for one and one-half years, increasing his reputation as teacher. Recently at the request of the Board of Trustees he resigned his position as teacher to become manager of the institution's business and financial affairs. Mr. Marts is among the younger graduates, but he has already made an enviable reputation for himself. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Prof. DeMott on Tuesday Night.

On Tuesday evening, February 16, Prof. John B. DeMott will deliver his famous lecture entitled "The Harp of the Senses", in the Opera House, being the fourth of the series of entertainments given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. All who have heard Prof. DeMott say that this lecture is not only highly educational, but also intensely interesting and helpful to all classes. The great humorist, Bob Burdette, in a personal letter says: "Without decrying any of the rest of your talent, I am sure the pleasantest and most profitable evening in your course will be the one when Prof. John B. DeMott occupies the platform. I know of no other man in America with his power of popularizing science; no man who can make instruction so pleasant that it seems like an entertainment, until the hearer suddenly realizes that he knows a hundred-fold more than he did an hour before and yet is not conscious of having made any effort to acquire knowledge. There should not be a vacant chair in the house the night of Prof. DeMott's lecture. I have followed him in a great many lecture courses, and without exception his audiences have been cordial and enthusiastic in their praises of the man, his charming personality and his splendid worth."

Professor Martin at Philadelphia.

Prof. Martin delivered a powerful address on "The Social Service of the Christian Deacon" before the Philadelphia Conference of Baptist Ministers in Griffith Hall, Philadelphia, on last Monday morning. There was a large attendance.

Service is the Christian law of adaptation; by simplest service to human needs the Church shall accomplish her purpose. The deacon's function is to interpret the spiritual need of the common life; to render Christian sympathy to the widow; to protect and train the orphan; to bear the love of the Church in various forms to the aged; to show the opportunities of divine grace to the sick,—the good Samaritan was the original type of the Christian deacon; to do good in prudence to the poor, thus effectually bridging the chasm between the rich and the poor; to offer forgiveness to the sinner that stands always behind the prisoner; to aid the unlearned in the attainment of wisdom, for education is but trust in the primal forces of the future. In this manner the Christian deacon will increase the efficiency of the ministry by sharing their burdens.

Bucknell in the Relays.

Manager Pearse of the track team has been notified that the Bucknell relay team will run in the same class at the Pennsylvania races as last year. One important change has been made in the class, the Carlisle Indians having replaced Westminster College. This will add interest to the race from Bucknell's point of view, since the Orange and Blue is evenly matched with the red men in nearly every branch of athletics. The other members are State College, Dickinson, Washington and Jefferson and Johns Hopkins.

The race this year will be one of the most interesting on the program, as all the contestants are in the same rank athletically. Last year Bucknell won the race and Johns Hopkins was a close second.

Other classes which will interest Bucknell students are as follows:

Swarthmore, Haverford, Lehigh, Lafayette, College of the City of New York, University of New York, Rutgers.

Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus, Delaware, Maryland Agricultural College, Western Maryland College.

Metallurgy Class Visits Milton.

The class in metallurgy went on a tour of inspection to the nail mill of Fred Godcharles & Co., in Milton last week, one division going on Thursday and the other on Friday. Prof. Owens accompanied the parties. Mr. Godcharles very accomodatingly conducted the students through the plant and explained to them the various details of the work.

To Reorganize T-Square Club.

A meeting of those interested in the re-organization of the T-Square Club was held and a committee appointed to draw up a new constitution and by-laws. The Club will be entirely re-organized, and all the students are invited to join whether they are in the engineering courses or not.

SHENANDOAH WAS OUTCLASSED

Bucknell Wins An Easy Victory From the Coal Region Boys.

The basketball game with Shenandoah in Tustin Gymnasium on Wednesday night was not even good practice for the 'varsity, resulting in a score of 42 to 6 in favor of Bucknell. The visitors resembled high school boys in appearance and their ability as basketball players was in conformity. The 'varsity took things easy throughout the game and made 31 goals from the floor. Most of the second half was played with three substitutes. Shenandoah, on the other hand, scored only 6 points and these were principally gifts. Their first goal was not made till near the middle of the second half, but it was sufficiently spectacular to receive prolonged applause. With the score 40 to 0 in favor of Bucknell, the ball was put in play in the center of the floor. Center Cockill stepped aside and allowed his opponent to catch it. Standing in the circle and entirely unmolested, the Shenandoah player made a perfect goal, much to the pleasure of the spectators. The other goal was scarcely less sensational, being made from a difficult angle and quite a distance from the basket. The other two points scored by the visitors were made on fouls. The game was free from rough playing and offences, only five fouls being called, all on the home five.

The 'varsity began scoring early in the game and in the first half rolled up a total of thirty points. In the second half they did even better, though there were three substitutes in the game. When the players exerted themselves they did some pretty work, especially in the way of passing. The game, on the whole, was dull and uninteresting.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		SHENANDOAH
Cheesman	forward	Price
L. Roberts	forward	Ecker
Cockill	center	Horan
Grier	guard	Williams
W. Roberts	guard	Millett

Johnson. Sheppard.

Goals from floor, Cheesman 11, Roberts 7, Cockill 7, Johnson 3, Grier, 3 Horan, Ecker. Goals from fouls, Price 2. Referee, Hoskins.

Next Friday's Game.

The next 'varsity basketball game in Tustin Gymnasium will be played on next Friday evening, Gettysburg being the opposing team. Gettysburg is one of the few college teams which were willing to come to Lewisburg, and since they always play well, a good exhibition may be expected. So far this season the Gettysburg team has been quite successful.

New Alma Mater Song

A new Alma Mater Song written to the music of "Die Watch Am Rhein" is making its appearance. The air is a strong one and the words fit admirably. They were composed for a purpose but no attempt is being made to restrict its use to those for whom it was written. On the contrary it is to be encouraged among the students; they may be called upon sometime to sing it.

WANTED—A SUPREME INDIFFERENCE

Right here in college there is need for indifference; an indifference not only to personal appearance and other externals, but also to habits of thought and modes of action. However, this indifference is not for our own appearance and thoughts and actions, but for those of others. We need an indifference that will allow a man to wear and think and do what he pleases, provided he does not interfere with the genuine rights of others; an indifference that will allow the other cranks among us to indulge in their peculiarities undisturbed, and, apparently, unobserved. We need to learn to observe what has been called the "eleventh commandment" and has been briefly expressed thus: "Mind your own business." In many cases we need to answer Cain's question in the negative. To be sure, in a certain sense we are our brother's keeper; should we see a deaf and blind man standing in the path of a runaway horse, it would be our clear duty to interfere with his right to walk along our highways undisturbed for if we did not interfere with this right of his the horse would, and a necessary member of society would be lost. However, in such cases a fine discrimination is needed. For instance, if we should see a wicked child sinning in blissful ignorance of the wrath to come, while there approaches him an irate woman carrying in her hand that supreme badge of maternal authority—the old-time, leather-soled slipper—our duty would clearly lie in the direction of indifference, especially if the woman were larger than we.

Even though this indifference is greatly to be desired yet it must not be cultivated if there be any danger of its being accompanied by, or degenerating into, snobbishness. Snobbishness ignores both the good and the bad in men; wholesome indifference winks at the harmless in men.

So then, let us cultivate a discriminating indifference, such an indifference as will allow our neighbors to wear, without comment or contempt, a new hat, an old hat, or no hat at all, that will, with indulgence, allow him to flunk or be brilliant as he wills, that will suffer him, in peace, to mind his own business, an indifference, in fine, that will be indistinguishable from magnanimity.

The weekly indoor contests, inaugurated for the first time this season on Saturday, are designed by Coach Haskins to place the candidates for the track and field team in condition for the spring meets. Since there is no great abundance of material this year, every student who has any ability in that direction should feel it his duty to take part each week.

The Freshman Year.

In looking back over the college careers of those who for various reasons have been prominent in undergraduate life in the University, one cannot help noticing that these men have nearly always shown from the start an interest in the lives of their fellow students. A large acquaintance means that many persons are dependent on a man and conversely that he is himself dependent on many. Success necessarily means larger responsibilities, and responsibility means many friends but the man who makes a success of his college career like the successful man of business makes his friends not after the hard work is over, but while it is going on, and the time to begin to make a success of university life, the time to begin to make friends, is essentially the freshman year, for it is then that friendships are easiest to make. It is then that generally begins the building up of whatever career the future has in store—the time that often decides whether the fates allotted shall be success or failure.—Harvard Crimson.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Coach Gills has introduced basketball at Lebanon Valley College.

Basketball at Lafayette has been discontinued owing to poor gymnasium facilities.

Lafayette's baseball schedule has 22 games, including a Southern trip of nine games. Amherst is met for the first time.

Lafayette has arranged dual track meets with Lehigh and Swarthmore, and is negotiating with Annapolis, Rutgers and Haverford.

Franklin and Marshall and Ursinus have broken off athletic relations, the former having taken the action. No reason is given.

The Dickinson baseball team has commenced indoor practice. The prospects for a strong team are encouraging, though few of last year's men are back.

Glenn S. Warner, who has coached the Indians for several years, has signed a three year contract with his Alma Mater, Cornell. It is said he will receive the largest salary ever paid a coach.

Six hundred and fifty students are attending the University of Virginia. This University, which was founded in 1825, claims the oldest existing Y. M. C. A. in the world.

Inspired by the same martial ardor that during the civil war prompted Gettysburg College to furnish a company of minute men in the effort to repulse Stuart's raiders, twenty-five students of that institution last week organized as the Japanese Club and have offered their services to the Japanese government through its Minister at Washington.

Inter-Class Basketball.

The following is the inter-class basketball schedule for the remainder of the term:

Monday, February 15, 4 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, February 29, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Sophomores.
Tuesday, March 8, 8 p. m., Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's for $3.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

The Modern Language Association of America has accepted the invitation of Brown University to hold its next annual meeting in Providence. The sessions will occupy three days of the last week of this year; probably December 27, 28 and 29.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The 50th annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania will be held in Scranton, February 17 to 21. The jubilee convention promises to be one of the best ever held and of particular interest to college men. Reduced rates have been secured from the railroad companies and entertainment of the delegates is free. Among other speakers will be Robert E. Speer, of New York; John R. Mott, Chairman of the International Committee; Rev. C. I. Scofield, D. D., of Dallas, Texas; Ex-Governor General J. A. Beaver, of Bellefonte; Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Arthur Cotton, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Fred B. Smith, of New York, and Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., Secretary of the Educational Society of the Methodist church.

The following delegates will represent the Bucknell Y. M. C. A: Hunsberger, '04, Hylbert, '05, Gardner, '05, Scheick, '05, Robbins, '05, Waltz, '05, Barton, '06, Pease, '06, Green, '06, Stolz, '06, Griffiths, '07, Bliesner, '07, Strain, '07, Hilton, '07, Hess, '07.

Secretary Vogt Coming.

Bucknell students will be interested in the visit to Lewisburg of Mr. Van Ogden Vogt, General Secretary of the United Societies of Christian Endeavor, who will be in town on Friday evening, February 19th.

He will address a mass meeting in the Lutheran church at 7.30 p. m., and at the close of this meeting will conduct a Worker's Conference when he will discuss and give advice on important questions and problems of Christian Endeavor work.

Mr. Vogt is especially desirous of meeting every Officer and Christian Endeavor Worker in the County at this Conference.

PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES TO STUDENTS

Rev. Vorhees and Prof. Heim Speak on Timely Subjects.

After the regular chapel exercises on Monday—the anniversary of Washington's birth—patriotic addresses were delivered to the school by Rev. Vorhees, an alumnus of Rutger's College, and by Prof. Heim. In the first speech Rev. Vorhees suggested that it was a mistake to celebrate Washington's birthday with a holiday, but that this day would be a proper occasion to study patriotism as it was embodied in George Washington.

In this connection, Rev. Vorhees gave an instructive talk upon the Life of William Alexander, an able general of Washington. Attention was called by the address to the development of Gen. Alexander's life history and the actions which led him, —an Englishman with the title Earl of Sterling—to espouse the cause of the colonies' claims. The fact that he had been denied an election by England to the House of Lords, after he had proven to the courts his claims to the title and estates of the Earldom of Sterling, probably exerted in him some influence against that country; but the final action that led William Alexander to enter the Colonial service came when England unjustly refused fair demands by the colonies for proper government. William Alexander entered the Colonial army in March, 1776, in response to the first call to arms and became immediately a brigadier-general. In February, 1777, the rank of major-general was conferred upon him and throughout the war he carried himself bravely, deserving of the honors conferred upon him.

Prof. Heim next delivered a very scholarly address on the Panama question. After tracing its history, the speaker drew the conclusion that the question involved was chiefly one of the validity of intervention. The doctrine of non-intervention is derived from the assumption of an equality between states. Historically, the doctrine of equality has always been a political dogma and not a legal rule. In the present century the tendency has been in an opposite direction. The great nations of the world practically legislate on a variety of questions. Intervention in Panama is virtually the assertion of the authority of the United States over certain questions, and a renunciation of the equality of states. This is in direct lines with our previous policy.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI BANQUET

Bucknell Graduates and Friends Have Merry Time at University Club.

The annual banquet of the Bucknell University Alumni Club of Philadelphia was held at the University Club on last Monday evening and was attended by nearly fifty members and friends. True Bucknell spirit reigned throughout and the event will be remembered as one of the most pleasant and profitable in the history of the organization. Classes as far back as '61 and as recent as '02 were represented, including men who have become prominent in business, in the professions and in military affairs—men truly representative of the best interests of Philadelphia and vicinity.

The banquet was held in the largest hall in the University Club, which was profusely decorated with the college colors. The tables were arranged in the form of a "T", extending the entire length of the room.

Following the business meeting the banquet began. At each place, in addition to the menu cards, was a leaf bearing a number college songs and yells which were given with enthusiasm and spirit between the courses and between the toasts after supper had been served. The Georgetown College alumni of Philadelphia were banqueting in an adjoining hall and shortly after the banqueters had become seated a committee consisting of Messrs. Weaver, Rowland and Bolton were sent to the Georetown gathering to convey the respects of Bucknell. Later in the evening Georgetown reciprocated in the courtesy, sending to the Bucknell banquet hall a committee, the spokesman of which was the President, Rev. Father Fraley.

Dr. S. Lewis Ziegler, '89, presided as toastmaster, a position which he filled with ease and grace. Nine toasts were responded to. The principal one was that delivered by Dr. Enoch Perrine on "The Moulder Who Moulds," which was a thoughtful and masterly address, ably delivered and commanding the attention of every one present. Dr. Harris responded to the toast, "Our Alma Mater" in which he gave some interesting facts brought out in the new catalogue and told of the work now being carried on at Bucknell. He also announced that a prominent philanthropist had been asked to contribute a library building to the University.

Other toast were given as follows: "College Memories", Dr. A. J. Rowland, '62; "The School of Politics," Hon. Ward R. Bliss, '74; "The Trusts and the Trustees," E. L. Tustin, '84; "Affiliate Associations", McCluney Radcliffe, M. D., Lafayette; "Pills vs. Bullets", Joseph K. Weaver, '01. "Multum in Parvo, vs. Medicine in Politics", Samuel Bolton, M. D., '85; "The Orange and Blue", Edgar T. Stevenson, '04.

At the business meeting W. R. Bliss, '74, Milton G. Evans, '82, and Warren Martz, '94, were appointed to work in conjunction with the Enthusiasm Committee appointed by the Alumni Association last June to urge the attendance of all alumni at the commencement the coming June.

Dr. J. Paul Pontius was appointed chairman of the executive committee.

The following Obituary Committee was chosen: Rev. W. K. Lord, '78, Rev. C. A. Walker, '89, and Dr. A. R. Garner, '99.

Messrs. Bolton, Tustin and Evans were selected as the Nominating Committee.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, S. Lewis Ziegler, M. D.
Vice-President, W. Norman Morris, '91.
Secretary, Rev. Joseph Roberts Wood, '94.
Treasurer, P. N. K. Schwenk, M. D., '76.

The Literary Societies

A joint committee from Euepia and and Theta Alpha literary societies will probably meet this week and select a date and question for the annual inter-society debate which is to be held this term. Theta Alpha had its last preliminary debate last week and selected as her representatives, Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, with Challis, '06, as alternate. Euepia will hold its last preliminary debate on next Friday evening. Much interest has already been manifested in the coming contest and it will no doubt be largely attended.

The following are the programmes for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA.

The entire evening will be devoted to the last preliminary debate, when the question, "Resolved, that Trusts and Monopolies are a Benefit to our Country," will be discussed. The debaters will be Drake, '06, Hall, '07, Whitney, '07, Hulley, '07, Lockard, '07, Baker, '07, Reese, '07.

THETA ALPHA.

Reading, Knapp, '04; extemp speech; debate, "Resolved, that a Property Qualification for the Exercise of the Franchise of the United States would be desirable;" affirmative, Noble, '06, McCall, '07, Zugschwert, '07; negative, Goldsmith, '05, Hinman, '07, Bernhardt, '07; parliamentary drill.

Chemical and Physical Society

The Chemical and Physical Society held an interesting session on last Thursday afternoon, at which time Hess, '05, read a paper on "The Production of Grapes and Raisins in California." Grapes were introduced in California by missionaries in the early seventies. Then there were few varieties. In 1888 there were only 85 varieties against 1,000 to-day. The Concord seems to hold the most prominent place of all grapes. The grapes are planted in gently sloping soil specially prepared. There are only two vines to the arbor and the grapes are not grown more than 3 feet above the ground. The picking is a large task and Japanese do much of the work. Raisins are dried grapes with or without seeds, the seedless grape, unlike the seedless orange, being far inferior to those with seeds. California now produces all the raisins used in United States, amounting to about one pound per capita. The raisin industry returns from $125 to $500 per acre.

Students' Loan Association.

The annual meeting of the Students' Loan Association of Bucknell took place on February 12th. The financial condition of the Association is satisfactory; all the applicants were provided for. The organization is quietly and efficiently doing a good work. The sum of $2,774 has been loaned to worthy applicants, who have returned, as soon as they became self-supporting, $1,386.31 of this amount.

THE LATE JOHN F. DUNCAN

Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University Passes Away.

At 12.15 o'clock on Thursday John F. Duncan, one of Lewisburg's leading citizens, died at his residence after a very severe illness that offered little encouragement for his recovery from the beginning of the attack. Mr. Duncan was taken ill last week with symptoms of appendicitis. Physicians were in constant consultation and attention upon him. From the first he became critically ill, but it was decided not to operate upon him, with the hope that he would recover. Several days ago he showed some improvement, but on Tuesday he took a turn for the worse and a sinking spell followed. Wednesday night it was seen that recovery was impossible, and that the end would be but a few hours off.

He was born at Millheim, Centre county, Sept. 26, 1853, the son of W. Cook Duncan, later president of the Union National Bank, and moved to Lewisburg in 1861, was graduated from Bucknell University in the class of 1875; read law with the Hon. Geo. F. Miller and was admitted to the bar on May 19, 1879 after which he spent a year at the Harvard Law School; was District Attorney in 1882 and reelected in 1885. In June, 1884, at Hastings, Minn., he was married to Miss Clara L. Gardner, and leaves two children, Gardner and Marguerite.

In connection with his profession Mr. Duncan built up an extensive business in insurance. He was for many years employed in the lumber business and built a tram road in this county from the Paddy mountain tunnel. This was discontinued when the timber in that region had been marketed. He purchased a tract of timber on White Deer creek and built a tram road from White Deer station to the place of operations, called the White Deer Railway Company. This is still in operation. At the time of his death he was president of the Lewisburg Gas Company and the Lewisburg Heat, Light and Power Company. Always active in the town improvements he was especially interested in the building of the new home of the Union National Bank, of which organization he was Vice President. He was always a stanch Republican and in the campaign of 1882, during the height

INTERST IN BASKETBALL.

Those who attended the basketball game on Friday night witnessed a first class exhibition. The Gettysburg five showed itself to be a good one and the victory is the most creditable Bucknell has won this year. It is to the credit of the spectators that they applauded the good work of the visitors as heartily as they did that of the home team. It was evidence of their love of fair play and of their appreciation of merit even in a visiting team. But it had another significance. It indicated, we believe, that lovers of the game in Lewisburg are becoming tired of witnessing one-sided contests, even though their favorites are the victors. The falling off in attendance lately is sufficient evidence of that. Bucknell has been unfortunate the past two years in scheduling games with poor teams, through no fault of the management, however, for the better teams show a decided disinclination to come to Lewisburg. As previously pointed out, our record of victories in 1902 and 1903 has been in this respect at least a handicap to us. Fortunately for the sport, however, the best games on this season's schedule are to be played. To win from either Allegheny College, Williamsport or Wilkesbarre Bucknell must put her best game, while Franklin and Marshall, and Steelton are sure to prove worthy opponents. Indeed, interest in basketball should increase from now on and the players should practice with renewed spirit.

THE NEW CATALOGUE.

The new catalogue for 1903-1904 will be ready for distribution during the course of the week. It contains several noticeable features and interesting statistics. The summary of attendance shows a total enrollment of 710, an increase of 67 students in one year; this added to the fact that 40 students were unable to secure admission this year owing to the unusually large attendance, indicates that the University has entered upon an era of growth and steady development in all departments which will result soon in new buildings, increased endowment and an average attendance of at least one thousand students. The Board of Trustees at its meeting in January, 1903, authorized an effort to increase the endowment by one million dollars. The three new courses leading to degrees are given in full, announcement of which was made in the recent Bulletin; likewise other interesting data respecting courses, and recent alterations and additions in the various departments. The catalogue this year contains 199 pages and is printed by the Harper and Brother Company of Philadelphia.

Addressing his class one day last week, a professor discredited in a kindly way the practice of students in gathering in the hall when a professor or instructor is absent and giving a yell with the absentee's name on the end of it. He pointed out that a teacher is seldom absent except when necessity such as sickness or death demands it, in which case a yell is entirely out of place. We heartily agree with the professor in question that the practice is bad form and we hope for its discontinuance.

Expression of Thanks.

Editor Orange and Blue:—I wish to express through the columns of the Orange and Blue the heart-felt thanks of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia to the students and friends of the University who so kindly loaned their flags, bunting and pennants for the decoration of our Banquet Room at the University Club on last Monday night. Nothing has been so conducive to the cementing of the common interests of both alumni and students as the generous spirit which led our friends at Lewisburg to contribute their insignia to the adornment of the hall.

We trust that all students who will be located in the vicinity of Philadelphia after graduation will not fail to notify the secretary of the local alumni organization of their address, and at the same time avail themselves of the privilege of membership in our club.

Yours fraternally,
JOSEPH ROBERTS WOOD,
Secretary Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

Allegheny College Wednesday Night.

Patrons of basketball are assured of a good game on Wednesday evening, when the Allegheny five will oppose the 'varsity team. The visitors are one of the strongest teams in the country, having this season defeated the famous Buffalo Germans. The game will undoubtedly be one of the best of the season.

Bucknell has met Allegheny but once in basketball, which was at Meadville in 1902. The Orange and Blue was then defeatd by a score of 26 to 4, and an effort will be made on Wednesday evening to wipe out the stigma of that defeat.

High Jump Record Broken.

The record for the indoor high jump was broken by Pearse, '05, at the meet in the gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. The jump was 5 feet, 5¾ inches, beating that of Edwards, '03, by 1¼ inches. Lenhart was second with 5 feet, ¾ inch.

Pearse also won the shot-put, making 32 feet, 1¾ inches. Lenhart was second with 32 feet, ½ inch.

The Late John F. Duncan.

of the Independent movement, he was the only man of his party in this county who was elected.

Of his more immediate family, his wife, two children and sister Maggie, now Mrs. J. Calvin Gough, of Cleveland survive him. Since his introduction to business he has always taken a broad and intelligent interest in the financial enterprises of the town and indeed of those in distant places where he had important interests. He was identified with the Presbyterian church of which he was a regular attendant.

In the death of Mr. Duncan the town has lost a valuable citizen, his financial associates a wise counselor, his friends a genial companion, the University an earnest friend. Dignified and courteous, he illustrate the graces of a gentleman not alone to those who did business with him but to his fellow-citizens at large.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

BUCKNELL WINS CLOSE GAME

'Varsity Five Defeats Gettysburg Team With Considerable Difficulty.

The closest and most exciting basketball game of the season in Tustin Gymnasium took place on Friday evening when the 'varsity five met the strong Gettysburg team. Bucknell won, but not without a struggle by a score of 31 to 24. The visitors played the best game of any team that has appeared here this season and there were many stages when they looked dangerous. Near the end of the second half they were within one point of Bucknell, which caused a feeling of uneasiness among the spectators, but which made the victory all the more glorious.

The closeness of the score, however, was not due entirely to the good playing of Gettysburg, the poor work of the Orange and Blue had considerable to do with it. The team work was the poorest of any game this season. The men at times seemed utterly incapable of consecutive passing and fumbles were frequent. The shortcomings in this respect, however, were overbalanced by accurate shooting, to which factor may be attributed the winning of the game. But it is an injustice to in any way discredit the game played by the visiting five. They put up a steady and consistent game and at times completely outplayed their opponents. No more brilliant work than that of Sieber has been seen in Tustin Gymnasium this winter. His total of seven goals against Johnson is a record.

Bucknell opened the game by making two goals from the floor within three minutes and gradually ran up their score to 10. Gettysburg in the meantime scoring five points, two goals from the floor and one from foul. At this stage the game commenced to be interesting, both teams working hard for points. Each succeeded in scoring five more and the half ended 15 to 10 in Bucknell's favor.

Gettysburg scored first in the second half, getting a goal from the floor and one from foul. The visiting team, realizing that they had a good chance to win, played with renewed spirit and the fears of the spectators arose correspondingly. Bucknell however, continued to maintain the lead. With about ten minutes yet to play the score stood 19 to 15. Another goal from the floor put the visitors within two points of the Orange and Blue, but Bucknell a minute later made a brilliant dash and added another goal. The lead was cut down to three by a goal from foul by the visiting team, and a minute later a goal from the floor put them within one point of Bucknell. Here Captain Cheesman's men seemed to rally and amid great enthusiasm made a number of goals in rapid succession, many of which were of the sensational order. Gettysburg could get only one more during the remainder of game and were seven points behind when the game ended.

The line-up:

Johnson	guard	McClure

Goals from field, Smith 3, Johnson 2, Cockill 6, Cheesman 3, Roberts, Selber 7, Leonard 3, Schaffer. Goals from foul, Rowe 2, Cockill. Referee, Hoskins.

Freshmen Lose at Williamsport

The Freshman basketball team was defeated by the Williamsport High School five at the latter place on Saturday evening, the score being 34 to 15. The Williamsport lads put up a fine game and outclassed their opponents, who were handicapped by lack of practice.

DEFEATED IN BASKETBALL

Allegheny Five Administers First Home Defeat Since 1899.

For the first time since March 1899 Bucknell was defeated in basketball on her own floor on Wednesday evening. The opposing team was Allegheny College and the score was 12 to 10. The largest crowd of the season was in attendance, every available seat being occupied while many people stood throughout the game. Four hundred is a conservative of the number of people present.

As the score indicates, the teams were evenly matched, and the game was hard fought from beginning to end. In fact it was "anybody's game" till the final whistle was blown. Each team scored six points on goals from fouls and Allegheny made three goals from the floor to Bucknell's two. On the whole Allegheny played the better game, her work being steadier and more consistent, and her victory was deserved. The visiting team was undoubtedly the best that has been here in several years.

The contest was marked by close guarding on both sides, particularly Allegheny. Violations of the rules were frequent as a result, but only a small proportion of them were noticed by the officials. If any distinction can be made, the team-work of Allegheny was perhaps better than that of Bucknell, although the Orange and Blue had more opportunities for goals; both teams shot with little accuracy. Two of Allegheny's three goals were made on long passes from out of bounds, a forward getting the ball under the basket and throwing it in with a quick shot. The team-work of Bucknell was first class, but many goals that should have been made were missed.

Bucknell was the first to score, after about two minutes of play. The ball was passed to Cockill, in front of the basket, who eluded his opponent and made a pretty shot. A minutes later Cockill fouled and Captain MacArthur threw a goal for Allegheny. Bucknell also profited by a violation of her opponent, Cockill throwing a goal. Both teams began to play harder and more carelessly and several fouls were called, none of which resulted in points.

Bucknell scored her second and last goal from the floor during the latter part of the first half. On a succession of quick and accurate passes the ball was received by Cockill, who, although closely guarded, threw a goal. It was the most spectacular piece of work during the game. A short time afterwards Allegheny made a shot for the goal. The ball struck the edge of running track and went into the basket. Under the floor rules, however, it did not count. During the remainder of the half neither side was able to make a goal from the floor. The visitors, however, made two points on fouls. Two fouls were also called on Allegheny, but Bucknell could not take advantage of the opportunity to increase her lead. The half ended 5 to 3.

There was but one change in the line-up of the teams in the second half, Comfort replacing Lockwood at center. The change materially aided the visitors. In the early part of the second half Bucknell had numerous opportunities for goals, but they were missed. Allegheny, on the other hand, scored her first goal on a long pass and the score was a tie. A minute later Allegheny fouled and Cockill threw the goal. The score was tied again when Bucknell fouled and the visitors threw the goal. Bucknell took the lead by scoring a goal from foul, but on a double foul Allegheny threw a goal while Bucknell failed, the score being again tied, 7 to 7.

Allegheny took the lead at this point and maintained it to the end. Another long pass and a quick shot from under the basket gave the visitors a goal. Their lead was cut down to one a minute later when Bucknell scored on a foul. Allegheny did likewise and a minute later made the score 12 to 8 by getting another goal from the floor. Cheesman tried his hand at throwing a goal from foul and succeeded. He failed on another a short time afterward. With but two minutes of play Bucknell tried to overcome a lead of these points, but the best they could do was to score one more point on a foul.

The line up:

Haas	forward	Cheesman
Turner	forward	Roberts
Comfort	centre	Cockill

Baseball Candidates Report.

Twenty-nine candidates for the baseball team reported to Captain Smith on last Thursday. They were instructed to indulge in light work in the cage as often as they find time. Active work will commence with the spring recess, when Coach Agnew will report for duty.

The names of the candidates and the positions for which they will try are as follows:

Pitchers—Cheesman, Taylor, Leach, Hutchinson, Gaskill.

Catchers—Teufel, Blair, Deats, Brockway, Hawke.

First base—Cockill, Johnson, Edwards.

Second base—Portser, Daniels, Shirley, Cooper, Grier.

Short stop—Heinze, McCain.

Third base—Griminger, Green, Carruthers, Howell.

Outfield—Deats, Roberts, Shirley, Portser, August, Smiley, Blair, Taylor, Hennessey, Bovard.

The manager desires it announced that he will be compelled to solicit subscriptions for the support of the team among the students. Owing to the small membership in the Athletic Association and the failure of the students to produce a minstrel show the manager is left without the usual funds to purchase equipment and a call upon the students is the only recourse. Printed schedules may be had by calling at 51 West College.

Bucknell Academy Club.

The Bucknell Academy Alumni Club met and organized last week, with the following officers:

Vice President, William A. Bartol, '05.
Treasurer, James Elliott, Jr., '07.
Secretary, J. W. Greene, '06.

"TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Delightful Performance Given at the Institute on Friday Evening.

The taming of the arrogant, turbulent Katherine was watched with much interest on Friday evening in the Institute, given by the Girls' Dramatic Club. Despite the simplicity of the scenic effect and the rather rebellious curtains, "Taming of the Shrew" was undoubtedly a success. The story of how the proud and haughty Katherine was subdued and made to bend the knee to her lord and master is well known and needs no repitition, but the originality of the representation of the play surely demands notice. This lay perhaps in the naturalness and, as before suggested, simplicity of the whole performance. The absence of the glaring light and other somewhat distracting things which often divert the mind from the play and the players was noticeable. The audience, to say nothing of the players, was not in that tension of excitement seen always at a play; no reflection is meant as to the ability of the actors to arouse the feeling, but it was because they felt the influence of the temperate setting and surroundings.

The part of Katharine was admirably taken by Miss Kelly, who after a stormy scene became a humble and obedient wife, perchance too humble and obedient a wife for the persistent Petruchio. The stern and unrelenting Petruchio was very well presented by Miss Barton, as was Lucentio by Miss Groff and Grumio by Miss Braddock. The part of Bianca was delightfully taken by Miss Bane, and in fact all the Dramatic Club deserves much credit.

The curtain play, "A Pair of Lunatics", was most amusing, containing many laughable situations. Miss Olive Schillinger as Miss Manners and Miss Emma Nesbit as Captain Fielding were exceedingly clever and deserves special mention. The intervals between the acts were not long and were filled by music by the Mandolin and Guitar Club. The evening was delightfully spent and Miss Schillinger and the Dramatic Club are to be congratulated for their Shakesperean success. R.

"The Musical Enthusiast."

The Athletic Field Committee in conjunction with Dr. Aviragnet are engaged in selecting a cast for "The Musical Enthusiast," a musical comedy to be given for the benefit of the Athletic Field fund the last of the term. Persons for the most prominent parts have been selected and active work has commenced under the direction of Dr. Aviragnet, who kindly proferred his services in coaching the company. "The Musical Enthusiast" was given here under his direction several years ago and was very successful. Through the kindness of Dr. Harris and Miss Stanton a number of young women of the College and Seminary will have parts.

Inter-Society Debate.

The joint committee of the Euepia and Theta Alpha Literary Societies met last week and selected Friday evening, March 11, as the date for the annual inter-society debate. It will be held in Bucknell Hall and the question discussed will be "Resolved, that no Territory should be admitted into Statehood unless bordering on some State already in the Union." The Judges have not yet been chosen.

At a meeting of Euepia on Friday night Hulley, '06, and Reese, '06, were chosen to represent that society. As announced last week, Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, will debate for Theta Alpha, with Challis, '06, as alternate.

The Literary Societies.

The following programmes have been arranged for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA

Current events, Meyers, '06; recitation, Jones, '06; debate, "Resolved, that it is Polley for the United States to acquire Colonial Possessions in Asiatic Waters;" affirmative, Myers, '04, and Wood, '05; negative, Robinson, '04, and Williamson, '05.

THETA ALPHA.

Reading, Hawke, '07; original story, Auberman, '05; extemporaneous speech; debate, "Resolved, that Intemperance can be opposed most successfully through the Prohibition party;" affirmative, Lesher, '05, Smith, '07, and Griffith, '07; negative, Barton, '06, Cober, '07, Mattis, '07.

Bucknell in Inter-collegiate.

At the annual convention of the Inter-collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America in New York City on Saturday Bucknell was admitted to membership in the organization. The only other college seeking admission was Colgate, whose application was also granted. The annual meeting will be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on May 28 and 29.

The convention also decided to be represented in the inter-collegiate games at the St. Louis Exposition.

These officers were elected: President, E McP. Armstrong, Princeton; secretary, A. S. Draper, New York University; treasurer, R. H. Bradley, Columbia; honorary vice presidents, C. B. Rich, College of the City of New York, and A. H. Hopkins, Haverford; executive committee, John C. Gilpin, Pennsylvania; Payson Dana, Harvard; Romeyn Berry, Cornell and G. B. Parks, Yale.

The executive committee met and chose James E. Sullivan referee for the field meeting this year, and Frank E. Ellis of Philadelphia, manager of the meeting, which will be held in Philadelphia.

The new president reappointed the advisory committee as follows: Gustavus E. Kirby, Columbia; Murdock Kendrick, Pennsylvania and Thorton Gerish, Harvard.

The Philadelphia meeting will conflict with a dual meet which Manager Deats has arranged with the Indians here, but an effort will be made to have the Carlisle team accept another date.

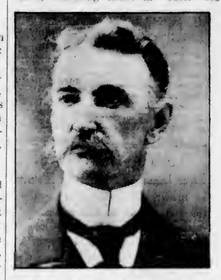

Football Game with Georgetown

The management of the football team on Saturday made arrangements with Georgetown University for a game in Washington, D. C., on November 12. Georgetown ranks among the leading elevens of the South and this will be one of the most important games on Bucknell's schedule next season. Georgetown and Bucknell have never met in football.

SAMUEL BOLTON, M. D.

Brief Sketch of a Prominent Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Samuel Bolton, M. D., prepared at Central High School, Philadelphia, and was graduated from the University a Bachelor of Arts in 1885, receiving his Master's degree in course three years later. He took a course in Medicine in University of Pennsylvania, finishing there in 1888. He has since that time been actively engaged in the practice of his profession in the Quaker City and has been very successful. He is prominent in the municipal affairs of Frankford, his residence, and is one of the most enthusiastic members of the Bucknell University Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The annual State convention of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at Scranton, February 17-21. This is a gathering of peculiar interest, since it is composed of men of so vastly different callings in life. There are government officials, such as U. S. Congressmen, governors of states and county and city dignitaries. There are railroad presidents, college presidents, professors, Gospel ministers, Y. M. C. A. secretaries, both local and international, business men, mechanics, clerks, shopmen, railroad employes, and last, but not least the college student. In a gathering of this kind there is an exchange of ideas and an awakening of sympathies which prove helpful to all, especially to the student. He has been dealing more or less with the theoretical side of life, but here he meets the real, practical life of the common, ordinary man. Then, too, the Christian student, if he goes with right motives, finds himself taking a mighty stride forward in the spiritual life. To listen to such men as John R. Mott, Robert E. Spear, Fred B. Smith and William F. McDowell, all of New York City, is inspiring and helpful to anyone.

Much might be said of the convention, but a full report would be impossible here. Suffice it to say that the people of Scranton expressed their hearty thanks for the convention coming to their city, and earnestly requesting its return.

ELIGIBILITY RULES IN ATHLETICS.

The baseball eligibility situation at Brown University has been further entangled by the refusal of the Corporation, the governing power in athletics, to endorse the action of the Athletic Board in abolishing eligibility restrictions on students who have played summer baseball. Th Corporation, however, is not unalterably opposed to the changed rule, for it has decided to again consider the matter at its meeting next September. It has ordered that until then no games shall be played under the new rules, which, according to a press despatch, may lead to several students refusing to play, even though they be eligible under the old rules.

The change in the Brown eligibility code is intended to apply to all students who engage in what is known as "summer baseball," which, as we understand it, means the playing on summer resort teams and nines that play on Saturdays, or perhaps two games a week. Playing on a team like Williamsport, Chester or Wilmington would not be included within the meaning of the term.

Admitting that it is dangerous to loosen the restrictions on a college athlete or to render less stringent the rules respecting his eligibility and without discussing the principles involved in the rule itself, there are certain elements in Brown's attitude in this matter which appeal to the student and follower of college athletics. To us it seems that Brown only seeks to throw off the mask which is worn in common by all the larger colleges in regard to the eligibility of their athletes, baseball men particularly. Few of the so-called minor colleges have any written eligibility rules and they violate no faith when they permit a man to play baseball who has received money for his services during the summer. If these colleges were to be questioned about the matter they would probably not contend that such players were amateurs in the true sense of the term. We cannot credit the larger colleges with being equally sincere. They frame strict eligibility rules and in most cases their adherence to them is a mere pretense. They permit men to play whose professionalism is known, if not to them, to nearly everybody else. Of baseball this is particularly true because the opportunities are greater and more tempting than in other branches. There is probably not a college nine in the country to-day which does not have on it men who have played for money; and if the athletic authorities do not know it, it is only because they do not make an honest effort to find it out. It may be said of college athletics in general that eligibility rules are of no consequence unless they are accompanied by an honest intention to adhere to them both in spirit and in letter; and this does not seem to be done to-day. The fault with athletics is not that there are too few eligibility rules, but rather in the exercise of poor faith with respect to those now existing.

To our mind the matter which Brown has brought into such prominence resolves itself into a question of whether the colleges shall continue these hypocritical methods or shall stand before the public in their true light. And while the changed rules may be ultimately rejected, the Athletic Board is to be commended for its desire to discontinue sailing under false colors.

A recent editorial in the Orange and Blue suggesting the organization of alumni clubs which should represent the various preparatory schools, has met with unexpected approval. Bucknell has at present three such clubs: The Lycoming County Normal Club numbering about twelve men; The Keystone Academy Club which has an enrollment of 13 active and seven honorary members; and the Bucknell Academy Club numbering 30. It is confidently expected that the graduates of several other leading preparatory schools,—notably Mount Pleasant and South Jersey Institutes,—which send annually many students to Bucknell, will organize and thus strengthen the relationship already existing between the college and preparatory school. These clubs, while cultivating a fraternal spirit among their members, serve as a potent force in securing new students and foster a commendable loyalty to both the college and preparatory school. In many universities and colleges the preparatory alumni clubs assume an important place in club life.

The Sophomore class aims to make more of the social side of college life at Bucknell by giving a dance. We wish them success, but would suggest that they adopt a more original name for the affair than "Sophomore Cotillion." There is nothing original in the name and Bucknell should not be satisfied with anything borrowed from others. This class also will have the opportunity next year to rescue from oblivion a name that should be preserved. We refer to the Junior Ball. For some reason which has never been explained the class of 1903 adopted the name Junior Promenade and the succeeding classes followed in their foot-steps. "Junior Ball" may not be as high-sounding as "Junior Prom," but it is ours and that is of greater consequence. Let's be original and cling to customs, traditions and names that are destinctly Bucknellian.

It was disappointing not to win from Allegheny last week, but our congratulations to the victors lack nothing in earnestness on that account. Certainly it is a distinction to be the first college team and the third team of any character to defeat Bucknell on her own floor and Allegheny has reason to feel proud over her achievement. Though beaten, Captain Cheesman and his men were not disgraced. They played a plucky game and went down because outplayed, though by little, as the score indicates. There is plenty of opportunity between now and the end of the season for them to retrieve themselves. We think they will do it.

It is hoped that other element than the student body was responsible for the hissing of the official in Wednesday's night's game. There is no excuse for such conduct and since it reflects upon the college, by whomever done, the duty of the students is to see that it is suppressed. The student body was discourteous, however, in that it did not give a yell for the visiting team. It was an oversight, to be sure, but such oversights should not occur.

Since Bucknell has been admitted to membership in the Inter-Collegiate Association, every effort should be made to arrange another date for the dual meet with the Indians. The Orange and Blue has an opportunity to make a good showing in the inter-collegiate games which should not be lost.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural sciences is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

BUCKNELL'S BASKETBALL RECORD

'Varsity Five Has Had a Brilliant Career For Ten Years.

Allegheny has the distinction of being the first college team to defeat Bucknell in basketball on her own floor. This is the tenth season that the game has been played here and up to last Wednesday night the Orange and Blue was able to defeat every college team she played against.

Wednesday night's defeat was in fact only the third suffered by Bucknell at home since the game was introduced. Danville won the first game ever played here, in 1895, scoring three goals to Bucknell's two. The next defeat at home came in March 1899 when the Clover Wheelmen of Philadelphia won by a score of 18 to 16. The Wheelmen made a trip through this part of the State and defeated nearly every team they played. On the Bucknell team that year were Bell, Wassell, Weymouth, Conover and Hilliott, with Goodall and Theiss as substitutes.

Basketball was introduced at Bucknell by W. C. Gretzinger and Charles Firth during the winter term 1895. The Danville game, mentioned above, was the only contest that season. There was more activity the following year, though the team did not meet with much success. Bloomsburg, Wilkesbarre and Williamsport all defeated Bucknell on their own floors. The only victory of the season was over Lock Haven, which was played in Tustin Gymnasium. This was Bucknells' initial victory in basketball. The team disbanded early that year owing to baseball practice. The uniform worn by the players the first two seasons would look odd to-day, the trousers being full length and fastened at the bottom with straps.

Five games were played in 1897, of which Bucknell won four. Among the victories were one over University of Pennsylvania here and one over Williamsport on the latter's floor. The only game lost was to State at State.

Four won and four lost was the record in 1898, Cornell being one of the teams defeated. The following year was disastrous, two games only being won, while five were lost and one was tied. The tie game was with Williamsport, at Williamsport. In 1900 the team won six and lost three. Cornell again being among the vanquished teams.

The season of 1901 marks a new era in basketball for Bucknell. The Orange and Blue began a victorious career which has been interrupted by only four defeats in the three and one-half seasons that have elapsed. In 1901 the team won 12 games and lost one, Williamsport defeating us at Williamsport by a score of 8 to 5. The following year the team won 12 and lost two, Princeton and Allegheny being the only teams to defeat Bucknell that year. It is rather singular that no team was able to defeat Bucknell from the time they met Allegheny at Meadville nearly two years ago till the Crawford county boys came down here last week. In 1903 the team won every game played, including two games with Williamsport, one here and one there. Indeed Bucknell was the first team to defeat Williamsport on her own floor in several years. The totals, including this season, are 50 won, 18 lost and one tied.

It is noteworthy that Bucknell never defeated State at State and State never won a victory in Lewisburg. Bucknell, however, always did better at State than State did here.

Buoy, ex-'06, now a student at Dickinson, was a visitor on the hill last week.

At the dedication of Science Hall at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, last week many universities and colleges were represented. George Nox McCain, A. M., represented Bucknell University.

Sophomores to Give a Dance.

The Sophomore class has decided to give a dance, known as the Sophomore Cotillion, in the Armory on Friday evening, April 8.

Announcements.

THESES.

Junior and Senior theses shall be handed in not later than March 15.

Do NOT PUT THE THESES IN EITHER OF THE ESSAY BOXES. These theses should be given to the Professor to whose department the subject belongs.

Professors will please sign each thesis and drop it in either of the essay boxes or hand it to the Professor of Rhetoric.

ARGUMENTATION.

The course in Argumentation will be required of all students who enter the Junior Debate. Further in the full term there will be offered under the supervision of Professors Heim and Phillips an honor in Debating, and of all students who take this honor the course in Argumentation will be required.

Two Games This Week.

The 'varsity basketball team will have two games this week. On Thursday the team will go to Williamsport to meet the strong Y. M. C. A. team five of that place. The home team will have the advantage of its curiously constructed floor, but last year's game is ample proof that they are not invulnerable on that account.

Both teams have agreed upon Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg Normal, as official.

The second game of the week will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on Saturday night with Franklin and Marshall. The Lancaster boys have a good team and the game should be interesting.

Phi Gamma Delta Entertains.

The local chapter of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity gave a smoker in their rooms on Thursday evening for Harry McCormick, '04, who leaves this week for Savannah, Ga., to go into training with the New York National League baseball team. A number of men from other fraternities were guests and the evening was spent in a most delightful manner.

Rev. Theodore Heysham, ex-'94, has resigned as pastor of Bridgeton Baptist church because of ill health.

WHAT HAPGOODS HAS DONE.

Colgate to Play Here.

Manager Marsh of the football team last week made final arrangements for a game with Colgate University, to be played in Lewisburg on October 22. For many years there has been a demand for better home games, but owing to inadequate facilities sufficient inducements could not be offered to stronger teams to come here. The management, however, has decided to take the risk with Colgate, which will be paid the largest guarantee of any team that ever played here. It has been decided to advance the admission fee to 50 cents for this game and it will be necessary to sell the tickets in advance of the game. Colgate has for several years been developing one of strongest college elevens in central New York.

Entries For Inter-collegiates.

Manager Deats of the track team has succeeded in arranging another date with the Carlisle Indians for the dual meet here, the latter having accepted June 4 instead of May 28. The change was made in order that Bucknell could be represented at the inter-collegiate games in Philadelphia on May 28 and 29.

Bucknell will put forth an earnest effort to signalize her entrance into the Association by at least scoring, though competition will be strong. Coach Hoskins has decided to enter Pearse in the broad jump and either the 100-yard dash or the 220-yard dash. Marsh will be entered in the half-mile. Should any other candidates develope they will be entered in the games also.

Sides for Debate Selected.

Selection of sides for the annual inter-society debate to be held in Bucknell Hall at 7 o'clock next Friday night was made last week. The affirmative will be handled by Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, representing Theta Alpha, while Hulley, '06, and Reese, '06, of Eucpla, will have the negative. The question to be debated is "Resolved, that no Territory should be admitted into Statehood unless bordering on some State already in the Union." A cordial invitation to attend the debate is extended to all.

Dr. Hall Addresses Euepla.

The Rev. H. C. Hall, D. D., '82, who is an honarary member of the Euepla Literary Society, attended the meeting of that organization on Friday evening and responded to an invitation to address that body. He spoke briefly but entertainingly on the early history of the Society and gave a comparison of the organization of his time and that of today.

BASKETBALL LAST WEEK

Varsity Loses to Williamsport and Wins From F. & M.

The 'varsity basketball team played two games last week and broke even, losing to Williamsport Y. M. C. A., at Williamsport by a score of 14 to 13 on Thursday night and winning from Franklin and Marshall in Tustin Gymnasium by a score of 18 to 3 on Saturday night.

THE WILLIAMSPORT GAME.

As indicated by the score, the game was fast and exciting. Both teams played well, but the advantage of a curiously constructed floor gave the home team an advantage that Bucknell could not overcome. Through the middle of the floor are three pillars, which make passing very difficult for a team unaccustomed to such an arrangement. Bucknell, however, put up a fast game and compelled the home team to play its best to win. Williamsport's superior passing enabled her to come out a victor.

Williamsport took the lead at the start, scoring a goal shortly after the whistle blew. Bucknell soon forged to the front, however, Cheesman and Cockill each getting goals from the floor and Cockill one from foul, making the score 5 to 2 in Bucknell's favor. Williamsport later scored two points from goals from the floor and a similar number from fouls, while Bucknell scored one on a foul and a goal from the floor by Roberts. The half ended 8 to 6 in favor of Bucknell.

Williamsport showed improved form in the second half. She took the lead at once, scoring two field goals. Bucknell, however, tied the score by getting a goal from the floor. Williamsport then took the lead again and maintained it to the end, getting a goal from the field and two goals from fouls. Bucknell made the score 14 to 11 in favor of Williamsport by scoring another point on a foul. The Williamsport timekeeper claimed that time was up, while the Bucknell official had 50 seconds yet to play. A compromise was made on 25 seconds, and Bucknell by fast playing scored a goal, Cheesman making it on a difficult shot. The game ended with Bucknell one point behind.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL.		WILLIAMSPORT
Cheesman	forward	Turner
Roberts	forward	Van Houeq Jackson.
Cockill	center	Knauss
Johnson	guard	Speaker
Smith	guard	Lutcher

Goals from the floor, Turner 3; Lutcher, Jackson, Cheesman 2; Roberts 2; Cockill. Goals from fouls, Cockill 3; Turner 4. Official, Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg Normal.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S GAME.

The game with Franklin and Marshall on Saturday night proved to be one of the most listless of the games that have been played on the home floor this season. Neither team played with any spirit or dash and the contest was without any particular feature. Though Bucknell did not play in her usual good form, she won handily, the visitors at no time being dangerous. The team work of Franklin and Marshall was poor and they had comparatively few shots for goals. Their only goal from the floor was made about the middle of the first half, which were the only points they scored excepting a goal from foul just as the game ended. Schoch and Shaffer excelled for the visitors.

It was evident from the first toss-up of the ball Bucknell would not play the game of which she is capable. There was lack of team-work and their shooting was inaccurate. Four minutes elapsed before a goal was finally made by Cockill, who struck the ball on a toss-up near Bucknell's goal and put it in the basket. Cockill got the second goal also, but this time on a difficult shot, which was followed shortly afterward by one by Smith. Franklin and Marshall's solitary goal was made by Fagley, making the score 6 to 2. For several minutes neither side could score, though many shots were made, Smith, however, made another goal just before the half ended.

Bucknell showed some improvement in the second half, scoring five goals and prevented the visitors from scoring at all. Of these Roberts got three and Smith two. Franklin and Marshall had five opportunities for goals from fouls in this half, but scored only on the last one. Cockill missed the only chance Bucknell had to score on a foul.

The line-up :

BUCKNELL		F. & M.
Cheesman	forward	Shaffer
Roberts	forward	Fegley
Cockill	center	Apple
Smith	guard	Schoch
Johnson	guard	Ewing

Goals from the floor, Roberts 3; Cockill 2; Smith 4; Fagley. Goal from foul, Shaeffer. Official, Hoskins.

Juniors Defeat Sophs.

The Junior basketball team again won the Hoskins cup by defeating the Sophomores on last Monday afternoon, the score being 30 to 19. The game was interesting, though the outcome was never in doubt.

The line up:

1906		1905
Goldsmith	forward	Grier
Whittaker	forward	Smith
Waltz	center	Cockill
Claypoole	guard	Sheppard
Neill	guard	Taggart
Gaskill		Robbins

Goals from field, Taggart 1, Robbins 1, Shephard 1, Cockill 3, Smith 3, Grier 5, Whittaker 1, Claypoole 2. Goals from fouls, Grier 2, Claypoole 2. Referee and umpire, Roberts. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Basketball Game Uncertain.

There is no certainty of a 'varsity basketball game this week. A game is scheduled with the Steelton Y. M. C. A., five for next Saturday, but this will probably be cancelled or another date given to the Dauphin county team on account of the Williamsport game coming on the following Monday evening. Two such hard contests as Steelton and Williamsport within three days would be too much for the team. Manager Browning may arrange a game with the Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven for next Saturday night. If this is done the Freshman team will play the Williamsport High School five in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday evening.

Athletic Field Plays.

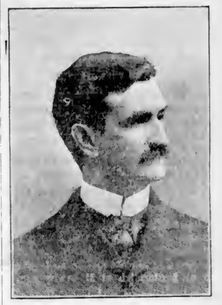

Rehearsal of the parts in "The Musical Enthusiast" is going on earnestly and the cast will be selected this week. The date of the performance has not yet been chosen.

The cast for "The Cheerful Liar", which is also to be given for the benefit of the Athletic Field fund, has been selected and rehearsals are being held regularly.

JUDGE HAROLD McCLURE

Brief Sketch of an Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Judge Harold M. McClure, whose picture we present this week, was graduated a Bachelor of Arts in the class of 1877 and afterwards began the practice of the law at Sunbury. In 1891 he was elected President Judge of the Seventeenth Judicial District and after serving his term of ten years with distinction he was re-elected in 1901. His knowledge of the law, his dignified and gentlemanly bearing have gained him hosts of friends, and his services are in demand in other judicial districts whither he is called to hold court from time to time. For some years the law department of the University has been under his direction to which duty he adds that of personally conducting classes in certain branches of the law. Judge McClure is an able and progressive member of both the civic and college community and is no less interested and efficient in the work of the Presbyterian church of whose Board of Trustees he is president. The Hummelroich library building, the Presbyterian church edifice, the Union County Court House owe much to his good taste in matters of artistic beauty and he is a positive force in all that make for justice, culture and refinement.

The Academy Reception.

The Academy boys very delightfully entertained on Friday evening. The reception rooms on the second floor were prettily decorated with college flags and colors, those of Bucknell predominating. The main feature of the evening was "A Musical Romance" consisting of questions to be answered by the names of musical selections. At ten o'clock Comstock's Orchestra, of Milton, which furnished the music for the occasion, played the answers to the questions. This novel way of correcting the answers proved a very pleasing one. Refreshments were served and the whole evening was a decided success, much credit for which belongs to Prof. and Mrs. Edwards.

Theta Delta Tau Dance.

The annual dance by Theta Delta Tau was held in the Armory on Friday evening. Twenty-five couples were present and the affair was a success in every respect. Trate's orchestra furnished the music.

OUR FIRE PROTECTI CN

The recent destructive fires at Dartmouth and Dickinson, if containing no direct lesson for Bucknell, should at least cause us to stop and consider what resistance we could offer in a similar emergency; and if our facilities for fire fighting are not sufficiently developed we should take immediate steps in that direction. A lighted match or cigar ashes in careless hands or an exploded lamp may at any time precipitate a most costly blaze.

Considerable uneasiness with respect to fire was caused among the students by the recent low water pressure at the buildings, which was quite unnecessary, since the water company can supply the mains from the stand-pipes on a moment's notice. But the water supply is not all. The men to fight the fire must be taken into consideration. There is perhaps no more efficient volunteer fire department in the State than that of which Lewisburg boasts, but we should not depend entirely on this source for our protection. With so many able-bodied and willing youths among us we should do something for ourselves, and at the beginning of a fire, when human effort avails most.

We believe that the students should have some sort of an organization for fighting fire. It would probably entail too much expense to purchase equipment, but the students could be divided into squads to perform different duties. The largest division could be formed into a bucket brigade to get water on the flames before the arrival of the fire department. A second squad could assist the town company in bringing the apparatus to the hill. Another could be given charge of the fire ladders at the Physical Laboratory and the Seminary. Over each squad could be placed a foreman. The main thing is organization. An unorganized body of students would not be capable of very efficient work. This protection could perhaps be supplemented by fire extinguishers in the halls, though their care would have to be guaranteed by the students.

In this connection it might be well to consider some system for the safe egress of the young women from the Seminary buildings in case of fire. We are not aware that the young women are drilled for escape in emergencies. The buildings are equipped with fire escapes and all the occupants could probably get out in a short time if there were no disorder. Confusion is the thing to be avoided, and to that end fire drills could well be practiced at the Seminary. They have proved to be of great advantage in similar institutions. Indeed the fatality at the Fredonia N. Y., State Normal School several years ago would never occurred had the young women been trained to leave the building without confusion. These are matters that should be considered now.

Our attention has been called to the fact that current magazines in the library have been mutilated, whole pages being cut out in some instances. This is quite the worst of the little acts of thoughtlessness one sees committed in the library continually. Any person so unmindful of the interests of others and the purposes of a college library should be taught a lesson. Indeed it would not be too much to deprive him of the use of this valuable adjunct to the college were he to be apprehended.

The football management is to be congratulated for its effort to give us better games at home. There has always been a demand for contests of importance on our own field and the scheduling of a game with Colgate will do much toward arousing enthusiasm for the sport. The financial burden thereby assumed by the management is quite large, but we predict a liberal response from the students and other patrons of the game when the advance sale of tickets begins next fall.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

The Sopmomore Dance.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Of course, everyone knows that a Sophomore dance is to be held soon and any announcement to that effect is superfluous; but many men in college have not given the matter the attention which it deserves and these men we desire to arouse.

A Sophomore dance is, as every one doubtless knows, totally without precedent at Bucknell—which is not exactly a convincing argument against it, by the way. Bucknell is one of the few colleges in which dances have been confined to the upper classes, and there is no particular reason why this should continue. Moreover, there are not so many college affairs that an additional one would prove a last straw which would break down the endurance of men already welcomed by a long season of riotous excitement.

But now to particulars: The first Sophomore dance is to be held in the Armory on the first Friday after Lent, April 8. It is intended to be a dance of as high a standard as the Junior Prom, although owing to the season, a little less formal. The music will be by the Oppenheim's orchestra and the catering and decorating will be better than anything seen in Lewisburg in recent years.

Seniors, by the tie which has bound us to you since we entered college, we conjure you to reflect upon the above. Juniors, we helped to make your Prom a success—will you reciprocate? Sophomores, you, of course—yes? Ah.... ....Thanks! Freshmen, February 22, is past, class animosity is dead. Help us this year and next year you will be glad of our assistance. Therefore Q. E. D. "On with the dance."

A SOPHOMORE.

May Change Football Rules.

The Intercollegiate football rules committee will meet shortly after Easter to discuss and alter any defects in the game played at present. The committee is composed of men from six of the leading colleges, who meet each year to revise the rules.

Professor L. M. Dennis, who is Cornell's representative on the committee, believes that the most important matter to be considered this year will be the question of the open game. This was given a trial last year by means of the rule which required seven men to be on the line of scrimmage as long as the ball was between the 25-yard lines. This was just an experiment last season, but it proved to be a success as far as the spectator's viewpoint was concerned. Faster backs are needed for the new style and more end running must be done, as there are not a sufficient number of men back of the line to buck it with any success.

The committee this year will decide on whether to extend the open game to embrace the whole field or to go back to the old style which made famous the guards back and tackles back systems.

Another question to be considered is that of scoring. At present the team that kicks a goal from the field scores just as many points as the team that makes a touchdown but fails to kick the goal. This is seemingly unfair and Professor Dennis is in favor of changing the rule so that a touchdown will count more points than a field goal. It was mainly through his endeavors that the value of a touchdown was raised from 4 to 5 points a few years ago, and he hopes to be able to effect another change if possible.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Present rules of Lafayette College allow the student ten per cent. cuts.

There are but two universities in Ireland—the University of Dublin and the Royal University.

Amherst College is to have a new observatory, which will contain one of the finest telescopes in the world.

Allegheny college recently received a donation of $30,000 to be used in educating young men and women for ministerial work.

The co-eds of Ursinus have taken the initiative in the attempt to form a separate organization for the purpose of holding oratorical contests.

Beloit College does not permit marriage among the students. One of the students was married recently, and his diploma is to be withdrawn.

Ninety-eight Philippine students are enrolled in American colleges. They are to be educated at the expense of the United States and then to be sent back as teachers to their native brothers.

Two club houses to accommodate the civil, mechanical, electrical and mining engineering societies of America are to be erected in New York at a total cost of $2,000,000. Mr. Carnegie gives $1,000,000 toward their erection.

A gymnasium is to be erected at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. It is a gift of the citizens of Lafayette and of the friends of the University. It is to be dedicated as a memorial to the Varsity foot ball men who were killed in the railroad wreck near Indianapolis last fall.

Fifty thousand students are enrolled in American colleges for men, while only 15,000 students are enrolled in woman's colleges. Some of the former schools date back more than two hundred years, while on the contrary, the great increase in the latter has occurred within the last twenty years.

At Cornell the co-eds of the upper classes have placed very close restrictions upon the girls of the Freshman class. According to the regulations that they have adopted no Freshman girl is permitted to receive gentleman callers or to have a gentleman for an escort at any college function.

Chicago University has plans for three new schools and twenty-two new buildings. This means the expenditure of more than $3,000,000. All of the present buildings have been gifts to the University; four of them being from the generosity of Mr. Rockefeller. President Harper feels confident that all future plans and improvements will be sustained financially.

Although the contract between Glenn S. Warner and the Carlisle Indians expired on March 1, he has decided to remain in the government employ until the close of Carlisle's baseball season which ends June 22. Mr. Warner's agreement with the Cornell Athletic council does not begin until September 1, and he will spend the summer formulating plans for the season on Percy field. He is working hard at the present to make his farewell season as baseball coach at Carlisle exceptionally successful, and he has a number of well known major league players at work in the cage with the Indians.

INSTITUTE.

Zeta Literary Society met last Thursday evening and held one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The subject of the evening was the nonsense verse, some very clever rhymes being composed by the members present. Miss Shorkley's paper was exceptionally good and gave evidence of much care and thoughtfulness in its preparation. The following was the program: piano solo, Miss Goddard, '05; roll call answered by nonsense rhymes; paper, "The Rise and Popularity of the Nonsense Rhyme," Miss Shorkley, '05; medley of nonsense rhymes, Miss Bane, '04; impromptu, writing of nonsense rhymes by members of Zeta.

The "At Home" held at the Institute from four until six this afternoon was one of the most pleasant of the year. It differed from preceding affairs of the same kind in that a decided spirit of informality reigned. The Senior girls received wearing for the first time their caps and gowns. All too quickly did the afternoon pass in playing old fashioned games and everyone left with the hope that such "At Homes" will be held more frequently.

The Pi Beta Phis entertained informally on Saturday evening, the affair being a picnic. The Institute gymnasium was a grove in which the picnic was held and was filled with the girls in their bright summer dresses. All the characteristics of a midsummer picnic were carried out. Games were played and a picnic lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hall, of Hall Institute, Sharon, are visiting their daughter, Miss Hall, '04, and their son, Hall, '07.

ALUMNI

Seidel and Spangler,

We offer this week the most superb line of Silk and Madras shirt waists that was ever shown in Milton. This news will be very interesting to the up-to-date lady, who is revolving in her mind what and where to buy her new Easter Waist.

Our line of Silk Waists comprises all the colorings in the delicate evening shades in Peau-de-Soie, Taffeta and Peau-de-Cygne from $3.50 up to $10.00 to the ever admired China's in Black and cream from $2.25 to $5.95. The decorations on these waists arevery elaborate and all the new Medallion, Hemstitching and Insertion effects are very noticeable, giving them a grace and style that has never been seen before. You will notice among the new shades the colors in Champagne, Pink, Blue and Brown.

The Madras Waists far surpass last seasons styles, and you will readily notice a much sheerer effect and the lustre much finer and prices range from 69c to $3.98. Come see the display, and select one of these beauties for your early spring wear.

The finest and most stylish line of Tailored Suits on display this week that was ever shown in Milton. The Spring Styles are certainly very fine and elegant.

To describe them would take too much space, suffice to say that the line is now at its best and all that is correct and stylish can be seen here If not wishing to purchase at once come and see the new spring beauties as we are showing all that fashion has decreed for early spring.

The new novelty effects are all very noticeable as well as all plain staple shades.

The Jackets, of course, have the short effect and look very nobby.

We are prepared to anticipate your wants for a stylish Dress Skirt as we have selected our line with special reference to the wants of our patrons and the prices are so low that you would do well to make your selection early and get first choice. We guarantee them as to fit and workmanship, as we have a large trade on fine Tailored skirts.

Are showing them in Walking lengths fine and all wove at $5.00 to the finest fabric at $10.00.

A line of cheaper ones in mixed and fancies from $1.50 to $5.00.

The stitching and strapping as well as button trimming give them a style that no home made skirt can have.

Dress length styles in Cheviots and Broadcloth from $5.50 up to $10.50.

WILLIAMSPORT VICTORIOUS AGAIN

Lumber City Lads Show Better Team Work and Defeat 'Varsity.

The 'varsity five was defeated by the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. team in Tustin Gymnasium on Monday evening by the score of 15 to 10. The game was one of the most fiercely contested ever played on the home floor and and was marked by fast and rough playing on both sides. Many spectacular plays were made and the score was close enough throughout to keep the spectators on the tip-toe of excitement.

Both teams guarded closely and as a result there was little consecutive passing. Williamsport excelled in passing and she also made more of her opportunities to shoot for goals in which, however, fortune seemed to be on her side. Bucknell lacked in team-work, her passing at times being poor. At others her work was excellent. In shooting for goals the Orange and Blue was unfortunate, many easy shots being missed.

The official was Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg State Normal, and his work gave satisfaction. VanHousen, of the visiting team, was disqualified in the second half for striking a spectator.

Bucknell was first to score, Cockill getting a sensational goal from the side of the floor three minutes after the whistle blew. Bucknell fouled twice in succession, but Williamsport could score on but one of them. The 'varsity played rather loosely at this point and the visitors scored two goals from the field and one from foul. Grier added two points to Bucknell's total by his accurate throwing from fouls. Williamsport scored again from the field and the half ended with the score 8 to 4 in Williamsport's favor.

The second half was quite long owing to injuries to Johnson and Cheesman. Both remained in the game. Williamsport was first to score in this half, making the score 10 to 4. Bucknell profited by Williamsport's violation of the rules, Grier throwing two goals from fouls, which were followed by a good goal by Smith. The visitors got another goal from the floor, and on a double foul each side scored a point. Bucknell's last point was scored on a goal from foul, while Williamsport got a goal from the floor just as the game ended.

The line-up:

Bucknell		Williamsport
Cheesman	forward	VanHousen
		Jackson
Grier	forward	Turner
Cockill	center	Knauss
Johnson	guard	Lutcher
Smith	guard	Speaker

Goals from floor, Cockill, Smith, Turner 2; Knauss 3, Van Housen. Goals from fouls, Turner 2; Grier 6. Referee and umpire, Dr. Aldinger.

Freshmen Defeat Sophs.

The last of the interclass games of basketball was played on last Tuesday night, the opposing teams being the Sophomore and Freshman. Like all ganes between the two lower classes, it was a hard-fought and exciting contest. The Freshmen won by a score of 20 to 16. The members of the two classes supported their respective teams to a man and at two stages it looked as though the players would not be allowed to monopolize the floor as a battle ground. Wiser counsel prevailed, however, and no damage resulted aside from ruffled tempers. Both sides seemed to be satisfied that there had been no "scrap".

The game was a rough and tumble affair and interesting to look upon. A scientific contest was not expected. There were times, however, when both teams put up a creditable game. The officiating of Mr. Turner of Williamsport was satisfactory, though he did not call as many fouls as in the Senior-Junior game.

The Freshmen threatened to make a runaway race of the game, but the Sophs soon got down to good work and at the end of the first half led by a score of 9 to 8. A feature of this half was the throwing of goals by Claypool, who made four successful attempts.

The Sophomore team seemed to go to pieces in the early part of the second half and the first-year men soon ran the score to 18 to 10 in their favor. The Sophs again took a brace and succeeded in getting within two points to their total, the game ending 20 to 16.

The line-up:

1905		1907
Goldsmith	forward	Roberts
Whitaker	forward	Heinze
Waltz	center	Kramer
Claypool	guard	McNinch
Comstock	guard	Wascher

Goals from floor, Goldsmith 2; Whitaker 2; Claypool, Roberts 6; Heinze, Kramer, McNinch. Goals from fouls, Claypool 6; Roberts 2 Referee and umpire, Mr. Turner of Williamsport.

Williamsport H. S. Defeats 1907.

The Freshman team was defeated by the Williamsport High School team in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night by a score of 12 to 5. The contest was one of the most interesting played on the home floor this season. The visitors were a capable lot and played a better game than some of the teams that have opposed the 'varsity this year. They were fast and aggressive and completely outplayed the first-year men, who, however, were handicapped by the absence of Roberts.

Fully five minutes of play had elapsed before either side scored, the High School lads finally getting a goal. They scored another soon afterwards, which was followed by one by the Freshmen. Williamsport scored a third goal before the half ended, the score being 6 to 2 in their favor.

Soon after the opening of the second half the Freshmen scored a goal, which were the only additional points they made excepting one on a goal from foul just as the game ended. Williamsport, however, added two more goals to her credit, running her total up to 12. The Freshmen put up a remarkably clever game in the second half.

The line-up:

Freshmen		W. H. S.
Leach	forward	Henry
Heinze	forward	Sallada
Kramer	center	Lose
McNinch	guard	Miller
Wascher	guard	Braddock

Standing of Class Teams.

This is the second year that 1905 has won the inter-class basket-ball championship cup. The standing of the teams for this season is as follows:

Class	Won	Lost
1905	3	0
1904	2	1
1907	1	2

Last Game of Basketball.

The last 'varsity basketball game of the season will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on next Friday evening. The opposing teams will be the Ex-Ninth Regiment five of Wilkesbarre, one of the strongest organizations in the State. They recently defeated State College and other strong teams.

Invitation from F. and M.

Manager Denis of the track team has received an invitation from Franklin and Marshall to participate in a relay race at Lancaster on May 7. An inter-scholastic track meet will be held on that date and the college relay race will be an additional feature. Those invited to take part are Bucknell, State College, Gettysburg and Dickinson. The proposition will be considered by the Track Executive Committee. An invitation has also been received from Fordham College to take part in an indoor athletic carnival in New York City on April 16th, but it has been declined.

THE REV. GEORGE WHITMAN, D. D.

The Rev. George Whitman, D. D., pastor of the Lafayette avenue church, Buffalo, N. Y., whose picture we present this week, was graduated from Bucknell University in 1872, and from Crozer Seminary two years later. His early ministry was spent with the churches at Oil City and Meadville, where he remained five and three years respectively. Thence he went to Cedar street church, Buffalo, where he labored successfully for nineteen years. Two and a half years ago he became pastor of the Lafayette avenue church, a comparatively new interest in a fine residential locality. Since that time the membership has grown from 142 to 221, and the work in every department has correspondingly developed. Dr. Whitman's ministry has been characterized by sagacity, tact, enthusiasm and devotion. He is greatly loved by his people, and the Baptists of the city and state.

Annual Gymnastic Exhibition.

On Wednesday evening in the Gymnasium will take place the annual gymnastic exhibition. An interesting list of events has been prepared and the attendance should be large. The following is the list of events:

15-yard dash.
Running high-jump.
Pole vault.
Standing high-jump.
Putting 16-lb shot.
Potato race.
Obstacle race.
Three-legged race.
Goal-throwing contest.
Exhibition in tumbling.

The admission will be only 15 cents and the proceeds will be devoted toward taking the men entered in the intercollegiate games to Philadelphia. Gold medals will be awarded to those who break Bucknell records.

Kutztown Alumni Organize.

Former students of the Keystone State Normal School, Kutztown, now attending Bucknell have organized an alumni association on the lines recently suggested in this paper. The officers are as follows:

President, W. E. Roberts, '04.
Vice-President, W. M. Maritz, '04.
Secretary, Miss Rosa Gluck, Institute.
Treasurer, G. W. Cockill, '05.

EUEPIA WINS ANNUAL DEBATE

Friday Night's Contest Full of Vim and Very Interesting.

The annual debate between the representatives of the Euepia and Theta Alpha literary societies in Bucknell Hall on Friday night was won by Messrs. Bulley, '07, and Reese, '07, representing the former. In spite of the confliction with the Freshman-Williamsport basketball game, the debate was well attended and much interest was shown. The question for debate was "Resolved, that no Territory be admitted into Statehood except that which is bordered by some State already in the Union." It will be seen that there are two possible interpretations of the question,—existing territory and possible territory. Theta Alpha, represented by Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, had the affirmative and Euepia the negative. Both sides put forth good arguments and their efforts gave evidence of much hard work, careful preparation and an extensive knowledge of state making.

The debate throughout was spirited, very interesting and was well received by the audience. The judges were Professors Edwards, Hare and Simpson.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME.

First and Second Teams Play Roughly On Friday Night.

In an unusually rough and poorly played game on Friday night, a team composed of 'varsity basketball candidates defeated the second team by a score of 26 to 21. Roughness seemed to count for more than science, if any there was of the latter quality. The passing and shooting of both teams, particularly the first team, was poor, and they were compelled to work hard to win. The second team led at the end of the first half by a score of 13 to 11.

The players were all handicapped by lack of practice. The first team had played together only a few days last term and two days before Friday evening this term. Their work on Friday night indicated that those members of last year's five who are not here this year are sadly missed and it will take the hardest kind of work on the part of Coach Hoskins and Captain Cheesman to develope a team to uphold the reputation of Bucknell in basketball. However, Bucknell has emerged from similar predicaments in an astonishing manner and her friends believe she will do it again.

In spite of its roughness, the game on Friday night seemed to please the fair sized audience present. The fact that the teams were evenly matched and that each man fought with a desperation that would have done credit to a class game, made the contest extremely exciting, and let it be said that spectators of basketball games generally evince as much enjoyment at the roughness of a game as the science of it. But the roughness of Friday's game came near injuring the prospects of the 'varsity five. Two of the players on the first team, Cockill and Smith, received painful injuries, the latter falling on his face six seconds before the end of the contest, which resulted in a severe skin bruise. He will be disfigured for some time, but will not necessarily be kept out of the game. Scarcely a player escaped without an injury of some kind.

The line-up:—

First team.		Second team.
Roberts	forward	Goldsmith
Cheesman	forward	Grier
Johnson / Cockill \	center	Groff
Smith / Steinhilper \	guard	Claypool / McNinch
Cockill / Johnson \	guard	Hennessy

Goals, Roberts 5; Cheesman 7; Johnson, Goldsmith 5; McNinch 2; Groff, Grier, Claypool. Goals from foul, Grier. Referee, Hoskins. Timekeeper, Goodman, '05.

Revised Basketball Schedule.

The following is the revised schedule for the season, all games being played at home:

Friday, January 15, Swarthmore.
Saturday, January 23, Ashland A. C.
Friday, January 29, North End Stars of Scranton.
Saturday, February 6, La Salle Championship team.
Wednesday, February 10, Shenandoah.
Friday, February 19, Gettysburg.
Wednesday, February 24, Allegheny.
Saturday, March 5, Franklin and Marshall.
Saturday, March 12, Steelton, Y. M. C. A.
Friday, March 18, Ex-9th Regiment team of Wilkesbarre.

Swarthmore on Friday Night.

The first scheduled game of the season will be played in the gymnasium on next Friday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. The opponent of the Orange and Blue will be Swarthmore, which never turns out a poor team in any branch of athletics. A good game is therefore assured.

It is desired that there shall be good, systematic cheering at this game to that end all students are asked to occupy the new seats at the east end of the playing floor, which will accomodate 100 persons.

New York Game Canceled.

The 'varsity football team did not play with Georgetown University at Madison Square Garden, New York City, on December 19th, as scheduled. Shortly before the team was to leave Manager Thomjson received a telegram from manager of the tournament stating that Georgetown was compelled to cancel on account of examinations.

The features of the tournament which lasted the entire week, was the game between Watertown, N. Y., and Franklin to decide the world's professional championship. Franklin won 12 to 0. Sweet, ex-'03, played center on the winning team.

Athletic Field Committee.

Hayes, '04, whopresided over the recent meeting of the Athletic Association, has announced the appointment of the following committee to inauguarate a movement for a new athletic field: Thompson, '04, chairman; Christ, '04; Hursh, '04; Morris, '04; Stevenson, '04; Bostwick, '05; Goodman, '05.

A meeting of the committee has been called for Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock ata place to be announced later.

University Bible Classes.

In the reorganization of the Baptist Sunday school an effort will be made to increase the interest and heplfulness of the Bible classes of the College, Institute, and Academy. The method of conducting the recitations will not be changed, except by the wish of the teacher, but the following plans are under consideration and the students are requested to cooperate in carrying out these suggestions.

1. The classes will be regarded as the regular Bible Classes of the Christian Association of the College, Institute and Academy.
2. A canvass to enroll students will be made.
3. A careful record of attendance will be kept.
4. Examinations will be offered and the names of all who take the examinations will be announced quarterly in the Sunday school and in the church at the annual public meeting of the Bible School.

Meetings in the interest of this work will be held this week, and on Sunday morning, January 17, the morning services in the Baptist church will be given up to the Bible School, where an address will be delivered by the Superintendent, Llewellyn Phillips

TRACK AND FIELD ACTIVITY.

Bucknell Will Make Application For Membership in I. C. A. A. A. A.

The candidates for the track and field team will begin indoor work within the next few weeks and will maintain a more or less consistent course of training till after the season closes in the third term. It has been definitely decided to send a relay team to Philadelphia again this year to compete in the annual contests under the auspices of the Univ. of Pennsylvania. Bucknell's class has not yetbeen determined, but there will be scarcely any decided change from last year. Of last year's team but Pearse and Marsh will run this year. Gaskill, who last year, was the fifth man, will be acandidate again. There are several other candidates, including two or three from the Freshman class.

The management of the track team has decided to make application for membership in the Inter-Collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, under whose management an annual track and fieldmeet in New York City is held each year.

Manager Deats has about closed with Dickinsonfor the annual dual track and field meet, which this year will be held in Carlisle. The date will probably be May 14. There is no certainty about the Carlisle Indians coming to Lewisburg this year, although a meet will probably be arranged. Swarthmore has asked for a meet to be held at Swarthmore in May and the management is considering the matter.

Bucknell has been asked to take partin an indoor athletic meet to be held under the auspices of the Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States in Philadelphia on February 6. A feature will be a relay race open to all colleges of Pennsylvania, University of Pennsylvania being barred. An invitation has alsobeen extended by the Southern Athletic Association to take part in an indoor meet to be held in Washington in February. Owing to the poor facilities for training men neither invitation will be accepted.

Bucknell Talent Recognized.

"The Collegian," of the Philadelphia Public-Ledger, one of the leading sporting writers of the East, has selected an All-Eastern football team, on which Wilcox, of Bucknell, is chosen as center. Concerning this choice "The Collegian" says.

"The writer will enjoy the unique distinction of selecting a man for centre whose abilities seem to have escaped the attention of football men. Much has been written of the wonderful playing of Hooper, Dartmouth, who has been given the place quite generally. The writer only saw Hooper once, and is free to say that he was not so impressed with his work as seems to have been the rule. Wilcox, Bucknell, is the writer's choice for snap-back. He is of the type that made Adams and Bull, Pennsylvania; Balliet, Princeton, and Lewis, Harvard, such stars in their day. Determined, strong and speedy, Wilcox outplayed most every center he faced this year. His passing was as near perfect as could well be imagined, few errors marking his work. It was his fourth year at Bucknell, and there was nothing about center playing that he had not acquired. Hooper, Dartmouth, is undoubtedly a valuable centre, and on the strength of his general recommendation he is here given first substitute, although Short, Princeton, and Bruce, Columbia, were good men."

Shipp, of Bucknell, is selected as one of the tackles on the second team. "The Collegian" pays Shipp this compliment: "Had the Bucknell man played on a larger university eleven he would have shown as brilliantly as Hogan and Turner. The writer regards his ability to advance the ball almost as great as Hogan's."

Cockill is mentioned as having played an excellent game in his position.

Gymnasium Schedule.

The gymnasium drills for the winter term have commenced under the direction of Physical Director Hoskins. It might be well to call the attention of the students to the fact that a mark in Physical Training has the same effect upon the grades for the year as a mark in an honor study.

The following is the schedule:

Monday:
3:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., Sophomores required.
Tuesday:
3:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., all students.

NEW BUCKNELL SONG

Prizes For Air, Words and Harmonizing Awarded by Dr. Aviragnet.

The Bucknell song contest instituted by Dr. Aviragnet, an announcement of which appeared in th Orange and Blue for November 23, has been closed and the prizes awarded. The result has been gratifying, although it is regretted that a larger number of students did not compete. The prizes for the air and words were awarded to G. W. Cheesman, '05; the music was harmonized by the School of Harmony under the direction of Miss Juliet Alkin.

Below will be found the words of the song. Every student should memorize them. The management of the Orange and Blue hopes to be able to have the music published in sheet form and give it as a supplement to the paper.

The words of the song composed by Mr. Cheesman are as follows:

Come, loyal sons of Old Bucknell
And tune your hearts to sing;
Bid every gloomy one depart
And let the chorus ring.

Chorus:

Ray, Ray, Ray, Old Bucknell;
Praise her with hearts that are true;
As Montour hovers high,
So let her colors fly.
Our glorious flag, the Orange and the Blue.

The Susquehanna's peaceful face
Reflects her honored dome;
Upon a lasting rock she stands,
Our Alma Mater Home.

Her massive walls may strew the ground;
Her columns fall apart;
She'll still live on 'till time shall end,
Enshrined within the heart.

Though many years go rolling by,
We'll love her just the same;
And ever strive, each son to be,
All honor to her name.

The Literary Societies.

The following programmes have been prepared for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA.

Current Events, Bowen, '05; talk on affairs in Panama and Colombia, Robinson, '04; original poem, Yost, '06; debate, "Resolved, that the President's action of recognizing Panama as a Republic was justifiable;" affirmative, Hayes, '04; and Long, '07; negative, Steinhilper, '05, and Ramsey, '06; general debate.

Theta Alpha.

The leading events, Pease, '05; original poem, Tiffany, '05; essay, Powell, 07; extemporaneous speech; debate, "Resolved, that in view of the Encroachment of Russia upon China, an alliance between United States and Great Britain is Expedient," affirmative, De Melt, '06, and Davis; negative, Barton, '06, and Smith, '07; general discussion.

Junior Prom.

At a meeting of the class of 1905 on Saturday, it was voted to appoint a committee to make arrangements for the annual Junior Prom. Bittenbender was appointed chairman. The rest of the committee has not as yet been announced.

SOMETHING WE HAVE.

"Where is the museum?" Of course, only Freshman ever ask this question, for every upperclassman knows that it is located somewhere in the Main College, although its exact location and contents are little known. At Commencement only is it open to public inspection. Throughout the collegiate year the museum is closed and the student body becomes oblivious to its existence.

For the benefit of our readers we will state that the University possesses an excellent museum, embracing illustrative materials in Botany, Mineralogy, Geology, Zoology, Materia-Medica and Histology, numbering in all 12,175 specimens. Many of the collections are valuable and rare; the exhibit of Indian relics, while local, possesses considerable archaeological value, and the collection of casts illustrating extinct animal life is of especial interest to the student. The trophies of the college are likewise exhibited in this room, as well as much matter of historical and scientific interest. The curator is always glad to receive contributions at any time. Proper credit will be given in the annual catalogue in each instance.

It is regretted that circumstances prevent the public use of the museum at all hours by the students; at present it is only opened for class work, or on special occasions for general inspection. The museum should undoubtedly be under same regulations as the college library. Every student should have access at all times. A deeper interest in this way would be aroused in the subject and its rapid growth insured.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE AND INSIGNIA.

The revised schedule of the basketball team includes none but home games. This will probably be satisfactory to those interested in the team, since it will be composed largely of new material. It is unfortunate though, that there are not more college games on the schedule; but the manager was unable to arrange more, which goes to show the disadvantage of having a team in any branch of sport that is "too good."

If the new regulations for awarding the basketball "B" are adhered to to the letter, it will be impossible with the present schedule, for any player to earn his insignia. The rule states that eight full halves in intercollegiate contests must be played between January 15 and March 1. However, the concluding clause of the regulations gives the Executive Committee almost unlimited power in the awarding of the insignia; and while we do not believe the stipulations should be often departed from, the matter of awarding the basketball "B" this year can be disposed of satisfactorily by the committee.

It is with regret, but not with surprise, that we read the following special from Danville in the Philadelphia papers: "The Danville basketball team easily won from the strong Bucknell University five by the score of 32 to 18." The student managing the pick-up team states that he had a distinct understanding with the Danville management that his team would not be advertised or reported as the Bucknell team, which mitigates the blame which naturally falls on him but does not remove the stigma upon the reputation of Bucknell.

The students and the university in general are under obligations to Dr. Aviragnet for the successful conclusion of the Bucknell song contest. At the same time we should give due credit to those who were responsible for the production. Though a critical analysis will doubtless prove that neither the music nor the words are free from faults, it is to be hoped that the song will meet with general favor. The student body should lose no time in learning the tune and committing the words to memory.

The management of the basketball team has requested that the cheering forces be reorganized for Friday night's game, and we are sure that any call of the cheer leader will meet with unanimous response on the part of the students. The cheering at such contests in the past has been everything wished for, notwithstanding that it was done by a group of ten or fifteen students. We know there will be just twice tha number next time.

The President gave a very instructive and helpful lecture at the first period this morning. We regret exceedingly that lack of space prevents us from giving at least a synopsis of it in these columns.

Subscriptions are now due. A prompt remittance is earnestly asked for by the management who will call upon you at an early date.

OBSERVATIONS

Some students of University of Pennsylvania are organizing a boxing club. Evidently the annual bowl fight has not satisfied their thirst for blood.

A college education often leads one to undertake next to impossible things A Yale student has entered suit for $5000 damages for libel against each of the newspapers of that institution.

When the students of Ohio Wesleyan University returned from their holiday vacation they were compelled to sign a pledge to abstain from smoking. At last accounts the faculty sages had not prohibited the making of fudge.

The wise heads at Harvard are wrestling with the football problem, and the faculty of arts and sciences has recommended the abolition of the sport. The student body, however, see the only solution in a winning team next fall.

Dog Came to Hear Dr. Hulley.

Pennsylvanney Spirit.

Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, of the University of the Pennsylvania, and Dr. Lincoln Hulley, of Bucknell University, were the life of the Institute at Brookville last week. The flashes of wit and sarcasm and the jokes which they perpetrated at each other's expense furnished a constant source of merriment for the teachers. An instance occurred Thursday afternoon which illustrates the manner in which they joked one another. Dr. Brumbaugh had taken the floor to address the institute when Cyrus Blood's big Dane, which had just finished wiping up the snow with another large dog, rushed into the gallery in search of his mistress and created a panic. Some one yelled "mad dog." Women and girls began to scream and a rush for the exits both in the gallery and the auditorium was begun. Prof. Gibson and the chorus started in to sing "John Brown's Body" and it looked as though a real panic would follow when Dr. Braumbaugh, from his elevation, gave a command for order an shouted. "That dog came in to hear Hulley's lecture, but it is not Hulley's hour! The dog has gone out!" This sally caused such a roar of laughter that the dog was soon forgotten, but it required a wait of several minutes before the applause had subsided sufficiently to enable the speaker to proceed.

New College Elective.

Augusta, Ga., Herald.

A new college elective has come to the fore. At Raskin University, at Glen Ellyn, Denoris, the young women have had added to their studies "the psychology of husbands," one branch of which study is to be dressmaking, a fact which seems to grant the correctness of the belief of some people that dress has not a little to do with both acquiring and the management of a husband.

In a recent dissertation President Elliott, of Harvard, stated that "the whole story of knowledge now available is too vast for any man to master, though he had 100 lives instead of one, and its growth in the Nineteenth Century was greater than in all the thirty preceding centuries put together. Culture, therefore, can no longer imply a knowledge of everything. It must be content with general knowledge of some things and a real mastery of some small portion of the human store."

COLLEGE DRIFT.

The Mandolin and Guitar Club (Glee Club) will meet on Wednesday, January 13, at 4 o'clock.

Barrett, '02, is spending a few days in town. He has been on a western ranch during the past few months.

Rev. Dr. Isaac W. Bagley, a former student in the Academy, has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Harrisburg, owing to ill health.

Magee, '06, and Bovard, '06, were initiated into Sigma Chi at the end of the Fall term. Munro, '06, and Thomas, '06, were taken into Phi Kappa Psi.

Through an oversight the election of Keck, '06, as assistant manager of the football team was not mentioned in the last issue of the Orange and Blue for the Fall term.

Kase, formerly an Academy student, is playing guard on the University of Pennsylvania basketball team, which promises to make a strong bid for the intercollegiate championship.

All subscriptions to the Orange and Blue are due. Meet the manager with a smile and a dollar when he calls.

INSTITUTE.

Miss Bessie Forney has not yet returned, owing to the death of her father.

The Misses McCaskie, '06, will not return this term. Miss McCaskie has gone abroad.

Misses Parsons and Innes were initiated into Pi Beta Phi at the close of the Fall term.

Mrs. Larison, a former principal of the Institute, is expected here in about two weeks on her annual visit.

Two new students have entered the Institute. They are Miss Finley, of Georgetown, Ky., and Miss Gluck, of Lansford. Miss Bidelspacher, a former student, has returned.

The Game of Field Hockey.

The severe winter weather has put a damper on the enthusiasm for field hockey, but the first continued break will be taken advantage of. The character of the game and the great need for healthy outdoor sport among the young women assures its popularity when once introduced.

The game of field hockey was introduced and given a permanent place in the athletics of American colleges for women in the fall of 1901. Among the first to adopt it were Wellesley, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Radcliffe.

The dimensions of the regulation hockey field are 100 yards in length by not less than 50 nor more than 60 yards in breadth. This space must be marked out with whitewash lines and with a flag at each corner. Across the ground, 50 yards from each goal line is marked the "center line." Each half of the ground is again divided by a line called the "25-yard line." Five yards inside each sideline is marked a dotted line, parallel with the side lines, called the "5-yard lines."

In the middle of each end, or goal, line and four yards apart are placed the goal posts. These are uprights seven feet high, with a horizontal bar stretching from one to the other. In the front of each goal and 15 yards from it, is drawn a line four yards long, parallel to the goal line. The ends of this line are carried around in a curve, forming a quarter-circle, until they reach the center of the goal. This half-circle is called the "striking circle."

The game is played by 22 players, eleven on either side. Each eleven consists of five forwards, three halfbacks, two fullbacks and a goal keeper. This is the general line-up, but the captain may vary it if she wishes.

The five forwards stand close to the center line. The center forward stands in the middle of the ground. On her right about ten yards distant, stands the inside right; between the five-yard line and the side line stands the right wing. On the left of the center forward stands the inside left and the left wing. About fifteen yards behind the forwards stand the halfbacks, center half directly in a line with the center forward, right half covering the two right forwards, and left half covering the two left forwards. Behind them, on the 25-yard line, stand the fullbacks. The goal keeper stands between the goal posts, about a foot in front of the goal line.

The game starts with the ball being "bullied off" in the center of the ground by the two center forwards. The ball is dribbled up the field to the striking circle, from which point a try at goal can be made.

Casper Whitney, writing for "Outing," mentions Shipp as one of the strongest men of the year in the tackle position.

VICTORY OVER SWARTHMORE

Orange and Blue Wins the First Game of Basketball Season

The 'varsity basketball team began it season on Friday night with a victory, defeating the Swarthmore five in Tustin Gymnasium by the score of 33 to 13. Bucknell outplayed her opponent, and the outcome was never in doubt.

Since the Bucknell five is composed largely of new material, much interest was manifested in its work. In general the playing of the men was good, and the prospects for a winning team again this year are good. Their work was not faultless, to be sure, but under the circumstances it is well not to be too critical. Team work, so essential to the success of a team in basketball, is lacking, which is due to the fact that the men have not played together long. Their passing at times, however, was very good, and several shots were on the sensational order, each man getting one out of the ordinary. Considering the fact that the game is new at Swarthmore, the visiting five did well. Their passing at times was as good as that of Bucknell, while they surpassed their opponents in long shots. In general team work and on shots near the goal, they were out-classed. The visitors were doubtless weakened by the injury to Gilkison early in the game. The attendance was very good, every seat in the balcony and on the playing floor being occupied.

Both teams started in with vim, and for the first few minutes seemed to be evenly matched. The score at the end of three minutes stood 3 to 3. Bucknell, by superior all-around work soon forged ahead, however, and maintained the lead during the remainder of the game. Each man on the team got at least one goal during the first half, Smith making three, all of which were sensational. Cockill and Johnson each made one from a difficult position, also. Cheesman and Cockill each scored from fouls. Swarth more scored three goals from the floor and one from foul. One of the former was a long shot from the side of the floor by Gilkison. The half ended 17 to 7 in favor of Bucknell. Gilkison was painfully injured during the half, but stayed in the game.

The second half was almost a repitition of the first, each team scoring one point fewer than in the first half. Cheesman made some nice shots from the floor, getting four goals.

Next Saturday's Game

The next 'varsity basketball game will be with Ashland Athletic Club in Tustin Gymnasium on next Saturday night, beginning at 8 o'clock .The visiting team is one of the strongest in this section, losing to Williamsport by only a few points on the latter's floor. There must be hard and faithful practice by the 'varsity this week if this game is to be won.

Another Basketball Game

Manager Browning announces a game with Lock Haven Normal school on the latter's floor on Friday, February 12. This will be the only game away from home during the season.

The date of the game with Shenandoah was misstated in last week's issue, being on February 10,. instead of the 16th.

Schedule of Class Games.

The following schedule of class games of basketball has been arranged:

Tuesday, February 2, 8 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, January 25, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Freshmen.
Tuesday, February 2, 8 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, February 15, 4 p. m., Seniors vs. Juniors.
Monday, February 29, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Sophomores.
Tuesday, March 8, 8 p. m., Sophomores vs. Freshmen.

After a Baseball Coach.

Manager Caruthers, of the baseball team, has been negotiating for some time with Captain Agnew of the Harrisburg Athletic Club nine to coach the Bucknell candidates during the month of April, and it is likely that his services will be engaged.

The Inter-Collegiate Games.

The annual inter-collegiate games under the management of the I-C. A. A. A., for membership in which Bucknell has made application, will be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, this year. Next year they will be held in Harvard's new Stadium. Excepting the first year, 1876, when they were held at Saratoga, these games have taken place in New York City.

Senior Class Play.

A meeting of the senior class was held on Saturday morning, when it was decided to have the annual senior sleigh ride on Wednesday evening, January 20.

The following committee was appointed to select the class play and the cast: Heidenreich, Morris, Caruthers, Griffiths, Stevenson, Daniels, Miss Eddleman.

Junior Prom. Feb. 11

A change in the date of the Junior Prom. has been made. Owing to the fact that the College Girls' reception comes on Friday, February 12, the dance will be given on Thursday, the 11th.

Mr. Bittenbender, chairman announces the following sub-committees:

Program and Invitation—Morton, Scott, Smiley, Cooper.
Music—McCain, Gardner, Portser.
Refreshments—Bostwick Grier, Wood.
Hall and Decorations—Pearse, Hainer, Vorse, Cockill, Sheppard, Smith.
Finance—Marsh, Ausherman, Royer.

Murphy, '06, is suffering from an affection of the eyes and will likely not return to college for some time yet.

WILL GIVE A PLAY

Athletic Field Committee Enters Upon Work of Raising Funds.

The Athletic Field Committee met last week and discussed means of raising funds with which to purchase a new field. Various methods were suggested and some of them will be tried. It is expected that a considerable sum can be raised among the students themselves. The committee thinks that Bucknell can do better in this respect than Susquehanna University which raised $3,000 for a new gymnasium. Every student will be asked to give as much as he can while in college, and those unable to give now will be asked to promise to pay a certain amount when they have been out of college a year. The alumni will not be called upon until the students have done their share.

The committee also decided to give a play during the winter term. The cast will be selected within the next week or so. The suggestion of a fair during the third term will also likely be carried out. It has also been propose to have the young women of the college edit and manage the issue of the Orange and Blue. A nice sum could be realized from additional advertisements and from the sale of papers. Announcement of further progress of these schemes will be made from time to time in this paper.

Bible School Organization.

Since the majority of the students of Bucknell are members either of the Baptist Sunday school or church and congregation, they will be interested in the method and principle of instruction recently adopted in the Lewisburg church, which were clearly outlined by Prof. Phillips in his talk before the congregation on Sunday morning. The speaker included the Sunday school, church and congregation under one head,—the Bible School, which is engaged in the study of the Bible. Each branch was taken in its order. The primary principle of the Sunday school being education, the methods in vogue in the public schools should be used to a good advantage. The scheme is to divide the Sunday school into grades and provide suitable instructions for each grade. At the end of each quarter an examination will be held which the pupil may or may not take, at his option. The examinations will be under the supervision of the Committee on Examinations. The names of all who pass the quarterly examinations will be announced in the Sunday school; the names of all who pass annual examinations will be announced at the annual public meeting of the Bible school. No person will be permitted to a higher grade who does not give satisfactory evidence to the Committee on Grading that he has met the requirements of the grade from which he desires to be promoted.

The principle applicable to the other division of the Bible school,—the church and congregation—is that no one can grow in Christian character unless he devotes some time to Bible study. The scheme in this direction is to bring the study of the Bible to the homes. These four points are urged:

1.—Every member of the church and congregation is requested to study the lesson for each week. The lessons may be found in the lesson helps or in the quarterly announcements.

2.—Parents are urged to teach the lesson to their children whether the children attend Sunday school or not.

3.—The first Wednesday prayer meeting in each month will be devoted to the lessons of the previous month.

4.—The morning service of the church on the third Sunday in January, in each year, will be given up to the work of the Bible school.

The study of the Bible should be brought into the homes, for there is a prevailing incorrect impression that when everyone has a comfortable living, everything is well with the world. There is a tendency in educated communities toward religionless morality. Still, religionless morality is better than a non-moral religion. It is better to have something to look forward to than to live in absolute confidence and contentment.

The world is tired of abstract truth; it needs something practical. The church can no longer afford to offer that only which it has, but must offer that which the people will take. This would discourage us, but we remember how God is continually striving to help us and we never come up to his expectations, his ideal.

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell.

We present with this issue a picture of one of our most distinguished graduates,—the Rev. Owen Phillips Eaches. the Hightstown, N. J. Baptist church which position he still retains, after a service of more than thirty years. He has been during these years a very prominent trustee of Peddie Institute, and was for a long time Secretary of the New Jersey Baptist Educational Society, of which he is now President. In 1884, in recognition of his scholarly attainments the university conferred up on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity, which degree he has since still further adorned by addresses and articles in various magazines and papers, mainly on subjects of religious, denominational or sociological interest.

There is the problem of a burdened life, Paul had hills of difficulty, roughroads to walk in, rugged duties, misconceptions of friends, hatreds ofenemies, the struggles of the old Paul against the new Paul, the care of the churches. He was in himself an entire foreignmission society. There were frailties in the body, thorns in the flesh, the desertion of men on whom he had loaned. There were times when his life became a shut-in-life. Cesarea once and Rome twice became prisons to him. 2 Cor. 11 presents the outside struggles of the life—Romans 7 presents the internal struggles. But life never became burdensome to him. Life had an ever widening meaning to him, its duties were heavier, its openings wider. Heaven was dear to him, but life was dearer to him, because it gave to him larger opportunities for service. Paul never stopped to consider the question whether life was worth living. He did not know the meaning of pessimism. He took his own life and his own age, and strove to lift them up and make them better. We are called upon to live our

LATE ARRIVALS.

It is quite certain that some action will be taken by the college authorities looking to the return of students to college on time after vacations. There has always been more or less tardiness in this respect, but this term the late arrivals broke all records. When college opened there were few more than half of the students in attendance, and they continued to straggle in for more than week. As a result, all activity was retarded. Classes could not be started in the right manner, much to the annoyance of instructors and those students who did return on time, and considerable unnecessary trouble was also caused the President and the Registrar.

It is safe to assert that four of every five cases of tardiness was due to indifference,—something to be avoided in college life. The claim cannot be made that the vacation was not long enough, for it was longer than most other colleges are allowed.

The suggestion has been made that a registration fee be required of all those returning late to college, and since the pocketbook of the average student is his most vulnerable point, we don't see what would prevent the scheme from accomplishing the desired end. But any plan that results in a reform will be welcome.

BUCKNELL AND HER ENVIRONMENT

A correspondent of the New York Sun recently made the assertion that "there is an indifference of university students to the forms of religious worship." The charge is made particularly against Harvard students, one of whom has refuted it quite successfully in a subsequent communication.

Happily no such charge can be sustained against Bucknell. We would not be surprised to learn that a larger percentage of her students attend church and other religious gatherings than that of any similar institutions in the country. The attendance at the regular services of the various churches on Sunday is large, while the student body is represented in every Sunday school in town. Almost every choir contains one or more students. Various missions and mission churches in the surrounding country are in charge of Bucknell men. Nowhere is the moral tone higher than in Lewisburg and Bucknell. The Young Men's Christain Association is a potent influence. A force, working quietly but consistently, and discountenancing all of those things which tend toward evil, it accomplishes much good. But not only do distinctively religious organizations speak well of the moral atmosphere; the general conduct of the students adds its evidence.

We are told by three Philadelphia morning papers that "Bucknell has been dropped by Penn," the statement being based on the fact that Bucknell does not appear on Pennsylvania's baseball schedule for the coming season. This blunder, resulting from carelessness of statement, is made quite frequently, much to the annoyance of the so-called smaller college concerned. We would advise our metropolitan contemporaries that Pennsylvania offered Bucknell her usual April baseball date, but the latter declined it because her nine played at great disadvantage so early in the season. Pennsylvania and Bucknell are on the best of terms in athletics, and the Red and Blue has no intention of "dropping" us.

OBSERVATIONS

The late arrivals each term would not be so surprising if Bucknell were not a co-ed institution.

—o—

The future of Minnesota University hangs in the balance! Her quarterback threatens to quit college because he was suspended for "cribbing."

—o—

A course in poultry raising is to be introduced at the University of Missouri. The interest in poultry manifested at Bucknell last year creates the belief that such a course would be popular here.

—o—

The students of the University of Pennsylvania are indignant that Fullback Smith was not awarded his "P," and are going to ask the committee to reconsider their action. Meanwhile Smith is plodding along for his B. S.

—o—

"Politics is a game," President Hadley of Yale told the students of Harvard last week. He might have added that while this game is to be found in most colleges, it is not to be classified under the head of athletics.

—o—

Franklin and Marshall defeated Penn's basketball team by a one-sided score in December. Penn says it was only a practice game, which F. and M. admits, at the same time expressing a desire for a game with a little more practice in it next time.

—o—

Figures, like the immortal George, never tell a lie, it is said. However, there are many of us here at Bucknell who doubt the truth of statistics recently gathered, showing that the average co-ed rises earlier than her fellow student of the male sex; else chapel attendance is a false criterion.

—o—

Though his famous guards-back formation still exists, George Woodruff, the old Pennsylvania coach, has taken to woods. He was last week appointed to a position in the Bureau of Forestry by President Roosevelt. The fact that the President is a Harvard man has no significance.

Men Work More. of Course.

Following are the first results announced from the canvass made to find out how students at Cornell spend each twenty-four hours:

Men—Work, 8½ hours; amusement, 2¾ hours; physical exercise, 1¾ hours Meals,1¼ hours; sleep, 8¼ hours; unclassified, 1½ hours.

Women—Work, 7¼ hours; amusement, 2¼ hours; physical exercise, 1¾ hours; meals, 1¾ hours; sleep, 7¾ hours; unclassified, 2¾ hours.

These figures show that the men work half an hour longer than the "co-eds," while the co-eds spend half an hour less in amusing themselves.

Owen Phillips Eaches, D. D.

life in a Pauline way. For us, for every one of us, it is a hard task to live the life in a worthy way. Never was there a time when it meant so much to live a life in a right way as to-day; never a time when there were so many disturbing intellectual thoughts, so many enticements to unbelief, never a time when life was so complex a thing. Never was there a time when there was so much yeastiness and fermentations in the social life. Between the dictionary of to-day and that of forty years ago is a gulf measured by centuries of new thoughts. In the rush of the crowding years it is hard to find the quiet hour for devotion. It must have been an easy thing to live a good man's life in the quiet days of Enoch. It requires vastly more wisdom in our day to live a life above enticements, meeting the requirements of life in an intelligent way, applying the principles of righteousness to the constantly enlarging life. But it is a fine opportunity to live a life that calls for courage and strength. Luther said that a Christian life requires oratio, meditatio, temptatio. We must furnish the prayer and thoughtfulness. The temptations will come of themselves. Trials, hardships, difficulties, temptations, perplexities, burdens, duties, obstacles, these make the raw material out of which the finest and best Christian lives are to be made.—Dr. O. P. Eaches in N. Y. Examiner.

Dr. Chas. A. Gundy, '93, and his brothers, John Moore Gundy, '97, and William Gundy, '01, have recently been called upon to pass through another sad affliction in the death of their mother on Monday morning. They have the deep sympathy of the University.

Rev. H. H. Dutton, 1898, the recently appointed assistant secretary of th Missionary Union, is about to start on his first tour of visitation among Baptist seminaries and colleges. In addition to these institutions, he will also endeavor to meet the Baptist students in several of the State universities, and speak in various churches at important points included in his route as he has opportunity. His itinerary, although not definitely decided upon yet, includes Crozer Seminary, Bucknell University, the University of Pennsylvania, Denison University, Franklin College, the University of Chicago, Des Moines College, Kalamazoo College, the University of Michigan, and Rochester University and Seminary.

Chancellor Day on Cheating.

The following are extracts from a speech of Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, before the students of that institution:

"To cheat in an examination is the embodiment of a lie, and it is a mean lie."

"It is no disgrace to flunk an examination after hard, conscientious work."

"Women naturally take to goodness, so we shall not discuss them at this time. I am speaking especially to the freshmen."

A number of the eastern universities have received invitations from the Automobile Club to participate in a series of auto races for the intercollegiate championship. If the invitation is accepted it seems probable that there may grow up as great a rivalry in connection with automobile contests as now exists in football, baseball, etc.

INSTITUTE.

The Donation Party held at Suite 25, Annex, Saturday evening was a great success, many of the girls from Main Building and the Annex attending. The guests arrived at a little after nine, bringing with them articles of all descriptions, and the happy recipients of the donations were delighted with pictures, fans, toilet accessories, chocolate sets, cut-glass, millinery, supplies for the larder, china, chairs, and even market-baskets. One of the most beautiful, as well as useful, of the gifts was a fine Siamese vase, presented by a resident of the Main Building, while another that will be much appreciated these cold winter nights was a brilliant scarlet comfortable. Choice bits of antique furniture—so antique as to be unfit for use, were much in evidence, as were also some rare pieces of old china, apparently dating from the Fourth Dynasty. After the hostesses had expressed their heart-felt appreciation of the kindness of the donors,—it was gratifying in the extreme that everything was just what they wanted,—a chafing-dish luncheon was served, after which adieux were said. Some of the guests are now considering having Donation Parties for their own benefit, to replenish rooms depleted by the function of Saturday evening.

Zeta Literary Society held its first term election of officers on Thursday evening. A new committee, to be known as the Lookout Committee, was established. The following are the officers chosen:
President, Velola Hall, '04.
Vice-President, Ruth Shorkley, '05.
Secretary, Sarah Unger, '06.
Treasurer, Mable Sill, '07.
Programme Committee, Blanche Bane, '04; Cottie Albright, Florence Cobb, Vera Duncan.
Senior Critic, Elizabeth Reed.
Junior Critic, Ferne Braddock.
Executive Committee, Maud Rees, '07,. Ona Lillibridge, '07.
Lookout Committee, Sarah Furman, '06, Grace Meek, '06.

Among the new day students at the Institute are Charlotte Hulley, of Lewisburg, and Helen Hering, of Allenwood.

Misses Emily and Mary Heaton, of Milton, were initiated into the Pi Phi Sorority on Saturday night.

Miss Reeb, of State Run, has entered the Freshmen class.

Miss Shore, '06, was visited by her brother last week.

Charles Hindman was called to his home in DuBois on last Tuesday.

Prof. Phillips addressed the young men of the Academy on Friday evening.

Professor Edwards gave an interesting talk before the Y. M. C. A., on Tuesday evening.

The initial meeting of the Literary Society on Friday was well attended and the literary and musical program was much enjoyed. The Society is in a prosperous condition, due in a large measure to the efficiency of President McDonald.

Day of Prayer.

The annual day of prayer for schools and colleges falls on Thursday, January 28, this year. The annual sermon to the students of Bucknell University will be delivered by Rev. W. Quay Roselle, pastor of the First Baptist church of Williamsport.

TRACK CANDIDATES REPORT

Many Men Will Compete for the Various Events This Spring.

In response to the call of Captain Pearse, more than a dozen candidates for the track and field team reported at the gymnasium on Saturday morning. Among these were a number of promising Freshmen. The departure of several of the best men on last year's team had rendered the outlook for this year's team rather discouraging, but the number of new men who reported has given the captain and the coach confidence that a first class team can be developed.

The following is a list of the old men who reported and the particular events they will try for:

Pearse, dashes, high hurdles and jumps.
Marsh, quarter-mile, half-mile and mile.
Gaskill, quarter-mile and half mile.
Thatcher, quarter-mile and 220-yard dash.
Lesher, low hurdles and pole vault.
Steinhilper, pole vault.
Cocklil, quarter-mile.
Sheppard, '05, broad jump and pole vault.
Noble, long distances.
Johnson, Shipp, Lenhart and F. Caruthers will each try for the weights.
Pease, '06, who was not out last year will try for the long distances.

The following is a list of the new men who reported and the events for which they will be candidates:

Potter, high jump, quarter-mile and dashes.
Baer, quarter-mile.
Brinker, quarter-mile and long distances.
Loomis, hurdles, broad jump and pole vault.
Webster, dashes.
Leach, quarter-mile.
Raker, quarter-mile.

The candidates have been instructed to report at the gymnasium regularly during the winter term.

Basketball on Friday Night.

The Bucknell-Ashland basketball game, scheduled for Saturday night, was cancelled by the latter team on Saturday afternoon, too late to secure another team. Lovers of the game on the hill and in town were much disappointed in consequence.

The next game of the season will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on next Friday night, January 29, the North End Stars of Scranton being the opposing team. The visitors have a good reputation and the game will be well worth seeing.

Seniors Defeat Sophs.

The first of the inter-class basketball games was played in Tustin Gymnasium on Tuesday afternoon, the contesting teams being the Seniors and Sophomores. The former won without trouble, 30 to 17. The game was rough, but was not without its redeeming features, chief among which was the playing of McCormick. The Seniors played a better game than their opponents, and the result was never in doubt. The second-year men put up a good game, however, and they should make it interesting for the Juniors and Freshmen in the games to follow.

The line-up:

SENIORS.		SOPHOMORES.
McCormick	forward	Goldsmith
Daniels	forward	Waltz Hennessy
Johnson	centre	Claypool
Griffiths	guard	Whitaker
Roberts.
Sheppard	guard	Nell

Goals, McCormick 5; Johnson 3; Daniels 3; Sheppard, Griffiths, Roberts, Goldsmith 4; Hennessy, Claypool. Goals from fouls, Claypool 5. Referee, Smith, '05.

The next game of the inter-class series will be between the Juniors and Freshmen on Monday afternoon.

Senior Girls Entertain.

The Senior girls, ever so brilliant in the class-room, gave ample evidence on Friday night that they have not neglect that grace so essential to college life,—the ability to entertain. It was the occasion of the reception of the young women to their classmates of the sterner sex in the Seminary parlors, and although they numbered only ten, their ability to entertain would do credit to a number many times that large. Indeed, the affair will go on record as one of the most delightful events in the history of the class, which is saying a great deal.

The disagreeable weather failed to act as a damper on the young men, and there were few absentees; even those perennial shy ones were there. The reception was entirely informal. Senior dignity had been left at home, and all joined in having a good time, which just came natural. Games and music furnished amusement galore. But for fear, probably, that they hadn't already reached our hearts, the young women tried the method suggested by a well known adage, and served most palatable refreshments. It was a fitting climax to the happy occasion. And when it came time to say good night many of us wished that we could be Seniors again just to be received by the girls; but that would involve flunking, and Senior girls never flunk, much to our annoyance and chagrin sometimes.

Senior.

Compliment to Dr. Maxey.

Dr. Edwin Maxey, '93, recently received a letter from President Roosevelt, in recognition of his article, "Legal Aspects of the Panama Situation." This article appeared in the Yale Law Journal for December. The following is a copy of the President's letter:

"White House, Dec. 19, 1903.
Dr. Edwin Maxey,
Morgantown, W. Va.

Dear Sir:
My attention has been called to your excellent article in the Yale Law Journal for December. It has been turned over to the Secretary of State.
With greetings of the season, I am,
Very respectfully,
Theodore Roosevelt."

Dr. Maxey has also an able article in the January Gunton's Magazine on the "United States Consular Service."

Will Speak in Philadelphia

Prof. Martin will deliver an address on "The Social Service of the Christian Beacon" before the Ministers' Conference in Philadelphia on February 8.

PRINCIPAL ELKANAH HULLEY

Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Principal Elkanah Hulley of the Keystone Academy, whose picture we present this week, was graduated from that Academy in 1889 and from the University, a Bachelor of Arts, in 1892, being one of the ten speakers on the commencement stage. He was pastor of the Baptist church, Montgomery, Jan. 1892-Sept. 1892, and received the degree of Master of Arts, Semitic department, University of Chicago. He was instructor in language, Keystone Academy, 1893-1896, and was then elected principal which position he continues to fill with great success. In August 1894 he married Miss Mary Kelchner, of Montgomery. Principal Hulley is a forcible writer and speaker, a wise counselor, an able teacher.

The teachers in a Christian Academy try to infuse into the pupils the proper motives for all their actions, whether they are along the line of their chosen professions or not. We try to make them understand that keen observation and good judgment even when re-enforced by the highest technical training cannot make a true physician. That shrewdness, logic and eloquence even in the most happy combination can never make a worthy lawyer. That brilliancy, tact and common sense, necessary as they seem to be, can never produce the true teacher. That executive ability, energy and sharpness never made the ideal business man. These things are purely professional. The true physician will not circumscribe his work and dwarf his manhood by giving his attention only to the administration of drugs and the writing of prescriptions. He will rise to a conception of his opportunities that will enable him to heal broken hearts as well as broken bones. He will understand how to pour the oil and wine of consolation and comfort into wounded spirits. The true lawyer will not be satisfied with simply winning his case, collecting his fees, or securing political prestige, but he will rise to the dignity of his profession and he will endeavor to inject into that profession the strength of a pure and vigorous manhood. He will even try to secure the enactment of such legal measures as will benefit and elevate his fellowman. The true teacher is one who has not merely mastered the subjects prescribed by the curriculum, or acquired skill in imparting information, but who has risen to an eminence from which he can see and appreciate the significance and importance of the daily gatherings under him and who has cultivated the power of inspiring into his pupils the noblest impulses of the heart.—Principal Elkanah Hulley, '92.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The Chemical and Physical Society has felt the quickening impulse of the new year. At the meeting on last Thursday afternoon Smiley, '05, described the new hydraulic elevator used at the placer gold mines for removing the tailings. Phillips, '06, explained the new system of disposing of garbage in New York City. "What formerly cost the city a very large sum of money now yields a neat annual profit to the corporation utilizing this seeming waste, and besides adds territory to the city, valued at $10,000 per acre." Hayes, '04, discussed the manufacture and use of opium.

Prof. Owens gave a very interesting summary of the progress made last year in inventions. In wireless telegraphy and the flying machine there was not as much progress as had been expected. Valuable improvements were made in the automobile. This machine is now in the second stage of its development, through which the bicycle passed in its evolution. Prof. Owens announced that he had written to France for a sample of radium, which he hopes to exhibit to the Society.

On next Thursday Dr. Leslie, M. D., will speak on, "How the Congo Natives Work Their Metals."

Theta Delta Tau Initiation.

The annual initiation of Theta Delta Tau took place on Friday night The banquet was held at Lochiel. The following is a list of the initiates:

Phi Kappa Psi, Harry C. Munro, Harry T. Stevenson, Edward D. Thomas.

Phi Gamma Delta, Dickson, Stauffer, Edwin A. Beaver.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lynn S. Goodman, J. D. P. Smithgall.

Kappa Sigma, Charles Taylor, Leroy Hoon, Augustus Nell.

The alumni who attended the banquet were Andrew A. Leiser, Jr., of Lewisburg, and Walter Bernolette, Mauch Chunk.

Delta Theta Upsilon.

The Delta Theta Upsilon's have completed the furnishing of their rooms in the Wolfe building. The fraternity is composed of the following men: Ealy, '04; Ranck, '05; Ausherman, '05; Williamson, '05; Hassrick, '06; Cole, '06; Millward, '06; De Wald, '06. Yost, '06, was initiated last week.

The Freshman Banquet.

The members of the Freshman class will hold their banquet in Williamsport this evening. The young men left on a special train over the Reading road shortly after chapel this morning, and the girls, accompanied by the Junior women, went this afternoon.

Rev. H. I. Stewart, '99, has accepted a call from the church at Lansdale.

PROSPECTS IN BASEBALL

'Varsity Team will be Strong Outside the Pitcher's Box

Within the next week or so the candidates for the baseball team will be called out by Captain Smith in order to gain some idea of the prospects for the 'varsity nine for the coming season. The cage is inadequate for practice, save batting, in which Captain Smith will instruct the team until the weather will permit of outdoor work.

If good pitchers can be developed, the 'varsity nine next spring should be one of the strongest that has represented Bucknell in many years. Five of last season's regular players and a number of the best substitutes are back, and there are enough new men to complete a first class team. The pitcher problem promises to be hard to solve again, but two good twirlers can probably be developed.

The old players who are back are, Teufel, catcher; Cocklil, first base; Smith, short stop; Grieninger, third base; and Deats, outfield. All these men will try for their old positions except Smith, who will try for second base. The substitutes who will again be candidates for the team are, Portser, infield; Shirley, infield; Daniels, infield; Bovard, outfield; Taylor, pitcher; Cheesman, pitcher. Cocklil can also be depended upon to pitch in an emergency.

In the Freshman class are a number of promising players. Those who have been spoken of are, Blair, catcher and the outfield; Leach, pitcher; Heinze, infield; August, outfield.

PEDESTRAIN CLUBS.

It may be slightly incongruous to discuss the feasibility of organizing pedestrian clubs in mid-winter; yet why not pedestrinate on snow shoes? We have skating clubs, et cetera. Why not inaugurate a new fad?

The question or organizing pedestrian clubs, however, deserves thought ful consideration. The Spring term is fast approaching when the disposition to roam about the country on Saturdays seizes the students like a nomadic fever. Why not organize pedestrian clubs with definite schedules of trips to various points of interest in the vicinity of Lewisburg? Union county is replete with Indian associations. Shikellimy, who was the first Indian chief of the West Branch Valley to admit the Moravian missionaries under Count Zinzendorf, lived at Shamokin, an Indian village located about one and a half miles above Lewisburg on Sinking Run. Many Indian curios may be found in newly plowed fields, while the famous Blue Hill is replete with Indian legends. At Chillisquaque,—which by the way retains its Indian name—the famous Indian orator, Logan, lived. A Chillisquaque also may be seen the farmhouse in which Bishop John H. Vincent was born. At Northumberian a half day could be spent very profitably in visiting the scenes associated with the last days of Dr. Joseph Priestley, the world-renowned discoverer of oxygen. At Sunbury the old powder magazine of Fort Augusta may be seen. This fort was built in 1763 during the French and Indian war, and occupied a strategic place in frontier life throughout the Revolution.

These are only some of the places of interest that could be visited on Saturday's. A visit to Dale's cave and Winfield cave and other places of geological interest would prove very profitable and enjoyable,—and so on almost ad infinitum.

Why not then organize pedestrian clubs? Investigations in local history, folk lore and geology could be undertaken under the auspices of such clubs, and professors would undoubtedly consent to accompany the parties and direct the work. The advantage from the hygenic point of view goes without saying. Organize clubs at once in anticipation of the balmy, delightful days of Spring term.

H

THE SERVICES THIS WEEK.

Thursday, January 28, is the national day of prayer, observed in general by all denominations. The announcement of services for the week appears elsewhere in our columns. The committee have arranged an excellent series of meetings, which are intended to be devotional and evangelistic in nature and exceedingly helpful in deepening the religious spirit in the college. One gratifying features is the fact that the meetings of the week are largely under the direction of the professors, thus identifying them with the religious life of the college.

The attendance thus far has been encouraging, and the Y. M. C. A., deserves the prayerful cooperation of all Christian workers. Each student should resolve to attend as many meetings as possible; an evangelistic influence should arise from this movement which should have an abiding influence upon the students and upon the college. The committee is to be congratulated upon securing the services of the Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, Ph. D., of Williamsport, who will deliver addresses at the meetings on Thursday. He is a convincing speaker and possesses a pleasing eloquence, which renders him a power in the pulpit. Do not miss an opportunity to hear him.

Bucknell has been the victim of so many cancelled dates in athletics during the past few years that some effort should be made to avoid them in the future. We believe the method of drawing up contracts, just as we do now with our large football games, should be adopted in all branches of athletes. The forfeiture of a certain amount of money for breach of the contract would have a tendency to do away with the recklessness and carelessness of incompetent managers.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

An Academy Club.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Is there room in college for a Bucknell Academy Club? Why not? Keystone Academy and South Jersey Institute have their organizations in college, and exist each with a membership never very large and frequently very small. Against this, abundant material is to be found in the college for an Academy Club. No diligent search is needed to unearth it, and no doubt each Bucknell Academy graduate would welcome an organization that would promote his best interests practically and fraternally in college. A club such as is suggested would be beneficial to those members belonging to the Freshman class. Through its influence they would be thrown together at a time, the beginning of the college year, when class acquaintances are very helpful, but few in number. It would also create among Academy students a guarantee of friendship that might lead them to take their college course at Bucknell instead of some other institution, where they would be compelled to enter new, and without friends.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Harvard has 125 men trying for the track team. This is an increase of 30 over last year.

At Harvard there are 40 men out as candidates for the swimming, divin and water polo teams.

President Harper, of Chicago, has been decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

Swarthmore defeated Pennsylvania at basketball on the former's floor on Saturday night. Score 18 to 14.

Ten thousand dollars has been received for a new athletic field at Cornell, and work will be commenced next spring.

At the University of Indiana a course of chapel lectures has been arranged and students receive a half-hour's credit per term for regular attendance upon the Tuesday and Thursday lectures.

Haskell and Carlisle, the two big Indian football teams of the country, have at last succeeded in scheduling a game. Superintendent Pearis, of Haskell Institute, has closed a deal with Carlisle management, and the two teams will meet next Thanksgiving day at Cleveland, O.

The students of the University of Missouri have petitioned the faculty to serve them with only two meals. Experiments recently conducted by six dormitory students seemed to show that a student was in better health and spirits to do hard mental work when only eating two meals a day. It was requested that the noon meal be eliminated.

The Columbia University bulletins just issued show a faculty and teachrollment of 4557 students, besides 732 university extension students. Of the students 399 are women in the Barnard College, the standard of which is the same as in the college for men. The student's expenses for the college year are put at from $473 to $616 at the average.

The regents of the University of Minnesota have decided that all students before graduation must pass examinations in spelling. Minnesota is following the lead of Northwestern University, which last year inaugurated a continuous spelling match, known as the "pity sakes" class. The Freshman-Sophomore spelling match is an annual event at Minnesota.

Chancellor MacCracken, of New York University, in his annual address to the students, said: "I wish we could require from every freshman a Sunday School diploma that would certify that he knew by heart the ten commandments, the sermon on the mount, a church catechism the scripture psalms and best classic hymns. This university will join any associaton of universities and colleges that will demand this as an entrance requirement."

Pennsylvania has adopted a rule whereby each student will have to answer and sign a set of "cross-examination" questions before he can compete in any athletic contest. The questions bring out the following information, besides name, class ,age and address; schools and colleges previously attended; school, college and athletic teams played upon, with number of years and full details; protests ever made to eligibility with details; agreement that he will remain in the university one year; and a statement that he has neither played for money nor is he doing so when on the university team.

THE CLASS BANQUETS

Sophomores and Freshmen Indulge in Their Annual Feasts

The banquets of the two lower classes were held last week, the Freshmen going to Williamsport on Monday and the Sophomores to Harrisburg on Wednesday. If getting away from college without losing a man is an achievement, both classes have reason for exultation, since neither one had a member detained by the other.

THE SOPHOMORE BANQUET.

From a Sophomore standpoint.

Last Wednesday was perhaps the most eventful day in the history of the class of 1906, being the occasion of second annual banquet. The affair brought with it a striking departure from time-honored customs in the preparation of class banquets. Contrary to all precedent, the time of departure, the place, and other details were intentionally made known. We realized there was not the slightest danger in so doing. The "cold feet" propensities of the Freshmen were well known, and just as we expected, there was a further display of this weakness, which has just now become chronic among the first-year babes. They even lacked in courtesy in that they did not come down to the station to see us off. However, the grave Seniors and the gay Juniors were there to give us a send-off as we left for Harrisburg, our destination. Nature herself lent her smiling favor to the occasion by serving out the best weather she had in store.

The trip along the historic Susquehanna was a succession of Alpine splendors: huge ice gorges, receding snow-capped mountains, and the frost-pervaded atmosphere suggested the fairy land of early childhood fancy. Our arrival in the Capitol City was announced by a succession of hearty class and college yells, after which we wended our way to the Bolton, the Mecca of our journey.

The early hours of the evening were spent in viewing the many points of interest in the city. The main point was the State Capitol, during which visit the class was graciously received by the Governor, who further endeared himself to the class by granting them the privilege of viewing the interior of the new buildings after hours. After the stroll around the city the members of the class returned to their rendezvous, where the time was spent in games and social cheer. The parlors of the hotel were filled with laughing, chatting groups of jolly classmen. Mirth and jollity reigned supreme.

At ten o'clock the doors of the spacious banquet hall were thrown open to the expectant crowd. No time was lost in the preliminaries, and soon the light-hearted throng was doing justice to a feast of which Epicurus might well have been proud. The tables were tastefully decorated, while potted plants were scattered throughout the room. Song, mirth and wit added the sauce for the enjoyment of the viands, while class yells gave vent to the general enthusiasm of the occasion.

After the wails of the inner man had been satisfied, the "feast of reason and the flow of soul" began. Toastmaster Coverdale acquitted himself well, giving and taking the jolts of the ever-present repartee. The following toasts were given in a happy manner:

"Harrisburg, " H. T. Stevenson.
"Seniors," J. F. Hennessy.
"Saturday Night," Edna A. Innis.
"Our Class," Henry Jones.
"Our Themes," C. M. McCormick.
Class Poem, Edith E. Lane.
"College Band," A. C. Thompson.
"The Ladies," H. N. Cole.
"The Gentlemen," Florence J. Cobb.
"The Bells," Lucretia G. Snyder.
"Good-bye," D. S. Stauffer.

Edgar T. Stevenson, representing the Senior Class, and Frank Carruthers, coach of the successful class team, responded to impromptu toasts.

At the conclusion of the supper the jolly party repaired to the parlors, where songs and games again engaged the attention of the fair daughters and sons of "Naughty Six" until time for departure.

In the early hours of the morning the happy pilgrims returned to their honored Alma Mater. The occasion had been replete with everything which contributes pleasure; but the cap-sheaf of the festivities was the smiling benediction of our esteemed instructor, Prof. Rockwood, who graciously greeted this band of merrymakers as they wended their way to their respective abodes. In fine it was an occasion long to be remembered by all the participants.

THE FRESHMAN BANQUET.

From a Freshman standpoint.

One of the most successful banquet ever held by a Bucknell class took place in Williamsport last Monday evening when the Freshmen, 100 strong journeyed to that fair city and gave their first annual banquet.

When the Christmas vacation had become past history and the class of 1907 returned to Bucknell, it soon became evident that the "Sophs" had determined we Freshmen were not to have a banquet this year. Accordingly our valiant friends put forth their most strenuous efforts in this direction and on several occasions when they thought our banquet about to take place, captured members of our class, only to discover later that there was "nothing doing" and the joke was on them.

However, this sort of thing became tiresome and when the banquet committee announced in the Rhetoric class last Monday morning, that there was "something doing" and a special train was waiting over near the Sem, the fellows quickly assembled outside of the "lab," and giving vent to their enthusiasm by several class yells, proceeded to the train. Ten minutes later the train was off for Williamsport with not a man missing.

The journey was a most delightful one, "none daring to molest or make us afraid." Anyone listening to the yells and songs could not fail to discern the fact that the Sophomores had been again outwitted. We arrived at Williamsport at 10.15 a. m., and after giving a number of yells at the station, lined up in marching order and directed our steps to Park Hotel.

After partaking of a pleasant luncheon, we got together in the Hotel parlors and enjoyed ourselves by playing Euchre, Pit, etc. But the climax of our fun was reached when several of our strong men captured

WEEK OF PRAYER OBSERVED

Interesting and Helpful Services Held Throughout the Week

The week of prayer just passed was made a very enlightning one through the efforts of the speakers. They put their own enthusiasm into the heart of the listeners, and much spiritual good was undoubtedly accomplished by their words.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and Monday and Tuesday evenings, meetings were held in Bucknell Hall. Addresses were delivered by Professors Perrine, Groff, Davis, Hare, Hulley and Phillips, and personal testimonies were gathered from the students present. On Monday afternoon separate meetings at the Academy and Institute, similar to those held in Bucknell Hall, were addressed by Principal Edwards and Prof. Weithnase, respectively. Thursday morning at 8.00, the meeting in Bucknell Hall was addressed by President Harris. At the Seminary Thursday morning at 8 o'clock Prof. Hamblin spoke to the women's department.

There is not space here to treat at length the topics of all the addresses mentioned. All were soul-stirring and were thoughtfully listened to; but we must pass to the large meeting, Thursday, at 10.30 a. m. addressed by the Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, of Williamsport, in the Baptist church. Dr. Roselle chose "Prayer" for his sermon topic and took his text from Matthew sixth chapter and the sixth verse.

He said one difficulty of our religious life is that God is always hidden from us. Men of all ages have searched for Him, but never found Him. The reason for this is, God is far too vast to be grasped by our physical senses. God has made darkness His secret place, and his secret is with them only that fear Him. Our minds are insufficient to contain Him, for just as a large object cannot be put into a small vessel, the greatness of God cannot be compressed into our insignificant minds. And God is valuable just because he cannot be comprehended.

Trying to find God out is fraught with great dangers, for in our efforts we are likely to belittle God in order that he may be fitted with our insufficient minds. God is secret in order that he may be fitted within something more to learn of Him. But we are directed nevertheless, to find Him out. No one can find himself until he finds God, and no one can find God until he finds himself. In this case, as always, each discovers God's command his own need. We all need God, and a vision of Eternal God is a nation's best safety. To a nation a real church is worth more than a thousand battleships.

Why is God hid? This has been intimated already. The reason why we do not see God is because we do not have spiritual visions, and no other kind of vision will do. Each vision must be used for its intended purpose. Our mind and physical senses were not made to find God. God is a spirit, and His secret is with the that spiritually devout and them that fear Him. We must have God in us before we may see Him before us.

God's first coming to earth was to make God manifest before men. God's second coming was in spirit, to make God manifest in men. We see God more as we attempt to see Him more, but we can never see him perfectly well, until we are ourselves spiritually perfect.

Our quest for God is to be accomplished through prayer. It is one function of prayer to reveal God to us. Prayer is the striving of man for the companionship of God and includes the impulses and endeavores of our spiritual life. If we follow these impulses, we shall be lead straight to God, for His spirit is within every man according as each permits it.

Wish is prayer. Our soul cannot be kept from entering into our desires; therefore guard your desires well and avoid vain repetitions of wish before God.

There is reward for those who seek God through prayer and find Him. When you are undecided, pray for decision; when an evil nature is uppermost in your hearts, pray for relief; when you are ignoble, pray that you may become noble once more, and all that we pray for shall be granted us according as is our just reward. Let us pray nightly that from God's abundant treasure-houses may come reward to the schools of all lands and races.

On Thursday afternoon, Dr. Roselle spoke in much the same strain on "Character Growth," and in the evening he closed with a well-delivered, thought-inspiring sermon upon the "Power of Personality."

Bucknell Alumnae Meet.

The members of the Bucknell Alumnae Association of Philadelphia and a few guests enjoyed a delightfully informal luncheon in Griffith Hall, Philadelphia, on last Tuesday. Reports of officers were received, proving the Association to be in a very flourishing condition. That of the Treasurer, Mrs. M. E. R. Cobb, showed a substantial balance, besides a scholarship fund, which will soon be complete. After the refrshments had been disposed of, the guest of honor, Mrs. Charles H. Banes, gave a talk upon her recent experiences while traveling in India, where she was entertained at several important mission stations. Among those present were Mrs. C. Bailey, Secretary of the Home Mission Society of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Weaver, wife of the Mayor.

The patronesses for the occasion were:

Mrs. Joseph W. Wood, Mrs. I. H. O'Harra, Mrs. Amos Wakelline, Mrs. John Reilly, Mrs. W. B. Clement, Mrs. Samuel Bolton, Mrs. Daniel Sutter, Mrs. T. R. McVitty, Mrs. T. L. Goldy, Mrs. Thomas A. Gill, Mrs. J. B. Meyer, Mrs. D. G. Mussleman, Mrs. J. K. Weaver, Mrs. John Dean, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. D. A. Cobb, Mrs. F. W. Tustin, Mrs. A. J. Rowland, Mrs. J. R. Howell, Mrs. M. B. Weir, Mrs. Ira Leedom, Mrs. C. A. Walker, Mrs. E. P. Wright, Mrs. G. C. Horter, Mrs. D. P. Leas.

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's is attracting considerable attention. It consists of a 7-inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted on polished oak, 13 inches long and 10 inches wide. It is the prettiest and most substantial ornament of Bucknell yet devised.

THE REV. A. E. FINN

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University

Rev. A. E. Finn resigned his pastorate of the church at Cherryville, N. J., December 6, and accepted a call to the Park Avenue church, Plainfield, N. J. Pastor Finn is a graduate of Bucknell University, class of 1894, and of Crozer Theological Seminary, class of 1897. In August 1897 he assumed charge of the Cherryville church. It is a strictly country charge and during his pastorate sixty-one persons have been added to the membership. The Plainfield church affords the new pastor a wider opportunity for usefulness, and great rejoicing is felt among its members that he has accepted the call He was born in Yorkshire, England, married Cora Reiff Perry, Bucknell, 1895 and has been Vice-President of the N. J. Education Society and of the B. Y. P. U. of New Jersey.

A Timely Gift

Mrs. Bolton, wife of the justly popular and successful physician, Samuel R. Bolton, M. D., of Frankford, Philadelphia, Bucknell, '85, has very handsomely remembered the University in its social relations by a Christmas gift of an elegant and capacious glass punch bowl, together with a large number of beautiful glasses, for use at receptions and on other social occasions held in connection with the University and in its name. The gratitude of all who share the responsibilities of providing for such occasions is freely acknowledged, and their best thanks are given to Mrs. Bolton for this generous and most convenient token of her ever abiding interest in the University and in the social life of our University community.

Indian Game, October 8.

The date of Bucknell-Indian football game at Williamsport has been fixed at Saturday, Oct. 8, one week later than last year. The selection of grounds will be left to a joint committee of the two institutions. Propositions have been received for Athletic Park and Dickinson Seminary Field.

Seniors vs. Juniors.

What promises to be the best basketball game of the season will be played between the Seniors and Juniors on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Each team has won a game, and to-morrow night's contest will be fiercely fought.

COLLEGE DRAMATICS

A committee of the Senior class was recently appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the Senior class play produced annually during Commencement week. The committee in charge of the fund for the new athletic field likewise have expressed their intention to give a play in the near future. The interest manifested in college dramatics is commendable. There is no reason why Bucknell should not have a dramatic Association. We have enough histrionic talent in our midst to warrant such an organization. Other universities lay great stress upon dramatics; extended trips are taken by clubs, while plays in French and German are not infrequently given. The positions are strictly competitive and great rivalry exists among the candidates for positions. The need of a Dramatic Association at Bucknell is openly admitted. The present dramatic activity of the college is confined to the annual production of a Senior play. There is an imperative need of broader dramatic enterprise, and a proposition for the organization of a Dramatic Club should meet with general favor.

The manager of the "Lewisburg Independents," a basketball team composed of students, deserves credit for cancelling his date with the Girardville team, which game was scheduled to be played last Friday night at the latter place. Despite explicit instructions the Girardville manager insisted upon advertising the Lewisburg team as the "Bucknell 'Varsity." This was done for obvious reasons, chiefly because such a game would attract a large attendance and increase local prestige in case of victory for the Girardville team. Immediately upon their arrival, the Lewisburg manager cancelled the game, likewise that scheduled for Mahanoy Plane on the following night; the team then returned to Lewisburg on the next train.

For the benefit of class athletic teams which play out-of-town games we desire to call attention to the rule in reference to the matter:

"No class team shall leave the University to play out-of-town games without the sanction of some member of the Athletic Board of the University, as well as the consent of the President."

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. H. Vorse's for $3.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

The Literary Societies.

Arrangements are being made for the annual debate between the two literary societies, which will be held some time during the present term. Theta Alpha announces no program for next Friday night aside from a debate in which all those whose names are posted are expected to take part. The question is "Resolved, that United States Senators should be elected by the People."

EUEPIA.

Current events, Steinhilper, '05; biographical sketch of Herbert Spencer, Hess, '05; "The Early Days of American Poetry." Adams, '07; extemporaneous speech, Reese, '07; debate, "Resolved, that Russia should concede to the Demands of Japan;" affirmative, Lockard, '07, and Pettebone, '07; negative, Hoechst, '07, and Shimington, '07. All Sophomores and Freshmen are requested to prepare themselves to take part in the general debate because men will soon be chosen to represent Euepia in the inter-Society debate.

Basketball With Williamsport.

Arrangements have practically been completed whereby the 'varsity basket ball team will meet the strong Williamsport Y. M. C. A. five in two games this season, one in Williamsport and one in Tustin Gymnasium. The date of the game in Williamsport will probably be Thursday, March 3, and that here, Monday, March 14. The Williamsport team is composed of practically the same men as last year and this season have been playing in their usual good form.

Basketball on Saturday Night.

The 'varsity five will play its next game on Saturday night, the opposing team being the La Salle College championship team, of Philadelphia. The same team played here last season and gave Bucknell a good game.

Philadelphia Alumni to Banquet.

J. Paul Pontius, M. D., '88, was in town last week and made the announcement that Bucknell University Club of Philadelphia would have its annual banquet in that city some time in February. It will likely be held at the University Club.

The Class Banquets

some Sophomores who had foolishly ventured into town, and carried their victims to the Hotel. When the hands of the clock approached 5.30 the fellows began to get quiet, but the secret of this quietness disclosed itself when, ten minutes later, the merry voices of our fair Co-eds were heard entering the halls and we greeted the largest and best "bunch" of girls that ever entered dear old Bucknell.

Promptly at 8.15 a grand march was formed and we entered the spacious dining hall of the hotel. Three tables artistically decorated met our gaze. The entire room was beautifully decorated with the class colors, red and blue. Fisk's orchestra furnished us with music.

After partaking of a most excellent repast, at exactly 10.30, President Roberts greeted the class with a few well chosen words and then proceeded to introduce the various toasts. All the speakers were at their best wit and pleasantly surprised the class with their eloquence. Space will not permit any further detail of the toasts. They were as follows:

1. The Faculty,—Esau H. Loomis.
2. Freshmen,—Elkanah Hulley.
3. Athletics,—George Leach.
4. Hazing,—James Elliott, Jr.
5. The "Sem,"—Miss Ursula Parmley.
6. The "Sophs,"—George Snavely.
7. The Boys,—Miss Julie M. Rees.
8. The Girls,—C. Harold Goldsmith.
9. Our Future,—Charles Baer.

Miss Stanton our chaperon and Messrs. Morton, Cockill, Pearse and Shepard were guests of the class. We left Williamsport on our special at 1.45 a. m. arriving in Lewisburg at 3 o'clock, tired but happy.

SCRANTON STARS DEFEATED

Varsity Shows Improved Form and Wins Easily on Friday

The 'varsity basketball team defeated the Scranton Stars in a clean, fast game in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night. Score 37 to 14. Bucknell won handily, but the game was never-the-less interesting from start to finish. There was little unnecessary roughness, few fouls being called on either team. The visiting team played a good game. Their passing at times was good, and they frequently gave clever exhibitions at goal throwing. Wills made a perfect shot from center to the floor which was heartily applauded. However, the Stars were outclassed and victory for the 'varsity was never in doubt.

There were many encouraging features in the work of Bucknell. The men displayed better team work than at any previous time this year, and they were fast on their feet. They were in the game at all times. Their shooting on the whole was very good, many goals being made from difficult positions.

Bucknell started off with a rush and scored three goals before the visitors got their breath. The first goal was made within four seconds of play The 'varsity scored steadily and in the first half ran up a total of 18 points, to 7 for the visitors. Every man on the team distinguished himself by his fine work. The second half also witnessed some clever playing on the part of Bucknell. The visitors did better than in first half and scored two goals in quick succession shortly after the half opened.

The line up:

BUCKNELL		SCRANTON
Roberts	forward	T. McCluskie
Cheesman	forward	Skiff Wills
Cockill	center	Wills T. McCluskie
Smith	guard	P. McCluskie
Johnson	guard	Conney Goldsmith

Goals, Roberts 4, Cheesman 5, Cockill 2, Smith 5, Johnson 2, Wills 4, P. McCluskie. Goals from fouls, Wills 4, Cheesman. Referee, Hoskins.

Juniors Defeat Freshmen.

A small crowd of spectators witnessed an exciting game of basketball between the Juniors and Freshmen on Saturday afternoon. The former won 20 to 18. The Juniors were handicapped by the absence of Cheesman and Smith, and the first-year men came near being their match. The first half ended 11 to 10 in favor of the Juniors, and for a while in the second half the Freshmen led by one point. The Juniors made a spurt and gained a big lead, which their opponents could not quite overcome.

The game was scrappy and very unscientific. Several fouls were called, but there were many fouls made of which no cognizance was taken. Several good shots were made, while at other times the easiest kind of chances were missed.

The line-up:

1905.		1907
Grier	forward	Roberts
Robbins	forward	Leach
Groff
Cockill	center	Wascher
Taggart
Sheppard	guard	Lummis
Groff	guard	Baer McNinch

Goals from floor, Roberts 2, Sheppard 4, McNinch 3, Leach, 3, Robbins, Wascher, Cockill 2. Goals from fouls, Grier 2. Referee, Claypool.

The Seminary Reception

One of the most splendid social functions of the year was the reception given by the Institute Seniors on Friday evening. The guests, about one hundred in number, consisted of town, Sunbury, Milton and Williamsport people. During the evening Trate's orchestra of Watsontown rendered some very pretty pieces.

The decorations in the school room and parlor were more elaborate than usual. The school room had been transformed into a pretty reception room by means of numerous cozy corners. Among these were the Bucknell corner and the music corner, both of which were very tastefully arranged. The back parlor was an Oriental room whose heavy hangings and dim lights made it one of the most popular places of the evening.

The following College and Institute Classes will hold re-unions next Commencement '54, '64, '74, '84, '94 and '99.

C. F. Shipman, Esq., of Sunbury, visited his Alma Mater a few days ago. He states that his class, 1899, will hold its fifth anniversary the coming commencement.

An attempt will be made on Monday evening to renew interest in the Glee Club organized last term. A meeting has been called for 7 o'clock in Bucknell Hall when the plans will be outlined. Active work will begin at once, it is said.

The Day of Prayer for colleges and and preparatory schools observed last Thursday in the majority of institutions of learning in America, was instituted in New England colleges in the early part of the last century, at a time when the religious life of the college was at a very low ebb. One feature of the day that is not generally known, is that at a number of the theological seminaries the graduates of each college represented in the seminary meet separately and pray for the welfare of their alma mater.

BUCKNELL WINS AGAIN

Basketball Team Easily Defeat The Lasalle Championship Five.

Lovers of basketball were treated to an interesting exhibition of the game on Saturday night when the 'varsity and the Lasalle championship team of Philadelphia played in Tustin Gymnasium. Bucknell played a better game than her opponent and won by the score of 37 to 14. The visitors, however, proved to be the best team that has played here this season and their brilliant work at times received merited applause.

Although Smith was unable to play and Cockill was suffering from injuries, the work of the 'varsity five was an improvement over that of the preceding week. They passed and shot well, guarded their opponents closely and never failed to take advantage of loose and careless playing on the part of the visiting team. Short, quick passes from the center to a forward on the toss-up resulted in goals on several occasions, while in other ways the Orange and Blue outwitted their opponents.

The Lasalle Championship team does not represent Lasalle College, but is made up of men who composed the Lasalle team last season which won the City championship of Philadelphia, the only exception to this being Devine, the center, who last year played on the State College five. Before the game on Saturday night President Harris received a telegram from the Lasalle authorities stating that the team that was to play in Lewisburg did not represent Lasalle College. However, they played a good game and with proper coaching would develop into an excellent team. They passed well, but took too many difficult chances in shooting for goals, often making an attempt when three-fourths the length of the floor from their goal. Three of these, however, resulted successfully and the audience showed its appreciation of the exhibition by hearty applause.

The reputation of the visiting team had caused many misgivings as to Bucknell's winning the game, but by middle of the first half it was seen that the 'varsity was the superior team. Bucknell scored a goal within a minute of play and followed this by getting two goals from fouls. Thus getting the lead early in the game, they maintained it throughout. The first half ended 19 to 8. The all-around work of Bucknell and sensational shots by the visitors were the features. The second half was very much like the first, Bucknell excelling at all points. There was considerable rough playing early in the game, but this disappeared as game advanced.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		LASALLE
Cheesman	forward	Sauers
Roberts	forward	Ruff
Cockill	center	J. Devine
Johnson	guard	C. Devine
		B. Sauers
Grier	guard	Dick

Goals from field, Cheesman 9, Roberts, Cockill 3; Grier 2, C. Devine, Dick 3, Sauers, J. Devine. Goals from foul, C. Devine, Ruff, Dick 3, Grier 3.

Wednesday Night's Game.

Bucknell will play Shenandoah here on Wednesday night.

Juniors Defeat Seniors.

The Senior-Junior basketball game, around which most of the interest in the inter-class series centered, was won by the Juniors on last Tuesday night, the score being 11 to 7. The game was intensely exciting, comparatively clean and marked by many singular features. There was but one goal from the floor thrown during the contest, that by the losing team. The Juniors scored all their points on goals from fouls and all of these were thrown by one man, Grier. Had the Seniors thrown the same proportion of goals from fouls they would have won the game, for more offenses were committed by the Juniors than the Seniors.

The game was unusual in that it came to hinge upon the goal-throwing ability of two individuals. In which the Junior excelled, throwing 12 out of a possible 15, one of which, however, did not count. The team work of the two fives was about equal, though the Seniors had many more opportunities for shots than their opponents. Both sides covered closely and the Juniors did not have more than a dozen tries for goals from the floor during the game.

That the game was so clean in the presence of such intense opposition was due to the officiating of Mr. Turner, of Williamsport, whose watchful eye missed few offenses. His work was the most consistent and most impartial ever witnessed on the home floor.

The Seniors took the lead shortly after the game opened, getting a goal from foul. It was some time before the Juniors scored one point through the same source. The Seniors took the lead by scoring the only goal from the floor and another goal from foul, which were followed by a second goal from offense by the Juniors, making the score 4 to 2. Near the close of the half each team scored from foul and the half closed with the score 6 to 3 in favor of the Seniors. The inability of the Seniors to throw goals from fouls prevented their total from being much larger.

The Seniors made repeated fouls after the opening of the second half and the Juniors were not slow to take advantage of them. Within three minutes the score was tied. The Seniors, however, got a goal from foul and again took the lead, only to have the Juniors even up a minute later. A repitition of this took place shortly afterwards, making the score 7 to 7. After this the Seniors were unable to throw goals from fouls, while the Juniors made four in succession and bagged the game.

The line-up:

1904		1905
Roberts	forward	Grier
Daniels	forward	Cheesman
Johnson	center	Cockill
McCormick	guard	Smith
Sheppard	guard	Taggart

Goals from floor, McCormick. Goals from fouls, McCormick 4, Daniels, Grier 11. Referee, Mr. Turner.

Many Reunions Promised.

The class of 1884 is arranging to hold its twentieth anniversary at the next Commencement. Enrest L. L. Tustin, Esq., will tender the class a complimentary dinner at the Baker House. From present indications there will be a large number of class reunions held here next Commencement.

PROF. W. W. KELCHNER

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University

This week the Orange and Blue presents a picture of Professor William Wilson Kelchner. Professor Kelchner received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1886 and that of Master of Arts in 1889. While in college he maintained a very high grade of scholarship, and he is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. In 1903 he received a prize offered by the University of Pennsylvania on a topic connected with High School work, an excerpt from which we publish with this issue. Not long after graduation he became Principal of the Williamsport High School, a position which he still maintains. In this work his well known skill as a teacher and his executive ability have been markedly displayed and he has brought his institution up to a high degree of efficiency that has attracted wide notice.

Upon entering college, the high school student leaves behind him at once the restraints of home and the immediate supervision of his study and conduct at school. He enters upon a life of greater freedom and larger responsibility. For this grave transition, the high school should afford some preparation. Plans for pupil co-operation in school government seems to provide especially for the evolution of the power of self-government. The practical efficiency of these plans has not been determined; it will require years of experiment under various conditions to ascertain whether self-government schemes develop character more soundly and more generally than the prevailing form of school management. Meanwhile, under the present method of discipline, students must be prepared for college freedom. To accomplish this, the high school should secure the co-operation of the home in seeking to furnish the pupil with good habits of study—regular, systematic and extensive—with good habits of rest and recreation, with the cardinal virtues of conduct—frankness, honesty and devotion to duty. To this end, high school discipline should be mild and reasonable, based upon the plainest principles of good conduct and effective work. As they advance in grade, pupils should be given larger opportunities to exercise self-control until toward the end of the course, they may be left much to themselves, accountable only for the abuse of the confidence reposed in them. The aim of all good discipline of course, is to render the pupil capable of self-control; in the high school the age and attainments of the pupils should warrant the gradual withdrawal of external restraints, except the mutual obligations inherent in the school community. Disregard of God's second coming was in spirit, these common duties should be followed by private interviews between teacher and pupil; if necessary, the circumstances should be fully explained to the parents and their co-operation requested; if these influences fail, the pupil should be subjected to the most natural form of punishment, and when incorrigible, excluded from the school. Under such a system, wisely administered, pupils will develope such self-control that they will adjust themselves properly to the greater freedom of the college. —From Prize essay of the University of Pennsylvania by Professor W. W. Kelchner, '86.

The Weather in January.

The Orange and Blue is indebted to Prof. Owens for the following:

The year 1904 will be remembered as one in which there was an "old-fashioned winter." January was one of the coldest on record. Every week had two or three days below zero, and these were, with one exception, Tuesday and Wednesday. The coldest morning was the fifth, when the thermometer reached 29 degrees below zero more than an hour after daylight. This is among the lowest temperatures ever recorded in Lewisburg. The highest temperature for the month was 50 degrees above, on the 23rd. The average maximum temperature was 29 degrees and the average minimum temperature 3.7 degrees, while the average for the whole month was only 16 degrees. For this locality this is a very low average.

The total precipitation amounted to 4.52 inches. The fall of snow was thirty-three inches, of which twelve inches, or one inch of water, fell on the 26th. There was precipitation on thirteen days, and on thirteen days the thermometer was down to zero or below. There were also thirteen cloudy days; yet most of the month was clear, having fifteen clear days to its credit. The barometer during the entire month was high, sometimes going to the extreme in that direction. The atmosphere was generally very dry, and many persons, not suspecting from any feeling of cold that the temperature was so low, had their ears, hands or feet frozen.

Chemical and Physical Society.

An appreciative audience listened to Dr. Leslie, M. D., at last week's meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society. Dr. Leslie, who has been in Congo, Africa, for several years spoke on the chemistry of the natives of that country. He explained the method of preparing and preserving food, principally fruit. With them salt is very scarce and in the interior brings fabulous prices. The natives have passed through the stone age and are now in the iron age. Their blacksmith-shop is a very primitive one, but produces satisfactory results. Within recent years a large part of their metal wares was obtained from England and other countries in exchange for fruit.

Distinction for Bucknellian.

Miss Alicia M. Zierden, '00, of Du-Bois, has arrived at West Chester and has commenced the work of arranging the educational exhibit of Pennsylvania at the St. Louis Fair, of which she will have charge. Miss Zierden was in charge of similar exhibits at Buffalo and Charleston.

THE BASEBALL SCHEDULE

List of Games to Be Played By 'Varsity Nine This Spring.

The baseball schedule prepared by Manager Caruthers has been approved by the President and the Advisory Committee. It includes 23 games, nine of which are on the home grounds. The game originally scheduled with Lafayette for Lewisburg has been cancelled by Lafayette owing to too heavy a schedule.

The schedule in detail is as follows:

April 13, Naval Academy, at Annapolis.
April 19, Carlisle, at Dickinson.
April 20, Gettysburg, at Gettysburg.
April 23, Lehigh, at Lewisburg.
April 30, Villanova, at Lewisburg.
May 3, Seton Hall, at South Orange.
May 4, Fordham, at New York.
May 12, Gettysburg, at Lewisburg.
May 14, Dickinson, at Lewisburg.
May 20, Cuban Giants, at Lewisburg
May 21, Bloomsburg, at Bloomsburg.
May 30, Harrisburg, at Harrisburg, (2 games.)
May 31, Indians, at Carlisle.
June 4, Williamsport, at Williamsport.
June 7, Villanova, at Villanova.
June 8, Princeton, at Princeton.
June 14, Lehigh at South Bethlehem.
June 15, Lafayette, at Easton.
June 18, Bloomsburg, at Lewisburg.
June 20, Williamsport, at Lewisburg.
June 21, Lebanon Valley, at Lewisburg.
June 22, Indians, at Lewisburg.

A Pedestrian Club.

During the past week a pedestrian club was organized with the following members: Ranck, Williamson, Scheick, Long, Henry, Potter, Bostwick, Bowen, Elliott, '07, Gardner, '05, P. G. Hess, Hummel, Bartol, Powell, Zugschwert and Goldsmith.

Although the idea of a pedestrian club is somewhat novel, in other universities it has a recognized place in the list of clubs, and there is little doubt that the club will have a large membership and prove deservedly popular. Aside from the long cross-country rambles, so enjoyable in the Spring term, the club proposes to spend several Saturdays in profitable visits to places of historical and geological interest in the vicinity of Lewisburg. Limited investigations will be conducted under the supervision of a professor who will accompany the party.

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's for $3.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

Johnson, '02, visited friends in college during the week.

Marts, '02, has been spending a few days among friends on the hill and in town.

THE PRINCETON INCIDENT

The public generally will approve the action of the Princeton University authorities in expelling from that institution five young men convicted of purchasing examination questions in advance of the examination. As much credit will be given to the student body which made it possible for the authorities to learn of the fraud, and which, through its honor system committee, recommended the action subsequently taken.

The honor system of examinations was introduced at Princeton twelve years ago. It provides that every student shall do independent work in examinations, over which the faculty shall have no superintendence. Each student is required, however, to sign a statement at the end of each examination that he has neither given nor received any help. He pledges his honor and integrity that he has been honest in the examination. Up to the present incident there was but one violation of the system, and Princeton has always been pointed to as the place where the system could be seen in all its perfection. The success of the system has always been a source of pride to Princeton men. That five offenders have been apprehended does not detract from the effectiveness of the system; on the contrary, the incident brings into prominence its excellence. The sense of honor which the system had instilled into the students of Princeton led them to take up the clue, complete the chain of evidence and then recommend expulsion, though the offenders had not really violated the letter of the obligation taken by them. The severity of the penalty lies not in the simple expulsion from college but in the loss of the confidence and respect of their fellow students, which, however, is deserved. The profit of the unfortunate incident will fall to Princeton and the honor system.

WAY OF LIFE MEETINGS

The Way of Life meetings, held every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Bucknell Hall, are the result of the Week of Prayer. The interest manifested throughout the week, combined with the urgent need of evangelistic effort and a reawakening of the spiritual life among the students, induced the President to inaugurate the Way of Life meetings, which will be continued indefinitely and probably become a regular feature of our religious life. The addresses are eminently practical and helpful. A systematic effort is now being made to reach the men through the card system of invitation to accept Christ. No undue pressure will be brought to bear upon anyone and all should feel free to attend the meetings. All are cordially invited to attend the service next Sunday afternoon; the address will be delivered by Prof. Phillips.

The continued improvement in form of the basketball team is very encouraging and leads us to hope for another successful season. Whether or not we equal last season's record of no games lost does not matter; all we desire is a good team which at all times will do the best of which it is capable. Incidentally it is interesting to observe the spirit manifested by players and other students in basketball. Three years in succession we have developed a winning team from a small nucleus and put pessimism to utter rout. We credit the achievement to an intense spirit, which, if transmitted to other branches of athletics, would result in teams of corresponding strength.

The baseball schedule officially announced in this issue is a credit to the management. It contains many important games and the most earnest effort on the part of the candidates will be required to win a fair percentage of them.

No Premium on Ignorance.

We are living in an age of premiums, premiums for this and premiums for that. They placard the walls, parade on the rocks, and are seen in the press in great letters. The dire dismal lists of catch-trade schemes are every where apparent. The newspaper offers its premiums for subscribers, the tradesman offers his premium to sell his wares and even the Sunday school offers its premiums for scholars. But there is one thing upon which there is no premium to-day and that is ignorance. Jesus said to his disciples, "Unto you is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom;" but it is quite evident that they did not know the mysteries of the kingdom until they had finished their course in the school of which Jesus himself was the great teacher; and after his graduation on the day of Pentecost they began to reveal the mysteries of the kingdom. And what was their curriculum? Just this: Two years on the subject Jesus the Messiah and one year on the death, resurrection and ascention of Jesus; and when they had finished this course they were acquainted to some extent with the mysterious of the kingdom and were fitted to preach.

Neither did Jesus place a premium on ignorance when he desired an apostle to the Gentiles. Saul of Tarsus was called, who was by no means an ignorant man. It was Saul's education at the feet of Gamaliel that enabled him to grasp so readily the mysteries of the kingdom and that education plus divine revelation enabled Paul to handle in a masterly way questions that were vital to the Kingdom of God.

Neither did Paul place a premium on ignorance when he sought a colaborer. Timothy a man of good report, was selected and that he might be thoroughly equipped for the work of the ministry Paul charged him, "Study to shew thyself approved of God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth."

The people in the churches to-day are like unto Jesus and Paul in this respect. They place no premium on ignorance; they demand well trained men for their pastors. Even the small struggling church will seek for the best trained men that their means will command.—Rev.. A. E. Finn, '94.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

The Baseball Coach.

Peter Agnew, who has been engaged to coach the 'varsity baseball team during the month of April, is one of the most prominent players in independent baseball.

His first experience was with the Manhattan College nine, where he held the position of catcher for three years, 1899 to 1901 inclusive. After the close of the college season of 1899 he caught on the Atlantic City nine, and the next season played with Chester, where he remained the two following years. Last season he joined Harrisburg and was the regular catcher, participating in 133 games. His batting average was .296 and his fielding average .950, which stands as a record for catchers in the Independent Association. During last season and since, Mr. Agnew has received offers from the Philadelphia and Cleveland American League teams, but he has decided to remain with Harrisburg.

I am confident that the delegates from the part of the State where I reside will, at the State Convention, oppose the unit rule."—Philadelphia Record.

INSTITUTE.

Zeta held its usual bi-weekly meeting on last Thursday. The program, though not long, was very interesting, the open discussion at the close furnishing much amusement The quotations as given were apt in many instances, being decidedly appropriate to individual cases. At the business meeting that followed the literary portion it was decided to have a picture taken for L'Agenda. The program was as follows.

Piano Duet, Misses Duncan and Cobb.

Roll call, answered by selections from "Mother Goose."

Talk on reorganization of Zeta, Miss Velola Hall.

Vocal solo, "Asthore," Miss Lane.

Open discussion, "The Ethical and Psychological Effect of 'Mother Goose' and Kindred Productions on Children.'"

The Fourth Form Girls gave one of their term recitals on Monday evening. The pieces were all well given and showed the careful drill of the elocution teacher, Miss Schillinger. The program was as follows:

"The Ghost of Lone Rock," Margaret Stoughton.

"The Deacon's Courtship," Mary Brown.

"A Literary Nightmare," Elizabeth Baker.

"The Clown's Baby," Katharine Halfpenny.

"How Burlington Was Saved," Mary Halfpenny.

"How Uncle Podger Hangs a Picture," Jeanette Wolfe.

Last week the Institute was very fortunate in receiving gifts from Mrs. William B. Clement, Institute, class of 1867, of Philadelphia. The gifts consisted of a valuable herbarium and two large statues. The herbarium contains five hundred rare botanical specimens from all parts of the United States and Canada, and will be very helpful to the class in botany. The statutes are of Minerva and Art, —the Genius of Statuary. The school appreciates very much the gifts and interest thus shown in it.

Misses Duncan, Innes and Parsons were initiated into C. E. A., on Saturday. In the evening C. E. A., chaperoned by Miss Stanton, dined at the Baker House.

Misses Louise Brown and Nelle Johnson were home over Sunday.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Leighou, '06, was initiated into Phi Gamma Delta last week.

Browning, '04, was called home last week by the death of his mother.

Dr. Harris will deliver an address at the Founders Day celebration at Peddie Institute on February 12.

Madden, ex-'05, was in town over Sunday. After leaving Bucknell last year, Madden went to Allegheny College, and this year entered Syracuse. He has not been in college since the holidays, however, owing to an attack of typhoid fever.

COLLEGE GIRLS' RECEPTION

Bucknell Co-eds Entertain Friends Delightfully on Friday Evening.

One of the most pleasant events of the year took place on Friday evening, when the College Girls gave their annual reception. The Institute parlors were very prettily decorated the color scheme being red, with the Valentine idea predominating.

One of the most unique features of the decorations was the silhouette gallery, the silhouettes of the girls and faculty present hung on a dark green curtain. In the dining room the same decoration scheme was carried out. The red hearts, and red lights proclaiming that it was the season of the sentimental little god. During the evening Trate's orchestra furnished the delightful music which served as a kettle drum for conversation. At 10.30 o'clock refreshments were served, which were in keeping with the season.

Quite a number of out of town guests were present and the affair was a most enjoyable one.

The Senior Sleigh-ride.

Last Monday the Senior class enjoyed its annual sleigh-ride, followed by a supper at the Mansion House, Watsontown. There were three sleds full; the girls, Miss Hanna, our charming chaperon, and some of the men going first, and the "Supreme Court" coming last. The night being perfect, not too cold and beautifully starry, and the sleighing good, the eight miles to Watsontown passed quickly. A little after ten o'lock we sat down to an elaborate turkey supper and feasted bountifully and with jollity. Afterwards we listened to the witty, but all too short, toasts of Messrs. Livezy, Perrine and Martz. We then adjourned to the parlor and passed the remainder of the evening very pleasantly, chatting and playing games, the chief of which was "forfeits." Several very interesting recitations were given by Messrs. Cule and Livezy as their forfeits. At half past one o'clock we started for home, sorry that another eventful day in our class history was ended. On the way home the "Supreme Court" took precedence.

The girls of the class desire to extend their sincere thanks for one of the pleasant evenings in their college life.

The Junior Prom.

The annual Junior Promenade, one of the features of the social life of Bucknell, was held in the Armory on Thursday evening and was a brilliant success. The arrangements were elaborate and the young men looked after convenience and comfort of their guests in a manner that reflects creditably upon their ability as entertainers. Fifty couples were in attendance.

The hall was beautifully decorated, the class colors, cherry and white, predominating. The window hangings throughout were of these colors. A feature of the decorations was the fraternity corner, where fraternity emblems, pennants and pillows were displayed and comfortable seats provided.

The Danville orchestra furnished the music. Oppenheim, of Wilkesbarre, had been engaged, but the crippled railroad facilities made it impossible for that organization to get to Lewisburg. The committee was indeed fortunate in securing as capable an orchestra as the Danville on such short notice.

The program consisted of 24 numbers and four extras. During an intermission refreshments were served.

The following were the patronesses for the occasion: Mrs. Andrew A. Leiser, Mrs. J. C. Bucher, Mrs. W. C. Walls, Mrs. Thomas C. Thornton, Mrs. Thomas S. Norton, Mrs. Nellie C. Marsh, Mrs. H. M.McClure.

The Prom. committee consisted of the following: Bittenbender, chairman; McCain, Portser, Scott, Cooper, Bostwick, Wood, Ausherman, Cockill, Vorse, Sheppard, Gardner, Morton, Mackey, Smiley, Grier, Marsh, Royer, Hafner, Pearse, Smith.

Among the out-of-town guests were the following:

Miss Welker, Miss Rhodes, Miss Mills, Williamsport; the Misses Bound, Milton; Miss Clark, Miss Holliday, Pittsburg; Miss Goodman, Mr. Pierson, Philadelphia; Mr. Young, Thusville; Mr. Hiller, Reading; Miss Kress, Johnsonburg; Miss Cassell, Hummelstown; Mr. Harvey, Lock Haven.

Bucknell Alumni Meet.

On Tuesday evening, February ninth, the Bucknell Alumnae Club held its annual open meeting in the Institute parlors. The rooms were filled to their utmost capacity with the members of the club and their guests. As is usual upon this occasion, Mrs. Larison was the guest of honor and was most cordially welcomed. The club's program for the year is the study of American types, and this meeting was devoted to the "New Yorker." The following program was given:—

Piano Solo—Miss Tracy.

Paper.—The "New Yorker," Mrs. Larison.

Reading.—Typical New York of Bygone Days, Washington Irving, Mrs. Martin.

The 20th Century New Yorker, Mrs. Loomis.

Song. —"The Violet", Mildenberg, Miss Emma Nesbit.

After the program, dainty refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening passed quickly in pleasant conversation and the renewal of old acquaintanceship.

Committee Selects Play.

The Athletic Field Committee is at work on ways and means to raise money. They have decided upon a play to be given for the benefit of the fund. It is a comedy entitled "A Cheerful Liar" and will be produced in the Lewisburg Opera House early next term.

Arrangements are also being made for an exhibition game of basketball between the Seniors and Juniors, to be played sometime this term.

There is also some thought of giving a musical comedy, something which can be prepared in a few weeks, the latter part of the present term.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers.

The Young Men's Christian Association elected the following officers at last Tuesday's meeting:

President, Hylbert, '05.
Vice-President, Schelck, '05.
Recording Secretary, Pease, '05.
Corresponding Secretary, Barton, '06.
Treasurer, Robbins, '05.

MR. O. S. V. MARTS

A Young Bucknell Alumnus Who Is Making His Mark

O. S. V. Marts was graduated from Perkiomen Seminary in 1898 and from the college in 1902, a Bachelor of Arts. While in college he was manager of the Mirror and the Commencement News, both of which enterprises he completed successfully. During the Spring term of his Senior year he taught Greek and History in Perkiomen Seminary with great acceptance. He was asked to return there upon graduation, but went to South Jersey Institute. Here he taught English and History for one and one-half years, increasing his reputation as teacher. Recently at the request of the Board of Trustees he resigned his position as teacher to become manager of the institution's business and financial affairs. Mr. Marts is among the younger graduates, but he has already made an enviable reputation for himself. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Prof DeMott on Tuesday Night.

On Tuesday evening, February 16, Prof. John B. DeMott will deliver his famous lecture entitled "The Harp of the Senses", in the Opera House, being the fourth of the series of entertainments given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. All who have heard Prof. DeMott say that this lecture is not only highly educational, but also intensely interesting and helpful to all classes. The great humorist, Bob Burdette, in a personal letter says: "Without decrying any of the rest of your talent, I am sure the pleasantest and most profitable evening in your course will be the one when Prof. John B. DeMott occupies the platform. I know of no other man in America with his power of popularizing science; no man who can make instruction so pleasant that it seems like an entertainment, until the hearer suddenly realizes that he knows a hundred-fold more than he did an hour before and yet is not conscious of having made any effort to acquire knowledge. There should not be a vacant chair in the house the night of Prof. DeMott's lecture. I have followed him in a great many lecture courses, and without exception his audiences have been cordial and enthusiastic in their praises of the man, his charming personality and his splendid worth."

Professor Martin at Philadelphia.

Prof. Martin delivered a powerful address on "The Social Service of the Christian Deacon" before the Philadelphia Conference of Baptist Ministers in Griffith Hall, Philadelphia, on last Monday morning. There was a large attendance.

Service is the Christian law of adaptation; by simplest service to human needs the Church shall accomplish her purpose. The deacon's function is to interpret the spiritual need of the common life; to render Christian sympathy to the widow; to protect and train the orphan; to bear the love of the Church in various forms to the aged; to show the opportunities of divine grace to the sick,—the good Samaritan was the original type of the Christian deacon; to do good in prudence to the poor, thus effectually bridging the chasm between the rich and the poor; to offer forgiveness to the sinner that stands always behind the prisoner; to aid the unlearned in the attainment of wisdom, for education is but trust in the primal forces of the future. In this manner the Christian deacon will increase the efficiency of the ministry by sharing their burdens.

Bucknell in the Relays.

Manager Pearse of the track team has been notified that the Bucknell relay team will run in the same class at the Pennsylvania races as last year. One important change has been made in the class, the Carlisle Indians having replaced Westminster College. This will add interest to the race from Bucknell's point of view, since the Orange and Blue is evenly matched with the red men in nearly every branch of athletics. The other members are State College, Dickinson, Washington and Jefferson and Johns Hopkins.

The race this year will be one of the most interesting on the program, as all the contestants are in the same rank athletically. Last year Bucknell won the race and Johns Hopkins was a close second.

Other classes which will interest Bucknell students are as follows:

Swarthmore, Haverford, Lehigh, Lafayette, College of the City of New York, University of New York, Rutgers.

Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Ursinus, Delaware, Maryland Agricultural College, Western Maryland College.

Metallurgy Class Visits Milton.

The class in metallurgy went on a tour of inspection to the nail mill of Fred Godcharles & Co., in Milton last week, one division going on Thursday and the other on Friday. Prof. Owens accompanied the parties, Mr. Godcharles very accomodatingly conducted the students through the plant and explained to them the various details of the work.

To Reorganize T-Square Club.

A meeting of those interested in the re-organization of the T-Square Club was held and a committee appointed to draw up a new constitution and by-laws. The Club will be entirely re-organized, and all the students are invited to join whether they are in the engineering courses or not.

SHENANDOAH WAS OUTCLASSED

Bucknell Wins An Easy Victory From the Coal Region Boys.

The basketball game with Shenandoah in Tustin Gymnasium on Wednesday night was not even good practice for the 'varsity, resulting in a score of 62 to 6 in favor of Bucknell. The visitors resembled high school boys in appearance and their ability as basketball players was in conformity. The 'varsity took things easy throughout the game and made 31 goals from the floor. Most of the second half was played with three substitutes. Shenandoah, on the other hand, scored only 6 points and these were principally gifts. Their first goal was not made till near the middle of the second half, but it was sufficiently spectacular to receive prolonged applause. With the score 40 to 0 in favor of Bucknell, the ball was put in play in the center of the floor. Center Cockill stepped aside and allowed his opponent to catch it. Standing in the circle and entirely unmolested, the Shenandoah player made a perfect goal, much to the pleasure of the spectators. The other goal was scarcely less sensational, being made from a difficult angle and quite a distance from the basket. The other two points scored by the visitors were made on fouls. The game was free from rough playing and offences, only five fouls being called, all on the home five.

The 'varsity began scoring early in the game and in the first half rolled up a total of thirty points. In the second half they did even better, though there were three substitutes in the game. When the players exerted themselves they did some pretty work, especially in the way of passing. The game, on the whole, was dull and uninteresting.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		SHENANDOAH
Cheesman	forward	Price
L. Roberts	forward	Ecker
Cockill	center	Horan
Grier	guard	Williams
Johnson.
W. Roberts	guard	Millett
Sheppard.

Goals from floor, Cheesman 11, Roberts 7, Cockill 7, Johnson 3, Grier, 3 Horan, Ecker. Goals from fouls, Price 2. Referee, Hoskins.

Next Friday's Game.

The next 'varsity basketball game in Tustin Gymnasium will be played on next Friday evening, Gettysburg being the opposing team. Gettysburg is one of the few college teams which were willing to come to Lewisburg, and since they always play well, a good exhibition may be expected. So far this season the Gettysburg team has been quite successful.

New Alma Mater Song

A new Alma Mater Song written to the music of "Die Watch Am Rhein" is making its appearance. The air is a strong one and the words fit admirably. They were composed for a purpose but no attempt is being made to restrict its use to those for whom it was written. On the contrary it is to be encouraged among the students; they may be called upon sometime to sing it.

WANTED!—A SUPREME INDIFFERENCE

Right here in college there is need for indifference; an indifference not only to personal appearance and other externals, but also to habits of thought and modes of action. However, this indifference is not for our own appearance and thoughts and actions, but for those of others. We need an indifference that will allow a man to wear and think and do what he pleases, provided he does not interfere with the genuine rights of others; an indifference that will allow the other cranks among us to indulge in their peculiarities undisturbed, and, apparently, unobserved. We need to learn to observe what has been called the "eleventh commandment" and has been briefly expressed thus: "Mind your own business." In many cases we need to answer Cain's question in the negative. To be sure, in a certain sense we are our brother's keeper: should we see a deaf and blind man standing in the path of a runaway horse, it would be our clear duty to interfere with his right to walk along our highways unmolested; for if we did not interfere with this right of his the horse would, and a necessary member of society would be lost. However, in such cases a fine discrimination is needed; for instance, if we should see a wicked child sinning in blissful ignorance of the wrath to come, while there approaches him an irate woman carrying in her hand that supreme badge of maternal authority—the old-time leather-soled slipper—our duty would clearly lie in the direction of indifference, especially if the woman were larger than we.

Even though this indifference is greatly to be desired yet it must not be cultivated if there be any danger of its being accompanied by, or degenerating into, snobbishness. Snobbishness ignores both the good and the bad in men: wholesome indifference winks at the harmless in men.

So then, let us cultivate a discriminating indifference, such an indifference as will allow our neighbors to wear, without comment or contempt, a new hat, an old hat, or no hat at all, that will, with indulgence, allow him to flunk or be brilliant as he wills, that will suffer him, in peace, to mind his own business, an indifference, in fine, that will be indistinguishable from magnanimity.

The weekly indoor contests, inaugurated for the first time this season on Saturday, are designed by Coach Hoskins to place the candidates for the track and field team in condition for the spring meets. Since there is no great abundance of material this year, every student who has any ability in that direction should feel it his duty to take part each week.

The Freshman Year.

In looking back over the college careers of those who for various reasons have been prominent in undergraduate life in the University, one cannot help noticing that these men have nearly always shown from the start an interest in the lives of their fellow students. A large acquaintance means that many persons are dependent on a man and conversely that he is himself dependent on many. Success necessarily means larger responsibilities, and responsibility means many friends. But the man who makes a success of his college career like the successful man of business makes his friends me after the hard work is over, but while it is going on, and the time to begin to make a success of university life, the time to begin to make friends, is essentially the freshman year, for it is then that friendships are easiest to make. It is then that generally begins the building up of whatever career the future has in store—the time that often decides whether the fates allotted shall be success or failure.—Harvard Crimson.

AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS

Coach Gillis has introduced basketball at Lebanon Valley College.

Basketball at Lafayette has been discontinued owing to poor gymnasium facilities.

Lafayette's baseball schedule has 22 games, including a Southern trip of nine games. Amherst is met for the first time.

Lafayette has arranged dual track meets with Lehigh and Swarthmore, and is negotiating with Annapolis, Rutgers and Haverford.

Franklin and Marshall and Ursinus have broken off athletic relations, the former having taken the action. No reason is given.

The Dickinson baseball team has commenced indoor practice. The prospects for a strong team are encouraging, though few of last year's men are back.

Glenn S. Warner, who has coached the Indians for several years, has signed a three year contract with his Alma Mater, Cornell. It is said he will receive the largest salary ever paid a coach.

Six hundred and fifty students are attending the University of Virginia. This University, which was founded in 1825, claims the oldest existing Y. M. C. A. in the world.

Inspired by the same martial ardor that during the civil war prompted Gettysburg College to furnish a company of minute men in the effort to repulse Stuart's ralders, twenty-five students of that institution last week organized as the Japanese Club and have offered their services to the Japanese government through its Minister at Washington.

Inter-Class Basketball.

The following is the inter-class basketball schedule for the remainder of the term:

Monday, February 15, 4 p. m., Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Monday, February 29, 4 p. m., Juniors vs. Sophomores.
Tuesday, March 8, 8 p. m., Sophomores vs. Freshmen

The Bucknell Shield

The new Bucknell shield is undoubtedly the prettiest and most substantial Bucknell ornament yet placed upon the market. It consists of a seven inch seal, enameled in the correct shades of orange and blue, and mounted upon polished oak, 13x10 inches. They are on sale at Mrs. C. B. Vorse's for $2.50 which is very reasonable considering their quality. Every Bucknell student should have one of the shields.

The Modern Language Association of America has accepted the invitation of Brown University to hold its next annual meeting in Providence. The sessions will occupy three days of the last week of this year; probably December 27, 28 and 29

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The 50th annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania will be held in Scranton, February 17 to 21. The Jubilee convention promises to be one of the best ever held and of particular interest to college men. Reduced rates have been secured from the railroad companies and entertainment of the delegates is free. Among other speakers will be Robert E. Speer, of New York; John R. Mott, Chairman of the International Committee; Rev. C. I. Scofield, D. D., of Dallas, Texas; Ex-Governor General J. A. Beaver, of Bellefonte; Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Arthur Cotton, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Fred B. Smith, of New York, and Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., Secretary of the Educational Society of the Methodist church.

The following delegates will represent the Bucknell Y. M. C. A: Hunsberger, '04, Hylbert, '05, Gardner, '05, Scheick, '05, Robbins, '05, Waltz, '06, Barton, '06, Pease, '06, Green, '06, Stolz, '06, Griffiths, '07, Elsesser, '07, Strain, '07, Hilton, '07, Hess, '07.

Secretary Vogt Coming.

Bucknell students will be interested in the visit to Lewisburg of Mr. Van Ogden Vogt, General Secretary of the United Societies of Christian Endeavor, who will be in town on Friday evening, February 19th.

He will address a mass meeting in the Lutheran church at 7.30 p. m., and at the close of this meeting will conduct a Worker's Conference when he will discuss and give advice on important questions and problems of Christian Endeavor work.

Mr. Vogt is especially desirous of meeting every Officer and Christian Endeavor Worker in the County at this Conference.

Miss Schillinger, accompanied by Misses Taylor, Stuart, Leonard and Overholt, and assisted by Misses Kough, gave a very delightful entertainment in Watsontown on Friday evening.

Miss Stanton entertained from four until six on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Katharine B. Larison being the guest of honor. The prettily decorated rooms were filled with the ladies of town and their guests, while the College Orchestra, led by Dr. Avirgnet, rendered some very pretty pieces. The girls, who live in the Institute, assisted Miss Stanton in entertaining and the Senior Seminary girls served the toothsome refreshments. The affair was exceptionally enjoyable and delightful.

PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES TO STUDENTS

Rev. Vorhees and Prof. Helm Speak on Timely Subjects.

After the regular chapel exercises on Monday—the anniversary of Washington's birth—patriotic addresses were delivered to the school by Rev. Vorhees, an alumnus of Rutger's College, and by Prof. Helm. In the first speech Rev. Vorhees suggested that it was a mistake to celebrate Washington's birthday with a holiday, but that this day would be a proper occasion to study patriotism as it was embodied in George Washington.

In this connection, Rev. Vorhees gave an instructive talk upon the Life of William Alexander, an able general of Washington. Attention was called by the address to the development of Gen. Alexander's life history and the actions which led him, —an Englishman with the title Earl of Sterling—to espouse the cause of the colonies' claims. The fact that he had been denied an election by England to the House of Lords, after he had proven to the courts his claims to the title and estates of the Earldom of Sterling, probably exerted in him some influence against that country; but the final action that led William Alexander to enter the Colonial service came when England unjustly refused fair demands by the colonies for proper government. William Alexander entered the Colonial army in March, 1776, in response to the first call to arms and became immediately a brigadier-general. In February, 1777, the rank of major-general was conferred upon him and throughout the war he carried himself bravely, deserving of the honors conferred upon him.

Prof. Helm next delivered a very scholarly address on the Panama question. After tracing its history, the speaker drew the conclusion that the question involved was chiefly one of the validity of intervention. The doctrine of non-intervention is derived from the assumption of an equality between states. Historically, the doctrine of equality has always been a political dogma and not a legal rule. In the present century the tendency has been in an opposite direction. The great nations of the world practically legislate on a variety of questions. Intervention in Panama is virtually the assertion of the authority of the United States over certain questions, and a renunciation of the equality of states. This is in direct lines with our previous policy.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI BANQUET

Bucknell Graduates and Friends Have Merry Time at University Club.

The annual banquet of the Bucknell University Alumni Club of Philadelphia was held at the University Club on last Monday evening and was attended by nearly fifty members and friends. True Bucknell spirit reigned throughout and the event will be remembered as one of the most pleasant and profitable in the history of the organization. Classes as far back as '61 and as recent as '02 were represented, including men who have become prominent in business, in the professions and in military affairs—men truly representative of the best interests of Philadelphia and vicinity.

The banquet was held in the largest hall in the University Club, which was profusely decorated with the college colors. The tables were arranged in the form of a "T", extending the entire length of the room.

Following the business meeting the banquet began. At each place, in addition to the menu cards, was a leaf bearing a number college songs and yells which were given with enthusiasm and spirit between the courses and between the toasts after supper had been served. The Georgetown College alumni of Philadelphia were banqueting in an adjoining hall and shortly after the banqueters had become seated, a committee consisting of Messrs. Weaver, Rowland and Bolton were sent to the Georetown gathering to convey the respects of Bucknell. Later in the evening Georgetown reciprocated in the courtesy, sending to the Bucknell banquet hall a committee, the spokesman of which was the President, Rev. Father Fraley.

Dr. S. Lewis Ziegler, '80, presided as toastmaster, a position which he filled with ease and grace. Nine toasts were responded to. The principal one was that delivered by Dr. Enoch Perrine on "The Moulder Who Moulds," which was a thoughtful and masterly address, ably delivered and commanding the attention of every one present. Dr. Harris responded to the toast, "Our Alma Mater" in which he gave some interesting facts brought out in the new catalogue and told of the work now being carried on at Bucknell. He also announced that a prominent philanthropist had been asked to contribute a library building to the University.

Other toast were given as follows: "College Memories", Dr. A. J. Rowland, '62; "The School of Politics," Hon. Ward R. Bliss, '74; "The Trusts and the Trustees," E. L. Tustin, '84; "Affiliate Associations", McClancy Radcliffe, M. D., Lafayette; "Pills vs. Bullets", Joseph K. Weaver, '61. "Multum in Parvo, vs. Medicine in Politics", Samuel Bolton, M. D., '85; "The Orange and Blue", Edgar T. Stevenson, '04.

At the business meeting W. R. Bliss, '74, Milton G. Evans, '82, and Warren Martz, '94, were appointed to work in conjunction with the Enthusiasm Committee appointed by the Alumni Association last June to urge the attendance of all alumni at the commencement the coming June.

Dr. J. Paul Pontius was appointed chairman of the executive committee.

The following Obituary Committee was chosen: Rev. W. K. Lord, '78, Rev. C. A. Walker, '89, and Dr. A. R. Garner, '99.

Messrs. Bolton, Tustin and Evans were selected as the Nominating Committee.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, S. Lewis Ziegler, M. D. '80.
Vice-President, W. Norman Morris, '91.
Secretary, Rev. Joseph Roberts Wood, '94.
Treasurer, P. N. K. Schwenk, M. D., '76.

The Literary Societies

A joint committee from Eucpia and and Theta Alpha literary societies will probably meet this week and select a date and question for the annual inter-society debate which is to be held this term. Theta Alpha had its last preliminary debate last week and selected as her representatives, Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, with Challis, '06, as alternate. Eucpia will hold its last preliminary debate on next Friday evening. Much interest has already been manifested in the coming contest and it will no doubt be largely attended.

The following are the programmes for next Friday evening:

EUCPIA.

The entire evening will be devoted to the last preliminary debate, when the question, "Resolved, that Trusts and Monopolies are a Benefit to our Country," will be discussed. The debaters will be Drake, '05, Hall, '05, Whitney, '07, Hulley, '07, Lockard, '07, Baker, '07, Reese, '07.

THETA ALPHA.

Reading, Knapp, '04; extemp. speech; debate, "Resolved, that a Property Qualification for the Exercise of the Franchise of the United States would be desirable;" affirmative, Noble, '06, McCall, '07, Zugschwert, '07; negative, Goldsmith, '06, Hinman, '07, Bernhardt, '07; parliamentary drill.

Chemical and Physical Society

The Chemical and Physical Society held an interesting session on last Thursday afternoon, at which time Hess, '05, read a paper on "The Production of Grapes and Raisins in California." Grapes were introduced in California by missionaries in the early seventies. Then there were few varieties. In 1888 there were only 85 varieties against 1,000 to-day. The Concord seems to hold the most prominent place of all grapes. The grapes are planted in gently sloping soil specially prepared. There are only two vines to the arbor and the grapes are not grown more than 3 feet above the ground. The picking is a large task and Japanese do much of the work. Raisins are dried grapes with or without seeds, the seedless grape, unlike the seedless orange, being far inferior to those with seeds. California now produces all the raisins used in United States, amounting to about one pound per capita. The raisin industry returns from $125 to $500 per acre.

Students' Loan Association.

The annual meeting of the Students' Loan Association of Bucknell took place on February 12th. The financial condition of the Association is satisfactory; all the applicants were provided for. The organization is quietly and efficiently doing a good work. The sum of $2,774 has been loaned to worthy applicants, who have returned, as soon as they became self-supporting, $1,386.31 of this amount.

THE LATE JOHN F. DUNCAN

Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University Passes Away.

At 12.15 o'clock on Thursday John F. Duncan, one of Lewisburg's leading citizens, died at his residence after a very severe illness that offered little encouragement for his recovery from the beginning of the attack. Mr. Duncan was taken ill last week with symptoms of appendicitis. Physicians were in constant consultation and attention upon him. From the first he became critically ill, but it was decided not to operate upon him, with the hope that he would recover. Several days ago he showed some improvement, but on Tuesday he took a turn for the worse and a sinking spell followed. Wednesday night it was seen that recovery was impossible, and that the end would be but a few hours off.

He was born at Millheim, Centre county, Sept. 26, 1853, the son of W. Cook Duncan, later president of the Union National Bank, and moved to Lewisburg in 1861, was graduated from Bucknell University in the class of 1875; read law with the Hon. Geo. F. Miller and was admitted to the bar on May 19, 1879 after which he spent a year at the Harvard Law School; was District Attorney in 1882 and reelected in 1885. In June, 1884, at Hastings, Minn., he was married to Miss Clara L. Gardner, and leaves two children, Gardner and Marguerite.

In connection with his profession Mr. Duncan built up an extensive business in insurance. He was for many years employed in the lumber business and built a tram road in this county from the Paddy mountain tunnel. This was discontinued when the timber in that region had been marketed. He purchased a tract of timber on White Deer creek and built a tram road from White Deer station to the place of operations, called the White Deer Railway Company. This is still in operation. At the time of his death he was president of the Lewisburg Gas Company and the Lewisburg Heat, Light and Power Company. Always active in the town improvements he was especially interested in the building of the new home of the Union National Bank, of which organization he was Vice President. He was always a stanch Republican and in the campaign of 1882, during the height

INTEREST IN BASKETBALL.

Those who attended the basketball game on Friday night witnessed a first class exhibition. The Gettysburg five showed itself to be a good one and the victory is the most creditable Bucknell has won this year. It is to the credit of the spectators that they applauded the good work of the visitors as heartily as they did that of the home team. It was evidence of their love of fair play and of their appreciation of merit even in a visiting team. But it had another significance. It indicated, we believe, that lovers of the game in Lewisburg are becoming tired of witnessing one-sided contests, even though their favorites are the victors. The falling off in attendance lately is sufficient evidence of that. Bucknell has been unfortunate the past two years in scheduling games with poor teams, through no fault of the management, however, for the better teams show a decided disinclination to come to Lewisburg. As previously pointed out, our record of victories in 1902 and 1903 has been in this respect at least a handicap to us. Fortunately for the sport, however, the best games on this season's schedule are to be played. To win from either Allegheny College, Williamsport or Wilkesbarre Bucknell must put her best game, while Franklin and Marshall, and Steelton are sure to prove worthy opponents. Indeed, interest in basketball should increase from now on and the players should practice with renewed spirit.

THE NEW CATALOGUE

The new catalogue for 1903-1904 will be ready for distribution during the course of the week. It contains several noticeable features and interesting statistics. The summary of attendance shows a total enrollment of 710, an increase of 67 students in one year; this added to the fact that 40 students were unable to secure admission this year owing to the unusually large attendance, indicates that the University has entered upon an era of growth and steady development in all departments which will result soon in new buildings, increased endowment and an average attendance of at least one thousand students. The Board of Trustees at its meeting in January, 1903, authorized an effort to increase the endowment by one million dollars. The three new courses leading to degrees are given in full, announcement of which was made in the recent Bulletin; likewise other interesting data respecting courses, and recent alterations and additions in the various departments. The catalogue this year contains 199 pages and is printed by the Harper and Brother Company of Philadelphia.

Addressing his class one day last week, a professor discredited in a kindly way the practice of students in gathering in the hall when a professor or instructor is absent and giving a yell with the absentee's name on the end of it. He pointed out that a teacher is seldom absent except when necessity such as sickness or death demands it, in which case a yell is entirely out of place. We heartily agree with the professor in question that the practice is bad form and we hope for its discontinuance.

Expression of Thanks.

Editor Orange and Blue:—I wish to express through the columns of the Orange and Blue the heart-felt thanks of the Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia to the students and friends of the University who so kindly loaned their flags, bunting and pennants for the decoration of our Banquet Room at the University Club on last Monday night. Nothing has been so conducive to the cementing of the common interests of both alumni and students as the generous spirit which led our friends at Lewisburg to contribute their insignia to the adornment of the hall.

We trust that all students who will be located in the vicinity of Philadelphia after graduation will not fail to notify the secretary of the local alumni organization of their address, and at the same time avail themselves of the privilege of membership in our club.

Yours fraternally,
JOSEPH ROBERTS WOOD,
Secretary Bucknell Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

Allegheny College Wednesday Night.

Patrons of basketball are assured of a good game on Wednesday evening, when the Allegheny five will oppose the 'varsity team. The visitors are one of the strongest teams in the country, having this season defeated the famous Buffalo Germans. The game will undoubtedly be one of the best of the season.

Bucknell has met Allegheny but once in basketball, which was at Meadville in 1902. The Orange and Blue was then defeated by a score of 26 to 4, and an effort will be made on Wednesday evening to wipe out the stigma of that defeat.

High Jump Record Broken.

The record for the indoor high jump was broken by Pearse, '05, at the meet in the gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. The jump was 5 feet, 5¾ inches, beating that of Edwards, '03, by 1¼ inches. Lenhart was second with 5 feet, ¾ inch.

Pearse also won the shot-put, making 32 feet, 1¾ inches. Lenhart was second with 32 feet, ½ inch.

of the Independent movement, he was the only man of his party in this county who was elected.

Of his more immediate family, his wife, two children and sister Maggie, now Mrs. J. Calvin Gough, of Cleveland survive him. Since his introduction to business he has always taken a broad and intelligent interest in the financial enterprises of the town and indeed of those in distant places where he had important interests. He was identified with the Presbyterian church of which he was a regular attendant.

In the death of Mr. Duncan the town has lost a valuable citizen, his financial associates a wise counselor, his friends a genial companion, the University an earnest friend. Dignified and courteous, he illustrate the graces of a gentleman not alone to those who did business with him but to his fellow-citizens at large.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

BUCKNELL WINS CLOSE GAME

'Varsity Five Defeats Gettysburg Team With Considerable Difficulty.

The closest and most exciting basketball game of the season in Tustin Gymnasium took place on Friday evening when the 'varsity five met the strong Gettysburg team. Bucknell won, but not without a struggle by a score of 31 to 24. The visitors played the best game of any team that has appeared here this season and there were many stages when they looked dangerous. Near the end of the second half they were within one point of Bucknell, which caused a feeling of uneasiness among the spectators, but which made the victory all the more glorious.

The closeness of the score, however, was not due entirely to the good playing of Gettysburg, the poor work of the Orange and Blue had considerable to do with it. The team work was the poorest of any game this season. The men at times seemed utterly incapable of consecutive passing and fumbles were frequent. The shortcomings in this respect, however, were overbalanced by accurate shooting, to which factor may be attributed the winning of the game. But it is an injustice to in any way discredit the game played by the visiting five. They put up a steady and consistent game and at times completely outplayed their opponents. No more brilliant work than that of Sieber has been seen in Tustin Gymnasium this winter. His total of seven goals against Johnson is a record.

Bucknell opened the game by making two goals from the floor within three minutes and gradually ran up their score to 10, Gettysburg in the meantime scoring five points, two goals from the floor and one from foul. At this stage the game commenced to be interesting, both teams working hard for points. Each succeeded in scoring five more and the half ended 15 to 10 in Bucknell's favor.

Gettysburg scored first in the second half, getting a goal from the floor and one from foul. The visiting team, realizing that they had a good chance to win, played with renewed spirit and the fears of the spectators arose correspondingly. Bucknell however, continued to maintain the lead. With about ten minutes yet to play the score stood 19 to 15. Another goal from the floor put the visitors within two points of the Orange and Blue, but Bucknell a minute later made a brilliant dash and added another goal. The lead was cut down to three by a goal from foul by the visiting team, and a minute later a goal from the floor put them within one point of Bucknell. Here Captain Cheesman's men seemed to rally and amid great enthusiasm made a number of goals in rapid succession, many of which were of the sensational order. Gettysburg could get only one more during the remainder of game and were seven points behind when the game ended.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL.		GETTYSBURG.
Cheesman	forward	Selber
Roberts	forward	Rowe
Cockill	center	Leonard
Smith	guard	Schaffer
Johnson	guard	McClure

Goals from field, Smith 3, Johnson 2, Cockill 6, Cheesman 3, Roberts, Selber 7, Leonard 3, Schaffer. Goals from foul, Rowe 2, Cockill. Referee, Hoskins.

Freshmen Lose at Williamsport

The Freshman basketball team was defeated by the Williamsport High School five at the latter place on Saturday evening, the score being 34 to 15. The Williamsport lads put up a fine game and outclassed their opponents, who were handicapped by lack of practice.

The line-up:

DEFEATED IN BASKETBALL

Allegheny Five Administers First Home Defeat Since 1899.

For the first time since March 1899 Bucknell was defeated in basketball on her own floor on Wednesday evening. The opposing team was Allegheny College and the score was 12 to 10. The largest crowd of the season was in attendance, every available seat being occupied while many people stood throughout the game. Four hundred is a conservative of the number of people present.

As the score indicates, the teams were evenly matched, and the game was hard fought from beginning to end. In fact it was "anybody's game" till the final whistle was blown. Each team scored six points on goals from fouls and Allegheny made three goals from the floor to Bucknell's two. On the whole Allegheny played the better game, her work being steadier and more consistent, and her victory was deserved. The visiting team was undoubtedly the best that has been here in several years.

The contest was marked by close guarding on both sides, particularly Allegheny. Violations of the rules were frequent as a result, but only a small proportion of them were noticed by the officials. If any distinction can be made, the team-work of Allegheny was perhaps better than that of Bucknell, although the Orange and Blue had more opportunities for goals; both teams shot with little accuracy. Two of Allegheny's three goals were made on long passes from out of bounds, a forward getting the ball under the basket and throwing it in with a quick shot. The team-work of Bucknell was first class, but many goals that should have been made were missed.

Bucknell was the first to score, after about two minutes of play. The ball was passed to Cockill, in front of the basket, who eluded his opponent and made a pretty shot. A minutes later Cockill fouled and Captain MacArthur threw a goal for Allegheny. Bucknell also profited by a violation of her opponent, Cockill throwing a goal. Both teams began to play harder and more carelessly and several fouls were called, none of which resulted in points.

Bucknell scored her second and last goal from the floor during the latter part of the first half. On a succession of quick and accurate passes the ball was received by Cockill, who, although closely guarded, threw a goal. It was the most spectacular piece of work during the game. A short time afterwards Allegheny made a shot for the goal. The ball struck the edge of running track and went into the basket. Under the floor rules, however, it did not count. During the remainder of the half neither side was able to make a goal from the floor. The visitors, however, made two points on fouls. Two fouls were also called on Allegheny, but Bucknell could not take advantage of the opportunity to increase her lead. The half ended 5 to 3.

There was but one change in the line-up of the teams in the second half, Comfort replacing Lockwood at center. The change materially aided the visitors. In the early part of the second half Bucknell had numerous opportunities for goals, but they were missed. Allegheny, on the other hand, scored her first goal on a long pass and the score was a tie. A minute later Allegheny fouled and Cockill threw the goal. The score was tied again when Bucknell fouled and the visitors threw the goal. Bucknell took the lead by scoring a goal from foul, but on a double foul Allegheny threw a goal while Bucknell failed, the score being again tied, 7 to 7.

Allegheny took the lead at this point and maintained it to the end. Another long pass and a quick shot from under the basket gave the visitors a goal. Their lead was cut down to one a minute later when Bucknell scored on a foul. Allegheny did likewise and a minute later made the score 12 to 8 by getting another goal from the floor. Cheesman tried his hand at throwing a goal from foul and succeeded. He failed on another a short time afterward. With but two minutes of play Bucknell tried to overcome a lead of three points, but the best they could to was to score one more point on a foul.

The line up:

Haas	forward	Cheesman
Turner	forward	Roberts
Comfort	centre	Cockill
Lockwood
Lewis	guard	Johnson
MacArthur	guard	Smith

Goals from field, Cockill, 2; Lewis, Turner, 2. Goals from fouls, MacArthur 5; Comfort, Cockill, 1; Cheesman, 2. Referee and Umpire, Mr. Hoskins and Mr. Mayo, of Erie, alternating.

Baseball Candidates Report.

Twenty-nine candidates for the baseball team reported to Captain Smith on last Thursday. They were instructed to indulge in light work in the cage as often as they find time. Active work will commence with the spring recess, when Coach Agnew will report for duty.

The names of the candidates and the positions for which they will try are as follows:

Pitchers—Cheesman, Taylor, Leach, Hutchinson, Gaskill.

Catchers—Teufel, Blair, Deats, Brockway, Hawke.

First base—Cockill, Johnson, Edwards.

Second base—Portser, Daniels, Shirley, Cooper, Grier.

Short stop—Heinze, McCain.

Third base—Griminger, Green, Carruthers, Howell.

Outfield—Deats, Roberts, Shirley, Portser, August, Smiley, Blair, Taylor, Hennessey, Bovard.

The manager desires it announced that he will be compelled to solicit subscriptions for the support of the team among the students. Owing to the small membership in the Athletic Association and the failure of the students to produce a minstrel show the manager is left without the usual funds to purchase equipment and a call upon the students is the only recourse. Printed schedules may be had by calling at 51 West College.

Bucknell Academy Club.

The Bucknell Academy Alumni Club met and organized last week, with the following officers:

President, C. H. Taylor, '06.
Vice President, William A. Bartol, '05.
Treasurer, James Elliott, Jr., '07.
Secretary, J. W. Greene, '06.

"TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Delightful Performance Given at the Institute on Friday Evening.

The taming of the arrogant, turbulent Katherine was watched with much interest on Friday evening in the Institute, given by the Girls' Dramatic Club. Despite the simplicity of the scenic effect and the rather rebellious curtains, "Taming of the Shrew" was undoubtedly a success. The story of how the proud and haughty Katherine was subdued and made to bend the knee to her lord and master is well known and needs no repitition, but the originality of the representation of the play surely demands notice. This lay perhaps in the naturalness and, as before suggested, simplicity of the whole performance. The absence of the glaring light and other somewhat distracting things which often divert the mind from the play and the players was noticeable. The audience, to say nothing of the players, was not in that tension of excitement seen always at a play; no reflection is meant as to the ability of the actors to arouse the feeling, but it was because they felt the influence of the temperate setting and surroundings.

The part of Katharine was admirably taken by Miss Kelly, who after a stormy scene became a humble and obedient wife, perchance too humble and obedient a wife for the persistent Petruchio. The stern and unrelenting Petruchio was very well presented by Miss Groff and Grumio by Miss Braddock. The part of Bianca was delightfully taken by Miss Bane, and in fact all the Dramatic Club deserves much credit.

The curtain play, "A Pair of Lunatics", was most amusing, containing many laughable situations. Miss Olive Schillinger as Miss Manners and Miss Emma Nesbit as Captain Fielding were exceedingly clever and deserves special mention. The intervals between the acts were not long and were filled by music by the Mandolin and Guitar Club. The evening was delightfully spent and Miss Schillinger and the Dramatic Club are to be congratulated for their Shakesperean success. R.

"The Musical Enthusiast."

The Athletic Field Committee in conjunction with Dr. Aviragnet are engaged in selecting a cast for "The Musical Enthusiast," a musical comedy to be given for the benefit of the Athletic Field fund the last of the term. Persons for the most prominent parts have been selected and active work has commenced under the direction of Dr. Aviragnet, who kindly proferred his services in coaching the company. "The Musical Enthusiast" was given here under his direction several years ago and was very successful. Through the kindness of Dr. Harris and Miss Stanton a number of young women of the College and Seminary will have parts.

Inter-Society Debate.

The joint committee of the Eucpia and Theta Alpha Literary Societies met last week and selected Friday evening, March 11, as the date for the annual inter-society debate. It will be held in Bucknell Hall and the question discussed will be :"Resolved, that no Territory should be admitted into Statehood unless bordering on some State already in the Union." The judges have not yet been chosen.

At a meeting of Eucpia on Friday night Hulley, '06, and Reese, '06, were chosen to represent that society. As announced last week, Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, will debate for Theta Alpha, with Challis, '06, as alternate.

The Literary Societies.

The following programmes have been arranged for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA

Current events, Meyers, '06; recitation, Jones, '06; debate, "Resolved, that it is Policy for the United States to acquire Colonial Possessions in Asiatic Waters;" affirmative, Myers, '04, and Wood, '05; negative, Robinson, '04, and Williamson, '05.

THETA ALPHA.

Reading, Hawke, '07; original story, Ausherman, '05; extemporaneous speech; debate, "Resolved, that Intemperance can be opposed most successfully through the Prohibition party;" affirmative, Lesher, '05, Smith, '07, and Griffith, '07; negative, Barton, '06, Cober, '07, Mattis, '07.

Bucknell in Inter-collegiate.

At the annual convention of the Inter-collegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America in New York City on Saturday Bucknell was admitted to membership in the organization. The only other college seeking admission was Colgate, whose application was also granted. The annual meeting will be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on May 28 and 29.

The convention also decided to be represented in the inter-collegiate games at the St. Louis Exposition.

These officers were elected: President, E Mel. Armstrong, Princeton; secretary, A. S. Draper, New York University; treasurer, R. H. Bradley, Columbia; honorary vice presidents, C. B. Rich, College of the City of New York, and A. H. Hopkins, Haverford; executive committee, John C. Gilpin, Pennsylvania; Payson Dana, Harvard; Romeyn Berry, Cornell and G. E. Parks, Yale.

The executive committee met and chose James E. Sullivan referee for the field meeting this year, and Frank E. Ellis of Philadelphia, manager of the meeting, which will be held in Philadelphia.

The new president reappointed the advisory committee as follows: Gustavus E. Kirby, Columbia; Murdock Kendrick, Pennsylvania and Thorton Gerish, Harvard.

The Philadelphia meeting will conflict with a dual meet which Manager Deats has arranged with the Indians here, but an effort will be made to have the Carlisle team accept another date.

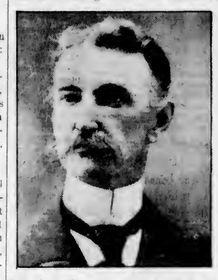

Football Game with Georgetown

The management of the football team on Saturday made arrangements with Georgetown University for a game in Washington, D. C., on November 12. Georgetown ranks among the leading elevens of the South and this will be one of the most important games on Bucknell's schedule next season. Georgetown and Bucknell have never met in football.

SAMUEL BOLTON, M. D.

Brief Sketch of a Prominent Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Samuel Bolton, M. D., prepared at Central High School, Philadelphia, and was graduated from the University a Bachelor of Arts in 1885, receiving his Master's degree in course three years later. He took a course in Medicine in University of Pennsylvania, finishing there in 1888. He has since that time been actively engaged in the practice of his profession in the Quaker City and has been very successful. He is prominent in the municipal affairs of Frankford, his residence, and is one of the most enthusiastic members of the Bucknell University Alumni Club of Philadelphia.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The annual State convention of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at Scranton, February 17-21. This is a gathering of peculiar interest, since it is composed of men of so vastly different callings in life. There are government officials, such as U. S. Congressmen, governors of states and county and city dignitaries. There are railroad presidents, college presidents, professors, Gospel ministers, Y. M. C. A. secretaries, both local and international, business men, mechanics, clerks, shopmen, railroad employes, and last, but not least the college student. In a gathering of this kind there is an exchange of ideas and an awakening of sympathies which prove helpful to all, especially to the student. He has been dealing more or less with the theoretical side of life, but here he meets the real, practical life of the common, ordinary man. Then, too, the Christian student, if he goes with right motives, finds himself taking a mighty stride forward in the spiritual life. To listen to such men as John R. Mott, Robert E. Spear, Fred B. Smith and William F. McDowell, all of New York City, is inspiring and helpful to anyone.

Much might be said of the convention, but a full report would be impossible here. Suffice it to say that the people of Scranton expressed their hearty thanks for the convention coming to their city, and earnestly requesting its return.

A. E. B.

The following committee will have charge of the reunion of the class of 1899 next Commencement: Prof. F. G. Ballentine, Miss Mary Stephens and E. L. Nesbit.

ELIGIBILITY RULES IN ATHLETICS.

The baseball eligibility situation at Brown University has been further entangled by the refusal of the Corporation, the governing power in athletics, to endorse the action of the Athletic Board in abolishing eligibility restrictions on students who have played summer baseball. Th Corporation, however, is not unalterably opposed to the changed rule, for it has decided to again consider the matter at its meeting next September. It has ordered that until then no games shall be played under the new rules, which, according to a press despatch, may lead to several students refusing to play, even though they be eligible under the old rules.

The change in the Brown eligibility code is intended to apply to all students who engage in what is known as "summer baseball," which, as we understand it, means the playing on summer resort teams and nines that play on Saturdays, or perhaps two games a week Playing on a team like Williamsport, Chester or Wilmington would not be included within the meaning of the term.

Admitting that it is dangerous to loosen the restrictions on a college athlete or to render less stringent the rules respecting his eligibility and without discussing the principles involved in the rule itself, there are certain elements in Brown's attitude in this matter which appeal to the student and follower of college athletics. To us it seems that Brown only seeks to throw off the mask which is worn in common by all the larger colleges in regard to the eligibility of their athletes, baseball men particularly. Few of the so-called minor colleges have any written eligibility rules and they violate no faith when they permit a man to play baseball who has received money for his services during the summer. If these colleges were to be questioned about the matter they would probably not contend that such players were amateurs in the true sense of the term. We cannot credit the larger colleges with being equally sincere. They frame strict eligibility rules and in most cases their adherence to them is a mere pretense. They permit men to play whose professionalism is known, if not to them, to nearly everybody else. Of baseball this is particularly true because the opportunities are greater and more tempting than in other branches. There is probably not a college nine in the country to-day which does not have on it men who have played for money; and if the athletic authorities do not know it, it is only because they do not make an honest effort to find it out. It may be said of college athletics in general that eligibility rules are of no consequence unless they are accompanied by an honest intention to adhere to them both in spirit and in letter; and this does not seem to be done to-day. The fault with athletics is not that there are too few eligibility rules, but rather in the exercise of poor faith with respect to those now existing.

To our mind the matter which Brown has brought into such prominence resolves itself into a question of whether the colleges shall continue these hypocritical methods or shall stand before the public in their true light. And while the changed rules may be ultimately rejected, the Athletic Board is to be commended for its desire to discontinue sailing under false colors.

A recent editorial in the Orange and Blue suggesting the organization of alumni clubs which should represent the various preparatory schools, has met with unexpected approval. Bucknell has at present three such clubs: The Lycoming County Normal Club numbering about twelve men; The Keystone Academy Club which has an enrollment of 13 active and seven honorary members; and the Bucknell Academy Club numbering 30. It is confidently expected that the graduates of several other leading preparatory schools,—notably Mount Pleasant and South Jersey Institutes,—which send annually many students to Bucknell, will organize and thus strengthen the relationship already existing between the college and preparatory school. These clubs, while cultivating a fraternal spirit among their members, serve as a potent force in securing new students and foster a commendable loyalty to both the college and preparatory school. In many universities and colleges the preparatory alumni clubs assume an important place in club life.

The Sophomore class aims to make more of the social side of college life at Bucknell by giving a dance. We wish them success, but would suggest that they adopt a more original name for the affair than "Sophomore Cotillion." There is nothing original in the name and Bucknell should not be satisfied with anything borrowed from others. This class also will have the opportunity next year to rescue from oblivion a name that should be preserved. We refer to the Junior Ball. For some reason which has never been explained the class of 1903 adopted the name Junior Promenade and the succeeding classes followed in their foot-steps. "Junior Ball" may not be as high-sounding as "Junior Prom," but it is ours and that is of greater consequence. Let's be original and cling to customs, traditions and names that are destinctly Bucknellian.

It was disappointing not to win from Allegheny last week, but our congratulations to the victors lack nothing in earnestness on that account. Certainly it is a distinction to be the first college team and the third team of any character to defeat Bucknell on her own floor and Allegheny has reason to feel proud over her achievement. Though beaten, Captain Cheesman and his men were not disgraced. They played a plucky game and went down because outplayed, though by little, as the score indicates. There is plenty of opportunity between now and the end of the season for them to retrieve themselves. We think they will do it.

It is hoped that other element than the student body was responsible for the hissing of the official in Wednesday's night's game. There is no excuse for such conduct and since it reflects upon the college, by whomever done, the duty of the students is to see that it is suppressed. The student body was discourteous, however, in that it did not give a yell for the visiting team. It was an oversight, to be sure, but such oversights should not occur.

Since Bucknell has been admitted to membership in the Inter-Collegiate Association, every effort should be made to arrange another date for the dual meet with the Indians. The Orange and Blue has an opportunity to make a good showing in the Inter-collegiate games which should not be lost.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural sciences is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Stucents are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

BUCKNELL'S BASKETBALL RECORD

'Varsity Five Has Had a Brilliant Career For Ten Years.

Allegheny has the distinction of being the first college team to defeat Bucknell in basketball on her own floor. This is the tenth season that the game has been played here and up to last Wednesday night the Orange and Blue was able to defeat every college team she played against.

Wednesday night's defeat was in fact only the third suffered by Bucknell at home since the game was introduced. Danville won the first game ever played here, in 1895, scoring three goals to Bucknell's two. The next defeat at home came in March 1899 when the Clover Wheelmen of Philadelphia won by a score of 18 to 16. The Wheelmen made a trip through this part of the State and defeated nearly every team they played. On the Bucknell team that year were Bell, Wassell, Weymouth, Conover and Hilliott, with Goodall and Theiss as substitutes.

Basketball was introduced at Bucknell by W. C. Gretzinger and Charles Firth during the winter term 1895. The Danville game, mentioned above, was the only contest that season. There was more activity the following year, though the team did not meet with much success. Bloomsburg, Wilkesbarre and Williamsport all defeated Bucknell on their own floors. The only victory of the season was over Lock Haven, which was played in Tustin Gymnasium. This was Bucknells' initial victory in basketball. The team disbanded early that year owing to baseball practice. The uniform worn by the players the first two seasons would look odd to-day, the trousers being full length and fastened at the bottom with straps.

Five games were played in 1897, of which Bucknell won four. Among the victories were one over University of Pennsylvania here and one over Williamsport on the latter's floor. The only game lost was to State at State.

Four won and four lost was the record in 1898, Cornell being one of the teams defeated. The following year was disastrous, two games only being won, while five were lost and one was tied. The tie game was with Williamsport, at Williamsport. In 1900 the team won six and lost three, Cornell again being among the vanquished teams.

The season of 1901 marks a new era in basketball for Bucknell. The Orange and Blue began a victorious career which has been interrupted by only four defeats in the three and one-half seasons that have elapsed. In 1901 the team won 12 games and lost one, Williamsport defeating us at Williamsport by a score of 8 to 5. The following year the team won 12 and lost two, Princeton and Allegheny being the only teams to defeat Bucknell that year. It is rather singular that no team was able to defeat Bucknell from the time they met Allegheny at Meadville nearly two years ago till the Crawford county boys came down here last week. In 1903 the team won every game played, including two games with Williamsport, one here and one there. Indeed Bucknell was the first team to defeat Williamsport on her own floor in several years. The totals, including this season, are 50 won, 18 lost and one tied.

It is noteworthy that Bucknell never defeated State at State and State never won a victory in Lewisburg. Bucknell, however, always did better at State than State did here.

Buoy, ex-'06, now a student at Dickinson, was a visitor on the hill last week.

At the dedication of Science Hall at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, last week many universities and colleges were represented. George Nox McCain, A. M., represented Bucknell University.

Announcements.

THESES.

Junior and Senior theses shall be handed in not later than March 15.

Do NOT PUT THE THESES IN EITHER OF THE ESSAY BOXES. These theses should be given to the Professor to whose department the subject belongs.

Professors will please sign each thesis and drop it in either of the essay boxes or hand it to the Professor of Rhetoric.

ARGUMENTATION.

The course in Argumentation will be required of all students who enter the Junior Debate. Further in the full term there will be offered under the supervision of Professors Helm and Phillips an honor in Debating, and of all students who take this honor the course in Argumentation will be required.

Two Games This Week.

The 'varsity basketball team will have two games this week. On Thursday the team will go to Williamsport to meet the strong Y. M. C. A., team five of that place. The home team will have the advantage of its curiously constructed floor, but last year's game is ample proof that they are not invulnerable on that account.

Both teams have agreed upon Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg Normal, as official.

The second game of the week will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on Saturday night with Franklin and Marshall. The Lancaster boys have a good team and the game should be interesting.

Phi Gamma Delta Entertains.

The local chapter of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity gave a smoker in their rooms on Thursday evening for Harry McCormick, '04, who leaves this week for Savannah, Ga., to go into training with the New York National League baseball team. A number of men from other fraternities were guests and the evening was spent in a most delightful manner.

Colgate to Play Here.

Manager Marsh of the football team last week made final arrangements for a game with Colgate University, to be played in Lewisburg on October 22. For many years there has been a demand for better home games, but owing to inadequate facilities sufficient inducements could not be offered to stronger teams to come here. The management, however, has decided to take the risk with Colgate, which will be paid the largest guarantee of any team that ever played here. It has been decided to advance the admission fee to 50 cents for this game and it will be necessary to sell the tickets in advance of the game. Colgate has for several years been developing one of strongest college elevens in central New York.

Entries For Inter-collegiates.

Manager Deats of the track team has succeeded in arranging another date with the Carlisle Indians for the dual meet here, the latter having accepted June 4 instead of May 28. The change was made in order that Bucknell could be represented at the inter-collegiate games in Philadelphia on May 28 and 29.

Bucknell will put forth an earnest effort to signalize her entrance into the Association by at least scoring, though competition will be strong. Coach Hoskins has decided to enter Pearse in the broad jump and either the 100-yard dash or the 220-yard dash. Marsh will be entered in the half-mile. Should any other candidates develope they will be entered in the games also.

Sides for Debate Selected.

Selection of sides for the annual inter-society debate to be held in Bucknell Hall at 7 o'clock next Friday night was made last week. The affirmative will be handled by Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, representing Theta Alpha, while Hulley, '06, and Reese, '06, of Eurpia, will have the negative. The question to be debated is "Resolved, that no Territory should be admitted into Statehood unless bordering on some State already in the Union." A cordial invitation to attend the debate is extended to all.

Dr. Hall Addresses Euepia.

The Rev. H. C. Hall, D. D., '82, who is an honarary member of the Euepia Literary Society, attended the meeting of that organization on Friday evening and responded to an invitation to address that body. He spoke briefly but entertainingly on the early history of the Society and gave a comparison of the organization of his time and that of today.

BASKETBALL LAST WEEK

Varsity Loses to Williamsport and Wins From F. & M.

The 'varsity basketball team played two games last week and broke even, losing to Williamsport Y. M. C. A., at Williamsport by a score of 14 to 13 on Thursday night and winning from Franklin and Marshall in Tustin Gymnasium by a score of 18 to 3 on Saturday night.

THE WILLIAMSPORT GAME.

As indicated by the score, the game was fast and exciting. Both teams played well, but the advantage of a curiously constructed floor gave the home team an advantage that Bucknell could not overcome. Through the middle of the floor are three pillars, which make passing very difficult for a team unaccustomed to such an arrangement. Bucknell, however, put up a fast game and compelled the home team to play its best to win. Williamsport's superior passing enabled her to come out a victor.

Williamsport took the lead at the start, scoring a goal shortly after the whistle blew. Bucknell soon forged to the front, however, Cheesman and Cockill each getting goals from the floor and Cockill one from foul, making the score 5 to 2 in Bucknell's favor. Williamsport later scored two points from goals from the floor and a similar number from fouls, while Bucknell scored one on a foul and a goal from the floor by Roberts. The half ended 8 to 6 in favor of Bucknell.

Williamsport showed improved form in the second half. She took the lead at once, scoring two field goals. Bucknell, however, tied the score by getting a goal from the floor. Williamsport then took the lead again and maintained it to the end, getting a goal from the field and two goals from fouls. Bucknell made the score 14 to 11 in favor of Williamsport by scoring another point on a foul. The Williamsport timekeeper claimed that time was up, while the Bucknell official had 50 seconds yet to play. A compromise was made on 25 seconds, and Bucknell by fast playing scored a goal, Cheesman making it on a difficult shot. The game ended with Bucknell one point behind.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL.		WILLIAMSPORT
Cheesman	forward	Turner
Roberts	forward	Van Horsen Jackson.
Cockill	center	Krauss.
Johnson	guard	Speaker
Smith	guard	Lutcher

Goals from the floor, Turner 3; Lutcher, Jackson, Cheesman 2; Roberts 2; Cockill. Goals from fouls, Cockill 3; Turner 4. Official, Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg Normal.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S GAME.

The game with Franklin and Marshall on Saturday night proved to be one of the most listless of the games that have been played on the home floor this season. Neither team played with any spirit or dash and the contest was without any particular feature. Though Bucknell did not play in her usual good form, she won handily, the visitors at no time being dangerous. The team work of Franklin and Marshall was poor and they had comparatively few shots for goals. Their only goal from the floor was made about the middle of the first half, which were the only points they scored excepting a goal from foul just as the game ended. Schoch and Shaffer excelled for the visitors.

It was evident from the first toss-up of the ball Bucknell would not play the game of which she is capable. There was lack of team-work and their shooting was inaccurate. Four minutes elapsed before a goal was finally made by Cockill, who struck the ball on a toss-up near Bucknell's goal and put it in the basket. Cockill got the second goal also, but this time on a difficult shot, which was followed shortly afterward by one by Smith. Franklin and Marshall's solitary goal was made by Fagley, making the score 6 to 2. For several minutes neither side could score, though many shots were made, Smith, however, made another goal just before the half ended.

Bucknell showed some improvement in the second half, scoring five goals and prevented the visitors from scoring at all. Of these Roberts got three and Smith two. Franklin and Marshall had five opportunities for goals from fouls in this half, but scored only on the last one. Cockill missed the only chance Bucknell had to score on a foul.

The line-up :

BUCKNELL.	F. & M.
Cheesman	forward	Shaffer
Roberts	forward	Fegley
Cockill	center	Apple
Smith	guard	Schoch
Johnson	guard	Ewing

Goals from the floor, Roberts 2; Cockill 2; Smith 4; Fagley. Goal from foul, Shaeffer. Official, Hoskins.

Juniors Defeat Sophs.

The Junior basketball team again won the Hoskins cup by defeating the Sophomores on last Monday afternoon, the score being 30 to 10. The game was interesting, though the outcome was never in doubt.

The line up:

1906		1905
Goldsmith	forward	Grier
Whittaker	forward	Smith
Waltz	center	Cockill
Claypoole	guard	Sheppard
Neill	guard	Taggart
Gaskill		Robbins

Goals from field, Taggart 1, Robbins 1, Shephard 1, Cockill 3, Smith 3, Grier 5, Whittaker 1, Claypoole 3. Goals from fouls, Grier 2, Claypoole 2. Referee and umpire, Roberts. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

The line-up:

Basketball Game Uncertain.

There is no certainty of a 'varsity basketball game this week. A game is scheduled with the Steelton Y. M. C. A., five for next Saturday, but this will probably be cancelled or another date given to the Dauphin county team on account of the Williamsport game coming on the following Monday evening. Two such hard contests as Steelton and Williamsport within three days would be too much for the team. Manager Browning may arrange a game with the Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven for next Saturday night. If this is done the Freshman team will play the Williamsport High School five in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday evening.

Athletic Field Plays.

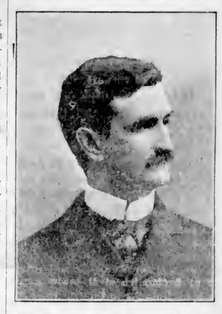

Rehearsal of the parts in "The Musical Enthusiast" is going on earnestly and the cast will be selected this week. The date of the performance has not yet been chosen.

The cast for "The Cheerful Liar", which is also to be given for the benefit of the Athletic Field fund, has been selected and rehearsals are being held regularly.

JUDGE HAROLD McCLURE

Brief Sketch of an Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Judge Harold M. McClure, whose picture we present this week, was graduated a Bachelor of Arts in the class of 1877 and afterwards began the practice of the law at Sunbury. In 1891 he was elected President Judge of the Seventeenth Judicial District and after serving his term of ten years with distinction he was re-elected in 1901. His knowledge of the law, his dignified and gentlemanly bearing have gained him hosts of friends, and his services are in demand in other judicial districts whither he is called to hold court from time to time. For some years the law department of the University has been under his direction to which duty he adds that of personally conducting classes in certain branches of the law. Judge McClure is an able and progressive member of both the civic and college community and is no less interested and efficient in the work of the Presbyterian church of whose Board of Trustees he is president. The Hammelreich library building, the Presbyterian church edifice, the Union County Court House owe much to his good taste in matters of artistic beauty and he is a positive force in all that make for justice, culture and refinement.

The Academy Reception.

The Academy boys very delightfully entertained on Friday evening. The reception rooms on the second floor were prettily decorated with college flags and colors, those of Bucknell predominating. The main feature of the evening was "A Musical Romance" consisting of questions to be answered by the names of musical selections. At ten o'clock Comstock's Orchestra, of Milton, which furnished the music for the occasion, played the answers to the questions. This novel way of correcting the answers proved a very pleasing one. Refreshments were served and the whole evening was a decided success, much credit for which belongs to Prof. and Mrs. Edwards.

Theta Delta Tau Dance.

The annual dance by Theta Delta Tau was held in the Armory on Friday evening. Twenty-five couples were present and the affair was a success in every respect. Trate's orchestra furnished the music.

OUR FIRE PROTECTI CN

The recent destructive fires at Dartmouth and Dickinson, if containing no direct lesson for Bucknell, should at least cause us to stop and consider what resistance we could offer in a similar emergency; and if our facilities for fire fighting are not sufficiently developed we should take immediate steps in that direction. A lighted match or cigar ashes in careless hands or an exploded lamp may at any time precipitate a most costly blaze.

Considerable uneasiness with respect to fire was caused among the students by the recent low water pressure at the buildings, which was quite unnecessary, since the water company can supply the mains from the stand-pipes on a moment's notice. But the water supply is not all. The men to fight the fire must be taken into consideration. There is perhaps no more efficient volunteer fire department in the State than that of which Lewisburg boasts, but we should not depend entirely on this source for our protection. With so many able-bodied and willing youths among us we should do something for ourselves, and at the beginning of a fire, when human effort avails most.

We believe that the students should have some sort of an organization for fighting fire. It would probably entail too much expense to purchase equipment, but the students could be divided into squads to perform different duties. The largest division could be formed into a bucket brigade to get water on the flames before the arrival of the fire department. A second squad could assist the town company in bringing the apparatus to the hill. Another could be given charge of the fire ladders at the Physical Laboratory and the Seminary. Over each squad could be placed a foreman. The main thing is organization. An unorganized body of students would not be capable of very efficient work. This protection could perhaps be supplemented by fire extinguishers in the halls, though their care would have to be guaranteed by the students.

In this connection it might be well to consider some system for the safe egress of the young women from the Seminary buildings in case of fire. We are not aware that the young women are drilled for escape in emergencies. The buildings are equipped with fire escapes and all the occupants could probably get out in a short time if there were no disorder. Confusion is the thing to be avoided, and to that end fire drills could well be practiced at the Seminary. They have proved to be of great advantage in similar institutions. Indeed the fatality at the Fredonia N. Y., State Normal School several years ago would never occurred had the young women been trained to leave the building without confusion. These are matters that should be considered now.

Our attention has been called to the fact that current magazines in the library have been mutilated, whole pages being cut out in some instances. This is quite the worst of the little acts of thoughtlessness one sees committed in the library continually. Any person so unmindful of the interests of others and the purposes of a college library should be taught a lesson. Indeed it would not be too much to deprive him of the use of this valuable adjunct to the college were he to be apprehended.

The football management is to be congratulated for its effort to give us better games at home. There has always been a demand for contests of importance on our own field and the scheduling of a game with Colgate will do much toward arousing enthusiasm for the sport. The financial burden thereby assumed by the management is quite large, but we predict a liberal response from the students and other patrons of the game when the advance sale of tickets begins next fall.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

The Sophomore Dance.

Editor Orange and Blue:—Of course, everyone knows that a Sophomore dance is to be held soon and any announcement to that effect is superfluous; but many men in college have not given the matter the attention which it deserves and these men we desire to arouse.

A Sophomore dance is, as every one doubtless knows, totally without precedent at Bucknell—which is not exactly a convincing argument against it, by the way. Bucknell is one of the few colleges in which dances have been confined to the upper classes, and there is no particular reason why this should continue. Moreover, there are not so many college affairs that an additional one would prove a last straw which would break down the endurance of men already welcomed by a long season of riotous excitement.

But now to particulars: The first Sophomore dance is to be held in the Armory on the first Friday after Lent, April 8. It is intended to be a dance of as high a standard as the Junior Prom, although owing to the season, a little less formal. The music will be by the Oppenheim's orchestra and the catering and decorating will be better than anything seen in Lewisburg in recent years.

Seniors, by the tie which has bound us to you since we entered college, we conjure you to reflect upon the above. Juniors, we helped to make your Prom a success—will you reciprocate? Sophomores, you, of course—yes? Ah.... ....Thanks! Freshmen, February 22, is past, class animosity is dead. Help us this year and next year you will be glad of our assistance. Therefore Q. E. D. "On with the dance."

A SOPHOMORE.

May Change Football Rules.

The Intercollegiate football rules committee will meet shortly after Easter to discuss and alter any defects in the game played at present. The committee is composed of men from six of the leading colleges, who meet each year to revise the rules.

Professor L. M. Dennis, who is Cornell's representative on the committee, believes that the most important matter to be considered this year will be the question of the open game. This was given a trial last year by means of the rule which required seven men to be on the line of scrimmage as long as the ball was between the 25-yard lines. This was just an experiment last season, but it proved to be a success as far as the spectator's viewpoint was concerned. Faster backs are needed for the new style and more end running must be done, as there are not a sufficient number of men back of the line to back it with any success.

The committee this year will decide on whether to extend the open game to embrace the whole field or to go back to the old style which made famous the guards back and tackles back systems.

Another question to be considered is that of scoring. At present the team that kicks a goal from the field scores just as many points as the team that makes a touchdown but fails to kick the goal. This is seemingly unfair and Professor Dennis is in favor of changing the rule so that a touchdown will count more points than a field goal. It was mainly through his endeavors that the value of a touchdown was raised from 4 to 5 points a few years ago, and he hopes to be able to effect another change if possible.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Present rules of Lafayette College allow the student ten per cent. cuts.

There are but two universities in Ireland—the University of Dublin and the Royal University.

Amherst College is to have a new observatory, which will contain one of the finest telescopes in the world.

Allegheny college recently received a donation of $30,000 to be used in educating young men and women for ministerial work.

The co-eds of Ursinus have taken the initiative in the attempt to form a separate organization for the purpose of holding oratorical contests.

Beloit College does not permit marriage among the students. One of the students was married recently, and his diploma is to be withdrawn.

Ninety-eight Philippine students are enrolled in American colleges. They are to be educated at the expense of the United States and then to be sent back as teachers to their native brothers.

Two club houses to accommodate the civil, mechanical, electrical and mining engineering societies of America are to be erected in New York at a total cost of $2,000,000. Mr. Carnegie gives $1,000,000 toward their erection.

A gymnasium is to be erected at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. It is a gift of the citizens of Lafayette and of the friends of the University. It is to be dedicated as a memorial to the 'Varsity foot ball men who were killed in the railroad wreck near Indianapolis last fall.

Fifty thousand students are enrolled in American colleges for men, while only 15,000 students are enrolled in woman's colleges. Some of the former schools date back more than two hundred years, while on the contrary, the great increase in the latter has occurred within the last twenty years.

At Cornell the co-eds of the upper classes have placed very close restrictions upon the girls of the Freshman class. According to the regulations that they have adopted no Freshman girl is permitted to receive gentleman callers or to have a gentleman for an escort at any college function.

Chicago University has plans for three new schools and twenty-two new buildings. This means the expenditure of more than $3,000,000. All of the present buildings have been gifts to the University; four of them being from the generosity of Mr. Rockefeller. President Harper feels confident that all future plans and improvements will be sustained financially.

Although the contract between Glenn S. Warner and the Carlisle Indians expired on March 1, he has decided to remain in the government employ until the close of Carlisle's baseball season which ends June 22. Mr. Warner's agreement with the Cornell Athletic council does not begin until September 1, and he will spend the summer formulating plans for the season on Percy field. He is working hard at the present to make his farewell season as baseball coach at Carlisle exceptionally successful, and he has a number of well known major league players at work in the cage with the Indians.

INSTITUTE.

Zeta Literary Society met last Thursday evening and held one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The subject of the evening was the nonsense verse, some very clever rhymes being composed by the members present. Miss Shorkley's paper was exceptionally good and gave evidence of much care and thoughtfulness in its preparation. The following was the program: piano solo, Miss Goddard, '05; roll call answered by nonsense rhymes; paper, "The Rise and Popularity of the Nonsense Rhyme," Miss Shorkley, '05; medley of nonsense rhymes, Miss Bane, '04; impromptu, writing of nonsense rhymes by members of Zeta.

The "At Home" held at the Institute from four until six this afternoon was one of the most pleasant of the year. It differed from preceiling affairs of the same kind in that a decided spirit of informality reigned. The Senior girls received wearing for the first time their caps and gowns. All too quickly did the afternoon pass in playing old fashioned games and everyone left with the hope that such "At Homes" will be held more frequently.

The Pi Beta Phis entertained informally on Saturday evening, the affair being a picnic. The Institute gymnasium was a grove in which the picnic was held and was filled with the girls in their bright summer dresses. All the characteristics of a midsummer picnic were carried out. Games were played and a picnic lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hall, of Hall Institute, Sharon, are visiting their daughter, Miss Hall, '04, and their son, Hall, '07.

Seidel and Spangler,

We offer this week the most superb line of Silk and Madras shirt waists that was ever shown in Milton. This news will be very interesting to the up-to-date lady, who is revolving in her mind what and where to buy her new Easter Waist.

Our line of Silk Waists comprises all the colorings in the delicate evening shades in Poau-de-Soie, Taffeta and Peau-de-Cygne from $3.50 up to $10.00 to the ever admired China's in Black and cream from $2.25 to $5.95. The decorations on these waists arevery elaborate and all the new Medallion, Hemstitching and Insertion effects are very noticeable, giving them a grace and style that has never been seen before. You will notice among the new shades the colors in Champagne, Pink, Blue and Brown.

The Madras Waists far surpass last seasons styles, and you will readily notice a much sheerer effect and the lustre much finer and prices range from 69c to $3.98. Come see the display, and select one of these beauties for your early spring wear.

The finest and most stylish line of Tallored Suits on display this week that was ever shown in Milton. The Spring Styles are certainly very fine and elegant.

To describe them would take too much space, suffice to say that the line is now at its best and all that is correct and stylish can be seen here If not wishing to purchase at once come and see the new spring beauties as we are showing all that fashion has decreed for early spring.

The new novelty effects are all very noticeable as well as all plain staple shades.

The Jackets, of course, have the short effect and look very nobby.

We are prepared to anticipate your wants for a stylish Dress Skirt as we have selected our line with special reference to the wants of our patrons and the prices are so low that you would do well to make your selection early and get first choice. We guarantee them as to fit and workmanship, as we have a large trade on fine Tailored skirts.

Are showing them in Walking lengths fine and all wove at $5.00 to the finest fabric at $10.00.

A line of cheaper ones in mixed and fancies from $1.50 to $5.00.

The stitching and strapping as well as button trimming give them a style that no home made skirt can have.

Dress length styles in Cheviots and Broadcloth from $5.50 up to $10.50.

WILLIAMSPORT VICTORIOUS AGAIN

Lumber City Lads Show Better Team Work and Defeat 'Varsity.

The 'varsity five was defeated by the Williamsport Y. M. C. A. team in Tustin Gymnasium on Monday evening by the score of 15 to 10. The game was one of the most fiercely contested ever played on the home floor and was marked by fast and rough playing on both sides. Many spectacular plays were made and the score was close enough throughout to keep the spectators on the tip-toe of excitement.

Both teams guarded closely and as a result there was little consecutive passing. Williamsport excelled in passing and she also made more of her opportunities to shoot for goals in which, however, fortune seemed to be on her side. Bucknell lacked in team-work, her passing at times being poor. At others her work was excellent. In shooting for goals the Orange and Blue was unfortunate, many easy shots being missed.

The official was Dr. Aldinger, of the Bloomsburg State Normal, and his work gave satisfaction. VanHousen, of the visiting team, was disqualified in the second half for striking a spectator.

Bucknell was first to score, Cockill getting a sensational goal from the side of the floor three minutes after the whistle blew. Bucknell fouled twice in succession, but Williamsport could score on but one of them. The 'varsity played rather loosely at this point and the visitors scored two goals from the field and one from foul. Grier added two points to Bucknell's total by his accurate throwing from fouls. Williamsport scored again from the field and the half ended with the score 8 to 4 in Williamsport's favor.

The second half was quite long owing to injuries to Johnson and Cheesman. Both remained in the game. Williamsport was first to score in this half, making the score 10 to 4. Bucknell profited by Williamsport's violation of the rules, Grier throwing two goals from fouls, which were followed by a good goal by Smith. The visitors got another goal from the floor, and on a double foul each side scored a point. Bucknell's last point was scored on a goal from foul, while Williamsport got a goal from the floor just as the game ended.

The line-up:

Bucknell		Williamsport
Cheesman	forward	VanHousen Jackson
Grier	forward	Turner
Cockill	center	Knauss
Johnson	guard	Lutcher
Smith	guard	Speaker

Goals from floor, Cockill, Smith, Turner 2; Knauss 3, Van Housen. Goals from fouls, Turner 2; Grier 6. Referee and umpire, Dr. Aldinger.

Freshmen Defeat Sophs.

The last of the interclass games of basketball was played on last Tuesday night, the oppposing teams being the Sophomore and Freshman. Like all games between the two lower classes, it was a hard-fought and exciting contest. The Freshmen won by a score of 20 to 16. The members of the two classes supported their respective teams to a man and at two stages it looked as though the players would not be allowed to monopolize the floor as a battle ground. Wiser counsel prevailed, however, and no damage resulted aside from ruffled tempers. Both sides seemed to be satisfied that there had been no "scrap".

The game was a rough and tumble affair and interesting to look upon. A scientific contest was not expected. There were times, however, when both teams put up a creditable game. The officiating of Mr. Turner of Williamsport was satisfactory, though he did not call as many fouls as in the Senior-Junior game.

The Freshmen threatened to make a runaway race of the game, but the Sophs soon got down to good work and at the end of the first half led by a score of 9 to 8. A feature of this half was the throwing of goals by Claypool, who made four successful attempts.

The Sophomore team seemed to go to pieces in the early part of the second half and the first-year men soon ran the score to 18 to 10 in their favor. The Sophs again took a brace and succeeded in getting within two points to their total, the game ending 20 to 16.

The line-up:

1906		1907
Goldsmith	forward	Roberts
Whitaker	forward	Heinze
Waltz	center	Kramer
Claypool	guard	McNinch
Comstock	guard	Wascher

Goals from floor, Goldsmith 2; Whitaker 2; Claypool, Roberts 6; Heinze, Kramer, McNinch. Goals from fouls, Claypool 6; Roberts 2. Referee and umpire, Mr. Turner of Williamsport.

Williamsport H. S. Defeats 1907.

The Freshman team was defeated by the Williamsport High School team in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night by a score of 12 to 5. The contest was one of the most interesting played on the home floor this season. The visitors were a capable lot and played a better game than some of the teams that have opposed the 'varsity this year. They were fast and aggressive and completely outplayed the first-year men, who, however, were handicapped by the absence of Roberts.

Fully five minutes of play had elapsed before either side scored, the High School lads finally getting a goal. They scored another soon afterwards, which was followed by one by the Freshmen. Williamsport scored a third goal before the half ended, the score being 6 to 2 in their favor.

Soon after the opening of the second half the Freshmen scored a goal, which were the only additional points they made excepting one on a goal from foul just as the game ended. Williamsport, however, added two more goals to her credit, running her total up to 12. The Freshmen put up a remarkably clever game in the second half.

The line-up:

Freshmen		W. H. S.
Leach	forward	Henry
Heinze	forward	Sallada
Kramer	center	Lose
McNinch	guard	Miller
Wascher	guard	Braddock

Standing of Class Teams.

This is the second year that 1905 has won the inter-class basket-ball championship cup. The standing of the teams for this season is as follows:

Class	Won	Lost
1905	3	0
1904	2	1
1907	1	2
1906	0	3

Last Game of Basketball.

The last 'varsity basketball game of the season will be played in Tustin Gymnasium on next Friday evening. The opposing teams will be the Ex-Ninth Regiment five of Wilkesbarre, one of the strongest organizations in the State. They recently defeated State College and other strong teams.

Invitation from F. and M.

Manager Deats of the track team has received an invitation from Franklin and Marshall to participate in a relay race at Lancaster on May 7. An inter-scholastic track meet will be held on that date and the college relay race will be an additional feature. Those invited to take part are Bucknell, State College, Gettysburg and Dickinson. The proposition will be considered by the Track Executive Committee. An invitation has also been received from Fordham College to take part in an indoor athletic carnival in New York City on April 16th, but it has been declined.

THE REV. GEORGE WHITMAN, D. D.

The Rev. George Whitman, D. D., pastor of the Lafayette avenue church, Buffalo, N. Y., whose picture we present this week, was graduated from Bucknell University in 1872, and from Crozer Seminary two years later. His early ministry was spent with the churches at Oil City and Meadville, where he remained five and three years respectively. Thence he went to Cedar street church, Buffalo, where he labored successfully for nineteen years. Two and a half years ago he became pastor of the Lafayette avenue church, a comparatively new interest in a fine residential locality. Since that time the membership has grown from 142 to 221, and the work in every department has correspondingly developed. Dr. Whitman's ministry has been characterized by sagacity, tact, enthusiasm and devotion. He is greatly loved by his people, and the Baptists of the city and state.

Annual Gymnastic Exhibition.

On Wednesday evening in the Gymnasium will take place the annual gymnastic exhibition. An interesting list of events has been prepared and the attendance should be large. The following is the list of events:

15-yard dash.
Running high-jump.
Pole vault.
Standing high-jump.
Putting 16-lb shot.
Potato race.
Obstacle race.
Three-legged race.
Goal-throwing contest.
Exhibition in tumbling.

The admission will be only 15 cents and the proceeds will be devoted toward taking the men entered in the intercollegiate games to Philadelphia. Gold medals will be awarded to those who break Bucknell records.

Kutztown Alumni Organize.

Former students of the Keystone State Normal School, Kutztown, now attending Bucknell have organized an alumni association on the lines recently suggested in this paper. The officers are as follows:

President, W. E. Roberts, '04.
Vice-President, W. M. Martz, '04.
Secretary, Miss Rosa Gluck, Institute.
Treasurer, G. W. Cockill, '05.

EUEPIA WINS ANNUAL DEBATE

Friday Night's Contest Full of Vim and Very Interesting.

The annual debate between the representatives of the Euepia and Theta Alpha literary societies in Bucknell Hall on Friday night was won by Messrs. Hulley, '07, and Reese, '07, representing the former. In spite of the confliction with the Freshman-Williamsport basketball game, the debate was well attended and much interest was shown. The question for debate was "Resolved, that no Territory be admitted into Statehood except that which is bordered by some State already in the Union." It will be seen that there are two possible interpretations of the question.—existing territory and possible territory. Theta Alpha, represented by Phillips, '05, and Powell, '06, had the affirmative and Euepia the negative. Both sides put forth good arguments and their efforts gave evidence of much hard work, careful preparation and an extensive knowledge of state making.

The debate throughout was spirited, very interesting and was well received by the audience. The judges were Professors Edwards, Hare and Simpson.

THE NEED OF PROMPTNESS.

Among prevalent vices of student life is that of general negligence and above all, tardiness in attendance upon class or college meetings, committee gatherings and the various organizations which have a proper demand upon the time and interest of every student. Nothing contributes more largely to destroy organized efforts in class matters than the general indifference and tardiness of individual members in attendance upon the regular class meetings; worse still, many classmen seem utterly indifferent to the business interests of their respective classes and regularly avoid every class meeting when their presence is sadly needed. This charge cannot be made against the Freshman and Sophomore classes as a rule, because class rivalry and the need of thorough organization serve to make each man prompt and faithful in the discharge of his class duties. But the Junior and Senior classes suffer much from carelessness in this respect and class meetings are a rarity and poorly attended.

The increasing number of organizations in college and the consequent demand made upon each student's time in order to attend every meeting of the various organizations to which he belongs render it necessary that such meetings be held promptly at the appointed hour and that each member be present on time; otherwise the regular time allote to studies and college work will be infringed upon to the detriment of the student. Indeed, it is sometimes questionable whether the multiplicity of interests which a college man must necessarily face are not in a sense detrimental; they exact too great a demand upon his time and attention and leave too little time for study and recreation. The objection would largely be removed if a regular schedule of meetings would be observed and each student would keep a memorandum book of appointments. The training in regularity and promptness thus gained would be very beneficial; life in college is merely a preparation for the active life of the world.

Most people admire life and vigor in a youth such as the young man found in college; indeed, he who is slothful and lazy is usually looked upon with disdain. But there are places better adapted than others for working off this exuberance of spirit. The main hall between periods when young women are passing to and fro is not one of them. Neither is the post office when the rush is on just after six o'clock in the evening. The quarters are limited and crowding and shoving on the part of the students cannot be done without annoyance and inconvenience to others. It is not surprising that the townspeople sometimes acquire a dislike for the student. A little thought in this direction will convince us that many of our little acts, harmless as they may be in their intent, are often vexing and displeasing to others.

The by-laws of the Athletic Association permit the Executive Committee of track and field to award to the student "excelling in the annual exhibition" a German "B". The rule seems to us to be defective in that it does not stipulate that a certain standard shall be attained by the contestants, simply the one doing the best being entitled to the honor. While a criticism of the action of the Committee in the past could scarcely be sustained, the sentiment of the students seems to be in favor of conservatism in awarding insignia. All legislation enacted in recent years by the Athletic Association has been in that direction and such an attitude is to be commended The college insignia cannot be too carefully guarded.

Each student should make it his duty to attend the annual athletic exhibition in Tustin Gymnasium on Wednesday evening, since the amount realized from admission will be devoted toward taking Bucknell's representatives in the inter-collegiate games to Philadelphia in May. No funds are available from the usual sources for this trip, which makes it imperative that they be secured in some other way, and this is one of the means chosen. A program of interesting and amusing events has been prepared and everybody who attends will get value received for his money. All out Wednesday night!

Dr. Eliot on Preparatory Schools.

President Eliot of Harvard in his annual report, which has just been made public, states the public school-boy has the advantage in efficency over the boy from the private school. For the past year President Eliot has been studying comparative statistics of the two types of entrants to Harvard, and his conclusions are based on observations of seven hundred students. "Both in entrance examinations and in honors won in college the public school-boy outstrips the boy who has had a private tutor, or has gone to a select school," declares President Eliot. "The public school boys are not only more vigorous and determined to gain knowledge, but they are also much more conscientious, a point which has often been denied."

Football Receipts.

The February issue of "The World To-day" publishes an interesting item on the finance of college football, in which the receipts of sixteen colleges and universities, who responded to their inquiries, show a total of almost half a million, the university of Pennsylvania leading the list with $68,521.47. The list does not include the receipts of Columbia, Princeton and several other large educational institutions, and not any of the small ones. A complete list would undoubtedly bring the figures to more than a million which is astonishing, compared with the figures of ten years ago.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural sciences is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Stucents are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 21 1904. No. 23

BUCKNELL WINS FAST GAME

Wilkesbarre Defeated in the Last Basketball Game of the Season.

Bucknell defeated the fast Wilkesbarre basketball team in what proved to be one of the best played games of the season in Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night. The score was 15 to 11. At one time during the second half the score was a tie and a feeling of uneasiness existed among the supporters of the Orange and Blue; but Captain Cheesman and his men pulled themselves together sufficiently to gain and maintain the lead to the end.

The visiting team is one of the best that has been here this season. On Thursday night they defeated State at State by a score of 20 to 10 and were beaten at Williamsport on the following night by only two points, the score being 18 to 16. Better passing than that done by Wilkesbarre has not been seen on the Bucknell floor this season, and that they did not make more goals was due to the good work of Bucknell's guards.

The team-work of the Orange and Blue was much better than in the game with Williamsport on Monday night. There was a big improvement in the way they handled the ball in passing, while the judgement they used in shooting was much better. The players put more spirit and dash in their work than at any time since the Allegheny game. Bucknell scored five goals from the floor to three by Wilkesbarre; each team threw five goals from fouls.

The game had not proceeded far when Wilkesbarre fouled, but Bucknell could not improve the opportunity to score. Shortly after this the visitors got a goal from the floor. Their lead was soon cut down one when Grier threw a goal on a foul. By excellent team work Smith and Grier each got a goal, putting Bucknell well in the lead. The teams alternated in throwing goals from fouls until the score became 7 to 4 in favor Bucknell. Cheesman got one from the floor, which increased Bucknell's total to 9, the half ending 9 to 4 in Bucknell's favor.

Wilkesbarre started the second half with a rush and soon tied the score. The 'varsity soon regained the lead, however, scoring two points on a goal from the floor and two points on fouls. Wilkesbarre got a goal from foul, which was followed by a second goal from the field by Grier. The visitors scored another point on a foul shortly before the half ended.

The line-up:

Bucknell		Wilkesbarre
Cheesman	forward	Taggart
Grier	forward	G. Keller
Cockill	center	R. Keller
Smith	guard	Haas
Johnson	guard	Austin

Goals from floor, Cheesman, Grier 2; Smith 2; G. Keller 2; Haas. Goals from fouls, Grier 5; Taggart 5. Reference and umpire, Mr. Hoskins and Mr. VanValkenberg, alternating.

The Basketball Season.

The basketball season just closed was remarkable in that as many games were lost by Bucknell as had been lost in the three preceding seasons combined, and that as many defeats were suffered by the Orange and Blue on the home floor as in all the nine preceding years. The season of 1904-5 should be successful, since all the regular players and substitutes will be in college again.

The scores of this season were as follows:

Bucknell 33; Swarthmore 13.
Bucknell 37; Scranton 14.
Bucknell 37; LaSalle 14.
Bucknell 62; Shenandoah 6.
Bucknell 31; Gettysburg 24.
Bucknell 10; Allegheny 12.
Bucknell 12; Williamsport 14
Bucknell 18; F. & M. 3.
Bucknell 10; Williamsport 15.
Bucknell 15; Wilkesbarre 11.

Origin of Basketball.

The following account of the origin of basketball from the Illustrated Sporting News may be of interest to Bucknell students:

"Basketball is unique in its origin for two reasons. In the first place it is our one, positively sure, home American production; secondly, the name, date and place of its authorship are exactly known. Of no other game in all the category can this be said; the birth of the bulk of them is buried in an obscurity which reaches beyond the cuniform-covered baked-clay tablets of Babylon, and hieroglyphics of the remotest Egyptian records.

"Basketball, on the other hand, was born in the year of 1891, at Springfield, Mass., and its author was James Naismith. The story is short enough to be interesting. In that town is a training school connected with the Young Men's Christian Association, and, of course, professors, among them a professor of psychology, who is paid to teach the young ideas how to think effectively. In one of his lectures he called attention to certain conditions upon which the brain could with advantage be exercised, and challenged his class to supply the requirements to meet them. The conditions were the invention of a new game which could be played indoors, in a limited area, by a defined and unalterable number of contestants, and adaptable to both sexes. Upon this hypothesis one of his pupils, James Naismith, the same night evolved "basketball." It was put into practice the next day, experimentally, and found to meet the conditions and limitations laid down by the professor, admirably. But it had more than an academic value, as its rapid spread as one of our most appreciated pastimes attest."

Euepia Elects Officers.

Euepia Literary Society elected the following officers on Friday night:

President, Wolfe, '04.
Vice-president, Drake, '06.
Secretary, Saylor, '07.
Treasurer, Hulley, '07.
Critic, Wrenn, '04.
Sergeant-at-arms, Whitney, '07.

Change in Baseball Schedule.

Owing to the inability of the respective managers to conclude satisfactory arrangements, Bucknell and Gettysburg will not meet in baseball the coming season. Both dates, April 20 at Gettysburg and May 12 at Lewisburg, have been cancelled. Georgetown will likely play here instead of Gettysburg, probably the same week.

"THE MUSICAL ENTHUSIAST."

Pretty Operetta Will be Rendered in Opera House on April 5th.

Tuesday night, April 5th, is the time selected for the production for the operetta, "The Musical Enthusiast," to be given in the Lewisburg Opera House for the benefit of the Athletic Field fund. The cast has been rehearsing diligently for the past three weeks under the direction of Dr. Aviragnet, who is confident that the affair will surpass anything in that line that has ever been given here. The best voices in the College and the Institute have been selected.

There are forty persons in the cast, including fifteen young women. Both the young men and the young women will have solo and duet parts, many of which are exceptionally pretty. The choruses are tuneful and catchy, and there is acting enough to give the operetta plenty of life and movement. When the production was given by the students several years ago it made a great hit, and it is expected that the coming performance will be still better.

The committee has not decided upon the prices to be charged for the occasion, but they will be within the reach of all. The entire proceeds above the cost of production will be given to the Athletic Field fund.

Annual Gymnastic Exhibition.

Owing to the fire in town on Wednesday evening the annual indoor gymnastic exhibition in Tustin Gymnasium was not well attended and only a few students took part in the various events. The opening event was an exhibition on the parallel and horizontal bars by Coach Hoskins, Bartol, '05, and Lemmon, '07, which was very interesting, being possibly the cleverest thing in that line that has ever been given in the gymnasium. The judges recommended that the German "B" be awarded to Mr. Lemmon, whose work certainly merited the honor.

The 15-yard dash was won by Davis, '07.

In the high jump Pearse made 5 feet, 5 inches, coming within three-quarters of an inch of equalling the indoor record at Bucknell. Davis was second with 5 feet, 3 inches. Smithgall and Lenhart each made 4 feet, 11 inches.

There were three participants in the potato race, which was highly amusing. Lenhart was the winner. The obstace race was much funnier, however. There were but two contestants, Snavely and Smigelsky, the largest and smallest men, respectively, in the Freshman class. The latter proved to be the more agile and quicker and won the event, though Snavely was close at his heels at the finish. The pole-vault and shot-put did not take place.

Princeton Wanted a Game.

Manager Marsh of the football team on Friday night received a telegram from the management of the Princeton football eleven asking for a game at Princeton on Saturday, October 8th. As this is the date of the Indian game, the proposition had to be declined.

Subscriptions are due.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

The sixth annual cable chess match between the representatives of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and Columbia, and those of Oxford and Cambridge will be held some time in March or April.

West Point will this year take Princeton on her football schedule. Within four weeks the Army team will meet Harvard, Yale and Princeton, according to her present schedule. It is probable that the Army and Navy will meet in the closing game of the season in Philadelphia again next fall.

In the Academic Department of Yale the cost of instruction has increased in twenty-nine years from $51,742 to $208,121, while the number of students has risen from 532 to 1259. In the nineteen years that the elective system has been in operation, the cost of instruction has risen 135 per cent., while the number of students has increased only 122 per cent.

Twelve students of Grove City College, two of them seniors, were expelled last week for belonging to a secret organization in the college, contrary to faculty rules. The society has been in existence for thirteen years, but the President was not able to get conclusive evidence against it until last week. One of the students was a son of a member of the faculty.

Columbia has been declared the winner of the Inter-collegiate Basketball League, having won ten games and lost none. The other teams finished in the following order: Pennsylvania, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Harvard. Harvard has been dropped by the League because she cancelled four games during the season just closed and Brown may take her place.

For the purpose of studying Biblical history and geography, twenty-one divinity students of the University of Chicago are going to make a four months' tour of Palestine. They will take note-books and cameras and will prepare written reports of all they see and do. This will be the second student expedition, Professor Shaller Mathews having taken a party to Damascus three years ago. The latest party will be in charge of Professor H. S. Willet.

Proposed Basketball Trip.

The proposed post season trip of the 'varsity basketball team this week is yet uncertain. The following games have been conditionally arranged by Manager Browning: March 24, Nanticoke; March 25, Plymouth; March 26, Wilkesbarre.

Schedule of Examinations.

The following is the schedule of examinations for the Winter Term:

THE REV. A. LINCOLN MOORE.

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

The Rev. A. Lincoln Moore, A. M., D. D., whose likeness we present this week, was graduated from the University in 1891, being one of the honor students. After leaving Bucknell he was awarded a scholarship at Yale, where he pursued a course in philosophy and theology. In July, 1892, he received and accepted the unanimous call of the Allegheny Avenue Baptist church, of Philadelphia, and was ordained September 14, 1892. The church enjoyed under his faithful ministration uninterrupted prosperity, the congregation and school taxing the building to its utmost capacity. In 1899 Dr. Moore accepted the unanimous call of the Chester Avenue church, New York City, which under his magnetic leadership more than doubled its membership.

While in college Mr. Moore's scholarship won him distinction. He was awarded the Hopper prize for the best scientific essay and the Martin prize in oratory. He was a thorough scholar, an eloquent speaker and a graceful and forceful writer. He also took a prominent part in athletics, being a member of the football team and holding the college bicycle record. He was married in 1892 to Miss May Wolverton, of Hampton Junction, N. J.

Outdoor Work in Track and Baseball.

Work in both baseball and track has been retarded owing to the condition of the athletic field, which is still covered in many places with snow and ice. Baseball is the worse sufferer, for the diamond will probably be in a muddy condition for another week. The stretch of track next to the railroad is drying out rapidly and if the weather continues favorable, Coach Hoskins and Captain Pearse will be able to put the track candidates to work at once. Several of the men will remain here during the recess for the purposes of working out.

Should it become possible to use any portion of the baseball field by Thursday, Captain Smith, of the baseball team, will make an effort to have the candidates remain during the recess and Coach Agnew will be sent for. The conditions being unfavorable, the candidates will be urged to return to college on the Monday of the recess. Coach Agnew can remain at Bucknell only until May 1st and it is desired to get as much benefit from his services as possible.

BASKETBALL

The last game of the regular basketball schedule on Friday night was a victory, which makes the record for the season seven won and three lost. Though the showing is very creditable, the results of the season do not come up to the expectations of the team's supporters, nor are they satisfactory. This is not due entirely to the fact that as many games were lost as in the three preceding seasons combined, for the mere losing or winning of a game does not in itself mean anything, but the opinion seems to prevail that the five did not play the game of which it was capable, particularly toward the closing of the season. The same spirit did not seem to exist among the players, which marked the work of the teams of the past few years. The inferior playing in the closing games may have been due in whole or in part to the fact that the early games were not of the character to develope a team, but as stated heretofore, the manager secured the best organizations possible under the circumstances. It is well, however, not to be too critical, for the coach and captain had much to contend with it being compelled to develope players for three positions, and one regular man was not able to participate in the two closing games.

In glancing back over the past season the action of Harvard University in dropping basketball as an inter-collegiate sport is interesting. In general the reasons for the decision are that the game is poorly patronized and, there being so many of these inter-collegiate sports, over-lapping one another in their seasons, that some of the minor ones divert the attention of athletes from branches in which their services would be of greater benefit. These objections do not obtain in the so-called minor colleges, where the number of inter-collegiate sports is small. Indeed, the game is one of the most popular among institutions the size of Bucknell, ranking in interest closely to football and baseball. The game has undoubtedly come to stay.

There are certain features, however, which make basketball objectionable and which may in time interfere with its popularity, especially among the colleges. Some of the roughness must be eliminated. Rough-and-tumble playing may receive the plaudits of a few, but to the lovers of the game in general it is highly distasteful. This objection is closely associated with another, perhaps even greater, fault of the game, namely, incompetent and partial officials. The officials should be of sufficient backbone to call fouls on all rough and otherwise illegal playing; and above all, they should favor neither team in their decisions. It is not enough that each team have an official, for often under such circumstances the game resolves itself into a foul-calling match. The official or officials should have no interest in either team and should render decisions that are unbiased.

The lack of uniformity in playing floors and in rules is a fault often far-reaching in its consequences, and one which could be remedied easily. It frequently happens that a team is beaten by an inferior organization simply because the game is played on a floor and under rules to which the former is unaccustomed. This objection could easily be obviated by an agreement among colleges usually playing one another to have uniformity in floors and rules. Indeed, we do not see why a basketball league of colleges in eastern Pennsylvania, having for one of its objects the regulation of these two points, would not be a success. We believe that in addition a great deal of interest would be added to the game.

The game for this year is over and nearly twelve months will elapse before we are again exhorting our brawny athletes to "shoot"; but in the meantime the friends and supporters of the game here should lose no opportunity to improve it. Bucknell might well take the initiative in trying to bring about some of the reforms suggested.—If they are worthy.

We feel that it is in the line of our duty to call the attention of the students to the fact that that Spring Recess ends on Wednesday, March 30, and no excuses for absences for the first three days will be given except in extraordinary cases. Besides we owe it to the professors, our fellow students and ourselves to get back and start the next term's work on time.

Those students who are chosen to lead the cheering and singing in college next year should not lose the opportunity for perfecting the yells and songs presented by the intermission at the basketball games. Encouragement would also be leat to the team, and the spectators would be entertained besides.

At present there are about 500 Peruvians atterding American universities . No other South American republic is so largely represented in our colleges.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Transgression of the Gymnasium Floor.

Editor Orange and Blue:—The gymnasium as a place to practice basketball, baseball and field sports is rapidly altogether losing sight of the purpose for which it was built. The representative of the faculty who built the gymnasium has pointed out that the function of the gymnasium is to make the weak men in college strong, and not to make the strong men stronger. The occupancy of the gymnasium floor for the continual practice of the sports mentioned above not only tends toward the development of strong men alone, but crowds off the gymnasium drills. In order that Bucknell may excel other schools in these branches of athletics, both basketball and field sports deserve very generous attention from athletes. However, when the practice of the basketball team takes so much time that there is no opportunity, except at short intervals, for the inexperienced in this sport to engage in it or any other exercise, the practice has passed its proper time-limit.

Students going to the gymnasium for exercise are compelled either to await the pleasure of basketball players or to work timorously along the side lines. Here they never can derive any benefit from their exercise since in order that exercise may be beneficial it must be confident, continuous and pleasurable.

STUDENT.

Handsome? Ye Gods!

Sam Crane, the baseball expert, writing from Savannah, Ga., says of Harry McCormick:

"McCormick has made a very favorable impression. He is a handsome lad with red cheeks, well put together and as strong as an ox. He has been hitting the ball like a fiend and has made good in his fielding. He is a very fast runner to first and will beat out many infield hits.

"After reaching first, however, he is not an expert base runner, although he is fast. He hasn't got sliding down to a science, but he is learning fast under McGraw's instructions. McCormick can slide into a base head first like a house afire, but he is lost when it comes to a feet first slide and a dodge away from the baseman. This he will learn all right, however, for he is an apt and willing pupil."

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Prof. Weithaase was called home last week by the death of his father.

Dr. Harris addressed the "Way of Life" meeting in Bucknell Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Prof. A. B Stewart, of Colgate University, a former member of the Bucknell faculty, was in town during the week, having been summoned here to testify in court.

Messrs. Heidenreich, '04, and Wise, '06, attended a dance and smoker given by the chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at State College on Friday and Saturday nights.

Dr. Benjamin Lee, Secretary of the State Board of Health, has directed Dr. George G. Groff, Chairman of the Committee on Preventible Diseases, to institute measures for the suppression of smallpox, which, Dr. Lee says, is epidemic in Jackson township, Lebanon county.

ACADEMY

John White, of Knoxville, Pa., visited his son the latter part of last week.

The American College for Women, founded at Constantinople in 1871, is the only woman's college in western Asia and south-eastern Europe.

Statistics recently published at Indiana University show that of the women graduates between the years 1869 and 1899, more than 70 per cent. married. In the last thirteen years the percentage has been reduced to about thirty.

The first Russian text-book to be published in the United States is about to be issued by the University of Chicago. The work is now being translated by Samuel Harper, son of President Harper of the Chicago University, who is studying at the institution of Living Oriental Languages in Paris. The book is intended to be used in the department of Russian at the University, which was endowed several years ago by Charles B. Crane.

Allegheny College closed her basketball season on Friday night with a victory over Case School of Cleveland. Her record for the season was 13 won and 2 lost, the defeats being Geneva College at Beaver Falls and the German Y. M. C. A., at Buffalo. The manager of the team was last week deposed for not bringing his team home from Buffalo on time. The manager's defense was solicitude for the team's welfare, in which he is supported by the student body.

ACTIVITY IN SPRING SPORTS

Track and Baseball Candidates Working Under the Coaches

Active work in baseball and on the track was commenced during the recess and, in spite of the unfavorable weather, considerable progress was made. The candidates for the relay team were put to work by Coach Hoskins as soon as the recess commenced and the men practiced daily. Aside from last year's candidates, Pearse, Marsh, Gaskill and Thatcher, few men were out. All of those named, however, are showing improved form, which makes Bucknell's chances for success at Philadelphia on April 23 very encouraging. The coach desires more men to report.

The training table was started today with the following candidates for the relay team: Pearse, Marsh, Gaskill, Thatcher, Weisser, '05, Hutchinson, '07, may be taken on later. The training table for all track men will not be established until about April 25th.

Manager Deats has announced the following schedule for the season:
April 23, Relay races at Philadelphia.
May 14, Dual meet with Dickinson at Carlisle.
May 21, Inter-class meet.
May 28 and 29, Inter-collegiate games of the I. C. A. A. A. A., at Philadelphia.
June 4, Dual meet with the Carlisle Indians at Lewisburg.

There is yet a possibility that arrangements may be made to send the relay team to Lancaster on May 7 to compete in the inter-collegiate relay race arranged by Franklin and Marsnall. It that plan should be definitely given up the inter-class meet may be held on May 7 instead of two weeks later.

Coach Hoskins has asked the candidates to report as follows:
Relay men, twice a day—9 a. m. to 12 m; and at 4 p. m.
Weight men, from 3 p.m. to 4 p. m.
Long distance men, 4 p. m.

Baseball practice commenced last Monday under Coach Peter Agnew, of Harrisburg. A large number of last year's players and many new men reported and all are showing up well. The diamond was fit for use only one day, but the coach was able to work the men out in other parts of the field. Coach Agnew's work shows that he is as much a coach as a player and, although he can remain only three weeks, the team will doubtless be much benefitted by his services.

The first practice game between the 'varsity and scrubs took place on Saturday afternoon and gave the friends of the team their first opportunity to witness the work of the new candidates. The 'varsity was made up of Teufel, catcher; Cockill, first; Smith, second; Helm, short; Grininger, third; Blair, left; Dearscenter. Several candidates for pitcher alternated between right field and the box. Leach, Cheesman and Cockill twirled for the 'varsity, and while none of them exerted himself, owing to the cold weather, they all showed up well. Blair also caught a part of the game and did splendidly. Bucknell never had better catchers than Teufel and Blair.

There were also a few new men among the scrubs, but, aside from the pitchers, it is scarcely probable that any of them will develope into 'varsity material. Gear, Hutchinson and Lenhart pitched well, but had poor support. It is too early in the season to tell what the pitching talent is capable of. In the other departments the 'varsity was never stronger, perhaps.

The revised schedule is as follows:
April 12, University of Maryland, at Baltimore.
April 13, Naval Academy, at Annapolis.
April 19, Dickinson, at Carlisle.
April 23, Lehigh, at Lewisburg.
April 30, Villa Nova, at Lewisburg.
May 3, Seton Hall, at South Orange
May 4, Fordham, at New York.
May 14, Dickinson, at Lewisburg.
May 20, Cuban Giants, at Lewisburg.
May 21, Bloomsburg, at Bloomsburg.
May 30, Harrisburg, at Harrisburg, (2 games.)
May 31, Indians, at Carlisle.
June 4, Williamsport, at Williamsport.
June 7, Villa Nova, at Villa Nova.
June 8, Princeton, at Princeton.
June 14, Lehigh, at South Bethlehem.
June 15, Lafayette, at Easton
June 18, Bloomsburg, at Lewisburg
June 20, Williamsport, at Lewisburg.
June 21, Lebanon Valley, at Lewisburg.
June 22, Indians, at Lewisburg.

'VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM.

Regarding College Tennis.

The manager of the Tennis Association is making arrangements with several neighboring colleges for tournaments to be played during the Spring term. To become eligible for the 'varsity, candidates must hand their initiation fee to Manager Williamson. All contestants in inter-class, inter-club and inter-collegiate tournaments are chosen from the membership of the Association.

A tournament in singles will soon be played to determine the individual championship of the college and to choose a representative 'varsity team. It would give each club greater standing to have a representative in this tournament.

Operetta Postponed.

Owing to the desire of the health authorities of the town to avoid public gatherings of people until after all traces of smallpox are gone, the production of "The Musical Enthusiast", scheduled for April 5, has been postponed. Since there remains but a few cases of the disease in town, the operetta should be produced not later than April 20th. Rehearsals have been resumed, and the postponement of the performance should enable a more efficient production than ever to be given.

G. W. Cheesman, '05, was initiated into the Delta Theta Upsilon fraternity Tuesday evening, March 22.

The Basketball Trip.

The post-season trip of the 'varsity basketball team resulted rather disastrously as far as victories were concerned. Games were played at Plymouth and Wilkesbarre and both were lost. On Friday evening, March 25, Plymouth won by a score of 18 to 7, and on the following night Wilkesbarre was victor by a score of 26 to 16.

The party, which was made up of Manager Browning, Cheesman, Johnson, Cockill, Smith, Grier and Lenhart, left Lewisburg on Friday and played at Plymouth that night. The sport is very popular at that place, the game that evening being attended by 1,500 people. The game was played under National League rules and John Davis, '02, officiated. Bucknell was completely outplayed in the first half, which resulted 10 to 1 in favor of the home team. In the second half, however, Bucknell showed improved form and made only two fewer points than Plymouth.

The game at Wilkesbarre was very unsatisfactory. Bucknell played an excellent game, even under National League rules, but the biazed decisions of the official made it impossible for the Orange and Blue to win. Not one foul was called on the home team, while Bucknell's offenses numbered twelve, according to the official. Smith was injured during the game and Lenhart played the second half.

After the Wilkesbarre game the members of the team were entertained at the Press Club, together with the members of the Lafayette Glee Club which gave an entertainment in Wilkesbarre on Saturday night. The team returned to Lewisburg on Sunday.

Mathewson Premier Pitcher

Henry Chadwick, editor of Spalding's Official Baseball Guide, ranks Mathewson, ex-'02, first among the pitchers of the National League for the season of 1903. He bases his selection not upon the percentage of victories over all the other clubs, but over those of the first division, which, he says, is "the better test of effective pitching." Mathewson's percentage over all clubs was .698; over those of the first division, .762.

Walter C. Mason, of the Buffalo Express, in a review of the Eastern League season in the same publication, says that McCormick, ex-'04, "certainly handled his bat to perfection, leading the league with an average of .362 in 122 games. He was probably the find of the year, for he is young and under capable hands should make his mark."

McCormick is at present at Little Rock, Ark., suffering from swollen glands in one of his legs, and an operation will be performed this week. It will be some time before he will be able to resume with the New York team.

Two More Football Dates

Manager Marsh, of the football team, has announced two more important dates for next season. They are, October 15, Cornell, at Ithaca; November 5, Syracuse, at Syracuse. This will be the first time that the Orange and Blue has ever met Syracuse in football. Only a few dates remain unfilled, and the manager expects to announce his schedule within a few weeks.

JUDGE WILLIAM A. MARR.

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

We present this week a picture of Judge William A. Marr, president Judge of the Schuylkill district. Judge Marr was graduated in the class of 1859. For one year he was a tutor in connection with the college. He was in charge of the Danville High School during some three or four years. Then he studied law with George F. Miller, Esq., of Lewisburg, one of the University's staunchest friends. Judge Marr was admitted to the bar in 1864, moved to Schuylkill county in 1865, and continued to practice law with headquarters in Ashland, until 1898, when he was elected president Judge, taking his seat January 1, 1899. He is a learned and fearless judge and constantly adds to his reputation as a dispenser of justice with impartiality. Affiliated with the Presbyterian church of Ashland, he does not withhold his hand from any good and deserving enterprise and has long since proved himself to be an honor to the University.

Sermon Before Y. M. C. A.

On Sunday morning, April 10, Dr. H. J. Wilmer, of Carbondale, will preach the annual sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association in the Baptist church. All are invited to attend.

Sophomore Dance Postponed.

The Sophomore class has been compelled to postpone its dance in the Armory until smallpox has entirely disappeared from the town. Another date will be selected soon.

Honor for Dr. Harris.

President Harris was last week appointed a member of the College and University Council of Pennsylvania by Governor Pennypacker.

The Senior class of Cornell has decided to present to the University as its class memorial the sum of $10,000 to be turned over to the treasurer at the expiration of ten years. This sum will be raised among the individual members of the class by a method of subscription, each member of the class pledging himself to pay annually to the life secretary of the organization $2.50.

CLASS OBLIGATIONS.

The Orange and Blue does not cultivate a canting, criticizing spirit in its editorial page, but earnestly seeks to offer helpful suggestion and promulgate a healthy optimism in its columns on all college matters Therefore we may be pardoned for again referring to the matter of class management and finance.

Every class should pay its honest debts promptly and in a business-like way. We regret to say that the credit of one or two of our classes with local merchants is somewhat problematical. Class credit has almost come to be a misnomer. The members of the various classes are delinquent in paying their dues and some artfully avoid paying at all. As a result, repeated assessments are made and the money is contributed by those members of the class who have already paid their dues. Besides, bills are not infrequently paid long after the time when payment should have been made. Indeed, some bills contracted in the Freshman year are left unpaid until the end of the Sophomore year "Brethren, this ought not so to be."

However, we derive some consolation from the fact that class honor in matters of finance is at just as low an ebb in many other institutions; and the standard of morality in this respect at Bucknell is probably no whit worse than at the larger universities. Strenuous efforts at present are being made at Syracuse University by Dean Smalley and the Faculty to institute some system by which the classes shall be obliged to pay all their legal debts; likewise, that restrictions be placed upon class expenditures and strict surveillance observed in the matter of all class expense. A committee, consisting of representatives from the various classes are requested by Dean Smalley to meet him in a joint conference to draw up rules governing the matter of class finance. The result of the new system to be inaugurated at Syracuse will be watched with interest. We trust that reform in this matter may be enforced in other colleges—beginning, of course, at home.

English Among Students.

Mr. R. L. Thompson, in an article in the Monthly Review, says:

"Years ago, a college bred man could always be distinguished by the finish and beauty of his speech. It was an important part of his education, and in order to possess that refinement considered so necessary in the education of a gentleman, it was absolutely necessary that his speech be polished and his thoughts clothed in good, easy, flowing English.

"That educators think this department of the College is being neglected has been recognized by those who have noticed the great number of articles which have lately appeared on the "English of the American Undergraduate." Scarcely a month goes by but some periodical prints such an article and the subject is one which is attracting great attention.

"The average college man's English is said to be on the level of that of the grammar school boy's. The criticisms are strong and caustic, but unfortunately, in a large degree, true. In all colleges, and under all systems of teaching, the result is the same and for this reason the blame is largely laid to the indifference of the student.

"The average student does not realize the bearing that proper English and its appreciation has on the practical affairs of life and therefore neglects its study. And yet there is no doubt that the power of proper expression is a great factor in a man's success. On first appearance nothing impresses a business man more than this quality to which more than one man's success is traceable.

"It is the duty of the student to think this matter over well and to see if it is not worth putting into practice. Let him remember that the study of English is not a waste of time but that there is scarcely a more practical and useful subject in the curriculum. Let him avoid slovenliness of speech and try to put his thoughts into language that is worthy of them."

Functions of Upper Classmen

President Faunce of Brown gives college men some excellent advice regarding the proper "Functions of the Upper Classmen." The functions which he gives are deserving of thoughtful consideration.

It is a fact, as President Faunce says, that a good many of the functions once exercised by the faculty are now exercised, or should be, by the upper classmen. "The men who have lived two or three years in the college have a right to assume not airs of superiority and lordship, but a real responsibility for the atmosphere, the tone, the traditions of our campus life. Six months after graduation, a student may be a member of the faculty or corporation, shaping the future of the university. Is he not entitled to do some shaping six months before the ribboned parchment? Upper classmen can preserve ancient traditions when they are good and hand them down to their academic posterity. Upper classmen can stiffen the spinal column of many a wobbling Freshman, and teach him the meaning of Kipling's, 'Mind you keep your rifle and yourself just so.' Upper classmen can give to the narrow man, whose horizon has been the village street, a wider outlook and a larger sympathy. If an intellectual life at Brown—in common with that of all colleges of this strenuous age—needs strengthening the upper classmen are the men to do it. They can frown on dawdling and loafing. They can recognize the man of ideas as well as the man of affairs. They can brand the cheat as unfit for association with men of honor. They can leave political chicanery for pot-house politicians."

Self-Sustaining Students

In a recent issue of Harper's Weekly there was published an interesting article entitled, "College Men and Money," by Prof. C. L. Kitchel, who is in charge of the Bureau of Self-Help at Yale University. Professor Kitchel brings out some interesting statistics concerning the number of men dependent wholly or in part upon their own exertions for their education at Yale. Of the Freshman class just entered, forty-eight men are wholly dependent upon themselves; about twelve per cent of the total number of men in the class. Among the higher classes the number averages about ten per cent of the whole, making in all about 140 men in the Academic Department, and over 200 in the University. As many more are dependent upon themselves, in part, at least, which brings the number of men in the University who engage in some remunerative work in order to help meet their college expenses to over 400. The Bureau of Self-Help has been doing excellent work in the assignment of tuition scholarships, on the basis of need and of scholarly standing, and in assisting indigent students to obtain work.

The manager of the Orange and Blue will call this week on those who are delinquent in their subscriptions. Be prepared to pay him.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Brown, Wesleyan and Amherst will not be on Harvard's football schedule the coming season.

The world's record for the shotput was recently broken at Ann Arbor, Michigan, in an indoor meet between the University of Michigan and the First Regiment of Chicago, by Rose, '07, Michigan, who put the shot 47 feet 6 1-2 inches. The American record is 47 feet.

It has been decided by the authorities of the St. Louis Exposition to set aside the week of June 10-17 as Students Week. On June 10 and 11 will occur the Olympic College Championship Athletic Contest. During the remainder of the week an Oratorical Contest, open to all Universities will be held. It is expected that Student's Week at St. Louis will be the greatest intercollegiate occasion ever experienced in America.

A jury in the Washington County Court at Montpelier, Vt., has awarded Claude R. George, a student at Montpelier Seminary $1000 for discomfort and injury to his person which resulted from a coat of tar and feathers. The evidence showed that George had been hazed by half a dozen students on the night of January 12, 1903. They broke into his room, and after treating him roughly, administered a light coating of tar and feathers. As an outcome George left the seminary and several of the students were dismissed.

The passage of the Cornell Agricultural College bill by the New York Legislature means the erection of four buildings on the Cornell campus of an aggregate value of $250,000, besides the entire reorganization and enlargement of the Agricultural College. The principal building will be the New York State Agricultural Hall to be erected with $125,000 of the appropriation. The bill was strenuously opposed by Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, who objected to so large an amount being given to one institution.

The manager of the Orange and Blue will call this week on those who are delinquent in their subscriptions. Be prepared to pay him.

INSTITUTE.

Miss Mabel Grier, '01, is visiting friends at the Seminary.

Miss Lucy Trauger, of Latrobe, has entered the Department of Music.

Miss Rigley is the new matron who takes the place of Mrs. Somers at the seminary.

The long-expected electric clock for the seminary seems about to become a reality. Workmen are arranging to have it in place some time this week.

The Misses Carrie and Florence Miller-Caskie, '06, have reentered college for the spring term. The former has been spending the last three months in Portugal.

One of the prettiest customs existing at the seminary was carried out Sunday morning. Instead of being awakened by the rising bell, the inmates were aroused by the sweet strains of Easter carols.

The girls who spent their vacation at the institute gave a very enjoyable "Sally Magundy" party on Tuesday evening. Favors appropriate to the season were awarded to the champion players. Games and chafing dish "stunts" ended a jolly evening, and each of the thirty guests departed with his basket of eggs.

ALUMNI

After the baptism of several converts at the morning services in the First Baptist church, Burlington, on Sunday, T. M. Eastwood, '72, the pastor, from the text, "He is not here, for He is risen, as He said," delivered his entire sermon in original verse. Mr. Eastwood has written several poems and hymns of merit.

George W. Wagenseller, '92, for the past ten years editor of the Middleburg Post, is gaining wide distinction as an author. He has written a number of books dealing with local history and the genealogy of families in the vicinity of his home. But wider in their scope and importance are his treatises on advertising, the chief one of which, "Theory and Practice of Advertising", has an almost world-wide circulation.

COLLEGE DRIFT

Nell, '06, will not return to college until next fall.

Seibert, '05, will not return to college this term.

Stanton, '02, and Hess, ex-'05, were visitors on the hill and in town during the recess.

Wood, '05 is teaching in the Muncy Normal School and will not return to college until May.

The local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi entertained the young women of town at progressive games on last Wednesday evening.

George W. Stevenson, father of W. R. Stevenson, '05, died suddenly from rheumatism of the heart on the street in Pittsburg last week.

'VARSITY WINS FIRST GAME

Baseball Nine Shows Up Well on Saturday. Defeating Strong Team.

The 'varsity nine played its first game of the season on Saturday afternoon, a team composed of the best talent of Northumberland county being its opponent. Bucknell won easily by the score of 8 to 3, though the contest was interesting throughout. The work of Captain Smith's men was excellent, considering that the game was their first, exceeding the highest expectations of their friends. The team was strong in the field and at the bat, while Drake in the box showed form, which, if continued, will gain the Orange and Blue many victoires during the season. Though the grounds are not in fit condition, only one fielding error was made. The infield was especially strong, and if they continue to improve, the quartette will be perhaps the best that Bucknell has ever developed. Both at bat and in the field the team showed the benefit of Coach Agnew's instruction.

The visiting team proved to be a strong combination, though their poor start was a handicap which they could not overcome. It was not until the seventh inning that they could do anything with Drake's curves, when a timely two-base hit netted two runs. Another double in the ninth was responsible for the visitors' third run. At other times Drake was invincible, twelve men striking out.

Bucknell practically won the game in the first inning, when four runs were scored with two men out. Porter made a pretty home run, the ball going over the path in left field. Four hits and an error netted three more runs in the third. A single, a steal, a passed ball, followed by a second hit, produced the eighth and last tally in the eighth. Deats made a triple in the fifth, but was caught at the plate in an attempt to go home on the hit.

The score:

Charles Teufel on Basketball.

Charles Teufel, '04, has contributed another interesting article on athletics to the Milton Standard. It is a review of the season of basketball in the West Branch Valley, including the work of Bucknell, which he characterizes as, on the whole, "satisfactory."

He picks the following team from the teams of the West Branch: "Forwards, Turner, of Williamsport; Brown, of Bloom Normal, and Dunn, of State. For center, Knauss, of Williamsport, and McAvoy, of Bloom Normal. This pair is so well matched that a definite choice becomes unfair. For guards, Lutcher, of Williamsport, and Smith, of Bucknell. It is much harder to pick out the pair of guards than the players for the other positions. For instance Speaker, of Williamsport, and Johnson, of Bucknell, are great guards, but their work has been wholly defensive. Lutcher and Smith are both aggressive and defensive stars. Shorigi, of State, is in style similar to these latter two."

The Operetta Next Week.

The final arrangements for the production of "The Musical Enthusiast," a two-act operetta under the direction of Dr. Aviragnet, have been completed. Owing to the failure of the committee to secure the opera house until late in May, it has been decided to give the operetta in Bucknell Hall on Monday evening, April 18. A stage will be erected and provision made for seating 300 people. The original plans will be carried out in every detail, though those taking part will be put to some inconvenience.

The cast of the operetta has been rehearsing for more than two months and Dr. Aviragnet is confident that the production will be an excellent one. Solos and duets will be rendered by the best talent in the College and Institute, while the chorus includes forty voices. There are many humorous and interesting situations acted in the most clever manner.

It has been decided to charge an admission of 25 cents, no seats being reserved. The advance sale will begin at 9 o'clock on next Friday morning at Baker's drug store. Since the number of seats is limited, it would be advisable for all students who desire seats to speak for them in advance, leaving their orders either with the committee or at Baker's. The performance will begin at 8.15 o'clock.

Bucknell Gets Good Position.

Bucknell on Saturday got second place in the drawing for positions in the relay races at Philadelphia on April 23, the order being as follows: Dickinson, Bucknell, Johns Hopkins, State, Virginia, Washington and Jefferson, Carlisle Indians.

Baseball This Week.

The 'varsity nine will play its first regularly scheduled game this week, with the Navy at Annapolis on Wednesday. The proposed game with Maryland on Tuesday has been cancelled.

SERMON BEFORE THE Y. M. C. A.

Able Address Delivered by the Rev. H. J. Whalen, of Carbondale.

The annual sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association was delivered from the pulpit of the Baptist church by the Rev. H. J. Whalen, of Carbondale, on Sunday morning. President Hyllhert, of the Association, occupied a chair on the pulpit and read the sermon text, also introducing the speaker. The sermon was a very able effort, being suitable to the occasion and was attentively listened to.

The Rev. Whalen stated that we are all taught by the Scripture that we need a divinely-appointed sphere. Every man can look for and ask for his particularly-appointed sphere. Each has his work on this earth to do. If we would follow in Christ's steps, this work in every instance ought to be completely done. Christ, during the last days with His disciples at Jerusaleum, was able to feel that His work on earth was finished; that His mission had been fulfilled. When all is finished upon earth, let it be able to be said to each mortal spirit, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Attempt great things for God; expect great things from God. Do things according to God's will and He will bear you through victoriously. The misfits of life are not of God's making. Men fail because they do not understand their individual power aright. They engage in spheres of activity for which they are not fitted.

Great men have become great because they kept themselves in harmony with the Divine Will. Many examples of how this has been done are to be found in life past and present. To have the greatest success, each needs a divinely appointed sphere. It would be sad if the work for which students are prepared at school should not be completed in after-life. A good moral might be chosen: Be exactly where God wants you to be.

A second truth is that in order to do our work we shall need to come in contact with the sin and misery and problems of this world. That sin which is to be overcome must be studied and reckoned with. Christ reckoned this, in one instance, He went to the very grave of Lazarus to raise him from death.

In the course of our preparation for after-life, we shall need to learn this truth. Always the problems of sin are many, but with the increase of mental development they multiply. It is not well for anyone to think that he can hold himself aloof from other mortals. Each will have to come close to the world with all its sins and problems.

A great essential in success is confidence in God. The world will always tell you that this cannot be done and that cannot be accompanied, but to disperse these statements all that is necessary is a large confidence in God.

We need to an inspired message. To do any work, a man is required who has a message direct from God. Each should go out to do work for God with an inspired message.

To summarize, it is a safe scheme of life to,

First, realize that God, who has opened to you the development of your powers, had in view the specific sphere in which they might be expended. Before leaving the institution of their learning, it would be well for students to be ready to do as God would have them do.

Second, realize the importance of contact with sin.

Third, have utmost confidence in God. Let the Word of the Lord be sufficient and suppress individual desires.

Fourth, be sure you have an inspired message for your work. It is only by use of a message through which God breathes, that results are certain.

The Rev. Whalen also addressed the Way of Life meeting in Bucknell Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Bucknell Alumnae Club.

An enjoyable meeting of the Philadelphia Alumnae Club was held on Monday, March 28. After the luncheon, Mrs. I. Harrison O'Harra, the vice-president of the club, announced the subject of the debate, Resolved, that "Co-Education is desirable in our colleges and Universities." The affirmative side of the debate was upheld by Mrs. Katharine B. Larrison, Bucknell; Dr. Mary Wolfe, Bucknell and Ann Arbor; Mrs. Daniel Sutton, Oberlin. Those taking the negative were Mrs. Ira T. Leedom, Bucknell; Mrs. Ayres, Wellesley; Mrs. Antha K. Miller, Vassar. In the discussion that followed the following women took part: Miss Laura Snyder, on "Woman's Work at Oxford," England; Miss Hannah Goodman, "Co-Edfication at the University of Pennsylvania," and Mrs. M. E. R. Cobb, Mrs. M. P. Tustin, Mrs. G. I. Rowland, Mrs. T. S. Scott, on the general subject of "Co-education." Mrs. H. S. Hopper gave the club a most cordial invitation to meet at her beautiful home in May, at which time the annual meeting will be held.

The annual Third Form declamation contest for the David Porter Leas prize will be held in Bucknell Hall on Saturday evening, April 16.

CAPTAIN W. R. FOLLMER

Brief Sketch of a Prominent Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Captain William R. Follmer, of Lewisburg, was graduated in the class of 1877. He studied law with the late J. Merrill Linn, 1851, was admitted to the bar of the State of Texas in 1881 and to the courts in this State in 1882. Since that time he has practiced law in Lewisburg, where he has built up a very substantial business. For the past fifteen years he has been counsel for the Commissioners of Union county and is known as a wise and conservative counselor. Capt. Follmer began his military career as a private and rose from the ranks through successive grades until April 21, 1898, when he was commissioned captain of Company A, Twelfth regiment, N. G. P., which he commanded during the Spanish war. He still remains at the head of the company, which he has brought up to a high degree of efficiency. Captain Follmer has earned and received the esteem of all the people and fills a large place in the activities of the community.

Exhibition of Radium, Etc.

It is a source of pleasure to the Chemical and Physical Society to announce to the College and community that they have secured Prof. Patty to lecture and give demonstrations of three of the most important phenomena of the age in Science—Radium, Liquid Air and Wireless Telegraphy. Of all subjects in science, these are demanding the attention not of a few but of the whole world. No one can afford to miss the opportunity of seeing these wonders. Prof. Patty will bring more Radium than is owned by any other scientist in the United States, and the experiments he will be able to perform will be matchless outside of the laboratory of the Curries of Paris. The Liquid Air will surely be here and those who have never seen this curiosity will be astonished with its properties and its effect upon bodies at normal temperatures. The lectures will not be technical, but popular and easily comprehended by all. They will be given in the opera house on April 23.

McCain, '05, attended the Grand Arch Council of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Indianapolis, Ind., last week.

OUR COLLEGE DRAMATICS.

The prominence which college dramatics have assumed in undergraduate life is noteworthy. The larger universities support dramatic clubs which regularly produce plays of exceptional rank. A few universities not infrequently produce Greek plays in the original, while French and German plays are quite popular. College dramatic clubs now form a permanent feature of student life.

The Senior class play has become a recognized attraction of Commencement week at Bucknell. The plays are always popular and well patronized, while considerable interest is always manifested in the selection of the casts. No effort is spared to render the plays a memorable feature of Commencement week. The play this year promises to be a success in every respect. "The Musical Enthusiast," to be given next Monday night in Bucknell Hall for the benefit of the Athletic field fund, deserves your hearty support. The proceeds are truly for a worthy object, while the operetta promises to be an eminent success. The chorus work has been under the direction of Dr. Elysee Aviragnet of the School of Music, to whom much praise is due for his gratuitous and efficient service. The Athletic Field Committee have likewise decided to make another similar effort to increase this fund, by the presentation in the near future of "The Cheerful Liar"—a three-act play, rehearsal for which has been in progress under the direction of Miss Schillinger of the Elocution department. It is needless to say that these various effort to increase the fund for the purchase of a new athletic field deserve your hearty support.

We trust that the enthusiasm at present manifested in dramatics may result in the organization of a permanent dramatic club which shall regularly produce one or more plays during the college year. Such an organization is needed. It would centralize effort and encourage proficiency in amateur dramatics.

We direct attention to the communication in another column written by a student who is an authority on college athletics, in which he favors the organization of a basketball league among the Colleges in the eastern section of Pennsylvania. The arguments of the writer are even more conclusive than those given in these columns a few weeks ago, and, we believe, should lead the management of next year's team at Bucknell to at least bring the matter before the athletic authorities of other colleges. There can be no doubt that the game suffers greatly from the faults mentioned and it is our duty to attempt to correct them: it seems to us that the opportunity now presents itself.

Indications point to an active season in tennis. As announced last week, all matches will be in charge of the Tennis Association, which has promised an interesting series of inter-club and inter-class games. Arrangements are also being made for several inter-collegiate contests, and to that end an effort is being made to bring out the best material in college. There is much to be said in favor of inter-collegiate tennis, and Bucknell should be represented by a good team.

If Saturday's game and the practice of the few days preceding are to be taken as a criterion, Bucknell will be represented by a strong nine this year. Not for several seasons have our prospect been so bright. The schedule is a good one, and if the players continue their faithful work the Orange and Blue should win distinction on the diamond. The earnest support of the student body is assured Captain Smith and his fellow-players.

COMMUNICATION

The Orange and Blue invites letters; it is not necessary that the views of the writers coincide with the opinions of the Orange and Blue, but they must be free from offensive personalities. As a guarantee of good faith the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Favors Basketball League.

Editor Orange and Blue: The recent editorial in the Orange and Blue, advocating changes in basketball and favoring the organization of a college basketball league, is of more than passing interest. For too long a time college basketball in the State has gone along in a haphazard way. Something definite ought to be done to encourage the introduction of the game in every college and in regulating it when once introduced.

The proposed organization of an Eastern Pennsylvania college league is for these purposes the best idea so far presented, and certainly is worthy of trial. Such a league could handle the faults as they exist. These faults are varied rules, poor officiating, too varied floors, and too much rough work.

A college league could encourage the adoption of the Y. M. C. A. rules, or lead in changing these to secure general adoption. For instance, in National League rules very little time is lost in goal throwing from fouls. Wilkesbarre, when here, demonstrated how these rules kept the game on the jump even if the fouls are very numerous. An addition to the Y. M. C. A. rules giving the same result is certainly needed. The principle follows that a regular organization could handle the rules question.

Again, the exasperating feature of basketball, poor officiating, could be eliminated. That an action of some sort is necessary is shown from the history of the past season. In the Bucknell-Allegheny and the local Wilkesbarre games the work of the officials was a farce. Unprejudiced spectators and visiting players blamed this on the home team. This was proven when the college team was literally robbed at Wilkesbarre by the get-even system of umpiring. Neutral officials who are very strict, are an absolute need. Every scheduled game is of sufficient importance to warrant neutral officials. A college league could govern the selection of competent officials after the order the baseball laegues formerly selected umpires.

The question of uniform floors is more difficult to solve. The out-of-bound feature is a grave fault of most floors; yet even where regular gymnasium floors are used, a cage can be made up. On our own floor netting stretched at the ends in front the "bleachers" would fulfill the cage idea. At any rate a college league could adopt regulations going a long way to remedy this fault.

The remaining evil, rough work, is rather an out growth of poor officiating. However an organization that would stand for basketball and not "rough-house" playing would soon have the public favor.

In addition to promoting and regulating college basketball there would be the incentive to win first honors. Then, again, there is talk of organizing a Y. M. C. A. league. If both the colleges and the Christian Associations organized leagues, there would be an opportunity for the winner of each league to play final deciding games.

What is Bucknell's position? As far as known the recent editorial is the first agitation for a college basketball league. Further action should now be taken. Our athletic authorities should push the idea to some definite decision. A college league must come. Since the sentiment started here, why should not Bucknell take the first stand for organization? The responsibility is ours.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

CHEMICAL AND PHYSICAL SOCIETY

First Meeting of the Term Interesting and Well Attended.

The first meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society for the spring term was held in the laboratory on Thursday. Several very interesting subjects weer discussed.

Robinson, '04, spoke on "Lessons from the Baltimore Fire." He first mentioned an economic result, that of insurance. Nearly two-thirds of the loss was insured and the insurance nearly all paid, only a few local companies failing. This will cause people who have hitherto held no insurance to insure, and cause present holders to insure more heavily. It also showed how the distribution of insurance was of benefit to the companies, since all them help to pay. In regard to fire-proof buildings, we find some to have fallen, but those with steel frames still stand as a shell. Marble and granite did not stand the fire well. Terra cotta and brick stood best, both having been before exposed to the action of heat.

Goldsmith, '06, then discussed "Concrete Piles." These were first brought into use at the Washington barracks where the land was soggy and wood piles could not last long. They are of three types. The first, the removable—a pile with a steel point being driven in and then removed, and the hole filled with concrete. The second, where the upper part is enclosed in a steel case, only the upper part being exposed to moisture. Third, the whole being covered with a steel case, the concrete being forced through the pipe. All three of these are used, depending upon the character of the place for the pile.

Leighou, '06, then told of the "Dying and Dressing of Furs." The furs are run through a process in which the dirt, grease and overhair are removed. They are scraped, then soaked in salt-water over night and again cleaned. They are then dried with chalk. Tubbing is carried on to soften the skin in the following manner: the skins are put in a tub with sawdust and trampled by men for three or four hours, when they become quite pliable. When the sawdust is removed and the over hair pulled out, they are ready for the market. Sometimes the furs are dyed, but this only lasts for a year or two at the longest, when they resume their normal color.

The next meeting of the society, on April 21, will be devoted to the history of Radium and the discoverers, and also there will be a discussion of Radiation and Radio-Active substances. All are invited.

Returns to Scotland.

Frank MacDonald, a student in the Academy, leaves this week for his native land, Scotland, and will not return to Bucknell. The young man's departure will be a source of regret to the many friends he has made since coming to Bucknell. Besides his work in the Academy, Mr. MacDonald has been an assistant to Registrar Gretzinger, in which capacity he proved himself to be most proficient.

The manager of the Orange and Blue will call this week on those who are delinquent in their subscriptions. Be prepared to pay him.

Zeta Literary Society held its term election on Thursday evening with the following result: President, Miss Hall; Vice-president, Miss Braddock. Secretary, Miss Florence McCaskie, Treasurer, Miss Lillibridge; Senior Critic, Miss Bane; Junior Critic, Miss Shorkley; Programme committee, Miss Stephens, Miss Meek, Miss Lane, Miss Rees; Lookout committee, Miss Cobb, Miss Bodler; Executive committee, Miss Duncan, Miss Weddle.

ALUMNI

John Sherman, '00, has become pastor of the Baptist church at Danville.

Yencer Weidensaul, '02, has joined the Toronto Eastern League team, with which he will play this season.

A. K. Deibler, '99, of Shamokin, has received the Republican nomination for District Attorney of Northumberland county.

Dr. H. E. Smith, '94, made the speech before the Dauphin County Republican convention last week nominating the Hon. M. E. Olmstead for Congress from that district.

COLLEGE DRIFT

Munro, '06, will not return to college this year.

Roberts, '07, who recently contracted typhoid fever at his home, has been seriously ill and will probably not return to college this term.

James A. Swartz, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Bucknell Board of Trustees has been elected vice-president of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railroad, with headquarters at Washington.

ACADEMY

H. M. Walters, of Harrisburg, is a new student in the Academy.

D. H. Thomas, Kelts and Billheim will not return to the Academy this term.

The Academy nine played its first game of the season on Saturday, losing to Watsontown, 13 to 7.

Most of the students at the Ohio Wesleyan University have acquiesced gladly in the new requirements that they sign a pledge to abstain from the use of tobacco on penalty of dismissal.

Class Day Play Selected.

The 1904 Class Day Play Committee met last week and decided upon a play for the morning of Tuesday, June 21. The play selected is a four-act farce-comedy entitled "What Became of Parker" by Maurice Hageman, author of a number of similar productions among which is "A Crazy Idea", which was presented at Commencement a few years ago. Most of the cast has been selected and rehearsals will begin this week under Miss Schillinger, of the Institute, who will have sole direction of the work.

'VARSITY LOSES TO MIDDIES

Poor Fielding by Bucknell Gave Annapolis an Easy Victory.

The 'varsity nine did not begin the season very auspiciously at Annapolis on last Wednesday, losing to the Middies by a score of 8 to 2. Bucknell, however, was handicapped by lack of practice, which accounts for the poor fielding game put up by Captain Smith's men. Both were off in their fielding for that matter, the Middies having six errors as compared to seven for Bucknell.

Weaver pitched for Bucknell and allowed eight hits. These were combined with Bucknell's misplays in the field and netted as many runs. Bucknell could get but six hits off Needham, who was a puzzle when hits meant runs.

Bucknell scored in the first inning. Griminger got a base on balls, went to second on Teufel's hit, to third on a passed ball and scored on Cockill's single. This was all the scoring done by the visitors until the fifth inning, when Griminger lead off with a single. He was sacrificed to second by Teufel and came home when Smith singled.

The Navy scored two runs in the opening inning on an error and three successive singles. They scored another in the second on an error, a base on balls, a sacrifice and an out. In the fifth they got three more on three singles, a sacrifice and an error. They made their total eight in the eighth, when a combination of five errors, a hit and an out produced two runs.

The score:

Earned runs Bucknell 1; Navy 2. Sacrifice hits Teufel, Pegram, Spofford. Stolen bases, Cockill, Deats, McWharter, Cohen, Needham. Struck out by Needham 4; by Weaver 2. Base on balls off Needham 2; off Weaver 2. Passed balls, Symington 2. Wild pitch Needham. Umpire Pensmith.

Novices Play Baseball.

Inter-fraternity and inter-club baseball has been given quite an impetus lately and several contests will be played during the term. On Wednesday West Wing defeated the Citizens' nine, made up of students rooming in town, by a score of 13 to 6. Phi Kappa Psi was to have played Kappa Sigma on Saturday, but cold weather prevented. The contest will be played this week.

Team For Relay on Saturday.

Coach Hoskins has decided upon Pearse, Marsh, Thatcher and Gaskill for the relay team which will compete at Philadelphia on next Saturday. At a meeting last week Pearse was elected captain. Only these four men will be taken to the Quaker City, there being insufficient funds to take a substitute. Coach Hoskins will accompany the team. The quartette of runners selected by the coach are perhaps as fast as those which won the banner last year, which makes the prospects for the Orange and Blue this year very encouraging.

Interesting Meeting Promised.

At the meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society on Thursday, March 21, at 4 p. m., Prof. Aviragnet will give a short history of M. and Mme. Curie, the discoverers of radium. Prof. Owens will speak on forms of radiation and radio-active substances. The object will be to review the work which lead up to the discovery of radium and enable those present to understand more easily the remarks of Prof. Patty at the lecture on Saturday evening. All are welcome.

Junior Exhibition in Oratory.

The names of the students of the Junior class who will enter the annual exhibition in oratory, May 20, are as follows: Misses Goddard, Braddock, Smith, Wolfe; Messrs. Bostwick, Henry, Hess, Ranck, Hanna.

The choice of contestants for the Registrar's prize this year was made upon the basis of the student's standing in the prescribed course in oratory and upon the excellence and literary value of the theses required in the Junior year. The orations will be based upon the theses.

Saturday Night's Exhibition.

The lectures and demonstrations of radium, liquid air and wireless telegraphy to be given by Prof. Patty in the opera house on Saturday evening, April 23, under the auspices of the Chemical and Physical Society should prove to be very interesting and instructive. Those who attend will have the opportunity of witnessing experiments heretofore performed only by the celebrated Curies of Paris. No person can afford to miss the exhibition.

Baseball This Week.

The 'varsity nine will play two games this week, one at home and the other abroad. On Tuesday the team will go to Carlisle to meet the strong Dickinson nine, and on Saturday Lehigh will be here for a game. Saturday's contest will be the first home game on the schedule, and as the attraction is a good one, there should be a large attendance. Lehigh on Saturday defeated Pennsylvania 11 to 9, being Penn's first defeat this season.

Cast For Class Day Play.

Rehearsals for "What Became of Parker?" the Class Day play, have commenced under the direction of Miss Schillinger. Those selected for the cast are: Messrs. Griffiths, Browning, Perrine, Edwards, Thompson, Hursh, Martz; Misses Bane, Schillinger, Eddelman.

DEATH OF LEWIS ROBERTS

President of the Freshman Class Dies at His Home in Frackville.

Lewis Roberts, 1907, died on Friday afternoon at his home in Frackville. Death was due to typhoid pneumonia which he is supposed to have contracted from drinking well water at his boarding club in town. He complained of illness early in March, though he did not give up his college work and participation in athletics for more than a week afterward. He played under difficulties in the Williamsport-Bucknell game at Williamsport on March 3 and in the Sophomore-Freshman game here on March 8, and on March 12 went to his home. His condition became critical, but lately if was thought he was convalescent. However, on Friday he experienced a sinking spell and death followed.

Lewis Roberts was aged 20 years and was born at Frackville. He received his early education in the public schools of that place and prepared for college at the Susquehanna Preparatory school. He entered Bucknell in September, 1903. He at once attained prominence in class affairs, being elected president of his class without solicitation. His athletic ability also brought him into prominence. He made a place on the 'varsity eleven, playing halfback throughout the season. He was also a candidate for the basketball team and played forward until taken sick. In all these activities and in other phases of college life the young man exhibited force of character, sincerity of purpose and a manner which won for him the respect and esteem of all those with whom he came in contact. The news of his untimely death was a distinct shock to the entire student body.

The deceased leaves a father, mother, a sister and two brothers, one of whom is W. E. Roberts, '04.

The funeral will be held at Frackville on Wednesday and will be attended by representatives from the Freshman class and a number of personal friends of the young man. The class and the members of the football and basketball teams will send floral emblems. The Freshman class has also adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of their president.

Third For m Contest.

Bucknell Hall was comfortably filled on Saturday evening with those assembled to hear the annual Third Form Academy contest in oratory for the David P. Leas prize. The front part of the hall was decorated tastefully with potted plants.

At eight o'clock the speakers were slowly ushered to the platform while the Mandolin and Guitar club played a march under the direction of Dr. Aviragnet. Before the beginning of the contest President Harris invoked a blessing.

The exercises opened with Chaminade's Arlequine which was rendered by Miss Gleason in a manner showing great natural ability.

Wallace McLaughlin was the first speaker and gave an animated rendering of Wendell Phillips' essay on Toussaint L'Ouverture. The speaker entered thoroughly into the spirit of his selection.

A thrilling picture of the last moments in the life of traitor Benedict Arnold was given by Charles Stillwell Roush. Mr. Roush's selection was very pathetic and, although calling for great dramatic ability, was done full justice.

The Fight of the Aurochs from Sienkiewicz's "Quo Vadis" was portrayed by Ray A. Osmond. The famous arena scene was placed before the audience in a manner vivid and interesting.

The efforts of the youthful Ciseros were arrested for a little, while Miss Hackenberg sang sweetly of "The Red, Red Rose."

William Edward Fowler came next to the fore of the platform and rendered in a captivating way a humorous selection, "Changing Color," by H. G. Canfield.

The last piece was J. T. Moore's "Ole Mistus" a rather long story, but which J. W. Granfield told in a manner which did not permit the attention to lag. Mr. Granfields' part called for ability in the dialects, dramatic and pathetic styles of delivery and in none of these was the speaker found wanting.

Altogether the contest was very close, showing careful training. The task of discrimination which fell to the judges, Miss Maud Hanna and Professors Ballentine and Wolfe, was not in the least an easy one and there will be many conjectures abroad until the decision is made public at Commencement time.

The Literary Societies.

The program announced by Theta Alpha for next Friday evening is a departure from the usual plan of entertainment, short speeches on timely subjects taking the place of the stereotyped events. The program is as follows:

Speeches, "Politics in the Twenty-first Century," Whitby, '07; "Value of Athletics in College Life," Rumsey, '06; "What I would do if I were a Jap," Whitney, '07; selection by the Glee Club; "Pleasures I derive from Literature," Bowen, '05; "Value of a Cheerful Smile," Baker, '07.

EUEPIA.

Euepia will also present something out of the ordinary, yet no indication as to what it will be is given. The program is as follows:

Five minute address; debate, "Resolved, that it is for the best Interests of Government that a Citizen act with his party in Municipal Elections;" affirmative, Ausherman '05, Smith, '07, Heffling, '06; negative, Lesher, '05, Barton, '06, Mattis, '07; something helpful to all will end the program.

The Junior Debate.

The annual Junior Debate will occur June 18. Prizes are awarded to the two men who shall evince superiority in debate. The following men have passed the preliminaries and have been selected for the finals: V. N. Robbins, P. L. McCauley, A. Steinhilper, J. S. Ausherman.

"The Musical Enthusiast" To-Night.

Everything is in readiness for the production of "The Musical Enthusiast" in Bucknell Hall this evening. The final rehearsal this afternoon was very pleasing. The operetta deserves the support of every college student.

SAMUEL ZANE BATTEN

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

The Rev. Samuel Zane Batten, of the class of 1885, is one of the leading members of the younger alumni who have entered the ministry. He has held pastorates in New York City and in Morristown, N. J., where he distinguished himself by his able and scholarly pulpit work and his zeal in applying the principles of the gospel to the changed sociological conditions of the present. He has published in book form a prize essay on "Citizenship" and is a contributor to many journals, especially to those of the Baptist denomination. At present he is pastor of the church in Lincoln, Nebraska, and has already made his influence greatly felt in that State.

Rhodes Scholarship Examination.

The examinations for the Rhodes scholarship awarded to Pennsylvania were held in Philadelphia last week. Of the twenty-two applicants only seven reported, one of whom was disqualified owing to insufficient knowledge of Greek. Those who took the examinations were: Thomas Ellis Robbins and Robert Burns, of the University of Pennsylvania; Sidney J. Watts, of Harvard; John W. Appel, Jr., of Franklin and Marshall; B. Leigh Alexander, of Westminster College, and Richard Mott Gummere, of Haverford.

The examinations were in no sense competitive, but purely qualifying, being intended to give assurance that no elected scholars will be unable to pass Responsions, the first examination which the University of Oxford demands of all candidates for a B. A. degree.

The papers will be sent to England where they will be examined, and the names of all those satisfactorily passing the examination will be sent to the Committee of Selection in Pennsylvania, who will then choose the candidate to receive the scholarship.

"The Cheerful Liar." April 29.

The Athletic Field Committee has selected Friday evening, April 29, as the time for the production of "The Cheerful Liar" in the opera house. The rehearsals are very encouraging and the play will be one of the best ever given in Lewisburg.

INTERRUPTED COLLEGE COURSES.

It is a lamentable fact that so many students each year find it necessary to leave college and go to work in order to obtain the necessary funds to enable them to complete their respective courses of study. Often a student is tempted to accept some apparently good business position or, more frequently, a position as teacher before he has even completed his Junior year in college. He perhaps accepts it at first temporarily with the express intention of resigning it at the end of a year when he shall have earned money enough to enable him to complete his college course. Years pass and he is still working for a moderate salary with no prospects of an increase.

The question arises, Does it pay to allow anything to interfere with our college course? The answer is an emphatic negative. No student is justified in leaving college for a term for longer time unless extreme financial necessity authorizes it. The promising inducements for business and professional careers received during the college course are trifling when compared with the certainty of better positions after graduation. The world wants university-trained men. Employers and business firms are desirous of securing young men who have completed a technical or college course. They do not want men who are not graduates.

The tendency to leave college before having completed a prescribed course is increasing among students. There are, of course, times when such action is justifiable, but in the vast majority of cases the necessary money required to complete the course could be borrowed readily and the student thus enabled to remain in college and graduate with his class. We trust that there will be less laxity in this matter among our students in the fmutre.

Once more the desire of a few students either to make a little spending money or to have some cheap fun has resulted in injuring the reputation of a 'varsity team. On Friday night a party of students went to Danville and under the name of the "Bucknell Independents" played basketball against the High School five of that place. The home team won, and on Sunday the Philadelphia papers announced the defeat of the Bucknell 'varsity. Since argument and advice do not prevail against these purposeless and unauthorized jaunts around the country, we would suggest some other more effective remedy, to be administered by an authority higher than that which controls athletics.

The news of the death of Lewis Roberts, '07, was received with profound sorrow. Mr. Roberts was deservedly popular not only with hi class of which he was the honored president, but likewise with the student body who unite in an expression of sorrow at his untimely death. He was a young man of much promise and he will live in the memory of his fellow students.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Cambridge recently defeated Oxford by four lengths in their sixty-first annual boat race.

The University of Pennsylvania has announced a six weeks' session of Summer School after the close of the regular college year.

Arrangements have been made for the rental and management of a house in St. Louis for the accommodation of Princeton men who attend the exposition.

An expedition under the auspices of the Medical school of Harvard University for the purpose of studying tropical diseases in the Philippine Islands arrived at Manila recently. They will remain in the Philippines one year.

It is probable that a chair will be added to the University of Iowa if the bill recently introduced into the Iowa leisglature goes through. By this the Governor appoints a Director of Marriage Instruction at a salary of $2,000 a year.

There are two hundred and sixty-six peridoicals published by students in American universities and colleges. Of this number 150 are monthlies, 55 weeklies, 11 are dailies, 12 are quarterlies, 10 are bi-weeklies, 9 are semi-monthlies, 3 are semi-weeklies and 2 are bi-monthlies.

The number of girl students at the University of California is limited to five hundred. There are now four hundred and ninety-nine, and when the five hundredth girl is enrolled the gates of the university will be closed to the young woman of California, until a vacancy occurs.

Metoxen, the fleetest, fiercest and strongest of Carlisle football heroes, whose name was wont to ring on famous fields a few years back, is a plain, hard-working farmer in Michigan, hauling cordwood to a paper mill near Green Bay and making straight runs all the way down the field behind his plow.

Northwestern University will abolish the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy at the close of this year. The students who will graduate this year and have been working towards a Ph. B. degree, will be given a choice between this and an L. B. degree. After this they will confer only two degrees—A. B. and B. E.

It was decided by the trustees of Indiana University to add a course in journalism to the regular curriculum by grouping the courses in the Department of English and Economics. This was to be in charge of an experienced journalist, who was to lecture on the practical phases of newspaper work. There were so few students who manifested a desire to take up the work that it was decided not to catalogue it.

The University of Michigan has received from Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, eighty acres of land just outside Ann Arbor, to serve as an experiment farm for the Forestry Department. The tract is called "The Saginaw Forest Farm." The University has also received from Mr. Joseph B. Whittier, of Saginaw, $4,000 for the Angeline Bradford Whittier fellowship in botany, and from the Michigan Federation of Womans' Clubs, $3,000 for a scholarship for women. This sum will later be increased to $5,000.

Cockill Basketball Captain.

George W. Cockill, '05, was on Saturday chosen captain of the 'varsity basketball team for 1905 without opposition.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

A Violated Hall Rule.

The Orange and Blue has been asked again to quote the following rule in the provisions for the regulation of the Halls, which, it is alleged, is being frequently violated:

"No student shall change from one Hall to another except by consent both of the President of the Hall from which he withdraws and of the President of the Hall which he enters; in which case he shall retain his status as resident or guest, but for membership election must be held."

Exhibition of Radium.

The Chemical and Physical Society is indeed fortunate in securing such an important attraction as Prof. Patty, who will give an exhibition of radium, liquid air and wireless telegraphy. All students should encourage its enterprise by attending on Saturday night.

A unique experiment in Psychology is being made by Professor Charles W. Smiley, of Harvard University. Prof. Smiley maintains that a man cannot translate properly from one language to another if his mind is prepossessed with opinions on the subject. He has therefore, taken several Greek students who have never read the Bible and who do not believe in Christian doctrines, and is securing from them translations of the Bible from the Greek. He believes that only in this way can an exact translation be secured, since the former translations have been influenced by their previous knowledge of the contents.

Rev. Charles F. Hall, ex-'95, of Prospect Park, who was obliged to retire from active work in the ministry several years ago because of impaired voice, has accepted the call to the Baptist church at Tuckahoe, N. J., his vocal powers having been restored.

The following news despatch from Norristown, Pa., will be of interest to Bucknell students and friends: "On the way to choir practice at the First Baptist church, Miss Clara Hartzell, of 545 Stanbridge street, was attacked by a ruffian on the West Airy street bridge. When she reached the church, after an exciting experience, Dr. A. R. Garner, leader of the choir, was attracted by her nervousness. The stranger had followed the singer to the corner opposite the church. He fled as Dr. Garner approached him. The villian followed Miss Hartzell for several squares, and made use of vile language, but did not lay hold upon her."

BUCKNELL WINS RELAY RACE

Orange and Blue Finishes First For the Third Consecutive Year.

For the sixth time in the nine years that Bucknell has participated in the Pennsylvania relay races, and for the third year in succession, the Orange and Blue won its race at Philadelphia on Saturday afternoon. The time was 3.35, and the race was close and exciting throughout. Bucknell did not lead until the last lap. After Bucknell, Johns Hopkins, Dickinson, Washington and Jefferson, Virginia and State finished in order named. The Indians dropped out after the third relay, the third runner being about 200 yards in the rear of the leader.

Gaskill ran the first relay for Bucknell. He got a poor start, which enabled Dickinson, John Hopkins and Virginia to get the lead over him, which they maintained to the end. He made a plucky finish, however, and crossed the line ten yards behind the three leaders.

Thatcher got away in good fashion and gained steadily on the three men ahead of him. He made a strong finish, passing his Virginia opponent on the homestretch and coming in eight yards behind Johns Hopkins, which had wrested first place from Dickinson.

In touching Pearse for the start in the third relay, Thatcher turned in such a way that he spiked his teammate on the left ankle and foot. Pearse, though conscious that he was injured, made a pretty start and at the end of hundred yards had passed the Dickinson man and was almost neck and neck with his Johns Hopkins opponent. All the way around the race between these two men was a pretty one and at the finish, though his left leg was almost numb from the pain of his injury, Pearse was less than a yard behind the leader.

Marsh was off on the last lap with a bound and after a few steps got the lead over his opponent, which he held to the finish. On the backstretch he ran a beautiful race and on the sprint at the finish walked away from the Johns Hopkins man. He finished with a lead of twelve yards. Coach Hoskins, not being at the finish-line, the time of each runner could not be obtained.

Summary: First relay—Dickinson first; Johns Hopkins, second; Virginia, third; Bucknell, fourth; Wash-Jeff, fifth; State, sixth; Indians, seventh.

Second relay—Johns Hopkins first; Dickinson, second; Bucknell, third; Wash-Jeff, fourth; Virginia, fifth; State, sixth; Indians, seventh.

Third relay—Johns Hopkins, first; Bucknell, second; Dickinson, third; Wash-Jeff, fourth; Virginia, fifth; State, sixth;; Indians, seventh.

Fourth relay—Bucknell, first; Johns Hopkins, second; Dickinson, third; Wash-Jeff, fourth; Virginia, fifth; State sixth.

Time, 3.35.

Many Bucknell alumni and friends attended the races and lent encouragement to the Orange and Blue runners by lusty cheering. Coach Hoskins and his men were the recipients of hearty congratulations immediately after the race and later at the hotel. The team was awarded the usual banner and each man on the team received a gold watch.

Thanks to the promptness of The North American, the result of the race was bulletined by The Orange and Blue within fifteen minutes after the race and the news was joyfully received. Having won from Lehigh at baseball also, the student body was in an exultant mood and on Saturday night a bonfire celebration was held on the Seminary campus.

The injury to Pearse is very painful, though not necessarily serious. All of Thatcher's six spikes penetrated the flesh. He was taken to his room upon his return to Lewisburg on Sunday morning and will not be allowed to use the injured member for perhaps a week. He is expected to be in condition to prepare for the meet with Dickinson at Carlisle on May 14.

BUCKNELL'S RELAY RECORD.

Bucknell has been represented at the annual relay races at Philadelphia for nine years, beginning with 1896, the year after their establishment. Six times the Orange and Blue has triumphed, once she captured second place, once third place and once, the first year, did not finish. That year in the race were State, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, and Bucknell. Bucknell was finishing second in the fourth relay, when the runner became fatigued and gave up the race. At that time there was no track on the college grounds on which to train, the candidates being compelled to walk to the fair grounds to work out.

The following is the record of Bucknell for the nine years and the time where it was possible to obtain it:

1896, did not finish.
1897, first; time 3.41 2-5.
1898, first.
1899, second.
1900, first; time 3.39 2-5.
1901, third; time of winner, 3.44 4-5.
1902, first; time, 3.33 2-5.
1903, first; time, 3.37 1-4.
1904, first; time, 3.35.

State won in 1896 and 1901 and Dickinson in 1899. Dickinson was second in 1901.

"The Cheerful Liar" This Week.

The production of "The Cheerful Liar", around which is centered a great deal of interest, will take place in the opera house on next Friday evening, April 29. The play is a three-act comedy, written by J. A. Fraser, author of "Charlie's Aunt," produced by the class of 1903 last June, and is full of fun from beginning to end. The members of the cast fit the characters admirably and ten weeks' rehearsal under Miss Schillinger has enabled them to perfect their parts. The performance promises to be one of the best of its kind ever given at Bucknell and deserves the patronage of the student body. If you want three hours of constant enjoyment do not fail to attend "The Cheerful Liar" on Friday night. Popular prices only.

The following are the members of the cast: male parts, Edwards, '04; Martz, '04; Morton, '05; Royer, '05; Smithgall, '06; female parts, Livezy, '04, Taylor, '06, Thomas, '06.

Baseball This Week.

The next varsity baseball game will be played with Villa Nova here on next Saturday. The visitors have a strong team and a good game is assured.

PLANS FOR ALUMNI NIGHT

Students to Take Partin A New and Pretty Ceremony This Year.

Though the attendance of alumni at the annual commencements has increased steadily during recent years, a systematic effort will be made this year to have the number of "old grads" present surpass all previous records. To this end the Enthusiasm Committee appointed at the meeting of the Alumni Association last June, is preparing extensive plans, and the attendance of alumni promises to afford one of the features of the coming Commencement. In addition to the number of class reunions, which have been announced in the Orange and Blue from time to time, many other alumni will be present.

Tuesday night, June 21, will be known as Alumni Night. The Committee is preparing a leaflet of old songs, college yells and class yells which will be given by the alumni on the occasion of the annual meeting in Commencement Hall on that night. The student body has also been invited to participate in the meeting. A pamphlet of old and new songs and yells will be printed for them and distributed at a mass meeting soon to be called for, outlining the part to be taken by the undergraduate body on Alumni Night. Meetings will be held during the term for rehearsing these songs and yells, which will also be published in the Orange and Blue.

Immediately preceding the meeting in Commencement Hall a procession of graduates and students will take place. The column will form by twos at the main entrance of the campus. The Senior class in cap and gown will act as escort, followed by the alumni in the order of classes, followed by the undergraduates by classes. In front of the Main Building the Senior line will open rank, facing in, and allow the alumni to pass into the building. The Chief Marshal of the parade will be J. M. Wolfe, '89, with W. C. Gretzinger, '89, and T. M. Shorkley, '00, as Aides.

The following will be the order of exercises in the Hall, the names of those taking part being reserved till a later time:

Report of Necrological Committee, all standing.

Introduction of Honorary Chairman.

Introduction of guest of Honor.

Oration of the evening. (Limited to time.)

Poem. (Limited to time.)

The exercises will be interspersed with songs and yells by the alumni alone, the undergraduates alone and the two bodies together, and selections by the band. The authorities are not yet ready to announce the band that has been secured for the occasion, but the assurance is given that it will be one of the best in the State.

The Enthusiasm Committee consists of W. E. Martin, '71; W. C. Bartol, '72; C. A. Hare, '77; W. G. Owens, '80; J. M. Wolfe, '89; W. C. Gretzinger, '89.

The words and music to one of the songs which the student body will be asked to learn is given with this issue of the Orange and Blue as a supplement. It was written by a member of the committee and will doubtless prove a valuable addition to our list of songs.

The Literary Societies.

Enepia's novel program last Friday night proved to be a decided success. All who had been assigned parts on the program were present and entertained the audince delightfully for more than an hour.

Whitby, '07, delivered a speech on "Politics in the Twenty-first Century" which was startling in its potency. For once the political corruption of Philadelphia, Pittsburg and New York was presented fairly before the public and its evil manifested through the contrast of high future conditions of politics.

"The Value of College Athletics" was shown by Rumsey, '07. Mr. Rumsey stated that he had won laurels on the football field, but there being an insufficient supply of suits, was later forced to sink into oblivion. The speaker ended with the serious side of the question, convincing his hearers of the truth that human lives are worth more than class scraps or football games.

Whitney, '07, announced his attitude in the Russia-Japanese war by talking on, "What I would do if I were a Jap." He said he would "do" the Russians, the first thing.

"The Pleasures I derive from Literature," was the subject of a talk by Bowen, '05. To him the pleasures of literature were many and as various as those of real life. He ended by saying that books broaden our scope of pleasures and help us to find, in life the things that are ours.

"The Value of a Cheerful Smile," was shown by Raker, '07, in a unique way. He cleverly told many funny stories and left to his hearers the estimation of their own cheerful smiles.

THETA ALPHA.

The meeting on Friday evening was well attended and considrable interest was manifested by those present. Ex-pres Eudy, '04, gave a stirring address on "The Outlook of the College Man". The debate scheduled was participated in by Ausherman, '05, Lesher, '05, Barton, '06, Smith, '07.

The program this week will consist of a spelling-match which all are earnestly urged to attend. Meeting will close promptly at 8 o'clock.

Funeral of Lewis Roberts.

The funeral of the late Lewis Roberts, '07, took place at the home of his parents in Frackville on Wednesday afternoon. The services were conducted by a clergyman of the Episcopal church and were attended by a very large number of people.

Registrar W. C. Gretzinger, representing the University, and 17 students, representing the four classes, attended. The following students acted as pall bearers: P. D. Browning, J. E. Heldenreich, Lynn S. Goodman, Clay McCormick, E. M. Fassett and John Innes, the last named of the Academy. Among the floral offerings were set pieces from the class of 1907, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, the basketball and football teams, and the Sherman boarding club.

Accepted A Call.

The First Baptist church of Harrisburg has extended a call to the Rev. A. T. Anderson, '94, of Washington, D. C.

FREDERICK BERTOLETTE

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Frederick Bertolette, of Mauch Chunk, whose picture we present this week, was graduated from Bucknell University in the class of 1872. He studied law with the late Col. John D. Bertolette and was admitted to practice in the Carbon County Bar in 1879 and the United States Courts in 1882. Since that time he has practiced law in Mauch Chunk. He was associated as one of the leading counsel in the famous Mollie Maguire cases, in which his reputation as a criminal lawyer was made. His last case of importance in the criminal court was The Mud Run Horror, a disaster rarely equalled in railroad annals. In this case Mr. Bertolette defended the unlucky crew of which every man was acquitted. From this time on he more or less gave up criminal practice and specialized on Corporation Law, in which line he has been very successful. He has taken an active part in commercial and industrial life as President of The H. A. Mack Wood Working Co., President of The Weatherly Foundry & Machine Co; Managing Director of The Mill Creek Coal Co, Member of the Board of Managers of Jones, Delano & Co; Counsel for the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co; the Central Railroad of New Jersey, Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Co, Mauch Chunk Heat, Light & Power Co., Coburns Water Co., Hunter Run Water Co., Tamaqua & Lansford Electric Railway, and the Hazleton Water Co. In politics he is recognized as one of the leaders of the Republican party in his section of the State. Mr. Bertolette is much interested in the well doing and prosperity of his native town and as a very popular citizen fills a large place in the activities of the community.

Commencement Speakers.

The following members of the Senior class have been selected as speakers at the annual Commencement exercises:

Haldy Miller Christ, Millersville.
Thomas Edward Cole, Plymouth.
Charles Hodge Ealy, Schellsburg.
Wallace W. Fetzer, Montandon.
Margaret Groff, Lewisburg.
Velola B. Hall, Sharon.

OUR PART IN ALUMNI NIGHT.

The systematic effort of the college authorities to make the attendance of alumni one of the features of the coming Commencement will no doubt bear fruit in increased devotion to Alma Mater among both the alumni and the undergraduate body. The demonstration by the old graduates last June was inspiring to all who were in attendance at the meeting on Tuesday night; most of all did the prevailing Bucknell spirit lay its hold upon the alumni themselves, many of whom, probably, had not experienced such love and zeal for Alma Mater since their earlier days. And since the progress of an educational institution is so largely dependent upon the interest maintained by the men who have gone out from it as graduates, the significance and importance of the task upon which the Enthusiasm Committee has entered and the necessity that it shall result successfully are apparent.

The student body will be asked to take more than their accustomed part in the exercises of Alumni Night and a mass meeting will soon be be held to outline the Committee's plans. Every undergraduate will be asked to lend his presence and his voice on the Tuesday night of Commencement. Last year the gray-haired old "grads" made us look our laurels on the yelling question; to this year we must leave no doubt as to who is superior and demonstrate in this striking way our enthusiasm for the Orange and Blue.

Several of the songs the student body will be asked to learn are known to them, others are not. For the purpose of learning the latter and making ourselves more familiar with the old songs, we would suggest that each evening the entire student body gather in front of Main Building, a capable student being chosen as director. The time between 7 o'clock and darkness could well be spared, and its employment in this manner would be beneficial in that the end desired by the committee would be accomplished and a closer fraternal spirit would be fostered among the students, who do not meet often enough in a purely social way. Incidentally a pleasing custom would be established at Bucknell.

The success of "The Musical Enthusiast" last Monday night was due largely to the united support of the student body. The attendance was as large as the hall would permit and the sum realized quite satisfactory to the committee. The manner in which the cast and chorus rendered their parts and the general success of the operetta reflect credit upon the large number of students who assisted in its rendition. It is noteworthy that no outside talent was employed; the performance was by the students for the students. Dr. Aviragnet also deserves much credit for his faithful assistance. Now for "The Cheerful Liar!" The untiring work of the cast for ten weeks merit our appreciation in the way of attendance; besides the cause for which the play is given should appeal strongly to us.

Saturday was truly Bucknell's day in athletics .A victory over Lehigh in baseball and first place in the relay race constituted a good day's work and certainly were reasons for exultation. Bucknell has particular cause for elation in that the triumph at Philadelphia was the sixth. In nine years, a record of which few if any colleges can boast, it is interesting to observe that Saturday's combination of victories occurred two years ago also. Why not tempt the Fates again?

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural sciences is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

LAST WEEK IN BASEBALL

Varsity Nine Wins From Lehigh and Ties With Dickinson.

Bucknell did well in baseball last week, playing a tie with Dickinson at Carlisle on Tuesday and winning from Lehigh at home on Saturday. Both opponents are strong. Lehigh having administered to Pennsylvania its first defeat the preceding Saturday.

BUCKNELL 1; DICKINSON 1

Bucknell and Dickinson played seven innings to a tie at Carlisle on Tuesday. The weather was raw and cold and a high wind blew throughout the game, yet both sides put up an excellent article of ball. The game was a pitcher's battle, with honors about even. Spencer, for Dickinson, gave fewer hits than his opponent, but Drake, in addition to pitching himself out of more trying situations, struck out more men. Eight Dickinsonians fanned in the seven innings. The home team had two men left on bases on three different occasions. In the third inning the first two batters made singles and the next man advanced them each a base on a sacrifice; but the two succeeding men could not connect safely and no runs were scored. Bucknell found difficulty in hitting Spencer, three singles being the extent of their stick work, no two of which came in the same inning. Both sides fielded well, only two errors being made.

Neither team earned its run. Bucknell's sole tally was the result of an error and a hit. After two were out in the first, Smith hit to right and Hall juggled the ball so long that Smith went to third. He came home on Cockill's single.

Dickinson scored in the second inning. Davis, the first man up, was hit by a pitched ball. He went to third on Heinz's error of James's hit and came home on a hit by Hall, which the wind prevented Cockill from getting.

Flurries of snow and the continued cold wind caused many spectators to leave, and in the seventh both captains agreed to have the umpire call the game.

BUCKNELL 8; LEHIGH 4.

The game with Lehigh on Saturday was very exciting. The Orange and Blue made a poor start, but recovered itself in time to win, the score being 8 to 4. The infield was very unsteady in the first two innings and Lehigh was enabled to score three runs on two hits, only one of which went outside of the diamond. Weaver pitched an excellent game from the start and after the second inning was given good support. After the third inning not more than four men came to bat in any inning.

Bucknell batted McCleary freely from the beginning, but only in two innings, the second and the seventh, were they able to bunch their hits with any degree of success. In the seventh, after four runs had been scored off McCleary by clean, consecutive hitting, he was relieved by Badgley, who held Bucknell down to one run, although he was hit for three singles in one and a half innings. Smith, Portser and Weaver batted well for Bucknell, while Portser's throw to the plate from deep right, retiring McCleary, was perhaps the fielding feature of the game. Lehigh's playing was not spectacular, but was steady and consistent.

The visitors scored in the first on an infield single, two sacrifice hits and two errors. They added one in the second on a single through Heinz, an error, a sacrifice and an out. Their last tally was earned, a triple being followed by a single.

Bucknell earned seven of her eight runs, in the second two triples, a double, two outs and a double steal netted three runs. In the seventh three singles, two doubles, a triple, combined with an error and a fly to the outfield produced five runs and settled the game.

The umpiring of Mr. Dresher, who was secured to officiate upon the failure of Dr. John Kressinger to appear, was not satisfactory to the visiting team. He had many close decisions to make, all of which with one exception went to the home team; yet much of the kicking done by Lehigh was senseless.

"The Musical Enthusiast"

The cast of "The Musical Enthusiast" achieved a pleasing success in their rendition of the pretty little operetta in Bucknell Hall on Monday night. The room was comfortably filled and a nice sum realized for the Athletic Field fund.

There is little plot to the operetta and the work is principally of the lighter order. However, the singing and the acting were evidence of greater ability and reflected much credit upon all those who took part, as well as upon Dr. Aviragnet who had the sole direction of the affair. In the first of the two parts is presented Prof. Crotchet's singing class. The professor's daughter and héiress, Ippolita, falls in love with Edward Singleton, and, the affection being mutual, the pair desire to get married; but Prof. Crotchet decides that his daughter must go to the young man who sings the best in a contest. Part second is the contest, in which singers of several nations compete. Happily, Singleton, who is a South American, wins the prize.

Much of the acting and vocal work fell to P. G. Stolz, whose portrayal of the character of Prof. Crotchet was excellent. His acting was second only to his singing, which was exhibited to the best advantage in a solo, "Davy Jones' Locker," which was unquestionably the feature of the evening. Miss Anna E. Johnson, as Ippolita, took her part well and sang prettily. The part of the lover was acted in a clever manner by C. V. Williamson. Two other prominent parts were those taken by E. S. Burrows, '07, and Miss Edith E. Lane, '06, both of whom displayed much natural ability.

The solos in the contest were well rendered and received much merited applause. Those rendered by Messrs. A. J. Pearse, '05, and Harold Perrine,'04, deserve special mention, perhaps. The latter sang a coon song with much originality, and the diversion seemed to strike a popular chord, since he was encored several times. The choruses were tuneful and catchy, being one of the most pleasing parts of the operetta. The young women wore natty suits of white and looked very stunning.

Roy Hanna, '05, as pianist, contributed much to the smoothness with which the operetta was rendered. The overture and the selection between the parts were rendered by the Bucknell orchestra and the Mandolin and Guitar club. Miss Ruth Bottorf played the accompaniments for Messrs. Pearse and Perrine.

The cast was as follows:

Prof. Crotchet..... P. G. Stolz.
Edward Singleton,..C. V. Williamson.
Charles, beau of Estella, ...
....E. S. Burrows.
Ippolita, ... Miss Anna E. Johnson.
Estella Languish, a Sentimental pupil,
.... Miss Edith E. Lane.

Candidates for the hand of Ippolita:

Irishman .....R. I. Knapp.
Swiss .....L. M. Hafner.
Spaniard..... .....E. G. Jack.
Frenchman ....Gordon Evans.
German..... .... J. F. Hennessy.
Scot ..... E. R. Gardner
American ..... A. J. Pearse.
Crotchet's Valet.... Harold Perrine.

Choruses.—Miss Cottie Albright, Ruth A. Shorkley, Ferne F. Braddock, Mary I. Bower, Eva B. Stoner, Jessie F. Swartz, Ethel M. Flanigan, Vera E. Duncan, Florence J. Cobb, Sara C. Furman; Messrs. Benj. F. White, Linn C. Drake, A. P. Waltz, W. H. Reese, H. L. Adams and P. G. Smithgall.

The net proceeds of the performance were $57.45, which, together with the amount realized on "The Cheerful Liar," will be deposited in a savings bank by Goodman, '05, who was elected treasurer by the Athletic Field Committee on Saturday. Bostwick, '05, was elected secretary.

The Annual Soiree.

The Fourth Year Class of the Institute gave their annual soiree in the Institute Chapel Saturday evening. This year the affair consisted in the production of "When Patty went to College," dramatized by the class. The play throughout was very clever and showed much talent among the girls. A great deal of credit must be given to Miss Schillinger for her able training of the class. The cast of characters was as follows:

Patty Wyatt .....Elizabeth Fisher
Priscilla Pond .... ..Jeannette Wolfe
Georgia Merrles .... Bina Carr
Bonnie Arnaught .. Mary Halfpenny
Theora Bartlett.. Margaret Stoughton
Olivia Copeland .... Dorothy Walls
Lucile Carter.... ..... Mary Brown
Miss Skelling ....Helen Hering
Genelcve Randolph .... Alice Ralke
Cathie Fair .. Katharine Halfpenny
Mollie Washburn.... ....Nellie Hood

Saturday Night's Exhibition.

A large and interested audience listened to Prof. Patty's lecture on radium, liquid air and wireless telegraphy in the opera house on Saturday night. The manner in which he made his experiments showed him to be well acquainted with his work. He demonstrated the wonders of wireless telegraphy, and told of many other things that could be accomplished by means of it. He ventured the assertion that sometime we shall have telephones and almost all electrical devices without wires.

Prof. Patty exhibited radium and its closely allied elements and compounds. One tube of radium was of 200,000 intensity, the glow of which was easily seen by the audience from the stage. Besides exhibiting several tubes of radium he told how a true diamond can be distinguished by it and how radium's rays promise to give incalculable benefit in the treatment of disease.

The experiments in liquid air were perhaps the most interesting and novel. A kettle of liquid air placed on ice boiled violently; mercury was frozen and used as a hammer. Besides these experiments Prof. Patty showed its effect on metals. The lecture was a great success and the Chemical and Physical Society deserves credit for having secured the services of such a man as Prof. Patty.

Big C. and P. Meeting.

The meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society on Thursday afternoon, arranged with a view to preparing its members and friends for a proper appreciation of Prof. Patty's lecture, was the largest in the history of the organization. Dr. Aviragnet told in an interesting manner of the life and work of M. and Mme. Curie, the discoverers of radium Prof. W. G. Owens gave an instructive talk on "Radiation and Radioacting Substances."

Triangular Tennis Tournament.

The manager of the Bucknell Tennis Association has made arrangements with Franklin and Marshall to participate in a triangular tournament at Lancaster in June. The third college has not yet been chosen. Contests in both singles and doubles will be played.

'VARSITY NINE OUTCLASSED.

Villa Nova Won Saturday's Game Without Much Trouble.

Villa Nova, flushed with a victory over State on Friday, came here on Saturday and administered similar treatment to Bucknell; score 7 to 2. The Orange and Blue lost because she was outclassed, though poor fielding on the part of the home team enabled the visitors to score more runs than they were entitled to.

Bucknell was powerless before the masterful pitching of O'Gara, who allowed but three hits, one of which was a scratch by Teufel in the third inning. Blair rapped out a pretty double in the second, while the other hit was a single by Deats in the seventh. Only three men reached third base during the entire game and only four others got as far as second. In the nine innings only 31 men went to bat and eight struck out.

Bucknell's two runs, the first of the game, were gifts. Blair opened the inning with a clean two bagger. Portser fanned, but Blair got to third on a wild pitch. Deats hit to Nichols at short, who made a very wide throw to first, and Blair scored. Deats tallied on Heinz's fly to left. The only other time that Bucknell got within sight of the plate was in the seventh. With two out Deats singled, Heinz hit a line fly to right, which Murray muffled after a good attempt and the runners went to second and third respectively. Drake retired the side by grounding to first.

Drake pitched well enough to win an ordinary game, but his support was ragged. The team seemed to go to pieces in the third inning, when the visitors made five runs, every man coming to bat. A hit-by-pitcher, three singles, two errors and two stolen bases did the business. Villa Nova added another in the eighth on a single, a steal and a two bagger. A single, a steal and an error netted the seventh and last tally in the ninth.

Two plays gave interest to an otherwise listless game. With men on first and second in the fifth, Teufel threw to first to catch McGeehan napping. Being unable to get back to the base, the runner started for second, whereupon Raftus, who had been on second, tried to go home. Clean handling of the ball and clever headwork by Cockill, Heinz and Griminger enabled Teufel to retire the man at home. The other spectacular play was a running catch of a foul by McGeehan in the seventh.

Theta Alpha's Spelling Contest.

Several students should not be surprised if they find a "def" on their third-term report in June. They should simply recall that they attended the spelling contest held by the Theta Alpha Literary Society on Friday night. Owing to the production of "The Cheerful Liar," there was not the usual attendance and Eucpia was invited to participate in the contest. They accepted, and after Messrs. Cober and Mattis had chosen their respective sides, Eisenhauer dictated the words which to many caused much grief.

The spelling of Mr. Mattis himself was simply "phenomenumal" and it was "lacrimos," "lacrymos," "lacerernose" the way some of the others did spell.

Whitby went down without any "osentation," which McCall thought was sufficient to drive a person to mental "olnaration;" later on he was "petrefied."

Seven persons slipped up, or rather down, on "oleaginous," which is not to be wondered at when one considers what an oily word it is.

Whitney fell into an "apperature" and Barton committed an "irretrievable" error in trying to help him out. When near the finish Cole was in "ecstacy" at the prospect of coming out best, while Cober got along very well until he stopped to "recolonoitre." Henderson's last word became caught in his throat and caused a "hemmorage.

Lockard stood up longest, the others being unable to spell him down.

The old custom aroused so much enthusiasm that an inter-society contest is being talked of. Should it occur, other reputations will become ruined.

The following is the program for Theta Alpha this week: current events Phillips, '05; address, Karge, '04; reading, Lesher, '05; extemporaneous speech, Ausherman, '05; debate, "Resolved, that a college course crushes originality;" affirmative, Macro, '06, Mattis, '07, Griffiths, '07; negative Pease, '06, Sheppard, '06, Zugschwert, '07.

Baseball Trip This Week.

The 'varsity nine takes its annual trip to New York City this week. The team will leave on Tuesday morning and play that afternoon at South Orange, N. J., having Seton Hall for an opponent. On the following day they will meet Fordham at New York. There will be no 'varsity game on next Saturday.

Dickinson Meet, May 18.

A change in the date of the dual meet with Dickinson at Carlisle was made last week. At the request of Dickinson, Tuesday, May 18, was fixed upon as the time instead of May 14.

A SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCE

"The Cheerful Liar" Produced to a Good House on Friday Night.

If all the liars in the world were of the kind we saw and heard in the opera house on Friday night, what a happy existence this would be! But that is expecting too much, for "The Cheerful Liar" of Friday night was exceptionally funny, as any one of the two hundred or more people present will testify. So amused and delighted was the audience that even the grief of Mrs. Birdie Sweetlove over the loss of her husband did not touch their sympathetic natures and Mrs. Sweetlove wept alone. Incidental to the funmaking the members of the cast gave evidence of considerable dramatic ability, and the performance was one of the best ever given by Bucknell talent.

The play centered around the cheerful liar, Hastings Hussel, J. P. who dispensed justice for what there was in it. The part was taken by E. A. Morton, who lied so unscrupulously, yet so gracefully, that his reputation for veracity among his fellow students would likely have suffered had it not been previously established as good. Morton made a typical "judge" and gave much to the part that was not in the book. His work ranks him among the best amateur actors that the University has ever produced.

"Guy McGuffin," a country constable and the judge's right bower, was acted to perfection by R. S. Edwards. The character afforded a wide field for Mr. Edwards' natural ability as a comedian, and his queer antics and quaint speech gave the audience unlimited amusement.

William Martz, as "General Boomer," made a typical frate parent. Of course, the sympathies of the audience were with the eloping daughter, but Mr. Martz got a warm reception just the same; he certainly merited it.

R. D. Royer is not a ministerial student, but he looked the part of the preacher in his portrayal of the character, "the Rev. Ezra Stiggins." He acted it, too, in a manner that won him applause that was richly deserved.

That co-education has not been in vain was demonstrated by the work of J. D. P. Smithgall, who, as Randolph Dearborn, the fiance of Flora Boomer, exhibited all the characteristics of a lover, though he did lose his head when the irate papa got on his trail with a shotgun. Mr. Smithgall was clever.

Flora Boomer, whom Randolph finally won, was E. D. Thomas in skirts. Petticoats, a horror to most men, never feazed Thomas, who both looked and acted the part in a highly creditable and altogether amusing manner.

None the less clever was C. H. Taylor in the role of Birdie Sweetlove, who, as housekeeper for the Rev. Ezra, had many troubles. There was much sweetness in her disposition, but she could take care of herself when the occasion demanded. Mr. Taylor was very successful in portraying both moods.

Lucretia Spriggins (J. L. Livezy) was not much in either face or form, but she insisted on being loved just the same. In rendering the part Mr. Livezy could not have been excelled.

The players were entirely free from self-consciousness and there was not a slip to mar the action of the play, which reflects much credit upon the coaching of Miss Schillinger whose services were given gratuitously. The audience was very liberal in its applause of the actors.

Between the acts specialties were introduced by R. D. Royer, who sang a local adaptation to "The Man Behind," and by the Bucknell Quartette, composed of P. G. Stolz, H. H. Adams, C. A. Lemmon and E. H. Loomis, which rendered two very pretty songs. The Bucknell Orchestra, under Dr. Aviragnet, played the overture and selections between the acts.

Reception to West Wing.

On Saturday evening an informal reception was rendered to the members of the West Wing Association at the home of Prof. Phillips on Market St. Prof. and Mrs. Phillips, Prof. and Mrs. Wolfe, assisted by Miss Slifer, Miss Long, and Miss Westcott, put the boys at their ease and gave them the freedom of the house.

The evening was pleasantly passed with various amusements, including the singing of college songs. Refreshments were served, and the boys, after giving yells for their hosts and for West Wing, left for the hill.

The reception was only one of the many ways in which the President of the Association manifests his interest in the students and the number of members present shows the esteem in which he is held by them.

Inter-class Track and Field Meet.

The annual inter-class track and field meet will take place on next Saturday afternoon. Aside from the class rivalry which will be manifested in it, the meet will be interesting because the first opportunity to witness the work of the new candidates will be given. There will be the usual number of events.

The Rev. Dr. D. W. Ebbert, of Milton, father of Ebbert, '07, was last week elected president of Ursinus College.

SAMUEL LEWIS ZIEGLER.

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Samuel Lewis Ziegler was born in Lewisburg and was graduated a Bachelor of Arts in the class of 1889. In 1885 he received from the University of Pennsylvania the degree of Doctor of Medicine, with honorable mention. He was connected with the Germantown Hospital 1885-1886, the Episcopal Hospital 1886-1887, and as House Surgeon with the Wills' Eye Hospital 1887-1889. He became Surgeon in Chief of the Eye Dep't. St. Joseph's Hospital, Jan. 1, 1889, and Chief of Clinic at Wills' Eye Hospital,

July 1, 1889. Since then Dr Ziegler has practiced his profession as a specialist particularly to diseases of the eye and his success has been far beyond the ordinary. He has contributed many articles to the literature of his profession and these, together with his operative ability, have secured him a reputation that is international. Dr. Ziegler is president of the Bucknell Alumni Association of Philadelphia and takes a very active interest in all that pertains to the welfare of the University.

Dr. Henson on Tuesday Night.

The students will be pleased doubtless to learn that Dr. Henson, of Tremont Temple, Boston, is going to be with us after all. Owing to unforseen circumstances he was unable to fill his engagement of March 15, but the management of the lecture course assures us that he will be here Tuesday evening, May 3. No words of commendation are necessary to insure Dr. Henson an enthusiastic welcome from a Bucknell audience; his work as a lecturer, as well as preacher, his characteristic humor, with its vein of lofty earnestness, assure him a hearty reception wherever he goes. The management has reserved one of the very best of the attractions of the course for this last number. No student can afford to miss hearing Dr. Henson on "Fools." Opera house, Tuesday evening, May 3.

Big Attendance is Promised.

The Registrar is daily enrolling new students for next year, and all indications point to a substantial gain in attendance.

CONDUCT AT BASEBALL GAMES.

The cheering at the baseball games is not what it should be, but it is encouraging. Much force in cheering is lost owing to lack of concentration, which could easily be remedied if the leaders would be at the games three-quarters of an hour before the time for starting and request the students to occupy one tier of seats.

The students are to be congratulated upon their treatment of visiting teams. Absence of personal remarks is noticeable and the good plays of the opposing team are applauded almost as readily as those made by Bucknell. Fair treatment is always appreciated by a team playing away from home, and a continuance of our present conduct will redound to our credit.

The policy of the management in providing competent umpires is to be commended also, though an occasional financial loss does result. The character of a college and its student body may be determined often by the consideration shown a visiting team, and it is gratifying that Bucknell is setting a high standard in this respect.

The success with which "The Musical Enthusiast" and "The Cheerful Liar" have been produced is sufficient evidence that college theatricals can be carried on at Bucknell as well as at any other place. There is no excuse for the inactivity of the past two years, and while the knowledge of success is fresh in our minds some step should be taken looking to an organization that will never permit interest in dramatics to die, or even lag again. The present is appropriate, too, because of the united desire for a new athletic field, the play having proved itself to be one of the best sources of income for this purpose. Nothing can be gained in delay and much may be lost.

It is the purpose of the local committee which has in hand the arrangements for the anniversary of the alumni at Commencement to invite every alumnus, matriculate, and former student in whatever department. That the effort may result successfully it will be necessary to have the addresses of all such persons. Any person included within the above who has changed his address within the past year will confer a favor on the committee by sending such change to the Registrar's office.

The campus is beginning to take on its spring garb which makes it the delight of all who are privileged to enjoy it. The college authorities are doing their share to make the place attractive, which should receive the hearty cooperation of all students. Our part need not take a positive form; we shall do our duty if we refrain from throwing paper and other unsightly matter on the ground and prevent others from committing the same offense.

It has been suggested that all celebrations over victories would be more satisfactory if a committee were appointed by the President of the Athletic Association to take charge of such affairs and be responsible for them. With irresponsible leaders celebrations are apt to lead to acts of unnecessary damage to property and the discomfiture of those committing them.

The students are indeed fortunate in being able to enlist in their interests the services of two such capable persons as Dr. Aviragnet and Miss Schillinger. That the two performances recently given by the students were successful is largely due to their untiring efforts and they deserve the praise of the entire student body.

His Eueplan Pin.

"Did I ever tell you the story of my Eueplan pin? In 1872 I was matriculated at the Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa. Immediately thereafter I was elected a member of the Eueplan Literary society. As soon as I could, I got for myself the society's pin, which is a gold monogram composed of the society's name in Greek letters. It is really a very pretty thing. I stuck it in the lapel of the vest of my best suit. I wore it for 26 years. In the summer of 1898 my work kept me on the go for months I carried with me for special occasions my best suit in which was my gold pin. In September I returned to Nashville and hung my suit in the wardrobe. When I put it on again in November the pin was not there. It was to me a sad blow. Of all inanimate things that pin held first place in my heart. It was the one thing that I carried from the old, dear college days. But it was gone and every search for it was in vain. I mourned its loss for five and a half years. Last Christmas a member of my family sent an overcoat as a token of respect to Tobias Jones of Nashville, Tenn. Tobias is the colored man who worked for us when we lived in that city. He was a good servant and we were all attached to him. In March of this year a letter came from Tobias containing the pin! He said he found it in the house after we left in 1898. But that was not true. His cousin Julia was cook for my wife. It was she that stole the pin. Tobias saw it and finding my name on it took it from her and kept it for me. He did not know my address until the overcoat came to him. And thus it was that the pin came back. Now it is mine again and I prize it more than ever.—Dr. Owen James in the Johnstown Daily Democrat.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

PI BETA PHI RECEPTION

Young Women Entertain in a Unique Way on Thursday Night.

It's a good thing that there are Founders and that they have Days. Especially so, if you happen to be talking about the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. It had a Founder, and while the reporter is or rather was not personally acquainted with her, he feels that she must have been a "blessed Damozel," judging from the Day she had the other Night in the Institute Parlors. That was a Red-letter Day, too, in the estimation of the guests, and more things than the carnations that were in abundance gave it such distinction. 'Twasn't long after he was once inside the charmed circle before the barbarian and his wife who had been invited were made "at home," although they knew not a single sign, grip or pass-word. If you are so fortunate as to be personally conducted by a lot of stray but not erring angels, what you need to do is to abandon yourself to them—and all's well. You see, in such a case, you're strictly "in it," as Shakespere said in his Winter's Tale, And that's what made it so hard to bear, when you heard the gates of Paradise close in behind you a little while before midnight last Thursday.

The men in particular, every one of them, were transfixed with the arrow that is the Fraternity's badge. What a weapon that was, shot by these creatures that are only temporarily wingless! After he had partially extricated himself, the ghost found about thirty pictures hung up on the wall and he was asked to guess whom each one of them represented. They were pictures of small babies and little girls and the like, and as he looked at them your reporter was reminded of what the exhibitor in a European museum said: "This, ladies and gentlemen, is the choice specimen of the entire collection. It is the skeleton of Shakespere when he was a boy!" Stupid, who was present, aided by several friends, happened to identify all the pictures, and then, after giving Mrs. Hulley the first prize, they gave him the second prize—he looked so forlorn, he presumes. No easy task was it to tell who these small babies and little girls were, for they were no longer cherubs, don't you see, but grown up members of the Fraternity walking about the room by your side. Even cherubs change and improve—and that's what made the task of calling them by name quite impossible without superhuman aid.

And then there was instrumental music by the Misses Eddleman, Cobb and Duncan, and solos by Miss Lane, and a general chorus of the Fraternity who, led by Miss Bane, sang their own stirring songs to tunes that made some hearts there dance with memories. And then came the refreshments! But Pshaw! why speak of them? For even stale bread, distributed under such conditions, would have tasted just as good as ambrosia. There's only one mistake the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity has made; that they haven't more Founders who have many Days every year. Should they ever invent or discover more Founders and Days, your reporter hopes he may be there to see.

Accident to Harry Gates.

Harry Gates, who entered college in the fall of 1901 and played on the 'varsity football team, was so badly injured in alighting from a street car in Chicago recently that the amputation of one of his legs was necessary.

Dr. Enoch Perrine, instructor of the class in Journalism, recently asked L. E. Theiss, '02, who is a reporter on the New York Sun, to address the class on the subject of metropolitan reporting. Mr. Theiss was compelled to decline but submitted a paper on that subject, which Dr. Perrine read to the class last Tuesday. The paper was well prepared and proved to be highly interesting and very instructive, being evidence, as well, of exceptional ability in the line of reporting on the part of the writer.

More Songs to Learn.

Below will be found two more songs which the students will be asked to learn for Alumni Night at Commencement

WHEN WE WERE AT BUCKNELL.

Tune: Chorus of The Tale of a Kangaroo. Frank H. Cooper,—'89.

Wherever we may wander,
Wherever we may go,—
To Cuba's happy gardens,
On Alaska's wastes or snow:
Oh! we can never crush—
That sweet scholastic spell—
That wove itself around us,
When we were at Bucknell.

The rolling Susquehanna,
The oaks upon the hill,
The girls that used to please us.
In dreams we see them still:
Though we are out to hustle,
We all remember well
The pranks we perpetrated,
When we were at Bucknell.

We studied Mathematics
And Greek and Latin too,—
We flirted with the planets,
That winked in heaven's blue:
And when we left the college,
We'd many things to tell,
Of how we broke the record,
When we were at Bucknell.

HAIL BUCKNELL

Air: Annie Lisle.

Down where the Susquehanna
Greets her fairest town,
And the gray old mountain,Montour,
Proudly looking down,—
High on her storied hill-top,
Where the oaks entwine,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Old Bucknell benign.

CHORUS:

Hail Bucknell! Alma Mater,
Never can we tell
All our love and all thy glory,—
Hail all hail, Bucknell!

Oft times we gaily clambored
Up her hill in pride,—
Viewed the battle,cheered the victors,
From its sloping side,—
Oft through the startled twilight
Rang the Bucknell cry,
While upon her merry campus
Blazed the bonfire high .

CHORUS:

When night begins to deepen,
And the stars to glow,—
O'er the shining Susquehanna
Bends the twilight bow,—
When college days have fleeted,
In the gloaming gray
Thus shall linger, Alma Mater,
Long thy golden ray.

WON ONE AND LOST ONE

Bucknell Team Down Seton Hall and Is Defeated By Fordham.

The 'varsity nine broke even on its New York trip last week, defeating Seton Hall at South Orange, N. J., on Tuesday and losing to Fordham at New York on Wednesday.

BUCKNELL 13; SETON HALL 5

The game against Seton Hall was won in one inning, the seventh, when the Orange and Blue tallied nine times. Up to that time Bucknell had made but two hits and the score at the end of the sixth inning was 5 to 3 in favor of the home team. In the seventh Captain Smith's men made six hits, which, combined with their ability to take advantage of Seton Hall's poor fielding, netted nine runs, most of which were unearned.

The game was loosely played on both sides. Of the five runs made by Seton Hall only one was earned, while Bucknell earned only three in 13. Weaver was touched up for nine hits, but he managed to keep them well scattered.

Bucknell scored a run in the first inning on an error, a sacrifice and a single. The same combination netted another tally in the third. Two errors and two steals resulted in the third run in the sixth. Weaver opened the eventful seventh by drawing a base on balls. He went to third on a passed ball and scored on Grininger's single. Singles by Teufel, Smith, Blair, Portser and Heinz, coupled with four stolen bases, battery and fielding errors gave the other eight. A base on balls, an error and a steal produced the last run in the ninth. The final score was 13 to 5.

FORDHAM 5; BUCKNELL 0.

Bucknell drew a "zip" in the game with Fordham, which proved to be one of the best contests in which the 'varsity has participated this season. Both teams put up a good game in the field, Bucknell having only two errors, while Fordham had a clear record. The home team batted well, though she was able to bunch her hits only in one inning, the seventh. At other times Drake pitched splendidly and had the hard hitting Fordhamites well in hand.

Bucknell's downfall was due to weak hitting. Only five hits were made and no two came in the same inning. Not a man got beyond second base and only two got that far. In the second Portser made a double with two out and died there; with two down in the ninth, Cockill singled and stole, and he too perished on that bag.

Fordham tallied one in the second, when Murray's single was followed by McLane's three-bagger. With two out in the seventh, Shean, H. Hartman, Murray and Plunkett singled in succession and McLane got another triple, all of which netted four runs and put the game beyond doubt. Final score 5 to 0.

Reserves Defeat Northumberland.

The Reserves went to Northumberland on Saturday afternoon and defeated the team of that place by a score of 5 to 3 in seven innings. Leach pitched for the Reserves and would have shut out his opponents had his support been good. Johnson, for the team, also pitched in fine style and the visiting team could not score until the fifth inning.

JUNIORS WIN INTER-CLASS MEET

Third-Year Men Score 59 Points—Sophomores Take Second Place.

For the second year in succession the Junior class won the annual inter-class track and field meet on Saturday afternoon, their total number of points being 59. The Sophomores were second with 49 points and the Freshmen third with 32. The Seniors competed in but one event, the shot-put, and made three points.

The meet was unproductive of any extraordinary incidents. With the exception of the mile-run, in which Denninger came within 3 3-5 seconds of equaling the Bucknell record, the times were all slow and the distances in the field events small. The showing is not to be taken as an indication of the strength of the 'varsity team, however, for Pearse did not compete and few of the 'varsity candidates did their best.

In an exhibition trial Lenhart threw the hammer 114 feet, 9 inches, and put the shot 37 feet, 6 inches.

The following is a summary of events:

120-yard hurdle—Lesher, first; Comstock, second; Lummis, third; Green, fourth; time, 18 seconds.

100-yard dash—Thatcher, first; Cockill, second; Webster, third; Brockway, fourth; time, 11 seconds.

220-yard dash—Davis, first; Thatcher, second; Wood, third; Gilmore, fourth; time, 24 2-5 seconds

220-yard hurdle—Cockill, first; Comstock, second; Webster, third; Challis, fourth; time, 30 seconds.

Quarter-mile run—Marsh, first; Gaskill, second; Wood, third; Baer, fourth; time, 57 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—Marsh, first; Noble, second; Rockwell, third; Phillips, fourth time, 5.03½.

Two-mile run—Denninger, first; Noble, second; Bartol, third, Weddle, fourth; time, 11 minutes.

Shot-put—Cheesman, first; Johnson, second; Adams, third; Claypool, fourth; distance, 34 feet, 8 inches.

Hammer-throw—Cheesman, first; Hylbert, second; Adams, third; Robbins, fourth; distance, 87 feet, 6 inches.

High-jump—Davis, first; Steinhilper second; Gardner, third; Manley, fourth; distance, 4 feet, 10 inches.

Broad-jump—Millward, first; Sheppard, second; Lummis, third; Gardner, fourth; distance 18 feet; 11 inches.

Pole vault—Steinhilper, first; Lesher, second; Hall, third; Sheppard, fourth; distance 9 feet, 10 inches.

The following table shows the number of points made by each class in each event:

The Northfield Student Conference.

The nineteenth annual Northfield Students Conference will be held from Friday night, July 1, through Sunday night, July 10. This Conference is composed of about 1000 men who come together each year for Bible Study and discussion of Christian Work. The mornings and evenings are set aside for meetings and classes, the afternoons for athletic contests and social times. Many prominent athletes and college leaders are there and the numerous receptions and celebrations present a rare opportunity for men from the different colleges to get acquainted and for secondary school boys to meet fellows from their future alma maters. Some of the delegations are very large. Yale, for instance, including her sub-freshmen, had over 100 men at Northfield last year, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, etc., not quite so many, while Brown, Wesleyan and Williams had even more in proportion to their numbers.

The outline of the Conference consists in Platform Meetings by Robert E. Speer, New York City; Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., Yale; Rev. Chas. Cuthbert Hall, D. D., New York; Rev. G. A. Johnston Ross, Cambridge, England; Prof. R. A. Falconer, Halifax, N. S.; Mr. John R. Mott and others; in Bible Study Courses under Mr. W. D. Murray, New York City; Mr. L. H. Miller, Princeton University; Prof. H. M. Tory, McGill University; Mr. Thornton B. Penfield, New York City; Prof. H. A. Falconer and Mr. C. C. Michener; in Mission Studies under J. L. Barton, D. D., Boston, and John Willis Baer of New York; and Life Work meetings held at sunset on Round Top hill.

The Literary Societies.

The following programs have been prepared for next Friday evening:

EUEPIA

Current events by members generally; Reading, Manley '07;, extemporaneous speeches; debate, "Resolved, that the Chinese Exclusion Treaty should be renewed"; affirmative, Steinhilper, '05, and Simington, '07; negative, Whitby, '07, and Hall, '07.

THETA ALPHA

Current events, Henderson, 07; address, McCall '07; extemporaneous speech, Eisenhauer, '05; extemporaneous debate. The attendance of all members is desired, as important business will be brought before the society.

Senior Class Memorial

At a meeting of the Senior class last week a committee was appointed to secure plans and estimates for a set of brownstone steps leading from the ash path to the cement walk in front of Main Building, which will probably be agreed upon as the class memorial.

A committee was also appointed to secure a suitable tree for planting on the campus.

Committee on Celebration.

President McCauley of the Athletic Association has appointed the following Committee on Celebration: Wilcox, chairman; Edwards, '04, Hursh, '04, Morton, '05, Sheppard, '05, Smith, '05, Murphy, '06, Sheppard, '06, Adams, '07, Cober, '07.

HIRAM GRANT DREISBACH.

Brief Sketch of an Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Hiram Grant Dreisbach graduated from the University in 1886 with the degree of Bachelor of Science. While in college he displayed marked ability, taking the prize for the best scientific essay. Immediately after graduation he entered the hardware store of his father in Lewisburg and upon the latter's death became a member of the firm of C. Dreisbach's Sons, wholesale and retail hardware merchants. At present he is junior member of the firm.

Mr. Dreisbach has always manifested a keen interest in both the town and the University, being one of the most active of the younger alumni. He has served as a member of the Lewisburg Borough Council and is president of the Borough School Board. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Lewisburg Baptist church.

Commencement Announcements.

The announcement was made last week that the address before the alumni on the night of Tuesday, June 21, will be delivered by the Rev. Spencer Byron Meeser, D. D., Class of 1883, of Detroit, Michigan. The poet will be Mary Bartol Theiss, Ph. D., Class of 1891, of New York City. The honorary chairman will be William J. Cosey, Esq., Camden, N. J., and the guest of honor, the Hon. John B. Stetson, Philadelphia.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Alumni Association last week Prof. Martin and Prof. Ballentine were appointed a committee on necrology. All information concerning the death of former students and alumni should be handed or sent to that committee.

The Alumnae luncheon this year will be served by the ladies of the Lutheran church.

Dr. Henson's Lecture.

The last number of the Y. M. C. A., lecture course took place on last Tuesday evening. An old friend of Bucknell, Dr. Henson, of Boston, delivered his well known lecture on "Fools." Several times his voice died away amid the laughter and applause of the audience. While full of humor, he showed in a dramatic way how talent, wealth and piety are turned into the highest folly.

COLLEGE JOURNALISM.

The recent announcement of the Cornell Daily Sun to the effect that upon its twenty-fifth anniversary next year the paper will be enlarged to eight pages, deserves more than passing consideration. The publication of a four-page college daily is in itself a stupendous task, but the amount of work and journalistic talent involved in the issue of an eight-page daily is enough to deter the most enthusiastic board of editors unless given the united co-operation of student body and alumni.

In this connection a cursory review of college journalism is peculiarly fitting. It has been said that college journalism is an unique institution found in the United States only; already it has reached an influential position and commands the respect and admiration of the press for universal tact and enterprise. The larger colleges and universities have published dailies for many years. The Harvard Crimson and the Columbia Spectator having now reached their 15th and 17th volumes respectively. Fourteen of the larger universities publish successful dailies, while more than one hundred fifty colleges and institutions issue weeklies.

The amount of enterprise and journalistic spirit manifested in this sphere of college activity is surprising as well as gratifying. In many institutions the authorities, realizing the amount of time and work involved in the publication of a college daily or weekly, have authorized recognition to be given, either in certain credits for college work or else coveted privileges which serve as a remuneration for work which necessarily absorbs much of the student's time and would otherwise seriously affect his class standing. This is just. The college paper represents the college and should be truly representative of its enterprise and relative standing. In this respect faculty control is advisable. If the number of staff positions were reduced and editorial appointments made strictly upon competency and talent, under faculty direction, the success of any college daily or weekly would be assured. This arrangement would not necessarily prevent the positions from being competitive. A committee of the faculty in each case might merely indicate a list of eligibles and student elections would determine who should fill the positions.

Thus far this season the games of baseball at home have been marked by poor fielding on the part of both the home and visiting teams, for which the players themselves are not altogether to blame. The diamond has been notoriously bad for several years; this year it is worse than ever. Baseball at Bucknell is not self-sustaining, and therefore we must look to some other source for the improvements necessary. The students realize that economy in the operation of an institution such as ours is necessary, yet they feel that the athletic teams should receive help from that direction occasionally. It would indeed be very gratifying if the college authorities could see their way clear to come to the assistance of the baseball team at this time.

The songs that are being published in the Orange and Blue were submitted to the Enthusiasm Committee by alumni at the request of the former. The committee does not expect the students to learn all that are published, but only those which a majority thinks suitable for singing on Alumni Night. A mass meeting will probably be called next week, when the songs will be rehearsed and plans made for learning such as shall be chosen. Every student should consider it not a duty but a pleasure to attend this meeting and do all he can to help the committee in carrying forward the plans which they have made for Alumni Night.

Changes in Football Rules.

No changes were finally agreed on at the recent meeting of the Football Rules Committee, but several were practically adopted, to be confirmed at a meeting in May. The most important change is that four men in addition to the quarterback may play behind the line. When this is done one of the five backs must play outside either end of the line. It was found last year that with seven men in the line a premium was put on heavy men in offensive work. The new order of things, with the formation it permits, is expected to make light backs more useful.

A sensible change is that of reducing the value of a field goal from five to four points so that a field goal now is not worth as much as a touchdown. As to the quarterback run, it is now permissable in any part of the field, provided the quarterback runs five yards to the side from the snapper back. Penalties for violation requiring a distance penalty will be limited to five and fifteen yards.

In order that the umpire may be distinguished from the referee the umpire is to use a bell or horn instead of a whistle. If in a long run a foul is committed the run it to be allowed if the foul in no ways interferes with the runner. Any deliberate attempt to draw an opponent offside is to be considered as delaying the game and penalized five yards.

On interference with a f ir catch the offended side may have fifteen yards and put the ball in play from a scrimmage, or have five yards and a free kick. Another change provides that when a team is forced to bring the ball out from a touchdown or safety and the ball is twice kicked out of bounds, opponents must put it in play from the 35-yard line instead of the 25-yard line, as formerly. On a punt out after a touchdown the opposing team must stand not closer than fifteen yards to the punter.

ALUMNI

Lieutenant Frank G. Perrin, a former student in the Academy, has been ordered to take charge of Company H, N. G. P., of Media, Capt. S. G. Marshall having resigned.

The Williamsport papers speak in complimentary terms of an address made before the Williamsport High school last week by Prof. L. J. Elmer, '02, on "Historic and Literary New England."

Former Judge E. Amber Armstrong is the latest candidate for the Federal Judgeship in New Jersey, made vacant by the death of Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick. He is said to have the backing of the Camden county Republican leaders. Judge Armstrong is a very earnest friend and trustee of Bucknell.

Handicap Games on Thursday.

Handicap events in track and field will take place on next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to determine the make-up of the team to be taken to Carlisle on May 18. The following is a list of the events: 100-yard dash; one-half mile; mile; two-mile; running high-jump; pole-vault; shot-put (scratch); the first and second men will be taken to Carlisle; hammer-throw; 220-yard hurdle (scratch) winner will be taken to Carlisle.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

More Commencement Songs.

Below will be found two more songs submitted to the Committee for Alumni Night:

AT BUCKNELL.

Tune: "Maryland My Maryland."
F. H. Cooper, '80.

To-night we sing of long ago,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
The days were bright we'd have you know,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell:
The girls we loved were just the thing,
The boys could make the welkin ring,
For in those days we loved to sing,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
The Profs who taught were noble men,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell,
We love them now, we loved them then,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
Our Alma Mater is our pride,
She'll always find us at her side,
Oh may her glory long abide,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
It makes us glad to meet once more,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell,
And talk of things in days of yore,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell,
Some that we knew have passed away,
They dwell in lands of endless day,
But we'll remember them alway,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
Our hopes are high for what we see,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.
High prophecy of things to be,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell;
The days will come, the days will go,
The summer's sun, the winter's snow;
But still our cause will ever grow,
At Bucknell, at old Bucknell.

RETROSPECT.

Music: "My Darling Clementine."
H. M. Wolfe, Jr., '80.

In the dawning of the morning,
In the gloaming of the night,
Loyal hearts are ever burning,
Evermore is memory bright
With the love of Alma Mater,
With our thoughts of Old Bucknell,
While she must become still greater,
As the rolling ages tell.

CHORUS:

Oh! my Mater, Alma Mater,
How I love her ancient halls!
I am ready, ever ready,
To respond where'er she calls,
With my tribute, loving tribute,
To the good that she hath done;
And unite in 'rah 'rah 'rahing
O'er the victories she hath won!

Now our minds are ever dwelling
And we never can forget,
Though it sets the tears a welling
Yet it causes no regret;
'Twas the time of times entrancing,
The sweet time of youth and health,
When we in our fond romancing,
Cared far more for love than wealth.

CHORUS:

Those were days of golden day-dreams,
Those were days when free from care,
Oft' we rambled through the moon-beams,
With a maiden sweet and fair.
Little cared we for our classes,
Little cared we for our score,
If we only met the lasses,
Then the prof's might howl and roar.

CHORUS:

Ah well, boys, the sun's still shining,
And our heart-beat still is strong;
For the past there's no repining,
For to-day, a hopeful song.
Let the future bring us treasure,
Let the future bring what may,—
From our past and present measure,
We'll presage a glorious day!

CHORUS:

Tailored Suits Greatly Reduced.

All the new Spring styles, no old stock, the reason for this reduction in the height of the season is that the backward spring has affected the sale of the higher priced suits and as we wish to turn them into cash as soon as possible we have made this great reduction knowing that they will move quickly at these prices.

Not many Light Suits in the lot.

Fine black and brown panne Cheviot and fine satin finish Venetians we offer at $22.50 regular values were $32.50 and $35.00.

Fine Broadcloth and Lymansville Cheviots for $18.95 were $27.50.

Many styles for $15.95 that were $20.00 and $22.50.

Seperate Jockets and Skirts.

Another consignment of separate Jackets in the very latest effects received to-day.

Also a line of fine Voile, Mohair, and Light Weight Skirts in Dress and Walking length, with the latest effects in trimming and gore fefects.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 16, 1904. No. 30

DICKINSON WINS AT BASEBALL

Bucknell Made Several Blunders and Lost by a Single Run.

Bucknell lost to Dickinson on the campus on Saturday afternoon through loose playing in the field and the failure to execute the finer points of the game. The score was 5 to 4. The game was called on account of rain after Dickinson had batted in the seventh inning.

Drake pitched a good game and the team batted well; but these points of excellence were more than off-set by a costly error by Smith, stupid base running and lack of judgement at the bat. In the six innings Bucknell got ten hits and scored four earned runs. On the other hand Dickinson got five hits and earned only three runs. The visitors hit timely, however, Lininger getting a home run with two men on bases and Carlin getting a double that scored two men. Even at that Bucknell would have won the game, had there not been so many blunders.

The game opened auspiciously for Bucknell, the home team getting three runs on Teufel's double and singles by Smith, Cockill and Porter, that of the last named being especially timely. More runs should have been scored in the third. Smith and Cockill got to first and second, respectively, on singles to the infield. Blair's failure to sacrifice led Smith to steal third. Cockill was caught stealing second at the same time, however, and Smith was easily caught at home on a foolish attempt to score. A single by Deats, a double by Heinz and Drake's out netted Bucknell its fourth run.

Dickinson scored three in the fourth on two singles, followed by Lininger's pretty home run. Blair cut off a run at the plate by a pretty throw from left. Aided by Bucknell's poor fielding, Dickinson won the game in the fifth. Duncan singled. Drake got Spencer's infield tap and threw to second in plenty of time to get Duncan out, but Smith and Heinz were unprepared to take the assist and the ball went through Smith's hands. Carlin brought them both in on a double past third base.

After Dickinson had batted in the seventh and scored no runs there was a heavy downpour of rain. After waiting fifteen minutes for it to cease, Captain Smith consented to the calling of the game.

The score:

Reserves Win Again.

The Reserve baseball team went to Muncy on Saturday and won from the team of that place by a score of 1 to 0 in six innings. August, '07, pitched for the Reserves and allowed only two hits The Bucknell boys scored their only run in the fourth inning, when Edwards' single in the fourth with the bases full brought in a man. The game was called on account of rain. The score:

Winners of Basketball "B."

The Basketball Executive Committee met on Saturday and awarded the basketball "B" to the following men and to Manager Browning: Cheesman, Cockill, Johnson, Roberts. On the report of Manager Browning that Smith lacked but one half of having played in the required number of games, the committee decided to recommend to the Athletic Association that he be voted a "B" at the spring meeting.

[There is evidently an error in the manager's record, for Smith played in all the college games. Ed.]

Weaver Accidentally Injured.

Chester Weaver of the 'varsity nine was severely injured last Tuesday by being struck with the 16-pound hammer thrown by one of the weight men in practice. The injured young man was able to be about on crutches on Saturday, but will not be able to resume practice for at least two weeks.

Baseball This Week.

The 'varsity nine plays two games this week. On Friday the Cuban Giants, the famous colored team, will be here and on Saturday the team will go to Bloomsburg to play the State Normal team. It is probable that Leach and Parsons will be tried out in Friday's game.

1907 Elects Officers.

The class of 1907 has elected the following officers for next year:

President, Colver
Vice-president, Hall.
Secretary, Miss Parmley.
Treasurer, Snavely.
Orange and Blue representative, Brockway.

"The Cheerful Liar" at Berwick.

The cast of "The Cheerful Liar" will go to Berwick on next Thursday night and give the play in the opera house at that place. It will be given under the auspices of the Berwick Fire Department.

PLAYING TENNIS PRELIMINARIES

First Round Has Been Completed and Second Round Is On.

The candidates for the 'varsity team and honors in tennis who have entered the tournament in singles provided by Manager Williamson of the Association, have completed the first round of preliminaries and are fast playing off the second round. The scores to date are as follows:

First round—Steinhilper won from Browning, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Christ won from A. L. Taylor, 6-1, 6-2.

Millward won from V. N. Robbins, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

McCain won from Hassrick, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

McCauley won from Hainer, 6-3, 6-4.

Andrews won from I. Sheppard, 6-0, 6-2.

Bartol won from DeMelt, 7-9, 6-0, 7-5.

G. Harris, S. Harris, Grier, August and Williamson did not play this round.

The scores for the second round are as follows:

G. Harris won from Millward, 2-6, 6-2, 6-0.

Grier won from Steinhilper, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

S. Harris won from McCauley, 6-0, 6-2.

The matches yet to be played are Christ vs. Andrews, August vs. McCain, Williamson vs. Bartol.

Handicap Events Last Week.

The annual handicap events in field and track to determine the make-up of the 'varsity team was held on last Thursday afternoon and proved to be very interesting.

The following is the summary of events.

100-yard dash—Marsh, first; Davis, second; time, 10 3-5 seconds.

220-hurdle—Cockill, first; Comstock, second; time, 28 3-5 seconds.

One mile run—Thatcher, first; Noble, second; time, 5.13.

Shot-put—Lenhart, first; distance, 37 feet, 5 inches; Johnson, second; 36 feet, 2 1-4 inches; Cheesman, third; distance, 35 feet, 1 inch.

Hammer-throw—Lenhart, first; Cheesman, second; distance, 100 feet.

Pole vault—Lesher, first; Steinhilper, second; distance, 10 feet, 1 inch.

Those who will be taken to Carlisle on Wednesday for the dual meet with Dickinson are, Pearse, Marsh, Gaskill, Thatcher, Lesher, Steinhilper, Lenhart, Johnson, Cockill, Noble, Denniger.

In starting in practice last week, Pearse injured a ligament in his right leg and he may be unable to compete at Dickinson. The unfortunate accident has compelled Coach Hoskins to change his selection of men for the various events and greatly impair Bucknell's chances of victory on Wednesday. However, the coach is hopeful of victory.

Junior Exhibition in Oratory.

The annual Junior Exhibition in Oratory for the Registrar's prize will take place in Bucknell Hall on next Friday evening. Those who will compete are, Misses Goddard, Braddock, Wolfe and Smith; Messrs. Bostwick, Henry, Hess, Ranck and Hanna.

Bucknell Alumnae Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Bucknell alumnae will be held Monday, June 20th, in the parlors of the Institute. A luncheon will be served at noon, after which the following program will be observed:

Response for the class of 1854, Frances Scribner Flint, Topsham, Maine.

Class of 1864, Sue Langstaff Howell, Mount Holly, N. J.

Class of 1874, Caroline Phillips Boyd, West Chester.

Class of 1884, Lilian Beale, Philadelphia.

Class of 1894, Miss Greene, Lewistown.

Welcome to Class of 1904, Mrs. D. Bright Miller, Lewisburg.

Response: Miss Nina Pilau, Bangkok, Siam

Greetings from: Miss Miranda Taylor, Jenkintown; Mrs. Katherine B. Larison, Cocheston Centre, N. Y.; Miss Eveline Judith Stanton, Lewisburg.

The Philadelphia Alumnae Club; Lidie Bell Wood, Frankford.

Lewisburg Alumnae Club, Kate McLaughlin Bourne, Lewisburg.

Report of Students' Loan Association, Augusta Tucker Loomis, Lewisburg.

The Twilight Concerts.

The twilight concerts, given Monday and Tuesday evenings during Commencement week, were inaugurated in 1896, and from the very beginning have proved a popular attraction. The policy has been to engage a different band for each commencement. The following bands have thus far been engaged:

1896, Fisk Military Band, Williamsport.

1897, Ringgold Band, Reading.

1898, Third Brigade Band, Pottsville.

1899, Ninth Regiment Band, Wilkesbarre.

1900, Citizens' Band, Steelton.

1901, Germania Band, Reading.

1902, Twelfth Regiment Band, Sunbury.

1903, Allentown Band, Allentown.

For several years the University band gave excellent concerts on the Saturday evening preceding Commencement.

Fourth Form Reception.

On Thursday evening, May 12, Principal and Mrs. Edwards gave their annual reception to the Fourth Form. The rooms, artistically decorated with apple blossoms and spring flowers, were the scene of one of the prettiest receptions ever given at the Academy. The "Story of Kate" furnished much enjoyment and required an excellent vocabulary as well as an unabridged dictionary. During the evening Mr. Stolz, '07, sang several beautiful solos and an orchesta of Milton furnished delightful music.

The Harvey Fund.

The members of the missionary committee of the Y. M. C. A. take this opportunity to express their thanks to the members of the faculty and the student body for their ready response in contributing to the Harvey Fund. Ninety-five dollars has been subscribed, about half of which has been paid. The rest will be collected this week.

Missionary Com.

WILLIAM PRESTON BEAVER

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

William Preston Beaver, whose picture is presented this week, was graduated from the class of 1885, a Master of Arts. He prepared for college in the Academy. After his graduation from the University he was employed in accounting and office work from 1885 to 1891. In 1894 he began the manufacture of tin plate near Pittsburg. From 1899 to 1902 he was auditor for the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company with offices in New York City, and was elected director of the company in January, 1902. A year later he became assistant to the president. Last week Mr. Beaver resigned his position to accept another in the executive department of the Bradstreet Company's general offices, New York, in proof the regard in which he was held by his associates in the Tin Plate Company's office, he was given a handsome loving cup.

Mr. Beaver's steady advancement in the business world is due wholly to his genius and enterprise. He is one of the most prosperous of the younger alumni of the University and he is loyal to his Alma Mater.

"Way of Life" Meetings.

The "Way of Life" meeting in Bucknell Hall on Sunday afternoon was addressed by Prof. Weithaase. Several Seniors made their first public appearance in cap and gown and the custom will probably become a permanent one.

The meeting next Sunday afternoon will be addressed by A. W. Johnson, of the Department of Law.

First Baseball Dance.

Thirty couples of young people attended the first of a series of informal dances given by the management of the baseball team in the Armory on Friday evening. The Imperial orchestra, of Lewisburg, furnished excellent music.

Contract with the Indians.

A two-year contract between Bucknell and the Carlisle Indians for a track and field meet at Lewisburg this year and one at Carlisle in 1905 was drawn up and signed last week. The conditions are practically the same as those of the former contract.

CLASS GOVERNMENT.

The Freshman class having chosen its officers for next year, it is fitting that a few suggestions with reference to class government and regulation should be made. The policy of non-interference on the part of upper-classmen in the matter of class differences between Sophomores and Freshmen, is largely accountable for the fact that the average undergraduate has no proper respect for an upper-classman. The upper-classes have been entirely too lax in the matter and have refrained from interference when a little authority, if rightly asserted, would have produced effective results.

In the first place, no Sophomore class should be permitted to formulate temporary and arbitrary rules for the government of Freshmen, which would be wholly intolerant and unreasonable in security. The present code of rules are acknowledged to be adequate and any further addition should be rigorously opposed unless suggested by a committee composed of upper-classmen who recognize the expediency of such rules. All unreasonable customs regarding the department of Freshmen should be abolished; unlimited freedom should not be granted the Sophomore class to create and enforce new rules which are justified neither by expediency nor common sense. Cases of the wanton destruction of college property committed by either class should be rigorously investigated and the offenders reported at once to the authorities. Class spirit should not be a cloak to hide a multitude of faults Hazing, when carried to an extreme, should be summarily checked and all violent cases of the same should be investigated and the offenders exposed.

All under-class contests, such as th annual rush, football, basketball and baseball games, bill posting, etc., should be observed in accordance with established custom and governed by definite rules, under the general supervision of the upper-classes. Class spirit is a necessary feature of college life and is all right in its place, but no student should be permitted, under the guise of class loyalty, to commit acts which would disgrace the Institution in the eyes of a thoughtful public. Our Alma Mater first, last and always: We feel confident that the present Freshman class will inaugurate reforms in the matter of class government and avoid certain flagrant abuses of authority so prevalent in the past. They will have the united support of upper-classmen.

The University Band has failed during the past few years to follow the custom of giving a concert on the campus on Saturday evening of Commencement. Since every effort is being put forth to have the Commencement this year eclipse all previous events, would it not be well for the members of the college band to resume their rehearsals and renew the custom which once afforded much pleasure and enjoyment?

The appointment of a committee by the President of the Athletic Association to take charge of the celebration of athletic victories, is a step in the right direction. Students in their enthusiasm are carried away by the spirit of the moment and commit acts they would scarcely think of on other occasions. This committee should be given the united support of the student body.

In the absence of consistent team work the baseball nine continues to meet with reverses that are discouraging. However, the student body should not waver in its support of the team. The schedule has not been half played, and with encouragement Captain Smith and his men should win a majority of the games remaining.

The unfortunate accident to Mr. Weaver last week only emphasizes the need of a new athletic field. The athletic field on the campus is far too small for our present needs and the handicap is one which will continue to make itself felt until it is removed.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

R. J. Hess, ex-'05, was in town over Sunday.

C. H. Elliott, '02, was a guest of friends on the hill last week, having completed his year's work at Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia.

Memorial Day, May 30, will be observed in the University. Dr. Hulley will make an address after the chapel exercises and there will be no classes.

Dr. Harris preached the sermon at the dedication of the Beth-Eden church, Allegheny, on Sunday, May 8. The Rev. J. S. Hutson, '05, is pastor of the church.

Mrs. Hopper, wife of Harry S. Hopper, chairman of the Board of Trustees, will entertain the members of the Bucknell Alumnae Club of Philadelphia at her summer home at Narbeth on Friday, May 27.

Theta Alpha will have no meeting this week on account of the Junior Exhibition, but there will be a special meeting of the society on Wednesday, May 18, at 1:15 sharp, when several important business matters will be brought up. The meeting will be short and a full attendance of the members is urged.

Bowdoin recently won from Amherst in debate. The question related to the national control of trusts.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE.

The next session begins Sept. 26, 1904. The course is carefully graded and covers four sessions of eight months.

Instruction thoroughly practical. Free quizzing in all branches; ward classes, limited in size; clinical conference and modified seminar methods of teaching. Particular attention to laboratory, bedside and ward-class work. Clinical facilities unexcelled and the finest and largest clinical amphitheatre in America. Thoroughly equipped new laboratories and a modern hospital remodeled and reconstructed throughout.

The College has also Departments of Dentistry and of Pharmacy, in each of which degrees are granted at the end of graded courses. For announcements and further information, address

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

More Alma Mater Songs.

WE ARE BOYS AGAIN TO-DAY
A. B. Bowser, A. M. '88. Tune. "Maryland My Maryland."

Behold! across the grassy plain,
With stately tread and princely train,
From fields afar and foreign shore,
The Bucknell boys come home once more.

Where Susquehanna's waters flow
And noble elms their shadows throw,
We gather on the verdant strand
And clasp again a brother's hand.

We greet again these classic halls
In templed hill and regal walls;
Once more our consternation tell
When summoned by the college bell.

Although the years on pinion light,
Have borne us swiftly in their flight,
We sing the old songs bright and gay,
For we are boys again to-day.

CHORUS:
Oh! Alma Mater, ever dear;
We love thee thro each passing year;
And fondly now our friendship true
Around thy board we pledge anew.

DEAREST OF ALL.
Tune: "Long, Long Ago." George Whitman, D. D. '72.

Dearest of all are the friends that we found
Long, long ago, Long, long ago,
On the broad green of the old college ground,
Long, long ago, Long ago;
Dearer and deeper that friendship has grown,
Through all the years that have hurriedly flown,
Deep'ning and bright'ning the love that was known,
Long, long ago, Long ago.

Gladdest of all are the joys that we shared,
Long, long ago, Long, long ago,
On the old Campus, with peace unimpaired
Long, long ago, Long ago;
Oh how the voices of rapture and praise
Sing in our hearts all their soul-cheering lays,
As we now dream of those old college days,
Long, long ago, Long ago.

Brightest of all are the faces we know,
Long, long ago, Long, long ago,
Faces still seen though we bade them adieu,
Long, long ago, Long ago;
Faces that shine like the stars in the night
Though they have passed from our poor mortal sight,
Faces illumined with love's lasting light,
Long, long ago, Long ago.

INSTITUTE.

Tuesday evening the Seminary was a scene of merriment and jollity. The school, with the Music Seniors as agitators, gave a surprise birthday party to Dr. Aviragnet. Although Dr. Aviraguet's birthday does not come until July 1 the affair took the form of a real birthday party. Every one was deeply interested in it and worked with a will both in gathering flowers and in decorating. The tables were covered with masses of the beautiful blue violets, the girls at the different tables vying with one another to have the prettiest decorations. Dr. Harris was a guest, and his presence added much to the success of the party.

After an elegant dinner, Miss Stanton, as principal of the Institute, took charge of the speeches. Dr. Harris gave a delightful talk about Dr. Aviragnet, his connection with the school, and his work here as Director of the School of Music. He said that in the eighteen years of Dr. Aviragnet's service, the department had so increased as to have twice as many pupils as formerly.

Miss Cobb, '06, told about "Birthdays" in general and of course finally about Dr. Aviragnet's birthday.

Miss Rees, '07, was the poet of the evening and read a very clever production.

Miss Bane, '01, reminded every one of Dr. Aviragnet's generosity and thoughtfulness. Then the girls, led by Miss Goodnough, joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne," after which three rousing cheers were given for Dr. Aviragnet and the party was over. Every person felt rewarded for her share in the merry-making and wished that they might help Dr. Aviragnet celebrate many more birthdays, even if they were a little previous

The annual elocution contest of the Institute took place on Saturday evening in Bucknell Hall. The hall, very prettily decorated, was not crowded because of the inclement weather. The first speaker, Miss Wolfe, was unable to be present. The pieces were very different, each showing the ability of the contestant, and making the judges' decision a very difficult task. Each speaker deserves credit for the successful delivery of her piece, there not being a single break in the whole program. The following was the program, with Mrs. Gretzinger, Prof. Wolfe and Prof. Lindemann being the judges.

The S. G. C. entertained very delightfully in the Seminary gymnasium on Friday evening, their guest being Miss Anna Dreisbach. The greater part of the evening was taken up with the elaborate spread, which consisted of all the good things one could imagine. Miss Louise Savidge, of Sunbury, responded to the toast, "Good Times in S. G. C;" and Miss Mildred Shaffer, of Lewisburg, to "Feasts." The whole crowd joined heartily in singing their club songs and giving their yells, after which the happy party dispersed, voting this the very best time they had ever had.

Dr. Pauline Root, a returned missionary from India, gave a very interesting talk in the school-room on Thursday evening.

Miss Schillinger, accompanied by Miss Finley, gave an entertainment at State College on Friday evening.

Miss Marot, vocal teacher at Dickinson Seminary, was the guest of Miss Slifer over Sunday.

Miss Harpel, of Danville, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Harpel, '06.

Miss Seaman, '06, entertained her mother during the past week.

Miss Shove, '07, was at her home in Wellsboro over Sunday.

Miss Stuart spent Sunday at her home, State College.

The Reserve baseball team will play at Danville next Saturday.

PROGRAM FOR COMMENCEMENT

Schedule of Speeches, Exercises and Various Other Events of Interest.

The official program for the annual Commencement, June 17 to 22, was made public last week. The order of events is practically the same as in former years. An especially attractive list of speakers is presented, all being men of marked ability and wide reputation. The address at the college exercises will be made by Alexander Simpson, Esq., of Philadelphia, formerly president of the Pennsylvania State Bar Association. Will Carleton, the poet, will speak at the Institute exercises. The other speakers are men of almost equal distinction.

The following is the program in detail:

FRIDAY, JUNE 17TH.

7:30 p. m.—Exhibition of the School of Music under direction of E. Aviragnet, Mus. Doc., (Bucknell Hall.)

SATURDAY, JUNE 18TH.

10:30 a. m.—Organ Recital by School of Music, (Baptist church.)

8:00 p. m.—Annual Debate, Junior class, (Bucknell Hall.)

SUNDAY, JUNE 19TH.

9:15 a. m.—College Bible Class.

10:30 a. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon by President Harris, (Baptist church.)

4:00 p. m.—Way of Life Meeting, (Bucknell Hall.)

8.00 p. m.—Sermon before Education Socley, Prof. Ernest B. Ayres, D. D. Crozer Theological Seminary, (Baptist church.)

MONDAY, JUNE 20TH.

Art Exhibition begins and continues three days, (Studio Institute.)

8:00 a. m.—General Chapel.

Junior Exhibition in Oratory.

The annual Junior Exhibition in Oratory was held in Bucknell Hall on Friday evening. The attendance was exceptionally large, the hall being inadequate to accommodate all who sought admission.

There were nine contestants, five young men and four young women. The orations were based upon the theses written by the speakers, and while the themes as a rule were not adapted to orations, the contestants acquitted themselves with credit. The speeches gave evidence of careful and thoughtful preparation and the delivery in nearly every case was excellent.

The following is a list of the speakers and their subjects:

"Goethe's Patriotism," Pearl L. Smith.

"General Conditon of Life," Lee R. Ranck.

"China, as the Subject of Territorial Occupation," Roy G. Bostwick.

"The Veneral Beie," Ferne F. Braddock.

"Robert Burns, the Poet of Nature," Nellie M. Goddard.

"Demosthenes: A Critique of Statesmanship," Norman E. Henry.

"The Foreign Elements in the Colonization of Our Commonwealth", Martha Wolfe.

"Modern Phase of Evolution," Phares G. Hess.

"Collectivism in German Literatur," Roy Hanna.

Several musical numbers added much to the program. The march was played by Miss Ruth Bottorf, and the overture was rendered by the Mandolin and Guitar Club. Misses Edith Lane and Vera Duncan sang a duet, Miss Bartol, Messrs. Bartol, Stolz, Long and Moore gave an instrumental selection, while Messrs. Adams, Loomis, Lemmon and Stolz sang several selections. The divine blessing was invoked by the Rev. W. E. Thomas.

New Fraternity Installed.

The Tau Chapter of Delta Delta Delta Fraternity was established at Bucknell on Friday.

The chapter was installed by three of the Grand Officers of the fraternity, Grand President Mrs. S. B. Hayes, of Boston University; Grand Secretary Miss Elizabeth Tumbleson, of Womans College of Baltimore; Grand Vice-president of Alpha Province, Miss Carolyne Spencer, of Syracuse University. After the initiation ceremonies a symposium was held at the Baker House. In the evening the Grand Officers, patronesses, initiates and friends were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Weber Gerhart. Those initiated were, Emily R. Ebling, '03, Ida E. Luchsinger, '03, Alif Stephens, '04, Nellie Goddard, '05, Jessie McFarland, '05, Nellie Thomas, '05, Sophia Bodler, '06, Carrie McCaskie, '06, Florence McCaskie, '06, Grace Meek, 06.

DUAL MEET RESULTS IN A TIE

Bucknell and Dickinson Each Score 52 Points at Carlisle.

The dual meet between Bucknell and Dickinson at Carlisle, postponed from Wednesday until Thursday, resulted in a tie, each team making 52 points. A stiff wind, a heavy track and a soggy field were factors which prevented any unusual times or distances, though Bast did cut two-fifths of a second from the Dickinson record for the 220-yard hurdle.

Most of the events were closely contested and several of them produced surprizes for both teams. For instance, Bucknell was expected to take one and possibly two places in the high jump, while it was generally conceded that Dickinson would get both places in the broad jump. As things turned out, Dickinson got both places in the high jump, and Johnson, who had never jumped more than 19 feet in the broad jump, made 21 feet, 6 inches, tying his Dickinson opponent. The mile race almost resulted in a dead heat. Both Betts and Thatcher ran almost side by side the entire distance, and, although their time was not fast, both men fell over at the finish. It was at first thought the race was a tie, but the judges gave the decision to Betts.

The finish of the meet was interesting. With the 220-hurdle and the pole vault to be contested, the score was a tie. The experienced Bast was able to defeat Cockill in the hurdle, which left the pole vault to determine the meet. After a few trials Steinhilper and Brown were the only contestants. Each one had twice failed to clear the bar at 9 feet, 11½ inches. If Steinhilper failed on his third trial the points would be divided and Dickinson would be the winner. But Steinhilper didn't fail and Brown did, and the meet had resulted in a tie.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Robinson, Dickinson, first; Marsh, Bucknell, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

120-yard hurdles—Sadler, Dickinson, first; Salters, Dickinson, second. Time 17 seconds.

One-mile run—Betts, Dickinson, first; Thatcher, Bucknell, second. Time, 5 minutes, 6 seconds.

440-yard dash—Marsh, Bucknell, first; Standing, Dickinson, second. Time, 57 3-5 seconds.

Half-mile run—Marsh, Bucknell, first; Gaskill, Bucknell, second. Time, 2 minutes, 16 4-5 seconds.

220-yard hurdles—Bast, Dickinson, first; Cockill, Bucknell, second. Time, 27 2-5 seconds.

Two-mile run—Noble, Bucknell, first; Denninger, Bucknell, second. Time, 11 minutes, 15 seconds.

220-yard dash—Robinson, Dickinson, first; Davis, Bucknell, second. Time, 24 seconds.

Field events:

High jump—Morris, Dickinson, first; Brown, Dickinson, second. Height, 5 feet, 4 inches.

Pole vault—Steinhilper, Bucknell; first; Brown, Dickinson, second. Height, 9 feet, 11½ inches.

Shot put—Lenhart, Bucknell, first; Davis, Dickinson, second. Distance, 35 feet, 10 inches.

Broad jump—Robinson, Dickinson, Johnson, Bucknell, tie. Distance, 21 feet, 6 inches.

Hammer throw—Lenhart, Bucknell first; Fleitz, Dickinson, second, Distance, 107 feet, 1½ inches.

The Faculty Reception.

On Thursday evening the College Faculty introduced a very pleasing innovation in the form of a reception to the women of the College. The Institute parlors, used for the purpose, were very prettily decorated with clusters of spring flowers —lilacs, violets, tulips and lilies of the valley, and the guests, in their light gowns, moving around among the flowers, made it seem very much like a garden party.

The Reception Committee consisted of the entire faculty and their wives, ranged in two crescent-shaped lines on each side of the parlor door. Dr. Hulley was master of ceremonies, and it was he, who, later in the evening, made the time pass even more delightfully by sending around to each group of students some members of the Faculty, allowing, however, no monopoly. The evening passed all too rapidly. There were songs by the students, vocal solos by Miss Goodnough and Miss Lane, piano solos by various musical enthusiasts and much lively conversation. At ten very dainty refreshments were served, and when, at midnight, the guests left, many were the expressions of appreciation to the Faculty for their charming method of entertainment.

No Baseball This Week.

Owing to the heavy schedule next week, the 'varsity nine is not scheduled to play this week, although some kind of a contest may be arranged for the home field next Saturday. On next Monday Bucknell will play its two annual games at Harrisburg and on Tuesday will go to Carlisle for a game with the Indians. It has been suggested that in view of the excellent work of the Reserves lately, Manager Carruthers arrange a game between the 'varsity and Reserves for Friday or Saturday of this week.

Freshmen Lose Dual Meet.

The Freshman track team went to Williamsport on Saturday and competed with the Dickinson Seminary team. The latter won, 59 to 45. The Freshmen took first in the following events: 100-yard dash, won by Davis in 10 3-5 seconds; quarter-mile, won by Davis in 56 4-5; shot put, (12-pound) won by Parsons, 37 feet; pole vault, won by Hall, 8 feet, 6 inches. They took the following second places: 220-yard dash, Baer; high jump, Davis; shot put, Adams.

Gift to Museum.

A fine collection of minerals for the museum has been received from Granville Malcom, A. M., Denver, Colo., class of 1853. Among the specimens are samples of pitch-blend and uranium. There is also a fine specimen of the rubber plant.

PROF. JOHN BALLENTINE

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Prof John Ballentine, whose picture is presented this week, was graduated from the University, a Bachelor of Arts, in 1872. In 1875 he received his degree of A. M. in course. Upon graduation he entered the Keystone Academy as teacher, where he served eight years. He taught Greek in Colgate Academy, and went from there to Clarion State Normal School, where he has just completed his seventeenth year as instructor in Latin and Greek. He is also vice-principal.

In 1877 Prof. Ballentine was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church. In 1892 he received the degree of Ph. D., from his Alma Mater.

Prof. Ballentine is a man of marked ability and ranks high among the educators in the western part of the State. He is one of the University's most earnest and zealous workers.

Reserves Win Again.

The reserve team kept up its excellent work on Saturday by defeating the strong Danville team on the latter's grounds, 4 to 3. Leach and August pitched for Bucknell and were masters of the situation at all times. The Reserves won out in the ninth inning. Score:

	R	H	E
Danville	0 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 0—3	4	6
Reserves	1 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 1—4	7	2

Batteries—McCloud and Hummer; Leach, August and Hawke.

Marsh in Intercollegiates.

Marsh, '05, will be Bucknell's only representative in the intercollegiate games a Philadelphia on Friday and Saturday of this week. He is entered in the half-mile, in which some of the fastest men in the colleges will compete. The qualifying contests will be held on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

Inter-Fraternity Game.

Phi Kappa Psi defeated Phi Gamma Delta 14 to 4 in baseball on Saturday morning. Phi Kappa Psi has now won two and lost none; Sigma Chi won one and lost none; Kappa Sigma won none and lost one; Phi Gamma Delta won none and lost two. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has yet to play a game.

THE COMING COMMENCEMENT.

The Commencement program is now completed. The excellent series of addresses, exercises, band concerts, not to mention a schedule of four baseball games, has been arranged and every person who participates in the Commencement will ever have occasion to remember it. There will be something worth hearing or something worth seeing at every hour in the day.

It is reassuring to learn that so few undergraduates intend leaving Lewisburg before Commencement. Strong as is the desire to return home, the great majority of the students will remain. Certainly they will be repaid. If they were to gain no other advantage than meet the influential and distinguished alumni who will be here they would be fully compensated for any sacrifice they might make. Taken altogether, the various events will constitute one gala week which none can help but enjoy and which cannot do otherwise than make us prouder that we are Bucknellians.

Everything is working harmoniously toward a most successful Commencement and the desire of the authorities that it shall be the best Commencement promises ot be fulfilled.

The baseball team continues its discouraging work; and with Harrisburg, the Indians, Williamsport, Villa Nova, Princeton, Lehigh and Lafayette to be met away from home, the future does not offer much encouragement. It is generally admitted that the material for a good team is here, but the means for developing it are not. And until Bucknell is in a position to employ a competent coach the entire season, would it not be a wiser plan to have a moderate schedule? For several years the schedules have been too heavy for the team and poor records have been the result. Future managers should profit by these mistakes.

If the graduating class of the Institute is looking for some gift to make its Alma Mater it could not do better than give a coat-rack for use at receptions, etc. The absence of any accommodations in this respect is frequently the cause of much inconvenience, not to say annoyance, to guests. A movable rack such as is used in hotels and clubs would answer the purpose.

'VARSITY NINE DEFEATED TWICE

Cuban Giants and Bloomsburg Win From Bucknell In Good Games.

A hoodoo seems to be hovering over the baseball team this season. Though there has never been better material here, perhaps, the nine continues to lose. Last week two games resulted in defeats, the Cuban Giants winning on the campus by a score of 5 to 4 on Friday, and Bloomsburg winning at Bloomsburg by a score of 4 to 0 on Saturday.

CUBAN GIANTS 5; BUCKNELL 4.

Bucknell never played in such "hard luck" as she did on Friday. The game being an unimportant one, Captain Smith decided to try Leach and Parsons in the box, Leach failed to pitch in his usual good form, being very wild, and the colored boys scored five runs in two innings. Parsons then went in the box and pitched in masterly style. He had a varied assortment of speed and curves, was as cool as a veteran, and though the Giants made several hits, he had them at his mercy when a hit would have meant a run.

Handicapped by a lead of three runs, the 'varsity played a brilliant up-hill game and came near winning in the ninth. When the home team went to bat in the ninth the score was 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors. Deats got to first by being hit. Heinz beat out a bunt, as did also Parsons. With three men on bases and none out a tie seemed certain and a victory more than likely. Griminger hit a hard one to short and Deats was caught at the plate. Teufel attempted to bunt, and Heinz also died at home. Wallace got Smith's hard grounder and caught Griminger at third.

The score:

CUBAN GIANTS	AB.	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Satterfield, s	3	1	1	1	1	0
Wallace, 3b	5	0	2	2	1	3

Cuban Giants .... 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—5
Bucknell .... 2 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0—4

Summary:—Earned runs, Cuban Giants, 1. Bucknell, 1. Two-base hits, Galloway, Teufel. Stolen bases, Satterfield, Smith, Heinz. Struck out by Lyons, 3, by Leach 1, by Parsons 8. Base on balls, off Leach 2, off Parsons 1. Wild pitch, Leach. Hit by pitcher, by Lyons 2, by Leach 1. Left on bases, Cuban Giants 7, Bucknell 8. Umpire, Weaver.

BLOOMSBURG 4; BUCKNELL 0.

There was no "hard luck" connected with the game at Bloomsburg on Saturday. Bucknell was simply outplayed by a superior team. The Normal School team, made up of the best professional players in that section, is the best team that Bucknell has played this season and the visitors had no license to win. However, Bucknell should not have been shut out. Poor coaching held Cockill at third in the second when he should have scored from second on a hit by Deats.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

Bucknell Defeated Twice.

Drake pitched another of his good games. Though he was hit rather freely, he kept the hits scattered except in the fourth inning, when the home team scored twice; and those two runs were the only ones that Bloomsburg should have had, errors being responsible for the others. Smith played a good game in the field for Bucknell. The feature of Bloomsburg's playing was the work of its outfield, particularly that of Brown, in right field, who made two beautiful running catches. Dr. Aldinger celebrated the tenth year he has played against Bucknell by making three hits.

Bloomsburg scored a run in the first inning on two errors, a hit and a wild pitch. The two in the third were the result of three hits, an error and a hit-by-pitcher. They got their last in the eighth on a double, an error and an out.

Bucknell's only chance to score was in the third, when Cockill got to first on an error and was sent to second by a single by Blair. Portser struck out after attempting to bunt. Deats singled and Cockill could easily have scored had he not been held at third. Heinz hit a fly to right field, which Brown got after a hard run. Drake went out to first.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Hutchinson, '07, has been called home by the serious illness of his father.

The father of W. E. Roberts, '04, died last week at his home in Frackville.

The blank orders for special Commencement railroad rates may be had at the Registrar's office.

The Hon. Jas. McLachlan, Jr., a member of Congress from the Seventh California district, was the guest of Principal Edwards, and family over Sunday.

Rates For Commencement.

For next Commencement special rates have been granted by the Passenger Department of the Trunk Line Association. Fare and one-third for the round trip from points in Pennsylvania, on card orders; tickets to be sold and good, going, June 15th to 22nd, returning to June 25th inclusive. Card orders will be issued by the Registrar.

"The Cheerful Liar" at Berwick.

"The Cheerful Liar," which was recently given by the students in the opera house here, was produced at Berwick on last Thursday under the auspices of the local fire department. The house was well filled and the play well received.

Commencement Songs.

A pamphlet of all the songs submitted for Alumni Night has been printed and within a week or two the Enthusiasm Committee will call a meeting of the students for the purpose of selecting a few of them to be sung at Commencement.

Another of the songs submitted is given below.

BACK AGAIN.

Tune: Wearing O'the Green.

We're back again, we older men,
Now let the music play
We gather here with hearty cheer,
We own this hill to-day..
We're back again, we older men,
No matter where we've been.
As chicks come home, tho' far they roam,
So we have wandered in.

CHORUS:

A jolly lot, we're on the spot,
The dearest that we know.
And all this noise among us boys,
Our happiness doth show.

Cast care aside, your age deride,
And laugh and shout and sing,
Until these walls of Bucknell's halls
With echoes loudly ring.
Come every one, join in our fun,
This is our holiday
Let's show these lads, their sober dads
Can dance and sing and play.

CHORUS:

The women of the Junior class of California University have lately adopted the sombero as the class hat. The men of the University have adopted the Cornell custom of merely bowing to women when they meet them on the campus and not tipping their hats as heretofore.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VIII. LEWISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MAY 30, 1904. No. 32

HARRISBURG WINS BY CLOSE SCORES

Varsity Nine Does well, But the Professionals Are Too Fast.

Bucknell played good baseball in two games against Harrisburg at the State capital on Memorial Day, but lost both contests by small margins, the scores being 4 to 3, and 5 to 2.

But for a most unfortunate occurrence in the eighth inning of the morning game, Bucknell would have tied the score. With three men on bases Smith hit a liner over the head of the center fielder, which is ordinarily good for a home run; but in rounding third base Smith tripped on the bag and fell. Before he could recover himself it was too late to go home. In the ninth three singles filled the bases, but no runs were scored.

Drake pitched good ball for Bucknell, but Harrisburg made their few hits count.

The score:

AFTERNOON GAME

Inability to hit cost Bucknell the afternoon game, the visitors making only two hits. Fortunately, these came at an opportune time and enabled Bucknell to escape a shut-out. Teufel's single was followed by Smith's triple, and the latter scored on the attempt to catch him at third.

Aside from the fourth and sixth innings, Weaver pitched gilt-edged ball. Errors helped Harrisburg to score in the sixth.

Address to Literary Societies.

Theta Alpha joined Eneplo last Friday evening and had the pleasure of listening to a talk by Dr. Whitman. The room was crowded, which shows the attitude of the students toward the lecturer of the week.

Dr. Whitman made a practical and earnest talk, but not as a lecturer from a platform to an audience. He met the students as man with man on a common level—as an older brother who has happened to be in a position to give a helpful advice to others. He said we are here in college to get poise. When we go out into the world we will be vastly better able to succeed, and not, when we get a responsible position with a good salary, lose our heads and spoil our success. As we must govern ourselves in after-life, we are here in college to make the most of ourselves and to learn to govern ourselves. We must stand as men with acquirements. The great danger of college graduates is degeneration into one thing—one specialty, and so when we are through college, we have less and less time for culture. We as educated men must have culture.

After the talk all had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Whitman personally.

The Commencement News.

The Commencement News will be published as usual this year and contain an accurate account of all Commencement events, class reunions, addresses and alumni happenings, together with the athletic and society news of the week. The paper this year will be twice as large as the Orange and Blue, well illustrated and printed on good quality of paper suitable for filing. The News will be published daily during Commencement week with two issues on Wednesday.

The following editorial staff has been appointed for the fifty-fourth commencement:

Norman E. Henry, '05, Editor.
Ray P. Bowen, '05, Assistant.
E. T. Stevenson, '04.
R .G. Bostwick, '05.
Wm. Bartol, '05.
Miss Ferne Braddock, '05.
Miss Furman, '06.
Miss Pearl Smith, '05.
Henry J. Lose, '06.
Thomas B. Powell, '06.
Chas. F. Potter '07.

RESULTS OF TENNIS SINGLES

Grier Defeats August for the Championship.—Outcome of Other Games.

The tennis tournament in singles for the college championship was completed on Saturday. The contestants in the finals were Grier, '05, and August, '07, and the former won in two straight sets, 6-1, 7-5. The contest was witnessed by a large crowd and was very interesting.

The inter-club tournament in doubles will begin this week.

The following are the scores in singles, made since the first publication of results:

Second round:
Andrews won from Christ, 6-0, 6-1.
August won from McCain, 6-4, 6-0.
Bartol won from Williamson, by default.

Third round:
S. Harris won from Bartol, 6-2, 6-1.
Grier won from G. Harris, 6-2, 6-1.
August won from Andrews, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1.

Semi-Final round:
August won from S. Harris, 6-3, 6-4.

Finals:
Grier won from August, 6-1, 7-5.

Marsh Fails to Qualify.

Marsh, who represented Bucknell in the intercollegiate games at Philadelphia last week, failed to qualify on Friday and therefore did not compete in the finals on Saturday. Three groups of eight men each ran in the half-mile preliminaries, the first three in each group qualifying. Marsh finished fourth in his heat. Those who qualified were Young, Harvard; Orton, Pennsylvania; Moffatt, Yale. The time was 2.07 3-5, the slowest heat. The men were bunched the entire distance and none seemed able to run up to his ability.

The final race on Saturday resulted as follows: Parsons, Yale, first; Williams, Princeton, second; Adair, Princeton, third; Orton, Pennsylvania, fourth; time 1.56 3-5 which equals the college record.

Dual Meet Next Saturday.

Bucknell and the Carlisle Indians will compete in a dual meet on the campus on next Saturday afternoon. The teams are very evenly matched and the contest will doubtless be an interesting one. The Indians have had but one meet this year, that that with State at Carlisle, which was won by the Redmen. Bucknell has met the Indians in track athletics for three successive years. Each team has one once and the other was a tie.

The Literary Societies.

Death of Mrs Rockwood.

Mrs. F. B. Rockwood, wife of the Professor of Latin in the University, died at their home on South Second street, on Wednesday morning, after a lingering and painful illness of two years.

Mrs. Rockwood was born in Bridgeton, New Jersey, and came here with her husband some eighteen years ago; she endeared herself to all who knew her by a quiet and refined life that made her home a centre of attraction to her guests and herself a welcome addition to the best circles of the town. Her sufferings were born with a reserved and unostentatious patience that drew forth the sympathy of all and the same sympathy is extended to the Professor in this his day of cloud and darkness.

The funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon by the Rev. J. T. Judd. The love of friends found expression in numerous floral emblems, among which were set pieces from the faculty and the officers of the college and the members of the Professor's 8:15 Latin class. Interment took place in the Lewisburg cemetery.

Dr. Hulley Makes Address

Dr. Hulley addressed the student body after chapel exercises on Monday morning, taking for his theme, "Lincoln's Contribution to the Defense of the Constitution." The address wds delivered in Dr. Hulley's own enthusiastic and forceful way and was well received by the audience.

The annual reception of the President to the members of the graduating class will take place in the institute parlors on Thursday evening, June 16. Acceptance or regrets should be sent to Miss Stanton.

JOHN C. NISSLEY

Brief Sketch of a Prominent Alumnus of Bucknell University.

John C. Nissley, Esq., whose picture we present this week, was graduated a Bachelor of Philosophy in the class of 1882. He is a prominent member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. Upon graduation he entered upon the study of the law and was admitted to the Dauphin county bar. He has practiced his profession in Harrisburg where he has established a solid reputation as an able and faithful counselor as well as a very successful advocate at the bar. He has been growing rapidly into prominence politically, but has, so far, declined the honors that have awaited him in this field. He is one of the leading members of the First Baptist church at Harrisburg and has served for many years on the Baptist State Board of Education. Mr. Nissley is a very enthusiastic friend of the University and it is with peculiar pleasure that we give him a place in our gallery of distinguished sons of Bucknell.

Greetings From Alumni.

The following telegram to President Harris, was received May 19, from Cleveland, Ohio, during the National meetings of the Baptist denomination.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 19, 1904.
To President J. H. Harris,

Party of the loyal sons of Bucknell in attendance at the National meeting of our great denomination join in extending to President, Faculty and students of our Alma Mater congratulations in the great and ever increasing prosperity of the University and pledge anew our love and sympathy, loyalty and prayer.

WHAT TO ATTEND DURING COMMENCEMENT

A student who is in his experience for the first time is about to stay at Bucknell for the Commencement, may not know what exercises and events to attend among such a great number. To help decided this question programs for Commencement week may be secured by asking for them at the Registrar's office. These programs contain a list of those exercises which are under the direction of the Institution's faculty or graduates. About the only notable events omitted therefrom are the series of four baseball games that are to be played upon the home grounds on the afternoon of Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

From the whole list of events, those which each individual will select to attend will of course depend upon circumstances. Some may be restricted in their attendance to only those events which occasional spare time from other matters of importance will permit Others more at leisure will have greater chance for choice. From among this latter number certainly many will desire to attend certain exercises in which friends or relatives participate. But to those individuals for whom each event has no deeper attraction than the ease it affords the passing moments, there will be chance for selection.

If one is fond of good music, he will start early and secure a ticket from Prof. Aviragnet for the first event of the week.—the exhibition of the School of Music on the evening of Friday, June 17. In this, as well as in other musical events on the week's program in which local talent takes part, especially in the Commencement exercises on Monday, June 20, at 10.30 a. m., the public has an opportunity to listen to the best performers with the organ, piano, voice, violin, etc., that the School of Music has developed during the year. It is not always possible to secure a good seat at these musical events which are held in Bucknell Hall; but at the Twilight concerts given upon the college campus below the hill-side, a crowd of thousands can gather in favorable weather.

Most pleasure-seekers can find their fill at the Opera House on Tuesday morning, June 21, at 8 a. m. However, if the production of the class play does not satisfy one day's craving for entertainment, as it should, or if you could not get a ticket, there is still a baseball game waiting for you in the afternoon. In the evening the Alumni Anniversary, will provide abundant entertainment .

To those most desirous of intellectual entertainment, the Junior debate on Saturday evening, the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday and the various other addresses will be interesting and profitable. Added to all these are the class-day exercises consisting of the dedication of a tree and the class memorial, and the mantle exercises, not to mention a host of others, constituting a week of great interest and enjoyment, which none can afford, nor will care, to miss.

"B. '05."

PUZZLE: FIND THE RACKS.

It was with a sense of keen disappointment that we received the following communication last week,—disappointment not that such a praiseworthy effort had come to naught, but that we must still hang our hat on the floor:

"Editor Orange and Blue:—Regretting that four hat-racks are not sufficient support for the headgear of those visiting the Institute, the Senior class has gladly considered the very kind suggestion of the Orange and Blue.

"Owing to financial distress, brought about by the unusual number of social functions of the year, we are unable to supply a rack surpassing those already doing their duty in the hall.

"Our chief ambition throughout the year has been to adorn the floor of our parlor with a new carpet, but the trustees anticipated us in this. Your suggestion reached us at a time when we were hesitating between presenting the Institute with a dozen new spoons to replace those lost at our last student reception or a new statue to add to our already superfluous number in the parlor.

"Although we note with gratitude your kind suggestion, we unfortunately are not able to follow it.

'04."

So far no baseball game between the Freshmen and Sophomores has been arranged, which is to be regretted, since both classes have good material. The 'varsity has no game scheduled for June 11 and the respective managers could doubtless arrange a contest for that day.

The University community offers their profound sorrow at the death of Mrs. Rockwood and extend their sympathy to the Professor in his loss.

Law of Libel Defined.

Last Friday morning Counselor A. A. Leiser, Jr. '98, delivered a lecture before the class in Journalism on the law of libel as connected with newspapers. It was a very clear, able and exhaustive presentation of the subject and of much practical benefit to the class. The Professor expressed his pleasure that graduates were willing to do such service from time to time, and the class joined in thanks to the Counselor.

Baseball This Week.

The 'varsity baseball team has two more games this week. On Tuesday they meet the Indians at Carlisle and on Saturday they play at Williamsport. Both promise to be hard contests. There will be no more home games until June 18.

The Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE.

The next session begins Sept. 26, 1904. The course is carefully graded and covers four sessions of eight months.

Instruction thoroughly practical. Free quizzing in all branches; ward-classes, limited in size; clinical conferences and modified seminar methods of teaching. Particular attention to laboratory, bedside and ward-class work. Clinical facilities unexcelled and the finest and largest clinical amphitheatre in America. Thoroughly equipped new laboratories and a modern hospital remodeled and reconstructed throughout.

The College has also Departments of Dentistry and of Pharmacy, in each of which degrees are granted at the end of graded courses. For announcements and further information, address

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

WM. M. POLK, M. D., LL. D., DEAN,
Cornell University Medical College, 27 and 28th St., and 1st Ave., New York City.

ALUMNI

J. Z. Rowe, '01, is an assistant manager at one of Swift & Co's. branch offices.

Chad Galbrath, ex-'05, who has been in New Mexico for the past 18 months, arrives at his home in Frank lin this week .

Chaplain J. Madison Hare, '85, of the Third New Jersey National Guard, has been appointed one of three instructors of rifle practice at Sea Girt during the summer.

Caleb Barrett Ayres, George Wells Alexander, Samuel Joseph Cleeland, Charles Alxander Hall, Elbert Huff, Loren Marion Reno, all former Bucknell students, are graduates in the class at Crozer Theological Seminary.

A special from Norristown under date of May 27 says: "Mrs. C. A. Soars, wife of Rev. C. A. Soars, formerly pastor of the Bridgeport Baptist church, and her two sons, aged 4 and 8 years, had a narrow escape from being killed this morning in a runaway accident on West Elm street, Rev. Mr. Soars is employed in the Baptist Publishing House, Philadelphia, and during the summer occupies a residence in Norriton township. This morning Mrs. Soars and the two boys drove into town. On Elm street their horse shied and the carriage collided with the team of Adam Scheidt. The latter and his driver escaped injury but Mrs. Soars and her two sons were thrown out of the wagon. Mrs. Soars escaped with but a few bruises, but the boys were cut and bruised. The youngest boy had the lines wrapped about his arms, and he was dragged for a considerable distance before the horse was captured." Mr. Soars is of the class of 1888 and Mrs. Soars was formerly a teacher in the Institute.

Bucknell Alumnae Meet.

The Philadelphia Bucknell Alumnae club was entertained last Thursday afternoon at Narberth by Mrs. Hopper, daughter of the late William Bucknell, who endowed the college. Twenty-five alumnae were present.

Mrs. T. H. O'Harra, on behalf of the club, has presented the Philadelphia Girls' High School with a scholarship in Bucknell. A committee composed of Mrs. O'Harra, Mrs. A. J. Rowland and Mrs. D. A. Cobb, was appointed to make the selection.

These officers were elected: President, Mrs. (Francis Rush) Leedom; First Vice-President, Mrs. Daniel Sutters; Second Vice-President, Mrs. T. H. O'Harra; Treasurer, Mrs. D. A. Cobb; Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Lynch; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Amos Wakelin. The next meeting will be in October.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Columbia University has awarded a fellowship to Chin Yung Yew, the the first Chinaman to receive such an honor.

A convention of college editors will be held at the World's Fair, extending from June 20th to the end of the month.

Lehigh has decided to erect a field house and cage on Lehigh Field. Lafayette has already broken ground for her field house.

The trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have made systematic work in the gymnasium by undergraduates compulsory.

Yale and Harvard have accepted a challenge from Oxford and Cambridge to compete in track and field athletics in England this summer.

The fraternities of the University of Pennsylvania have pledged $150 toward a sum of $1,200 to be used for the completion of the hallways of the gymnasium.

Miss Bane, '04, entertained her sister, Mrs. Long, of Norristown, over Sunday.

Miss Hanna entertained her cousin, Miss Edith Hanna, of Philadelphia, over Sunday.

Misses Mary and Ruth Stephens are home, after teaching a year at Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Holahan, of Boston, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Brookbank, the latter part of the week.

The Delta Phis and their friends, chaperoned by Miss Stanton, held their annual picnic at Blue Hill on Monday.

The Delta Delta Delta fraternity, patronesses and friends were delightfully entertained by Prof. and Mrs. Wolfe at their home on Saturday evening.

Zeta Literary society held its regular meeting Thursday evening. Though few were present, the program was none the less interesting and was very well carried out. Zeta's last meeting for this term will be held Thursday, June 9.

COLLEGE DRIFT.

Dr. Perrine will be the orator at the laying of the corner-stone of the new gymnasium at Peddie Institute on June 14.

The second of the series of baseball dances, postponed from last Thursday, will be held on next Friday evening.

It is noteworthy that of the General Committee of sixty of the Chicago Theological Seminary seven are graduates of Bucknell.

Lee Goodman, '01, who was graduated from Jefferson Medical College last week, was the guest over Sunday of his brother, Goodman, '05.

A reception to Rev. J. T. Judd, marking the twentieth year of his pastorate in Lewisburg, will be held in the Baptist church on Tuesday evening.

Bacon, '01, has gone to his home in Harveyville to remain until Commencement. After his graduation Bacon will enter the School of Forestry at Yale.

Mrs. W. C. Gretzinger will be "at home" to the College women, Institute faculty, and the graduating classes of the Institute and School of Music on Wednesday, June 1, from 1 to 6 p. m.

There will be no Senior vacation as such, this year. However, all Seniors who have made a grade of 9 in this term's work may be excused from further work if they can make satisfactory arrangements with their instructors.

The Department of Agriculture of Pennsylvania, has just distributed Bulletin No. 129 on "The Apple Tree Tent Caterpillar and Its Life History," by Nelson Fithian Davis, Sc. D., Professor of Biology. It is illustrated by twenty-eight photographs, taken by Professor Davis.

Dr. B. L. Whitman made his annual visit to Bucknell last week and made three addresses to the student body, two on Friday and one on Saturday. His words were inspiring and helpful and the applause which the speaker received each time was sufficient evidence of his increasing popularity here.

ONE VICTORY; ONE DEFEAT

Baseball Team Wins From Indians and Loses to Williamsport.

The 'varsity nine broke away from its hoodoo last Tuesday and defeated the Indians at Carlisle by a score of 5 to 2. On Saturday it met the strong professional team at Williamsport and was defeated by a score of 8 to 4.

BUCKNELL 5; INDIANS 2.

Hard hitting at the proper time and good fielding enabled Bucknell to bent the Indian nine at Carlisle. The team played with snap and dash and the team-work was the best exhibited this season. Parsons pitched in rare form, holding his opponents down to five hits scattered throughout four innings. The Indians put up a good article of ball and Bucknell earned four of her five runs.

Bucknell got a good lead at the beginning. In the first inning Grininger singled and was sacrificed to second by Teufel. Smith brought him in with a double. Cockill followed with a home run and two more runs came in. Bucknell's next run was made in the fifth, when Grininger opened the inning with a triple and scored on an error of the third baseman. Blair opened the sixth with a double, went to third on Portser's hit and scored on a single by Deats. That was all the scoring done by Bucknell.

The Indians made one in the first and another in the ninth. In the first Mitchell was hit by a pitched ball and scored on errors by Cockill and Parsons and an out. A base on balls, an error by Grininger and two singles gave them their last run in the ninth.

WILLIAMSPORT 8; BUCKNELL 4.

The game at Williamsport on Saturday was won by the home team without much trouble. Weaver was not in his usual good form and the professionals hit hard enough in the first two innings to win the game. "Tar" Young, formerly of Cornell, pitched for Williamsport and his delivery was an enigma to the visitors. The 'varsity infield played a fast game, while Portser in the outfield made a catch which won for him continued applause.

Bucknell made all of its runs in the third inning. Three hits, two bases on balls and a life netted four runs. The only other time Bucknell was able to hit was in the ninth, when Portser opened with a single and was forced at second.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Hardscrabble.

Kappa Sigma vs. Clover Top.

Phi Kappa Psi vs. Sigma Chi.

Athletic Association Meeting.

The annual spring meeting of the Athletic Association will be held on next Saturday morning. Included in the business to be transacted is the election of assistant managers in baseball, basketball and track. There will also be other business to be acted upon.

INDIANS WIN DUAL MEET

Redmen Present Evenly Balanced Team and Win Without Trouble.

The Bucknell track and field team was defeated by the Carlisle Indian team in the annual meet on the campus on Saturday afternoon, the score being 62 to 42. The visitors won because they presented an evenly balanced team. They managed to win not less than three points in each event; in three events they won eight points, in four events five points and in six events three points. Bucknell won six of the thirteen first places, but in the other events made only twelve points all-told; the lack of second-place men lost the meet.

The meet was rather dull and slow, lasting three hours. However, it was enlivened by two events, the quarter-mile and the half-mile, both of which for excitement have seldom been equalled here. Marsh and Mount Pleasant were the only two starters in the quarter-mile, which was a battle royal from start to finish. The race was not decided until the runners were within thirty yards of the finish, when Marsh forged to the front. The time was 52 1-5 seconds, just one-fifth of a second slower than the Bucknell record held by Marsh. Though there were three starters in the half-mile, it was a fight between Marsh and Snow for first place. The first quarter was slow, but both men let themselves out in the second lap and there was almost a repitition of the quarter-mile, Marsh finishing first.

The 220-hurdle was also a pretty race and Comstock would likley have won but for the fact that he tripped on the third hurdle from the last and fell. He was then in the lead. In both the shot-put and hammer-throw Lenhart excelled his former records. His put of 39 feet fell just one inch short of the record held by Gillis. Johnson also did well in the shot-put, making 37 feet, which was a foot behind Exendine, who took second place. Steinhilper made 10 feet, 5 inches, in the pole-vault, excelling his former record by three inches, but he was defeated by Jude.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Pearse, Bucknell; Mount Pleasant, Indians, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

120-yard hurdle—Won by Libby, Indians; W. Charles, Indians, second. Time, 17 1-5 seconds.

One-mile run—Won by Black Star, Indians; Snow, Indians, second. Time, 4.52 1-5.

Quarter-mile—Won by Marsh, Bucknell; Mount Pleasant, Indians, second. Time, 52 1-5 seconds.

Two-mile run—Won by C. Charles, Indians; Schrimpsher, Indians, second. Time, 10.52½.

220-yard dash—Won by Davis, Bucknell; Denny, Indians, second. Time, 24 seconds.

220-yard hurdle—Won by Libby, Indians; Comstock, Bucknell, second. Time, 29 seconds.

Half-mile run—Won by Marsh, Bucknell; Snow, Indians, second. Time 2.14.

High jump—Won by Exendine, Indians; Davis, Bucknell, second. Height, 5 feet 4¼ inches.

Shot put—Won by Lenhart, Bucknell; Exendine, Indians, second. Distance, 39 feet.

Broad jump—Won by Mount Pleasant, Indians; Johnson, Bucknell, second. Distance, 21 feet, 9 inches.

Mrs. Gretzinger Entertains.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week Mrs. W. C. Gretzinger gave an At Home to the College women, the Institute faculty, and the Senior classes of the Institute and School of Music. Mrs. Gretzinger was assisted in receiving by Miss Stanton, and the house, prettily decorated with flowers and ferns, made a charming contrast with the grayness of the day outside. Lemonade, ice cream and fancy cakes were served by the girls of Delta Phi Sorority, and the function was indeed a very pleasant one.

WILLARD MAINE BUNNELL

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

Willard Maine Bunnell was graduated a Bachelor of Arts with the class of 1897. He was while in college a prominent athlete, attaining at the same time a high grade in his studies. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. After graduation he was admitted to the Luckawanna County bar and practices his profession very successfully in Scranton, where he has proved himself to be one of Bucknell's most loyal alumni.

A Child's Poser for Dr. Hill.

The Baltimore Herald tells the following story on Ex-President Hill:

David Jayne Hill, now United States Minister to Switzerland, used to be president of the University of Rochester. The small daughter of Professor Hill, who was then a child of five years, was very fond of him and she had a great habit of picking up long words and making him tell her what they meant. "What's the difference between gastronomy and astronomy?" she asked one day. "Astronomy," replied the president, "is the science of the heavenly bodies, Dorothy. Gastronomy is—er—well, a heavenly science of the earthly body."

Class Day Exercises.

The following is the program of exercises for Class Day, June 21:

4 p. m., Class Tree Dedication; reading of poem.

Dedication of Memorial Steps; address by Elwood P. Gilbert.

Presentation of Mantle; address by President of Senior Class. Acceptance by President of Junior Class.

Baseball This Week.

The 'varsity nine plays two games this week, both away from home. On Tuesday morning the team leaves for Villa Nova, where it will play Villa Nova college. On Wednesday it will play Princeton at Princeton.

Inter-Class Baseball Game.

The Sophomore and Freshman baseball teams will play on the campus on next Friday afternoon. 'Varsity men are eligible and a good contest should result.

MASS MEETING.

The Enthusiasm Committee desires that all students assemble in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of learning the songs to be sung on Alumni Night. The college authorities expect us to contribute our share to this meeting and we should not fail them. Song sheets will be distributed at the mass meeting.

THE MATTER OF OFFICIALS.

In a game of baseball between State and Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster the other day State objected to a decision of the umpire and threatened to leave the field unless another official were substituted. A compromise was effected by the home team agreeing to provide another umpire in the event of a subsequent objection to the one officiating. The protest came soon enough "and after a great deal of discussion a new umpire was secured and the game proceeded." There have been a number of similar occurrences this year Gettysburg lost the field at Dickinson not long ago because of an alleged unjust decision of the empire in the ninth inning, and only recently Lafayette was prevented from taking a similar step at the same place by the request of the Dickinson captain that the decision be reversed, which was done.

It would be unwise and manifestly unfair for us to enter into a discussion of the merits of any or all of these incidents, for the particulars are unknown to us; but there are certain phases of the matter which should not be allowed to pass unnoticed, particularly that phase which bears upon the selection of officials for intercollegiate games.

When two colleges are about to meet in football the wires are kept hot for days in an attempt to decide upon officials, and finally after the care and scrutiny which characterizes the selection of a jury, two men are chosen. But how is it in baseball? Nine times out of ten not a word is said concerning an official until the game is about to begin. The result is often just such as is seen at Dickinson and Franklin and Marshall, which examples are taken by the way, because they are fresh in the minds of the public.

It is not always easy to determine which side is to blame in such cases. Instances have not been wanting in the experience of Bucknell where an umpire was selected because he could be depended upon to give the home team the benefit of the close decisions. Fortunately, however, such colleges are few. Very often the choice is determined by considerations of economy; a person is selected because his services are gratuitously given. Most frequently, however, the official is chosen in good faith and his services paid for, but the selection is made without much regard to his ability. He is secured because it has long been the custom of the college to do so, or because of personal considerations, or through some equally insufficient reason. The visiting captain is not consulted. Indeed, he has not asked to be consulted. Dissatisfaction results and the visiting team threatens to leave the field, or actually does so. By the general public the home team is blamed entirely for the trouble. But it is a question if the visiting nine is not equally at fault by reason of its passive acquiescence in the selection. In any event it is very unbecoming to a college team and injurious to amateur sport for a visiting team to leave the field. What has been said of baseball applies with equal force to basketball.

It will be seen then that, until college managers and captains place more importance upon the selection of officials for even the most unimportant games, intercollegiate sport will not be without its distasteful features, and broken-off relations will continue to be as plentiful as they are now.

THE TRACK SEASON.

Post-mortems are distasteful things, but it may be profitable to reflect briefly upon the season in track athletics just closed. The mere fact that we failed to win either meet this season is in itself not galling, but it is a rather bitter thought that we should have done a great deal better than we did. Exactly where the fault was The Orange and Blue is not prepared to say. However, that there was a lack of interest among both the student body and the members of the team was not difficult to see.

Throughout the season there was a manifest unwillingness on the part of the students to try for the team, and, though the attendance in the University is the largest in its history, the track squad was the smallest in several years. As a result, only eleven men started in the eight track events on Saturday. The Indians, on the other hand, though they came a hundred miles, had thirteen men in the same events; and it was this attention to second places that won them the meet. Bucknell lacked only in second-place men.

On the part of the team there was a lack of honest, consistent effort, and a team that has not enthusiasm will not do its best. By several members the training regulations were unhesitatingly broken and the daily work was carried on only half-heartedly. It is no wonder that our season has resulted unsatisfactorily and until a different spirit is manifested by the students we cannot hope for better results.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE.

The next session begins Sept. 26, 1904. The course is carefully graded and covers four sessions of eight months.

Instruction thoroughly practical. Free quizzing in all branches, ward-classes, limited in size; clinical conferences and modified seminar methods of teaching. Particular attention to laboratory, bedside and ward-class work. Clinical facilities unexcelled and the finest and largest clinical amphitheatre in America. Thoroughly equipped new laboratories and a modern hospital remodeled and reconstructed throughout.

The College has also Departments of Dentistry and of Pharmacy, in each of which degrees are granted at the end of graded courses. For announcements and further information, address

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY
The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement, giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

East vs. West.

The Philadelphia Press makes an interesting comparison of the records of the eastern and western athletes in track and field events, in which the East fares much the better. The comparison is based on the records made in the intercollegiate games held in Philadelphia on May 28 and those made in the games which took place in Chicago on last Saturday, and in only two events, the shot-put and the high jump, does the West excel. The records are as follows:

100-yard dash—Schick, Harvard, 10 seconds; Rice, Chicago, 10 1-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Schick, Harvard, 21 2-5 seconds; Rice, Chicago, 22 3-5 seconds.

Quarter-mile—Taylor, Penn., 49 1-5 seconds; Pooge, Wisconsin, 50 4-5 seconds.

Half-mile—Parsons, Yale, 1.56 4-5; Breitkreutz, Wisconsin, 1.58 4-5.

One-mile—Munson, Cornell, 4.24 4-5; Verner, Purdue, 4.33 2-5.

Two-mile—Schutt, Cornell, 9.47 3-5; Kellogg, Michigan, 10.02 2-5

High hurdles—Clapp, Yale, 15 4-5 seconds; Catlin, Chicago, 15 4-5 seconds.

Low hurdles—Clapp, Yale, 24 3-5 seconds; Pooge, Wisconsin, 25 seconds.

Hammer throw—DeWitt, Princeton, 161 feet 3½ inches; Thomas, Purdue, 157 feet 1 inch.

Shot put—Schoenfuss, Harvard, 44 feet 4 inches; Rose, Michigan, 47 feet 1-4 inch.

High jump—Lowe, Syracuse, 5 feet, 11 inches; Fuhrer, Wisconsin, 5 feet 11 3-8 inches.

Broad jump—Stangland, Columbia, 23 feet 6½ inches; Friend, Chicago, 22 feet 8¼ inches.

Pole vault—McLanahan, Yale, 11 feet, 9 inches; Dole, Stanford, 11 feet 6½ inches.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

Mills Collge, in Oakland, Cal., has just completde a bell tower costing $10,000, the only college bell tower in the country.

The oldest college in the world is the Mohammedan College, Carlo, which was a thousand years old when Oxford was founded. It has an enrollment of 11,000 students.

The faculty of Beloit College have caused the college athletic association to sever all relations with the University of Wisconsin. This is because of the alleged discourtesy and unfair treatment of the Beloit men by the university students.

The University of Wisconsin has a secret co-educational fraternity called Sigma Delta Sigma. The members may belong to other fraternities and sororities and membership is elective. The originators of the new fraternity will not divulge the purpose of the organization.

A Cowboy Prom. was given a short time ago by the Michigan University students. The men appeared at the function attired in true cowboy fashion with the usual complement of spurs, bandanas and Colts, the ladies in corduroy shirts blouses and sashes.

A novel plan has been inaugurated by the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity that will add very much to the pleasure of the Phi Kap visitors at the World's Fair. A house has been secured within a short distance of the Fair Grounds where every visiting Phi Kap may make his headquarters while in St. Louis.

AMONG OTHER COLLEGES.

The removal of the Carlisle Indian School to Montana is being agitated.

Kentucky has passed a law doing away with co-education in that State.

The University of California is to have an athletic field larger than the famous Stadium at Harvard.

Chicago is trying to stop the practice of pitching nickles, which is a custom prevalent before one of the balls

Western Reserve is planning to establish a chair of Political and Social Science as a Memorial to Senator Hanna.

A war is on at Ann Arbor between students of the University of Michigan and the city liverymen who will not advertise in the college papers.

A committee of juniors at Yale recently reported the sentiment of the student body as against the establishment of the honor system. The faculty also were not in favor of it.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton men are to have a rendezvous in the Tyrolean Alps at the St. Louis Exposition. Two large rooms will be reserved as club rooms, and every visitor from any of the three colleges will be registered.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING

Assistant Managers Chosen and Other Business Transacted.

The annual spring meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the gymnasium on Saturday morning and was attended by three-fourths of the members. Considerable business of importance was transacted.

The amendments to the constitution providing that the treasurer and the various managers present a bond for an amount agreed upon by the Finance Committee was adopted.

An amendment was also adopted placing tennis under the control of the Athletic Association.

Manager Browning of the basketball team made his report showing a profit on the season of $43.74. The report appears in full elsewhere in the Orange and Blue.

Manager Deats of the track team and Manager Carruthers of the baseball team, not having completed their reports, were given the permission to publish them in The Commencement News instead.

Chairman Thompson of the Athletic Field Committee reported that the committee had plans for giving three plays for the benefit of the fund next season. The amount of the fund is now over $100.

An amendment to the constitution providing for the election of an assistant manager of tennis each year was presented and voted upon favorably. It will come up for final action at the fall meeting of the Association.

The following assistant managers were elected without opposition:

Baseball, Harry T. Stevenson, '06.
Basketball, Burleigh Claypool, '06.
Track, C. H. Taylor, '06.

A resolution was adopted expressing regret that certain persons destroyed property on the occasion of a recent athletic celebration and endorsing the action of the President of the Athletic Association in appointing a committee to supervise future celebrations.

A motion was carried authorizing Prof. N. F. Davis to secure photographs of athletic teams desired by him for the trophy room and charge same to the Association.

On motion the President appointed Dr. Bartol, Prof. Phillips and Prof. Ballentine executive committee of tennis.

PRINCETON WON BASEBALL

Easily Defeated Bucknell Because the Latter Was Unable to Hit the Ball.

The baseball team was scheduled to play two games last week, but owing to rain the game with Villa Nova at Villa Nova on Tuesday was called off. The only contest of the week was with Princeton on the latter's grounds, which was won by the home team 9 to 0. Bucknell played a fine game in the field, but was outbatted. Princeton was able to bunch hits on Parsons, who was also wild at times. Bucknell was powerless before Underhill and Byram getting two hits off the former in five innings and one hit off the latter in four innings.

The Orange and Blue had only one good chance to score and that was in the second inning. Cockill, first up, flew out to left. Blair singled. Underhill was wild and passed both Portser and Deats to first on balls. Heinz hit a fly to left, which Forsythe caught, Blair started for home and as he was about to land there in safety he heard the umpire call the runner (Heinz) out. Under the impression that he had left third before the fly was caught and that the umpire referred to him, Blair started back for third and was an easy out from Cooney to Reed.

Princeton earned all her runs except those made in the second. In that inning Parsons lost control and passed two men and hit another, which, combined with two hits and an out, netted three runs.

The fielding features of the game were catches by Blair, Portser and Davis, which were sensational in the extreme.

Sophomore-Freshman Game.

The Sophomore and Freshman baseball teams played an interesting game on the College campus on Friday afternoon, the latter winning by a score of 7 to 6. The contest was marked by rather poor playing on both sides, yet, owing to the keen rivalry between the teams, it was interesting throughout. The wind-up was especially exciting and it looked for a while as though the Sophomores would tie the score.

The Freshmen had gained a lead of two runs by timely hitting in the eighth, the score at the latter half of the ninth being 7 to 5 in favor of the first-year men. Green, first up for the Sophs, got to first on balls, and stole second. Hennessey flew out. Comstock hit to Leach, who threw wide to first, with the result that the runner was safe on first and Green reached third. Meyer hit a high fly back of second base, of which Leach made a clever catch. In attempting to double up Comstock at first, however, Leach made a wild throw and Green went home. Comstock, who had been nearly to second base, made a dash back to first, but when the throw went wild he turned and ran to third before the ball was returned to the diamond. Observing that Comstock had not returned to first after the catch of Meyer's fly, Leach held the ball on first base, whereupon Umpire Weaver declared the runner out, which was right. However, it took some time to convince the hopeful Sophomores of the legitimacy of the play. The play was remarkable in that Leach got both put-outs on the double play and he is not charged with an error for his two-base throw.

Neither side earned a run, though those scored by the Sophomores seemed more in the nature of gifts than those the Freshies made. August pitched cleverly and with good support would have made a much better showing. The Sophomores excelled in the field, the outfield especially doing good work. Other features were drives by Kramer and Taylor, a running catch by Howell, and Heinz's single with three men on bases in the eighth.

The score:

SIMON P. WOLVERTON

Brief Sketch of a Distinguished Alumnus of Bucknell University.

It is particularly fitting that we should conclude our gallery of distinguished alumni with a likeness and sketch of such a prominent man as the Hon. Simon P. Wolverton, 1860. The roster of alumni does not include the name of a man who has achieved a greater degree of success.

Mr. Wolverton distinguished himself in college by doing the last two years' work in one, having secured special permission from the faculty to do so. After graduation he began the study of law in Sunbury where he has since been located. Admitted to the bar of Northumberland county bar in 1862, Mr. Wolverton's achievements in the profession have been continuous and his record is an enviable one. Among the large corporations he serves as counsel are the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company; and the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

In politics Mr. Wolverton has been equally successful, having served ten years in the State Senate and two terms in the United States House of Representatives.

Since 1891 he has been a trustee of the University and its steady advancement has been in a large degree due to his wholesome interest. Indeed, the University boasts of no more loyal friend either among its alumni or the trustees.

Baseball This Week.

The baseball team has two games this week, one with Lehigh at South Bethelhem on Tuesday and one with Bloomsburg State Normal on the campus on Saturday. The game scheduled with Lafayette at Easton on next Wednesday was cancelled on account of examinations, which begin one day earlier than usual this year. The game with Bloomsburg is the first of a series of four Commencement games, On Monday Williamsport plays here, on Tuesday Lebanon Valley and on Wednesday the Indians.

Assembly Dance.

The annual Assembly dance will be held as usual on Wednesday evening of Commencement week. Elaborate arrangements have been made for the affair, including the engagement of the famous Oppenheim orchestra of Wilkesbarre. The dance promises to be a feature of the week.

The expense of publishing thirty-four issues of The Orange and Blue is not small, as our readers can imagine. There is still an amount due the printers, and in order that this may be paid at once, those who have neglected to pay their subscriptions are asked to settle at once. We believe you have enjoyed reading the paper for the past nine months, and you should therefore pay your subscription; if you haven't—well pay anyway.

A DUTY FOR ALL OF US.

Every college with any claim to importance has adopted the method of sending out solicitors to present its advantages to prospective students. In the case of Bucknell the method has proved to be a good one. Many students here need only recall their own experiences to see how undecided students are induced to enter one institution or another in this way. But an influence equally as potent in securing new men for Bucknell may be exerted by the students themselves. The value of personal effort in matters of this kind cannot be overestimated. If you have a friend, therefore, who intends entering college next fall a little personal solicitation in favor of Bucknell will doubtless result in his entering here. Equally efficient work may be done among those with whom you are not so well acquainted. This service is rendered comparatively easy by the manifold advantages of Bucknell, and it requires no stretch of the imagination to make your argument convincing: your experience here has taught you that there is no better place to attend college than Bucknell.

Students are especially urged to use every influence with young men with adaptability to athletics. Bucknell is keeping pace with similar institutions in other respects and we should not fall behind in athletics. Every branch needs more men. Coach Hoskins has repeatedly reminded us of this fact. Many students can do nothing for athletics in the way of playing on teams, but they may render efficient service in bringing men here who can.

If one only stops to think he will find many ways in which to aid his Alma Mater. We have herein mentioned one, and we feel sure that the students will not fail to seize any opportunity of this kind which presents itself.

With this issue of The Orange and Blue the work of the present staff is at an end. We are willing to admit that the publication has not been an unqualified success, just as we are loth to concede that it has been an absolute failure. If the degree of failure has been greater than that of success it has not been due to any diminution of loyalty to Alma Mater; if the conditions are the reverse, the success has been due to the support received from the student body and friends of the institution. To the faculty and officers of the University we are especially grateful for assistance rendered.

The need of a better equipped museum, one in keeping with the continued growth of the University in all its departments, is openly admitted. The erection of a new library building, now contemplated, will render feasible an enlargement of the present museum in Main College. We possess an excellent collection of illustrative material in botany, zoology, geology, histology, mineralogy and materia medica, embracing 13,175 specimens. Contributions for the museum, especially of material which can be used in class and labratory work, are urgently solicited.

A Visit to the Coal Mines.

Through the kindness of Mr. P. F. Brennan, Division Superintendent with the Reading Coal Company, and Messrs. Bevan and Farrow, engineers with the same, the class in Mine Surveying was enabled to visit the Company's workings at Alaska, Penna. The class had not hoped to be allowed to do more than look on while the corps was at work, but the transit men, Messrs. Caldwell and May, were good enough to allow the boys to use the instruments, under their guidance, and take notes for the survey. The mine foreman, Mr. Jefferson, kindly provided caps and lamps, and after the students had smeared each others' face with mine dirt they looked more like miners than engineers. The fellows on the corps were a friendly lot and became enough interested in the visitors to light "squibs" on them and under them; if the general reader does not know what this means let him ask any of the fellows who took the trip. After coming from the mine the students had the privilege of going through a breaker from top to bottom.

The class voted everybody who had helped them have an enjoyable trip a jolly good fellow and declared they had one of the times of their lives.

Beautifying the Campus.

The campus is fast taking on its Commencement garb and next week will be seen in all its splendor. For the past two months a force of men has been at work grading terraces and paths and doing other work to beautify the place. The campus never looked more attractive.

The people of the town have also caught the spirit of the occasion and are working hard to have their premises in readiness for next week. There seems to be a united effort to make the fifty-fourth Commencement the grandest and best in the history of the institution.

The Medico-Chirurgical College of Philadelphia.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE.

The next session begins Sept. 26, 1904. The course is carefully graded and covers four sessions of eight months.

Instruction thoroughly practical. Free quizzing in all branches; ward-classes, limited in size; clinical conferences and modified seminar methods of teaching. Particular attention to laboratory, bedside and ward-class work. Clinical facilities unexcelled and the finest and largest clinical amphitheatre in America. Thoroughly equipped new laboratories and a modern hospital remodeled and reconstructed throughout.

The College has also Departments of Dentistry and of Pharmacy, in each of which degrees are granted at the end of graded courses. For announcements and further information, address

CORNELL UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE NEW YORK CITY

The course covering four years begins during the week in October and continues until June. A preliminary training in natural science is of great advantage. All the classes are divided into small sections for recitations, laboratory and clinical bedside instruction. Students are admitted to advanced standing after passing the requisite examinations. The successful completion of the first year in any College or University recognized by the Regents of the state of New York as maintaining a satisfactory standard is sufficient to satisfy the requirements for admission which have lately been raised. The annual announcement giving full particulars will be mailed on application.

Ready For Tennis Finals.

A run of fine weather during the past week has permitted the playing of all preliminary inter-club tennis matches for the club championship in doubles. The final match between Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon teams will be played as soon as more good weather and other favorable circumstances will permit, probably to-day.

When this tournament is finished the class doubles tournament will begin, and later on an "all comers" tournament will take place.

Scores of the inter-club tournament:

Preliminaries—

Phi Gamma Delta won from Delta Theta Upsilon, 6-0, 6-4.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won from the Hardscrabble Club, by default.

Round Top won from Kappa Sigma, 6-0, 6-7.

Phi Kappa Psi won from Sigma Chi, by default.

Semi-finals:—

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won from Phi Gamma Delta, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Phi Kappa Psi won from Round Top, 6-3, 6-2.

The manager of the tennis team announces on "all comers" tennis tournament to be played soon and to be completed during Commencement week. This tournament is provided to decide the championship among all players who have ever been students at Bucknell. Address entries and inquires to C. V. Williamson, Manager.

Reserves Defeat Williamstown.

The reserve team won an easy victory at Williamstown on Saturday, defeating the home team 9 to 3. Williamstown was outclassed and after the first few innings the Reserves took things easy. Fry's batting was a feature.

The Senior Play.

For the past two weeks the cast of the Senior play," What Became of Parker," has been rehearsing daily under the direction of Miss Schillinger and there is every indication that the performance will be one of the best ever given by a graduating class. It will be produced in the Opera House on Tuesday morning, June 21. The tickets will go on sale on next Saturday morning.

Inter-fraternity Baseball.

Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon met on the diamond last week in what proved to be the best played game of the inter-fraternity series. Sigma Chi won by a score of 8 to 7. Sigma Alpha Epsilon made a splendid ninth inning rally and, after scoring one run, went down with a man on third base. The concluding games of the series will take place this week

COLLEGE DRIFT.

George E. Deppen, '94, was in town last week making arrangements for the reunion of his class.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dreisbach delightfully entertained the members of the local chapter Phi Kappa Psi and a number of young women at their home on Third street on last Thursday evening. Progressive violets was the principal diversion of the evening and very pretty prizes were awarded.
